Will 2024 be a good year for Pisces men? – Pisces Man 2024 in a Nutshell

Hello Sweetheart and welcome to this year's guide for Pisces Man 2024!

I'm delighted to present to you a comprehensive package of information covering all the important aspects of your relationship with Pisces Guy. I'm going to start off by doing a detailed overview of the main planetary trends and how they will be affecting your relationship with Pisces Guy, and of course his moods and attitudes.

Then I'll be breaking down the readings into monthly forecasts covering all the important topics like themes and goals for the month, dating tips, how to enhance romance, advice for improving your marriage and an insight into career and money prospects for Pisces Guy.

So whether you've just met him, have your eye on him, have been married for years or are in a romance, there's plenty of information on aspects of your relationship, guidance and support to help you navigate the tricky area of relationships.

Now let's dive into the most powerful transits for your Pisces man:

Planetary Trends and Movements

The big event astrologically this year is the Jupiter-Uranus conjunction in Taurus. Now when the outer planets form a conjunction it has a powerful effect because it doesn't happen every year. Jupiter gets very well with Uranus because they are both expansive, exuberant, progressive, open-minded planets and therefore they release a burst of creative energy.

Jupiter is the co-ruler of Pisces, so being conjunct Uranus indicates a lot of scope for positive change, new ventures, exciting new relationships and in general a more ingenious approach to his life.

This is certainly a year rich with solutions and opportunities, but it does require an open mind. Sometimes the energies suggests there will be upheaval, surprise communications and an increase in the tempo of daily life and travel, particularly locally.

So it's not a good year for routines, it's actually a year where it's important to be flexible and to run with the baton when it's handed to him. So the approach to your year with Pisces Guy, is to expect the unexpected, be ready to change paths at a minute's notice. Be open to new information and stay on your toes.

Jupiter in Taurus

Jupiter was in Taurus last year, then went retrograde indicating that the energies became somewhat intense and rather introspective, but from the beginning of this year Jupiter is direct in Taurus and this brings lots of opportunities in terms of the communication sector of his life. So this is absolutely ideal for relationships that begin via dating apps, long distance relationships and relationships that, for one reason or another, rely heavily on digital communications.

This can be a time when exchanging love letters and the creative use of social media to advance your relationship is particularly noteworthy and interesting.

It's also a fantastic time for him learning new things, embracing varied opportunities and this can include more cultural awareness, creating more scope for trips away and definitely making new friends.

So it's a time for expanding the reach you both have socially, enjoying new things and being enlightened with new ideas that will refresh your relationship and improve your relationship, even if you are just dating.

Jupiter enters Gemini

The entrance of Jupiter into Gemini has several positive effects: on one level it's great for family matters and this is a good time for celebrating landmark family events, anniversaries, weddings and entertaining in your home.

This is also a wonderful time for renovating your property or even house hunting, so if you guys have been thinking of making a move, you may want to start putting that into action in the middle of 2024, and seeking somewhere that helps you fulfill your aspirations.

However, a new home should represent a brand new start, so it's not just about moving into a different place where you are basically going to continue to do the same old things. No, a home move should be a substantial move, where the new environment is somewhat different, for example moving to the country if you've always been in the city, moving into a different state with a different sort of mindset, moving somewhere that will be better for your children's education.

In other words, there should be a meaning behind moving, it's not just about the home, there should be an almost spiritual meaning behind moving, because this can make it a lot more successful and rewarding.

It's also important that your move should signal to yourselves that you're going to make a brand new start and leave the past behind.

So a lost opportunity would be moving and taking all the skeletons with you, so if you move, or even if you renovate your home, it's ideal to have a massive clear out, purging and getting rid of old correspondence or anything that ties you to negative events in the past.

The great thing with Pisces Guys is that it's possible to have a total reboot, a metamorphosis and begin your lives on a whole new track.

Sometimes a change in your home environment is driven by the needs of another family member, maybe one of your parents or a child, but it can still represent a significant new phase for everyone's life.

Total Solar Eclipse in Aries

This solar eclipse, which is happening in his solar second house, represents a strong desire to create a more secure environment within the family or for himself. Now this means that in long-term relationships, he's more eager for commitment, he will be more inclined to talk about marriage or even moving in together.

It's also important for him to refocus on the little things, in, fact happiness is to be found in the vagaries of everyday life. It's quite important for him to understand what his needs really are, and therefore you as a couple shouldn't be chasing your tails, keeping up with Jones or trying to live someone else's life.

North node in Aries

This year Pisces Guy gets a lot of satisfaction out of being a provider, and he feels really good when he is helping the family to become more prosperous.

Conversely, if it's the case that Pisces Guy has recently struggled financially and has not been achieving much success, he's likely feeling very depressed and quite self-critical. So if that's true, this is definitely a time where you need to help boost his confidence, draw his attention towards his potential and lift his spirits.

So he wants to be a good provider he is setting the bar high for himself in terms of what he should deliver as a parent, but he's also more likely to be self-critical and to feel like he's falling short of the mark and this can cause him to be quite blue, in which case his energy becomes depleted and he's not always as effective as he could be, so look out for clues that he's feeling this way.

Oh the times they are a changing

Intellectual stimulation and intellectual curiosity are very important in all relationships, Pisces Guy is rather restless and you have to pique his interest, you have to engage with him in a way that is novel.

This is definitely not a time when a stale relationship finds it easy to survive, you need an injection of fresh activities and ideas into the relationship.

You and Pisces Guy need to think about changing up your routines, maybe not being so addicted to stability. It's also important to review your relationship rituals, so part of this year is understanding how your relationship is evolving and adapting to that don't expect the same old same old.

Trust or Bust

So Jupiter in Taurus is good news for relationships with Pisces Guy, particularly if things have felt like you were maybe plodding along or caught in the doldrums.

On the other hand, if you tend to be very insecure and you have a very tight relationship with Pisces Guy you could see some of the events this year as a little bit of a threat because it will dilute his attention.

There's a lot going on, the level of activity increases on a daily basis and there are new people coming into your lives which shake up the dynamic.

