Message From the TMB President: Texas Medical Board's Year-in-Review

Zaafran

This year has been another long one for so many, especially those in health care as we're coming on the heels of the pandemic. Considering all the unprecedented challenges, the Texas Medical Board (TMB) and its hardworking staff kept operations running smoothly and made several achievements for the people of Texas.

In March, the TMB launched the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact \(IMLC\) in Texas and quickly thereafter began licensing physicians through the Compact process. To date, we've seen over 1,100 physicians licensed to practice in Texas through this new pathway. An additional 1,300 Texas physicians have obtained a Letter of Qualification (LOQ) in order to practice in other Compact member states and jurisdictions.

As the TMB closed out the state fiscal year over the summer, the agency – for the second year in a row – licensed a record number of new physicians, issuing 6,584 total licenses in Fiscal Year 2022. This surpassed last year's record by 1,280 licenses. We now have nearly 100,000 Texas licensed physicians.

Starting over a year ago, and throughout much of 2022, the TMB worked with stakeholders to craft updates to the agency's administrative rules overseeing pain management, helping to further clarify registration and regulations for Pain Management Clinics \(PMCs\). TMB held multiple stakeholder meetings to gain valuable input and feedback from patients, physicians, collaborating health professionals, other regulators and organizations, including the Texas Pain Society, Texas Medical Association, Texas Radiological Society, and Texas Orthopedic Association. The updated rules help clarify what type of practices are exempt, outlines the criteria and processes for audits and inspections, and eases administrative burdens on PMCs that provide multi-modal treatment. We're hopeful the new rules will encourage more collaboration between primary care and other specialists and increase much-needed access for patients who suffer from chronic pain.

Finally, this fall the TMB, along with a dozen other state agencies, made the move several blocks north from the William P. Hobby, Jr. state office building in downtown Austin to the new George H.W. Bush state office building on 1801 Congress Avenue, part of the Capitol Complex expansion. A very special "Thank You" goes out to the TMB's Information Technology and Facilities staff who worked around the clock under ever-changing move dates and construction timelines to ensure this major relocation went as smoothly as possible and agency systems were back up and running with minimal downtime. TMB's employees were very flexible as they navigated the move and helped us quickly return to normal operations.

Looking ahead to the new year, the next session of the Texas Legislature will soon be starting, which will focus our staff's attention.

We will be sure to stay on top of legislation impacting the agency and our licensees and provide an update on laws that go into effect following the session.

As we're entering the holiday season, I want to be sure to acknowledge our health care colleagues. The holidays are often a difficult and stressful time for many of us. For those working in health care, working long shifts, nights and weekends, spending time away from loved ones is especially hard this time of year. The TMB has previously shared some helpful resources for managing stressful times. We encourage others to reach out to health professionals you know who may be struggling, and practice kindness and compassion to others this holiday season and into the new year.

Happy Holidays,

Dr. Sherif Zaafran, M.D., FASA

Texas Medical Board President

Interstate Medical Licensure Compact FAQs

The TMB continues to expeditiously license physicians via the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact (IMLC).

Staff also continue to field inquiries about the Compact and the application process. Some applicants have asked what type of license is issued through the Compact. The license is a full, unrestricted physician license, just like a regular Texas medical license issued by the TMB. It is not a separate license type or a license with special restrictions, only the application process is different and is initiated with the IMLC Commission.

We continue to remind those seeking licensure through the Compact to be mindful of the following helpful tips when applying:

- Avoid using abbreviations for names of medical schools or board certifications (e.g., "American Board" or "American Osteopathic Board")

- Specify name of medical school, if school has multiple locations
- Include a personal email address to receive licensure correspondence

Following these tips will greatly help TMB and Compact Commission staff and further expedite licensure for applicants. Before contacting TMB with a status update, please know the Compact process takes approximately two weeks from the date the application is received by the TMB from the IMLC Commission.

TMB Offices Have Moved to New Location

Texas Medical Board offices have relocated to the George H.W. Bush state office building on 1801 Congress Avenue, part of the Texas Capitol Complex expansion project to centralize state agencies.

The TMB's new physical address is: 1801 Congress Avenue, Suite 9.200
Austin, TX 78701

Please note agency phone numbers, FAX numbers, and P.O. Box numbers did not change.

NOTICE REGARDING PUBLIC ACCESS TO BUILDING:

While TMB offices are open to the public, the current Texas Facilities Commission rules for accessing agency suites in the George H.W. Bush Building are very restrictive. As such, for now, we would encourage TMB customers to reach out to us via email, phone, or mail as opposed to visiting in-person. This will enable the agency to provide the best possible service and reduce inconvenience for customers.

