Bill of Exchange

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After studying this chapter, you will be able to :

- state the meaning of bill of exchange and a promissory note;
- distinguish between a bill of exchange and a promissory note;
- state the advantages of bill of exchange;
- explain the meaning of different terms involved in the bill transaction,
- record bill of exchange transactions in journal;
- record transactions relating to dishonour, retirement and renewal of bill;
- describe the uses of bill receivable and bill payable book;
- state the meaning and use of accommodation bill.

Goods can be sold or bought for cash or on credit. When goods are sold or bought for cash, payment is received immediately. On the other hand, when goods are sold/bought on credit the payment is deferred to a future date. In such a situation, normally the firm relies on the party to make payment on the due date. But in some cases, to avoid any possibility of delay or default, an instrument of credit is used through which the buyer assures the seller that the payment shall be made according to the agreed conditions. In India, instruments of credit have been in use since time immemorial and are popularly known as Hundies. The hundies are written in Indian languages and have a large variety (refer box1).

Box 1

Hundies and its Types

There are a variety of hundies used in our country. Let us discuss some of the most common ones. Shahjog Hundi: This is drawn by one merchant on another, asking the latter to pay the amount to a Shah. Shah is a respectable and responsible person, a man of worth and known in the bazaar. A shah-jog hundi passes from one hand to another till it reaches a shah, who, after reasonable enquiries, presents it to the drawee for acceptance of the payment.

Darshani Hundi: This is hundi payable at sight. It must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after its receipt by the holder. It is similar to a demand bill.

Muddati Hundi: A muddati or miadi hundi is payable after a specified period of time. This is similar to a time bill.

There are few other varieties of hundies like Nam-jog hundi, Dhani-jog hundi, Jawabee hundi, Hokhami hundi, Firman-jog hundi, and so on.

Now a days these instruments of credit are called bills of exchange or promissory notes. The bill of exchange contains an unconditional order to pay a certain amount on an agreed date while the promissory note contains an unconditional promise to pay a certain sum of money on a certain date. In India these instruments are governed by the Indian Negotiable Instruments Act 1881.

8.1 Meaning of Bill of Exchange

According to the Negotiable Instruments Act 1881, a bill of exchange is defined as an instrument in writing containing an unconditional order, signed by the maker, directing a certain person to pay a certain sum of money only to, or to the order of a certain person or to the bearer of the instrument. The following features of a bill of exchange emerge out of this definition.

- A bill of exchange must be in writing.
- It is an order to make payment.
- The order to make payment is unconditional.
- The maker of the bill of exchange must sign it.
- The payment to be made must be certain.
- The date on which payment is made must also be certain.
- The bill of exchange must be payable to a certain person.
- The amount mentioned in the bill of exchange is payable either on demand or on the expiry of a fixed period of time.
- It must be stamped as per the requirement of law.

A bill of exchange is generally drawn by the creditor upon his debtor. It has to be accepted by the drawee (debtor) or someone on his behalf. It is just a draft till its acceptance is made.

For example, Amit sold goods to Rohit on credit for ₹ 10,000 for three months. To ensure payment on due date Amit draws a bill of exchange upon Rohit for ₹ 10,000 payable after three months. Before it is accepted by Rohit it will be called a draft. It will become a bill of exchange only when Rohit writes the word “accepted” on it and append his signature thereto communicate his acceptance.

8.1.1 Parties to a Bill of Exchange

There are three parties to a bill of exchange:

- (1) Drawer is the maker of the bill of exchange. A seller/creditor who is entitled to receive money from the debtor can draw a bill of exchange upon the buyer/debtor. The drawer after writing the bill of exchange has to sign it as maker of the bill of exchange.
- (2) Drawee is the person upon whom the bill of exchange is drawn. Drawee is the purchaser or debtor of the goods upon whom the bill of exchange is drawn.
- (3) Payee is the person to whom the payment is to be made. The drawer of the bill himself will be the payee if he keeps the bill with him till the date of its payment. The payee may change in the following situations:
 - (a) In case the drawer has got the bill discounted, the person who has discounted the bill will become the payee;
 - (b) In case the bill is endorsed in favour of a creditor of the drawer, the creditor will become the payee.