So trust is absolutely vital now, if you feel very uncertain about his level of fidelity and honesty, then obviously changes like this can awaken those anxieties, however communication is key, you have to maintain an open dialogue as the more he's free to discuss with you any emerging needs or desires, the better off you are.

Trading Up

Jupiter in Taurus is also a great time for him to learn new things, if he's involved in sales and marketing this is a powerful time for his career, but you should encourage him to pick up new skills and if he's interested in adult education or furthering learning, this is a great time to do it.

This is also an information-rich time when he should do as much reading as possible to arm himself with information. Right now it's absolutely vital to have the facts at his fingertips.

He may also have opportunities in his work to do with teaching, lecturing or training other colleagues and this can be exciting.

There are changes right now in the way he works and it's important for him to embrace new technology, make better use of social media platforms in his work and also to be more ambitious in terms of his use of social media platforms.

Setting down Roots

Jupiter in his solar fourth house is all about setting down roots, so this is a potential opportunity to uproot yourselves and begin to set down new roots or even build a business from scratch.

This is a particularly favorable year for a work from home initiative or for him beginning a brand new career that it'll involve greater flexibility, more work from a home office or online, or alternatively beginning a family business.

Talking to the Man in the Mirror

What's so important for Pisces Guy in 2024 is for him for him to connect to who he really is, and that's something that you can do together as a couple, because if one of you doesn't know where they are at or what's really important, it's likely you both don't. Thus discovering what's really most fundamental to your happiness is actually a goal for both of you to decide on.

It's also important in new relationships for you and Pisces Guy to understand if, at a fundamental level, you really do need and want the same things out of life, and that's why total honesty is important.

It's absolutely vital that neither of you is resorting to people pleasing to keep the relationship going, you don't want to be telling Pisces Guy what he wants to hear.

It's important for you both to arrive at the truth, because when you both speak honestly, it is that much quicker to get to the core of what you need to achieve in your lives to be happy, and then you can get ahead of the game and do that.

Big Spender

He's quite keen on making large purchases this year, so while it may sound superficial, sometimes it's actually quite rewarding to make a considered purchase, like a car, new furniture for the house, a piece of art or some jewelry.

So it's quite important this year for you both to invest in your home or in something of lasting value.

If you are celebrating birthdays, anniversaries or anything like that, it should be marked by a special purchase that will be a family heirloom in the future.

So it's rather important to buy a piece of jewelry, a piece of art or something that you will have, that's tangible, and that can be appreciated well into the future.

He means business

Pisces guy is not necessarily known for his business acumen or ability, but this year, if he is running his own business or has aspirations to do so, things are much more favorable. It's important for him to focus on his talents and to work hard at actualizing them.

What you can do, as his partner, is really encourage him to recognize the underused potential he has. Pisces Guy, a little bit like Aquarius Guy, often doesn't fulfil his purpose in life, because he ends up being a square peg in a round hole, simply because his talents and abilities, being rather more esoteric, are not easily recognized by themselves their teachers or employers, and so they don't always find their niche.

So this can be a fantastic year for him to do something that his heart is really in, and that he's actually has a great talent for. Encourage him to develop his talent further and to use it more in his career, so he may want to actually change career so that he is life direction actually reflects what he is best at, or he may want to adjust his role in his current career so that he is also doing something that he finds more fulfilling and it's a better fit for him.

Brand Date with Destiny

This is actually a really great year for a brand new career direction or career change, so it's great for him to update all his social media profiles. Remember when I said that better use of social media is vital in locating opportunities, so he needs to attend to that as well as to use technology in a much more savvy way to supercharge his career.

Success and recognition can come to him quite suddenly, he may be head hunted or a new opportunity may turn his world upside down.

You guys should get ready for some news that's going to disrupt the routine and this could come via a sudden opportunity or development within his corporation that requires him to assume a different role, but it's very important for him to go with these changes and not to resist them.

Create a sanctuary for Romance to blossom

In terms of romance, it's absolutely essential for you guys to indulge a little bit this year, it's important to have breaks away where you can experience a little bit of luxury.

It's also important to reduce clutter, noise and unpleasantness in your home environment, to bring about more harmony, which is why, as I said, redecorating can actually fulfil a greater role than it appears because, if it is reducing stress and helping you to relax more at home, this is exactly what he needs.

Pisces guy needs to feel safe and secure, and part of that is via having more harmony in his direct environment. What's also important for romance, is dedication, trust and respect.

He's looking for a partner who is devoted to the relationship and who wears her commitment on her sleeve, so this year it's important for you to say the words 'I love you' and to back that up through actions. Both words and deeds are important, because he's paying attention to both.

It's also important to stimulate him more with physical affection and closeness, so this means finding different ways to be physically sensuous with each other, whether it be doing massages or hot tubs together or whatever else you can do in a relaxed environment. Even indulgent food and aphrodisiacs make an enormous difference.

Quantity is Quality

It's often said that quality time is better than quantity time, but in love this year, quantity time is quality time. So in order for your relationship to thrive, you and Pisces Guy need to see a lot of each other physically, and when you're not with each other, to stay in touch in terms of communication.

However, remember that communication should be lively and engaging, it shouldn't just be driven out of need, remember to always be original, communicate with him in novel ways which he's not necessarily expecting, because this really piques his interest.

The meaning in your life and the inspiration

In longer term relationships, it's important that the meaning isn't lost. Pisces Guy is a very spiritual soul, he is not satisfied to just live life day to day, focusing on work and getting through the day or going through the motions. It's vital for him to feel that the partnership he is in is meant to be, and that he's with a soulmate.

So to the extent that he feels emotionally and spiritually fulfilled in the relationship, things can become incredibly intense, passionate and relationship can go to a new level. However, if he feels that there's a lack of connection, both intellectually and emotionally, he's more likely to question the actual direction and meaning of the relationship.

So it's important for you to respond to him, to be a good listener and also encourage aspiration and a sense of direction in the relationship.

