

USED OIL COLLECTION CENTERS

Austin has a large number of drop-off centers listed below that allow oil to be collected and reused instead of contaminating water or buried in landfills. These are identified by the logo (left), either on a sign outside a building or a sticker on a door or window. Call the City of Austin's Solid Waste Services Department at 494-9400 for more information. Below are some rules and advice about recycling oil.

1. Drop off oil only during regular business hours. In the past, vandals have taken oil dropped off by well-meaning people and dumped it on collection center grounds.

2. Recycle no more than five (5) gallons of oil at one time.

3. Store oil in a sealed, leak-proof container. The best is a reusable combination drain pan/storage container.

4. Bring only used motor oil to a collection center. Do not mix oil with automotive liquids, other liquids or debris. This contamination makes it hazardous and not recyclable.

5. These collection centers are for individuals only. Businesses should see the Yellow Pages for disposal options.

6. Be considerate. These businesses are offering their services voluntarily in order to protect our environment.

7. Fill in the Do-It-Yourselfer log sheet with the date, your name, address and quantity of oil recycled.

8. Used oil recycling is free at these centers, but please call ahead to be sure the facility is currently accepting it. Not all centers will take filters, batteries, antifreeze, and tires, and there may be a charge involved for them.