Normally, the drawer and the payee is the same person. Similarly, the drawee and the acceptor is normally the person. For example, Mamta sold goods worth ₹10,000 to Jyoti and drew a bill of exchange upon her for the same amount payable after three months. Here, Mamta is the drawer of the bill and Jyoti is the drawee. If the bill is retained by Mamta for three months and the amount of ₹ 10,000 is received by her on the due date then Mamta will be the payee. If Mamta gives away this bill to her creditor Ruchi, then Ruchi will be the payee. If Mamta gets this bill discounted from the bank then the bankers will become the payee.

In the above mentioned bill of exchange, Mamta is the drawer and Jyoti is the drawee. Since Jyoti has accepted the bill, she is the acceptor. Suppose in place of Jyoti the bill is accepted by Ashok then Ashok will become the acceptor.

Test Your Understanding - I

Write 'True' or 'False' against each statement regarding a bill of exchange:

- (i) A bill of exchange must be accepted by the payee.
- (ii) A bill of exchange is drawn by the creditor.
- (iii) A bill of exchange is drawn for all cash transaction.
- (iv) A bill payable on demand is called Time bill;
- (v) The person to whom payment is to be made in a bill or exchange is called payee.
- (vi) A negotiable instrument does not require the signature of its maker.
- (vii) The hundi Payable at sight is called Darshani hundi.
- (viii) A negotiable instrument is not freely transferable.
- (ix) Stamping of promissory note is not mandatory.
- (x) The time of payment of a negotiable instrument need not be certain.

8.2 Promissory Note

According to the Negotiable Instruments Act 1881, a promissory note is defined as an instrument in writing (not being a bank note or a currency note), containing an unconditional undertaking signed by the maker, to pay a certain sum of money only to or to the order of a certain person, or to the bearer of the instrument. However, according to the Reserve Bank of India Act, a promissory note payable to bearer is illegal. Therefore, a promissory note cannot be made payable to the bearer.

This definition suggests that when a person gives a promise in writing to pay a certain sum of money unconditionally to a certain person or according to his order the document is called is a promissory note.

Following features of a promissory note emerge out of the above definition:

- It must be in writing
- It must contain an unconditional promise to pay.
- The sum payable must be certain.
- It must be signed by the maker.
- The maker must sign it.
- It must be payable to a certain person.
- It should be properly stamped.

A promissory note does not require any acceptance because the maker of the promissory note himself promises to make the payment.

8.2.1 Parties to a Promissory Note

There are two parties to a promissory note.

- Maker or Drawer is the person who makes or draws the promissory note to pay a certain amount as specified in the promissory note. He is also called the promisor.
- Drawee or Payee is the person in whose favour the promissory note is drawn. He is called the promisee.

Generally, the drawee is also the payee, unless, it is otherwise mentioned in the promissory note. In the specimen of promissory note (refer figure 8.2), Ashok Kumar is the drawer or maker who promises to pay ₹30,000 and Harish Chander is the drawee or payee to whom payment is to made. If Harish Chander endorses this promissory note in favour of Rohit then Rohit will become the payee. Similarly, if Harish Chander gets this promissory note discounted from the bank then the bank will become the payee.

Box 2
Distinction between a Bill of Exchange and Promissory Note
Both a bill of exchange and a promissory note are instruments of credit and are similar in many ways. However, there are certain basic differences between the two.
S.No.	Basis	Bill of Exchange	Promissory Note
1.	Drawer	It is drawn by the creditor	It is drawn by the debtor
2.	Order or Promise and Parties	It contains an order to make payment. There can be three parties to it, viz. the drawer, the drawee and the payee.	It contains a promise to make payment. There are only two parties to it, viz. the drawer and the payee.
3.	Acceptance	It requires acceptance by the drawee or someone else on his behalf.	It does not require any acceptance.
4.	Payee	Drawer and payee can be the same party.	Drawer cannot be the payee of it.
5.	Notice	In case of its dishonour due notice of dishonour is to be given by the holder to the drawer	No notice needs to be given in case of its dishonour.