If he feels that you are invested in the future of the relationship and it's going in a certain direction, he's far more likely to sense the purpose and spiritual value in the relationship, but if the relationship exists on just a functional level and you guys are drifting apart, then the relationship is actually harder to maintain.

A Question of Passion

Now in some cases, Pisces Guy will question his relationships, he needs to analyze them, he needs to have a feel for them, he needs to get a little tingling sensation which confirms to him that the relationship is worthwhile.

Now it's not at all about whether the relationship is going well or going badly, even if a relationship is going badly, he can still be heavily invested, engaged and excited about the future potential of that relationship.

However, a relationship may seem on the surface like it's going well, but he may actually be bored and feeling unfulfilled by it. So the surface perception of how the relationship is doing, is not that important, rather it's how he feels about it at a deep level. Is it meaningful to him?

So what you have to be careful of this year is falling into the trap of thinking everything's A-Okay and not understanding how much work needs to be done to give him that sense of that the relationship has an edge and it's meant to be.

Taming the green eyed monster

The most important things to avoid with Pisces Guy this year are jealousy, possessiveness and control. It's important that secrets come out into the open and are discussed.

Now as I've mentioned, it's more likely that he'll making new friends, feeling like engaging with different people and even taking work trips away, so in some cases the relationship will be tested and if you guys don't have a lot of trust in the relationship, there's going to be doubts, but you have to find a philosophical way of moving on without letting these destroy the relationship, because jealousy is the snake in the grass in relationships this year.

Now to an extent, that's always true, but this year it's more pertinent.

Cat and Mouse

It's important for you to avoid game playing, Pisces Guy can sometimes be evasive and opaque, and this leads to a sense that there's a game of cat and mouse going on.

You need to confront him and call him out on any behavior that's not transparent and if he seems secretive or sketchy, be straightforward, to the point and call out anything you feel is shady.

Develop strong boundaries and work on your own self-respect, remember what I said about this not being a good year for people pleasing with Pisces Guy!

He must know that they are red lines that he cannot cross and you must enforce those strongly.

He will tend to push your boundaries a little bit and to see what you will put up with, and so you have to work hard where your boundaries are concerned and be firm on those, and then he will respect you.

When it comes to affection or sexual matters you don't always have to say 'yes', know what conflicts with your own sense of comfort or what is right, and always draw a line.

Remember, respect comes from strong boundaries and knowing your boundaries, don't let Pisces Guy muddy the waters and move the goalposts, which is something he likes to do a lot in relationships as his way of playing a game and maneuvering to his goals.

Summary

This year it's important to invest in your relationship, and perhaps make important sacrifices for each other or vital decisions that will be a hallmark of your relationship or may even be relationship-defining.

So, this may be a year when something very significant happens which bonds you together forever.

January

Themes and Goals

The year is off to a rather excellent start for Pisces Guy, in fact he feels energetic, spontaneous and eager to push the envelope. This is definitely a month where he can set the ball rolling on quite a few important changes that will enhance your lives.

The great thing, however, is that he's not looking to be disruptive, controversial or to walk out on responsibilities, it's more a case of him creatively wanting to look for windows of opportunity for expansion to make life more exciting and more flexible.

Now while he's generally in a buoyant proactive and progressive frame of mind, he is not necessarily in a romantic, touchy feely frame of mind.

Pisces have two modes: one of the modes of Pisces Guy is fairly romantic and he enjoys the whole theme of love and romance because he's such an imaginative creative, but he's also a free spirit and has an adventurous side, and that can mean he often becomes a little bit distracted, even aloof, and hard to grab hold of.

So sometimes this month, the activities he gets involved in with friends, work, charitable work or seeking adventure etc. can almost take him away from the relationship, but it's important for you to let him to grab hold of these opportunities right now.

So this is a month where you need to give each other freedom, support each other in your quests and not try to judge each other, it's vital right now not to be critical or judgmental, keep an open mind on the things he wants to try or do.

Dating Tips

Pisces Guy is eager to meet new people and he wants to improve his partnerships or dive into new partnerships, but the problem is he is a little bit self-centered, so if you are dating him, he's probably wanting to steer the direction, do things that he wants to do and satisfy himself primarily.

He's not always that sensitive and he's also not very affectionate or tactile, so you may sometimes feel like you're being dragged around to his events, or that he perhaps invites you to parties but spends a lot of time talking to other people. He's eager to have his friends around all the time, which can make hard to get to know him a little bit better.

This is not a time when you really get to know him at a deep level, but you can have fun together so embrace that and go with it.

Romantic Magic

To the extent that you guys are in a similar friendship circle, dating can be a lot of fun and quite vibrant. If you are the sort of person who wants him all to yourself and wants to enjoy a rather relaxed, cozy romantic experience with him, that's going to be a little bit difficult for a couple of reasons.

One, he is extremely impulsive, which means he likes to do things on the spirit of the moment, he likes to follow trends. Thus if his friends are kind of getting into something he wants to get into, that sometimes takes a little bit of patience. Say for example, his friends are all getting motorbikes, he might decide that's the way to go.

If his friends are all having a midlife crisis, that may make him question his life, so he's very open to being influenced by his peer group or his colleagues, and that can mean you may suddenly think you don't really know him. He is extremely impressionable.

On the other hand, if you guys have the same group of friends and you're both really comfortable with this group of friends, then the fact that you are all spending a lot more time together needn't be a bad thing.

So, try and get to know his friends better and invite his friends round to the house, so at least you won't feel totally abandoned.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

This month in marriage, it's all about the sacrifices that you are willing to make for each other. Sometimes relationships are not in balance, there are periods when one partner needs to be the one who's more patient, who lets the buck stop with them and who picks up the pieces, whereas the other one may be more scattered, more impulsive or less responsible.

Now that's not necessarily a problem on a month by month basis, as long as it doesn't become a continuing trend, so sometimes you have to be the one who grins and bears it, and puts up with his need to express himself and to do new activities, while you kind of hold fort.