TXPHP, Wellness Programs Serve Health Community

A global pandemic, continuing health care workforce shortages, among many other factors, have had a profound impact on professionals throughout the entire health care community.

These increased stressors have had a negative effect on many health care workers and have resulted in decreasing physical and mental health and an increased risk of substance use and misuse. Physical and emotional exhaustion or so-called workplace burnout has been prevalent prior to the pandemic and continues to be a significant concern across all health care professions and practice settings.

“Healthcare providers are vulnerable to illness, just like everyone else,” said Texas Physician Health Program (TXPHP) Medical Director, Dr. Emily Doyle.

“Unfortunately, stigma and fear of professional ramifications can get in the way of reaching out for help.”

Patients receive the best care and have the best outcomes when those who are treating us are healthy themselves. There have been many suggested institutional reforms, and strategies to help alleviate workplace burnout.

We all benefit when we are looking out for each other and treating each other with respect and compassion. This extends to fellow health care workers and colleagues. One of the best things health care professionals can do is check in on a co-worker, talk with them, and see how they are doing.

- Check in with colleagues. Support from co-workers is very effective. Ask how they’re doing and how you might help.
- Pay attention to those who you might think are struggling and may need professional help. Like those who are increasingly irritable, withdrawing from friends and family, showing signs of impaired judgement or reduced ability to manage emotions, and excessive substance use.

- Most importantly, pay attention to your own health. Seeking help when you need it and making appointments for regular check-ups with your personal physician and health care team.

Most health professions also have health recovery and peer support programs, which serve as non-punitive avenues for helping to ensure health care professionals continue to take care of themselves while taking care of their patients.

The TXPHP is one such program that serves licensees of the Texas Medical Board (TMB) which includes physicians, physician assistants, acupuncturists, medical radiologic technologists, respiratory care therapists, perfusionists, and medical physicists.

TXPHP recognizes that substance use disorders and psychiatric illnesses, like many other diseases, are treatable conditions, and those who have completed acute treatment, continue ongoing treatment, and are appropriately monitored may have excellent outcomes and possess the ability to practice in their field of expertise safely and effectively.

“We understand the importance of addressing the wellness needs of healthcare providers,” said Dr. Dean McDaniel, TXPHP Governing Board President. “On behalf of the entire TXPHP Governing Board, we are extremely proud of our team and their efforts to ensure Texans will have the best care possible by navigating discreet assistance for our own.”

If you, or anyone you know, may benefit from seeking assistance or have any questions, please reach out to TXPHP, which is a confidential program: <https://www.txphp.state.tx.us/>

There are also support programs for other health care professionals not licensed by the TMB:

- Professional Recovery Network \(PRN\)
- Texas Peer Assistance Program for Nurses \(TPAPN\)

ALERT Reminder: Scams Targeting Licensees

We remind licensees to be on the alert for scammers impersonating the Texas Medical Board and other state and federal agencies over the phone or through fake letters sent via FAX, email, or mail.

In some instances, scammers may claim to be employees with the TMB, DEA, FBI or other law enforcement entity and may even attempt to spoof phone numbers making it appear as though a call is originating from a government agency, or send documents on official-looking letter-head demanding money or other action (click here for an example of a fake letter).

In one recent scam, a medical clinic received a phone call spoofing a TMB phone number in which the caller identified himself as “Terrance,” a TMB investigator who needed to relay “important information” to a physician about their license. The caller repeatedly indicated that they needed to verify the physician’s information, gave their license number, and told the physician they needed to inform them of a “legal complaint.” The caller then transferred the call to another individual who identified himself as the “chief investigator officer” to provide further information. This other individual stated they were from the “Medicine Board of Texas,” then informed the physician they received a legal complaint of “illegal drug trafficking” from the FDA and the “FBI Department,” and provided a fake badge number and case number to the physician. The caller said the line was being recorded and requested the physician’s personal cell phone number to continue the conversation.

Please know the TMB staff would never call and discourage individuals from contacting lawyers, make requests for sensitive information over the phone or send demand letters for money to reinstate licenses or threaten the arrest of licensees. The TMB does not suspend licenses at the direction of the DEA, FBI or other federal entity. Additionally, the TMB has no authority to issue, cancel, or influence arrest warrants, as some scams have indicated.

For more information on scams and how to report them to law enforcement authorities, visit: <https://www.tmb.state.tx.us/page/scam-alerts>