Fig. 8.1 Distinction between bills of exchange and promissory note

8.3 Advantages of Bill of Exchange

The bills of exchange as instruments of credit are used frequently in business because of the following advantages:

- Framework for relationships: A bill of exchange represents a device, which provides a framework for enabling the credit transaction between the seller/creditor and buyer/debtor on an agreed basis.
- Certainty of terms and conditions: The creditor knows the time when he would receive the money so also debtor is fully aware of the date by which he has to pay the money. This is due to the fact that terms and conditions of the relationships between debtor and creditor such as amount required to be paid; date of payment; interest to be paid, if any, place of payment are clearly mentioned in the bill of exchange.
- Convenient means of credit: A bill of exchange enables the buyer to buy the goods on credit and pay after the period of credit. However, the seller of goods even after extension of credit can get payment immediately either by discounting the bill with the bank or by endorsing it in favour of a third party.

- Conclusive proof: The bill of exchange is a legal evidence of a credit transaction implying thereby that during the course of trade buyer has obtained credit from the seller of the goods, therefore, he is liable to pay to the seller. In the event of refusal of making the payment, the law requires the creditor to obtain a certificate from the Notary to make it a conclusive evidence of the happening.
- Easy transferability: A debt can be settled by transferring a bill of exchange through endorsement and delivery.

8.4 Maturity of Bill

The term maturity refers the date on which a bill of exchange or a promissory note becomes due for payment. In arriving at the maturity date three days, known as days of grace, must be added to the date on which the period of credit expires instrument is payable. Thus, if a bill dated March 05 is payable 30 days after date it, falls due on April 07, i.e., 33 days after March 05. If it were payable one month after date, the due date would be April 08, i.e., one month and 3 days after March 05. However, where the date of maturity is a public holiday, the instrument will become due on the preceding business day. In this case if April 08, falls on a public holiday then the April 07 will be the maturity date. But when an emergent holiday is declared under the Negotiable Instruments Act 1881, by the Government of India which may happen to be the date of maturity of a bill of exchange, then the date of maturity will be the next working day immediately after the holiday. For example, the Government declared a holiday on April 08 which happened to be the day on which a bill of exchange drawn by Gupta upon Verma for ₹20,000 became due for payment, Since April 08, has been declared a holiday under the Negotiable Instruments Act, therefore, April 09, will be the date of maturity for this bill.

8.5 Discounting of Bill

If the holder of the bill needs funds, he can approach the bank for encashment of the bill before the due date. The bank shall makes the payment of the bill after deducting some interest (called discount in this case). This process of encashing the bill with the bank is called discounting the bill. The bank gets the amount from the drawee on the due date.

8.6 Endorsement of Bill

Any holder may transfer a bill unless its transfer is restricted, i.e., the bill has been negotiated containing words prohibiting its transfer. The bill can be initially endorsed by the drawer by putting his signatures at the back of the bill along with the name of the party to whom it is being transferred. The act of signing and transferring the bill is called endorsement.

8.7 Accounting Treatment

For the person who draws the bill of exchange and gets it back after its due acceptance, it is a bill receivable. For the person who accepts the bill, it is a bills payable. In case of a promissory note for the maker it is a bills payable and for the person in whose favour the promissory note is drawn it is a bills receivable. Bills receivables are assets and Bills payable are liabilities. Bills and Notes are used interchangeably.

8.7.1 In the Books of Drawer/Promissor

A bill receivable can be treated in the following four ways by its receiver.