This is not necessarily a problem for relationships where you're both extremely independent and don't have children, but sometimes, if you do have children, you may feel that you're left so holding the can, however it's not all bad, because a lot of the things he's doing, will eventually pay dividends for family life as well.

So, the message this month, is go with the flow, be accommodating, cut him some slack, but reign that in as the year goes on, and make sure that there's a period during this year where you get your chance to do your thing and have your freedom.

Sex

Pisces Guy particularly enjoys sex in new places and the spirit of travel can get him aroused.

Most couples will not have an opportunity to travel during January, but if you are able to get away for a short trip or to visit with friends, that can help stimulate your sex life.

On the other hand, doing things differently and shaking up the routine, going to exotic new restaurants or different places in town can also create more lust between you.

It's all about a spirit of discovery, so whether it's discovering a new book, a fantastic new film director that you both enjoy or a brand-new club opens in town, go along to the debut and let that get the creative and sexual juices flowing.

Career

The key in career this month is his ability to fix things, so he needs to address problems or areas of his work life that are broken - these can be broken relationships, chains of supply that have broken down or even machinery that isn't working.

It's now time to get that all sorted as the year gets off to start.

So, it may be a time when money has to be forked out to pay for repairs, alternatively, if he's able to knuckle down to these things himself and find ways to either improvise or do some repairs.

Sometimes, this is a great excuse to implement totally new systems and to root out outdated technology in the workplace.

There might be a bit of a scorched earth policy in terms of career, where he just cuts out and totally gets rid of things that aren't working and up ends the whole system to find something a lot more modern and efficient.

Money

This is an excellent time for him drawing up Five-Year plans, it's a time to think ahead to what might be coming up in terms of the aspirations you have, like big family holidays, to educational goals for either himself or children, which needs to be saved for.

He may want to set aside money to start a brand new business opportunity.

So, this is a good time for him to stop pondering where he's going to get the money for one or more of these important things, and thinking about where to prune back so that the longer term potential is that much more possible.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 11th to the 25th of January, this is the New Moon waxing phase and it's the best time for all his new activities and brand new goals, initiatives and also for beginning dating, getting married or doing anything in your marriage as a team.

With Mercury direct in Sagittarius, this is an excellent time for him to be attending job interviews, giving presentations or speeches. Making long term decisions is favored.

This is a great time for him to communicate more with people, in fact, people power is key to career and a lot of the important events that happen career-wise are contingent on how he communicates, particularly with colleagues, employees, underlings and also the public.

Platonic relationships can suddenly become something that are more enticing sexually and he can experience a high level of attraction or desire towards someone in his friendship circle.

This is an excellent time for your guys to be attending large scale events like concerts and festivals together. Hanging out with friends and networking, for business or pleasure, are also favorable activities.

Going ahead in his career, he can no longer see the world through the same lens, new circumstances do not fit in with his old views and so any viewpoints or ideas that he had previously associated himself with may now have to be adjusted, so that he can gain more understanding and insight of what appropriate new approaches are.

February

Themes and Goals

This month is frustrating for Pisces Guy, but on the other hand it calls on a key attribute that he has, and that is to be quite sensitive and understand trends and to know how to pace himself.

Direct action and confrontation is very ineffective right now, which is great because Pisces Guy is a non-confrontational person. In fact, sometimes he can be too passive and right now that facility comes to the fore, but it's actually quite a good thing, because if he goes about trying to achieve something too aggressively, it can end up backfiring.

So it's important for him to be mindful, to use his intuition and to stay take a step back until things unfold, and he can get a clearer idea of what is required.

After the excitement of last month, he may have slightly lower vitality and he's less inclined to push himself, so this is not a time when he enjoys doing things like DIY or anything that he perceives in his head as hard work.

This can be one of those months where it's hard to get through to him, it's hard to get him to do things that are important and he may evade responsibility. Thus he requires a little bit of patience, but try to introduce more structure and help him to help himself by encouraging him to be a little bit more disciplined.

The problem with him this month, is disciplines is totally lacking. He can get totally drawn into tangents and if something captures his imagination, he'll devote oodles of time to it, while letting more important things sit on the back burner. So you do actually have to be quite a slave driver, if you like, but just remember, he needs a bit of pushing and prodding right now or he will just whittle away time with wool-gathering.

It's a good time to use emotional angles to make arguments or to try and play on his sympathy. If you need to make your point, it tends to be more effective if you link this to lateral thinking, emotional matters or the world of feelings, as you can't always appeal to his logic, but you can appeal to his feelings.

Dating Tips

One of the big problems in dating this month, especially if you don't know Pisces Guy that well, is that you may both mislead each other, sometimes you end up doing it inadvertently by attempting to be diplomatic or people pleasing.

Sometimes you think you are just telling him what he wants to hear and he may be doing the same with you, but this leads to a buildup of fog and confusion, because you guys may not be acting entirely authentically.

It's one of those times where the saying, "Are you thinking what I'm thinking," is apropos as often you react to what you think he's thinking, but you can be wrong, and therefore you guys may land up in a lot of confusion.

It's important not to second guess each other, if there's something that needs to be said, be direct and leave no room for interpretation.

This is definitely a good time for dreaming, entering your own magic bubble or doing little things that are quirky and uniquely yours. It's a great time for new couples who just want to nest together or start sharing secrets and developing a unique love language between you.

Romantic Magic

If you want to inspire romance with Pisces Guy, things have to be larger than life. Think big, surprise him and sometimes playing little games can also be quite enchanting, but whatever you do don't be bland.

If you can afford to get away for Valentine's Day, that's absolutely ideal, especially if it's to somewhere you've never been before. However, by the same token, doing something radically new can also stimulate the passions.

So while you should both agree, and neither of you should be forced to go into something that you really don't like, it's still great to be a little bit adventurous with the way you go about romance, that's why a little bit of roleplay and dressing up, slipping into different personas can be exciting.

I think all of us have someone we admire and often slipping into a persona and almost pretending to be that person can be a sexy way of achieving some excitement.

It's also great to use roleplay, because we become very defined by our own problems and identities, but roleplay helps you to escape from all that, as when you are being someone else, you feel a lot more free to do something differently, which is very liberating.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

This month the passionate urges in Pisces Guy are quite hard to control, he can be quite compulsive, he's very immediate, he's not very good at taking a step back and seeing things rationally.

He tends to allow emotions to get on top of him, and while that can be a good thing because he's more able to show feelings of desire and to be affectionate which may improve your sex life, it can also be a bad thing, because he is easily triggered, he can be more touchy and he may even be quite a sarcastic.

Now Pisces guy doesn't usually lose his temper as such, but he does have a way with words that can be quite cutting.

This is actually a difficult time for couples where there's a power imbalance, so if you happen to be his boss or you are doing better in your career than him, that's likely to cause a lot of friction in the relationship.

I said at the beginning of the guide that he identifies his ego with the way he's able to provide for a family or for his partner and so if he feels that you wear the pants in the house, you earn more or have a better job, he's likely to feel a bit deflated by that.

Therefore often the issues you're having with him can be linked to that factor, so if you are in a position of power in the relationship don't overplay your hand, be less inclined to talk about work or about your achievements and give him more encouragement and support.

Sex

This is an amazing month for sexual fantasy and role play, it's great to exchange ideas about your fantasies, to perhaps watch movies or read an erotic literature which reflects the kind of things which stimulate you.

It doesn't necessarily mean that you have to try these things in real life, but sometimes the mere idea, suggestion or chatting about them can be very stimulating.

If you guys enjoy dressing up, slipping into different characters, using mime etc. his can all be quite exciting, even a little game of charades or Pictionary (weird as that may sound) could be exciting if used in a sexual way.

Be careful that he doesn't use sex as a weapon, sometimes he can purposely withhold sex or withhold compliments in order to punish you in some way. Try not to let that upset you, if it doesn't appear to have any impact on you, he'll stop doing it.

Career

Fortunately, this is quite a positive month in terms of career, there are many opportunities that he can develop and different areas of his work life tend to show more promise, however, he can also be lazy and complacent, so while there are opportunities, if he doesn't push himself, he can miss them.

He might actually complain that nothing much is happening, but that's not accurate, as there is a lot happening, he may just not have the drive or the faith in himself to take advantage.

Encourage him not to rest on his laurels, this is certainly a good time, so tell him to make hay while the sun shines, to push further, demand more of himself and use this period wisely as it's fertile and should not go to waste.

Money

If he engages his drive and passion, the sky is the limit, he can move mountains, achieve targets and really make a difference in terms of money. The problem is his mindset, if he is in a more negative frame of mind, he may only see the problems and become obsessed with those to the point that he misses the opportunities.

Success financially is all about the degree to which he can harness energy and focus on the best method of attack. If he is working on a strategy, this is great, because he can drive through on that strategy and complete, however, if he doesn't have a firm game plan or strategy, this is when the month can just drift and he can start worrying or getting fixated on things that aren't really that important.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 9th to the 24th making this the best time for brand new activities, taking risks, being proactive on relationship goals, date nights and romance. Post the 24th is better for assessment and a consolidation period where you take a step back and he understands what's going on, rather than diving in.

International travel is favored, as is taking a honeymoon. Long distance travel successful whether it's for business or pleasure. When it comes to his business, promoting heavily and advertising yield results. A good time for his study goals.

Dealing with money matters connected to loans, taxes and debt is favored. A time to do research on financial matters to achieve more clarity.

Sex counseling or better communication about sex is important. Investigation and discovery of difficult information is valuable. This is a good time for income involving tips, subscriptions and donations

A good waxing period for his personal goals, recuperating and improving health through physical activity or therapy. This is a suitable period for dealing with health issues and getting new information to improve health. A good time for him to change diet and investigate new exercise routines.

March

Themes and Goals

The theme this month, is emergence! It's important for him to understand that he is emerging from a phase of life and entering a brand-new phase, there is always hope and inspiration available, he needs to have faith in his own potential for renewal and power to heal.

This is potentially a time where he feels more rejuvenated and is suddenly awake to the possibilities. They always say the sun will come out tomorrow or tomorrow's a new day, but this month he needs to take the attitude of: the sun is coming out.

It's a new month and for the Pisces guys in the Northern hemisphere, spring is beginning and that usually imbues people with a sense of hope and optimism, and that is certainly the case for Pisces Guy.

Even if he has felt a little bit down, he is now able to find renewed power and the strength to carry on. However, it's important for you both to focus on the blessings you have and the positives in your relationship.

It's also vital that you guys, as a couple, capitalize on the good relationships in your life, those may be good friends, good family relationships or possibly even good relationships with people like lawyers or accountants, because while we all need friends and family, sometimes we need professional help as well.

So, take time to reinforce the bonds with people who are fundamental to the functioning of your life and who you can rely on for either personal or professional support.

It's also important that you believe in yourselves and you believe in the partnership, because right now you do have the strength within you to carry on and to get over hurdles and it's essential that you know that you have that strength and you tap into that reservoir.

Dating Tips

In terms of dating, he will try and engineer quite a lot of emotional freedom within relationships. He is very comfortable with himself and his own view of the world right now, and he won't appreciate anyone trying to change him or shift his perspective.

So, if you are the sort of person who likes to mold partners or tell partners how they should think, and I know a lot of us do that, that's really not going to work on Pisces Guy.

His attitude now is, take me as I am, I'm not changing for you because I am happy with how I am.

He is repelled by criticism and he hates people who question him or interfere in his life, so make sure that your manner of communication shows an interest, but doesn't come across as judgmental because these are sure fire things to make the dating experience a lot more difficult. Sometimes, he may want a little break right now from dating to perhaps pursue some other activities, don't take that as rejection, the more freedom you give him, the more he'll come back.

Romantic Magic

Venus is entering his sign of Pisces this month, Venus in Pisces is actually of benefit to everybody because Venus is very at home in Pisces where it is exalted, and it gives affection, desire and pleasure a boost.