1. He can retain it till the date of maturity, and
 - (a) get it collected on date of maturity directly, or
 - (b) get it collected through the banker.
2. He can get the bill discounted from the bank.
3. He can endorse the bill in favour of his Creditor.

The accounting treatment in the books of receiver under all the four alternatives is given below under the assumption that the bill is duly honoured on maturity by the acceptor.

- (1) When the bill of exchange is retained by the receiver with him till date of its maturity:

On receiving the bill

Bills Receivable A/c	Dr.
To Debtors A/c

On maturity of the bill

Cash/Bank A/c	Dr.
To Bills Receivable A/c

However, when the bill of exchange is retained by the receiver with him and sent to bank for collection a few days before maturity, the following two entries are recorded:

On sending the bill for collection

Bills Sent for Collection A/c	Dr.
To Bills Receivable A/c

On receiving the advice from the bank that the bill has been collected

Bank A/c	Dr.
To Bills Sent for Collection A/c

(2) When the receiver gets the bill discounted from the bank:

On receiving the bill

Bills Receivable A/c	Dr.
To Debtors A/c

On discounting the bill

Bank A/c	Dr.
Discount A/c	Dr.
To Bills Receivable A/c

On Maturity

No entry is recorded because the bill becomes the property of the bank, therefore, the bank collects the amount of the bill from the acceptor and no journal entry is recorded in the books of the drawer.

(3) When the bill is endorsed by the receiver in favour of his creditor:

On receiving the bill

Bills Receivable A/c	Dr.
To Debtor's A/c

On endorsing the bill

Creditor's A/c	Dr.
To Bills Receivable A/c

On Maturity

No entry is recorded because the bill has been transferred in favour of the creditor, therefore the creditor becomes its owner and will receive the payment on maturity. Hence, no entry is recorded in the books of drawer or endorser.

8.7.2 In the Books of Acceptor/Promissor

The following journal entries are recorded in the books of the acceptor or promisor under all the four alternatives. It makes no difference whether the bill is retained discounted, endorsed or pledged.

On accepting the bill

Creditor's A/c	Dr.
To Bills Payable A/c

On Maturity of the bill

Bills Payable A/c	Dr.
To Bank A/c

Amit sold goods for ₹20,000 to Sumit on credit on Jan 01, 2017. Amit drew a bill of exchange upon Sumit for the same amount for three months. Sumit accepted the bill and returned it to Amit. Sumit met his acceptance on maturity. Record the necessary journal entries under the following circumstances:

- (i) Amit retained the bill till the date of its maturity and collected directly
- (ii) Amit discounted the bill @ 12% p.a from his bank
- (iii) Amit endorsed the bill to his creditor Ankit
- (iv) Amit retained the bill and on March 31, 2017 Amit sent the bill for collection to its bank. On April 05, 2017 bank advice was received.

8.8.1 Noting Charges

A bill of exchange should be duly presented for payment on the date of its maturity. The drawee is absolved of his liability if the bill is not duly presented.

Proper presentation of the bill means that it should be presented on the date of maturity to the acceptor during business working hours. To establish beyond doubt that the bill was dishonoured, despite its due presentation, it may preferably be got noted by Notary Public. Noting authenticates the fact of dishonour. For providing this service, a fee is charged by the Notary Public which is called Noting Charges.

The following facts are generally noted by the Notary:

- Date, fact and reasons of dishonour;
- If the bill is not expressly dishonoured, the reasons why he treats it as dishonoured and;
- The amount of noting charges.