However, the key is creativity and subtlety, so what turns Pisces Guy on now are things that look good, sound good, smell good and feel good, so you have to give him an all-round sensual experience.

He's not likely to be turned on if you've been mucking out the stable and it's important to spend more time on your appearance and on fragrances in preparation for the date.

If you are going out with Pisces Guy, put in an effort, he likes to know you've gone to trouble, to either look good or prepare in some way for the date as if it means something to you.

It's also very important not to come on too strong, the kind of behavior which he doesn't find very appealing right now is aggressive or crude, so try to curb swearing, being too brash and just tone it down a little bit, be kind of diplomatic and feminine.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

This month it's important for you guys to work on your communication styles. While it's always important to be honest and straightforward, there's a lot more to communication than that, and sometimes we have to use our intuition and our gut instinct to know how to hit the right notes.

So this month it's important to communicate frequently with Pisces Guy, but how it's done is very important, so judge the mood and get your timing right.

This is a not a good time to dump some information on him at an inopportune moment, because it might cause him a little bit of stress or anxiety, and it's also not a time to play games with communication like ghosting, ignoring, blocking, unfollowing or these sort of things that people like to on social media.

The idea now is to communicate with a consistent message, he may not get what you're saying first time around, so be consistent, keep plugging away and then he will get to understand.

Remember, there's many ways to skin a cat, so if you are finding it difficult to get him to empathize with you or to understand your point of view, just do it a different way, use a different mode of communication. If he doesn't listen, write it down or use another method.

This is a good time to get agreement, but you need to work at it, so communication, debate brainstorming are important this month in love.

Sex

The key words in sex with Pisces Guy this month are slow and steady, he doesn't want to be rushed, he wants to enjoy it and he wants to feel relaxed.

He's more likely to want sex in a relationship where there's a lot of trust and commitment, or at least where he's very familiar with you.

So even if you are only recently in a relationship, but you've been friends for a long time, that's fine, he enjoys sex. However, if you're freshly in a relationship, it's a no-go, he is going to put it off for a while until he feels he's got a better idea of who you are.

Career

This is a very good month for Pisces Guys in the creative fields. He's very good at anticipating demand, identifying trends and then finding creative ways to either communicate with his clients, improve his website or come up with new designs.

He particularly likes working on the aesthetic side of his work and he also likes to be emotionally involved in what he does.

This is a time where he finds it impossible to deal with minutia, details and admin, so he can be very scatty and disorganized when it comes to those things, but he's very good at using his people skills to actually work with members of the public.

This is a very hands-on time where he's great at dealing with the creative and the people side of work, but he's really awful at dealing with the technical or the admin side of work.

Money

The big thing in money this month is that he shouldn't be rash or impatient, he needs to have a more consistent response.

He definitely doesn't want to ruin good work by suddenly trying to change things or sex things up, however, this is a time when he needs to use his intuitive skills to anticipate any new trends or market directions.

Sometimes he's onto something that everyone else might have missed and that can make it a very good month for long-term planning and scenario building, simply because he's able to think laterally and is more open to different scenarios, which other people might not anticipate.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 10th to the 25th of March and during this New Moon phase, it's ideal for him to embark on new activities and new initiatives, and it's great for being proactive and planning changes and initiatives.

The waxing phase a successful time for new business ventures, business investment or assets purchases. A major sales push should yield excellent results. This is a good time to buy precious metals, crypto, assets or trade in.

The waxing phase is not as good for spiritual awareness, meditation, spiritual goals or retreats. A less favorable time to deal with large corporate entities or government departments. New work in the charitable or rehabilitation sector is not successful.

This is an excellent time to be attending large-scale events like concerts and festivals together. Hanging out with friends and networking, for business or pleasure, are also favorable activities.

The friendship side of relationships is enhanced.

This is a great time for couples with similar political and social interests. It's a good time for any social media projects he's involved in.

New business ventures in science and technology are favored.

April

Themes and Goals

With Mars in Pisces conjunct with Saturn, it's very important for him to have grit and determination.

This is also a time for him to be decisive as this is one of the most important months of the year for him moving the dial in terms of mental resolve, action and the ability to make decisions.

This month can be a time of hard work, it's a sobering time but it's also a good time for concrete action and for working on material goals. He generally has a greater degree of enthusiasm and determination, so this is a wonderful time to tackle anything difficult for you as a couple.

If there's anything that's been bothering you or a challenging problem that you need to sort out, this is definitely a month for you and Pisces Guy to say, "Come on now we've got this, we're going to do it!" At other times of the year, he could be more distracted or lackadaisical, but this month he tends to be in a serious frame of mind, he has heightened energy and stamina and is more likely to be able to have the guts to deal with a problem.

Dating Tips

In order to impress Pisces Guy, when you are dating, it's important to be pragmatic and hands-on. He needs a partner who is level-headed, sensible and who kind of brings him down to earth, so it's important for you not to be flaky, dramatic or over-emotional.

In fact, take the emotion out of the equation, but by all means, be affectionate. He's very impressed by good homemaking, cooking and traditional things like that, so the way to his heart this month is to be fairly traditional and consistent and to show your more conservative side, because that really will help him to feel secure and grounded.

One of the things he's looking for this year in relationships is stability, so while he wants to experiment and he wants to have fun, there's a part of his nature that is really needing stability, and if you can show him that you are good at the time-honored womanly things, that's not a bad thing.

Romantic Magic

This is definitely a good month to get romantic, he's feeling quite amorous and so it's a good month for doing things together that are creative and physical too, and by that I mean things like dancing together, doing musical activities together, shopping together etc. as these are all things that have an element of romance to them.

Even if you guys like cooking cordon bleu cuisine together, that would be great. The theme is doing something together that requires creativity, but that's also very hands-on, so you're not being passive like watching a movie or watching a play, there's action and input involved.

It's a good month for dates that keep you busy, another example is where you do something with your hands IE if you guys enjoy attending an art class together, which is also an ideal manifestation of this energy.

So key to inspiring romance, is doing creative things together, it doesn't have to be together, it could be at the same time as well, because this really gets you in the mood.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

This month Mercury is retrograde in Aries, that's why it was important to communicate well last month, because this month, communication becomes a lot more difficult and it's likely there will be misunderstandings.

What's very important this month is clarity over finances, so it's a good time to focus on budgets and to agree spending plans, and if you have already agreed anything, make sure you stick to those agreements.

It's important right now to have full disclosure on all things to do with money, and if you guys have joint bank accounts, don't try and hide any expenditure from each other.

It's also important this month to enforce your boundaries, you want to let Pisces Guy know where the red lines are and you need to be consistent in that.

So this is not a time where you can have double standards, if you've said 'no', you don't want to go back on that, because that's showing weakness and that you're unprepared to enforce your boundaries. At the same time, if you have reached an agreement or understanding, don't move the goal posts for him.

Sex

This is generally a good month for sex, he's feeling more physically vital and he's more connected to the material realm.

Sometimes Pisces Guys live through their imagination and it's almost okay for them to experience life vicariously through the television, through books or some other means, but right now he loves to be hands-on, it's important for physical affection to be more tactile and to use a lot of foreplay before you guys get intimate.

Intimacy should feel very warm, so it's not good to have sex if you feel distracted or a little bit tense, it should be really relaxed and a release from tension.

Career

During this month he can impress authority and it's a good time for him to assume more responsibility and take leadership roles. Pisces Guys aren't natural leaders, but it's important this month for him to push himself into some areas where he's not necessarily that comfortable or that experienced.

It's really good for him to try new things, to expand his skill set, and to just put himself into new situations because he might be surprised at what he learns about himself.

Encourage him to get down to it, because even if things appear hard, once he gets into it, they tend to snowball very quickly. Thus even if the small steps take a while, he shouldn't be discouraged as the momentum will build.

Money

With Mercury retrograde in Aries, this is definitely a month for him to be cautious with money. It's not a good time to decide on investments or to suddenly change any budgets or do major outlays.

The attitude with money is, do more research, understand the fine print, get more advice and delay delay delay until the end of the Mercury retrograde, when suddenly things will fall into place.

This is definitely not a time to rush into anything financially speaking.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 8th to the 23rd of April and this waxing phase is the most opportune time for brand new activities, relationship goals, dating and other projects that you guys have decided on. Bear in mind Mercury is retrograde in Aries, so goals involving networking, large-scale group activities, social media and technology are not particularly favored.

Mercury is retrograde in his 2nd solar house (from the 15th), so this is not a good time for dealing with financial and investment matters that require a really cool calm head. He's quite impulsive, he's often giving in to subconscious needs and desires when he makes decisions, and this can lead him to be either over-optimistic or over pessimistic.

So he definitely wants to stay away from the financial sphere, he wants to keep to the budgets that he set and keep things moving without making any major adjustments, increased purchases or big moves.

During the waxing phase it is great less suitable for him networking, mixing business with pleasure, new platonic friendships or getting advice from friends. Political and humanitarian affairs are not successful. Attending large scale events, trade fairs and festivals is not favored. Not a great time for new social media campaigns. Not good for friends with benefits situations.

May

Themes and Goals

The theme this month is one of fun and enjoying activities with good friends. It's an important month to reward yourselves, relax and plan a little bit of pleasure. While this can be a busy month, which should be quite stimulating, you can both work hard and play hard, which incidentally is just the way Pisces Guy likes it.

Thus it's important to introduce variety into your life, so you should be mingling with different people, connecting with friends and family members you haven't seen for a while and taking trips.

It's ideal if you accompany him on a work trip away or he with you on a work trip, or alternatively take a trip with friends. It's quite okay to mix business and pleasure, so this is a great time for entertaining his colleagues in your home or vice versa.

The key right now is expanding into the community, getting to know your neighbors, feeling comfortable in your environment and just beginning to get into a joyful frame of mind.

Make sure you enjoy life and make time for the good things - there's always time to worry, there's always time to work hard, but we should always mix the grind with a lot of pleasure to make life worthwhile.

This month is all about the fun factor and not letting life pass you by.

Dating Tips

This is quite a favorable month for you and Pisces Guy if you're in a friend-with-benefits relationship, or in a platonic relationship that's becoming more romantic. What he really needs from a lover right now is friendship, so where your relationship grew out of a strong friendship you are ideally placed.

If you guys have a strong sexual or spiritual connection, it's now time to work on improving communication, banter, getting to know each other's sense of humor, learning how to pull each other's leg, and having fun together.

Sometimes couples are well-matched, but they just get too serious and too tense when they're together and nothing flows, so right now it's important for you guys to be hanging out in groups, or engaging in activities where you are at ease enough to let your true personality shine through and drop pretenses.

Romantic Magic

In love and romance, it's important to say what you mean and mean what you say, and not to engage in people pleasing, even if you think that'll enhance the relationship.

It's important that you both to distinguish between feelings which are real and those that are prevalent just because they are convenient or because you are feeling that is what's required of you.

We all have periods in our lives, where we go along with half-truths avoiding facing reality, but the key to relationships this month in being totally straightforward with each other.

It's important for you guys to work out what works emotionally, you have to find your own personal love language. You guys are unique, you aren't like other couples and it's no good forcing yourselves to do things if they don't really work for you. It's essential this month in romance to know who you both really are a couple and what your true needs and fantasies are.

Draw strength from your quirks and eccentricities rather than trying to fit into some random relationship paradigm that's not really working for you.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

During May, you guys may face a challenge as a couple and you will need to assess how your actions are impacting other people, possibly other family members, your children and parents, and it's also important to understand how the actions of other people in your day-to-day life affect you. It's vital to avoid absorbing toxicity from other people, particularly your parents. So right now it's important to understand which are your issues and which issues are dividing you simply because they are being projected onto you, or forced onto you, by other people.

Success in marriage right now is being in a bit of a bubble where you know what's yours and what isn't yours, and forcing other people in your life (that includes your children) to take more responsibility for themselves, the buck has to stop with each individual.