The entries recorded for noting charges in the drawers book are as follows:

When Drawer himself pays

Drawee's A/c	Dr.
To Cash A/c

Where endorsee pays

Drawee's A/c	Dr.
To Endorsee A/c

When the bank pays on discounted bill

Drawee's A/c	Dr.
To Bank A/c

It may be noticed that whosoever pays the noting charges, ultimately these have to be borne by the drawee. That is why the drawee is invariably debited in the drawer's books. This is because he is responsible for the dishonour of the bill and, hence, he has to bear these expenses. For recording the noting charges in his book the drawee opens Noting Charges Account. He debits the Noting Charges Account and credits the Drawer's Account. For example, Azad sold goods for ₹ 15,000 to Bunty and immediately drew a bill upon him on Jan. 01, 2017 payable after 3 months. On maturity the bill was dishonoured and ₹ 50 were paid by the holder of the bill as noting charges. The journal entries will be recorded in the books of Azad and Bunty as given below under the following circumstances:

- (a) When the bill was kept by Azad till maturity.
- (b) When the bill was discounted by Azad with his bank immediately @ 12% p.a.
- (c) When the bill was endorsed by Azad in favour of his creditor Chitra.

In the books of Azad, entries will be recorded as:

(i) When the bill was retained till its maturity

8.9 Renewal of the Bill

Sometimes, the acceptor of the bill foresees that it may be difficult to meet the obligation of the bill on maturity and may, therefore, approach the drawer with the request for extension of time for payment. If it is so, the old bill is cancelled and the fresh bill with new terms of payment is drawn and duly accepted and delivered. This is called renewal of the bill. Since the cancellation of bill is mutually agreed upon noting of the bill is not required.

The drawee may have to pay interest to the drawer for the extended period of credit. The interest is paid in cash or may be included in the amount of the new bill. Sometimes, a part of the amount due may be paid and the new bill may be drawn only for the balance. For example, a bill of ₹ 10,000 is cancelled on a cash payment of ₹ 3,000 and acceptance of a new bill for the balance of ₹ 7,000 plus interest as agreed between the parties. The journal entries in the books of the drawer and the drawee will be the same as that of dishonour of bill. As for the interest in value, if it is not paid in cash, the drawer debits the drawee's account and credits the interest account, and the drawee debits the interest and credits the drawer's account in his books.

The journal entries recorded in case of renewal for the cancellation of the old bill, for interest and for the acceptance of the new bill in the books of the drawer and drawee are given below:

For example on February 01, 2017 Ravi sold goods to Mohan for ₹18,000; ₹ 3,000 were paid by Mohan immediately and for the balance he accepted three months bill drawn upon him by Ravi. On the date of maturity of the bill Mohan requested Ravi to cancel the old bill and a new bill upon him for a period of 2 months. He further agreed to pay interest in cash to Ravi @ 12% p.a. Ravi agreed to Mohan's request and cancelled the old bill and drew a new bill. The new bill was met on maturity by Mohan. 8.10 Retiring of the Bill

There are instances when a bill of exchange is arranged to be retired before the due date by mutual understanding between the drawer and the drawee. This happens when the drawee of the bill has funds at his disposal and makes a request to the drawer or holder to accept the payment of the bill before its maturity. If the holder agrees to do so, the bill is said to have been retired.

The retiring of a bill draws a curtain on the bill transactions before the expiry of its normal term. To encourage the retirement of the bill, the holder allows some discount called Rebate on bills for the period between date of retirement and maturity. The rebate is calculated at a certain rate of interest.

The accounting treatment on the retirement of a bill is similar to the accounting treatment when a bill is honoured by the acceptor on the due date in the ordinary course. The only difference between the two relates to the granting of rebate. The following journal entries are recorded:

Ashok sold goods ₹14,000 to Bishan on October 30, 2016 and drew three bills for ₹2,000, ₹4,000 & ₹8,000 payable after two, three, and four months respectively. The first bill was kept by Ashok with him till maturity. He endorsed the second bill in favour of his creditor Chetan. The third bill was discounted on December 03, 2016 at 12% p.a. The first and second bills were duly met on maturity but the third bill was dishonoured and the bank paid ₹50 as noting charges. On March 03, 2017 Bishan paid ₹4,000 and noting charges in cash and accepted a new bill at two months after date for the balance plus interest ₹100. The new bill was met on maturity by Bishan.