Anything which you and your partner have recently undertaken that's not working, has to go, so it's very important for you guys to be honest with yourselves. If you've recently taken on any new friends, any new social activity, hobby or whatever it is, and it's really grating on you, then know how to cut it out.

It's important to root out problems early on rather than just allowing them to linger and drain your energy. So, this is a month where you guys need to purge out of your life the things that detract from your love and your relationship.

Sex

Venus in Cancer indicates that platonic relationships can suddenly become something that is more enticing sexually and he can experience a high level of attraction or desire towards someone in his friendship circle. So while new sexual friendships can begin, a sexual relationship can begin with someone who he has known a long time.

Career

This can be a really good month in terms of his career but he has to be the one who steps up to the plate and inspires positivity in others. It's important for him to lead by example, so he has to be morally beyond reproach, thus ethical standards, being noble and working for the higher good of everyone are definitely traits that can lead him to attract the attention of superiors and help him get ahead in his career.

Encourage him to be courageous and not afraid to take on things even when daunted, because this is a time of year for him discovering new talents and he won't discover new talents unless he pushes himself into new areas.

Money

This is a month where he needs to carefully plan his expenditure, but he needs to ensure that there's sufficient cash flow to account for various shocks and surprises.

It's not a good month for investing in the stock market or doing anything speculative, even if he is rather conservative there will still be surprises, so he doesn't want to increase risk and volatility by doing things that he doesn't have a lot of experience in or knowledge about.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 7th to the 23rd making this the best period for his new activities and projects. This is also the most suitable time for new relationships goals, discussions and starting dating. Any major new initiatives or decisions should be planned for this waxing phase. The waning phase in-between is better for contemplating, fulfilling promises, reflecting on progress, adjusting to circumstances and completion.

A good waxing period for personal goals, recuperating and improving health through physical activity or therapy. This is a suitable period for dealing with health issues and getting new information to improve health. A good time for him to change diet and investigate new exercise routines.

Negotiations speed up and it's a great time to share ideas and work with others on problem solving. This is an energetic time in love that's perfect for working goals and challenges and putting your heads together to improve your marriage in practical ways. A favorable time for new business partnerships, legal battles or getting advice from experts.

June

Themes and Goals

This month is all about you guys achieving balance in terms of your emotions and being able to harness your passions and emotions and control them in order to fulfill your goals.

It's not the passion, the anger, the love and the struggles that should determine the relationship direction, as just as water can be destructive, if its energy is captured in a dam it creates power and thus opportunities.

Thus this month, you guys have to develop a deeper knowledge and awareness of yourselves, when you are faced with challenges that would normally throw you off balance, remember that you guys should not get angry, frustrated or immediately throw yourself into despair.

You guys need to gather yourselves, temper the state of your emotions, so that you can progress forward mindfully and productively. Learn to evaluate yourselves and your reactions in real time as to determine how you can create a stronger awareness of what results you need and how to get there.

Dating Tips

Pisces Guy could be compulsively drawn to someone he knows it's not good for him, he almost wants to go for people that he wouldn't have considered before because he knows he needs to discover something new about himself, and that may mean pursuing people who are opposite or unsuitable.

Relationships that are the antithesis of what he's gone for in the past could be the key to self-discovery. Sometimes he is subconsciously drawn to somebody (a friend or lover) that he doesn't really need in his life and yet he needs to learn a lesson from that particular relationship.

Romantic Magic

June is a period of emotional expansion, positivity, and growth. He has a sense of inner contentment and optimism, enhancing his emotional well-being and fostering a more harmonious relationship with himself which can feed back into a better dating experience.

His instincts and intuition are supercharged now and this can help him to tap into your vibe and respond to what you really want, rather than what you are saying. Don't lie as he'll suss that out. Don't try to keep secrets. Enjoy the fact that's he's almost reading you like a book.

This month there are opportunities for fun and enjoyment but also for the development of your unique relationship rhythm, including new relationship rituals and in house jokes.

It's vital for you to be generous, forgiving and free-spirited, let the minor stuff go and help each other to shine and to be fully comfortable with whom they are as this is key in romance.

Relationships should enrich your lives and romance should be a pathway to that enrichment.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

This month is all about showing each other compassionate love, using emotional intelligence and having grace, even when things aren't going your way. Relationship and romantic success is all relative to your levels of emotional maturity and understanding, it depends on your eagerness to deliver unwavering support and empathy to each other.

True love is deeply rooted in an emotional connection, where feelings flow freely and bonds strengthen effortlessly.

This June is not just about romantic activities and date nights, it's more about nurturing and healing, providing a safe haven for Pisces Guy to express himself freely.

This is your opportunity to bring harmony and stability to relationships, balancing your own emotions while encouraging Pisces Guy to explore his own emotional growth.

With a little intuitive understanding and your ability to connect on a soulful level, your love can transcend surface-level attractions and dive deeper into a profound pond of pleasure.

Sex

Inner conflict between emotional needs and your conscious desires can lead to some self-doubt, mood swings, and a struggle to satisfy each other in your intimate life.

However, this tension can also provide an opportunity for sexual discovery and more honesty about your true desires and fantasies.

Embrace change, adapting to evolving circumstances, and finding creative ways to enjoy sex together again.

Career

This month he needs to be aware of office politics and he should be diplomatic, but also aware of the wider context and any domino effects.

It is vital for him to balance the needs of himself and his colleagues and enhance the harmony among all parties involved.

He is sensitive as a leader, but he needs to know when something has to be done and when the time for pussy footing around is over. There's a time to be diplomatic and there's time to step on the gas and show he means business.

He should remain mature when dealing with negative energy for others and not be drawn into their dilemmas and dramas.

Money

During this month, there is a need for him to cultivate resilience, patience, and a sense of discipline in handling finances.

It's a time to confront and work through deep-seated beliefs or notions that may have hindered his economic potential.

He will encounter obstacles and limitations in terms of income and investments and often this can manifest in lower self-esteem, self-doubt, or a sense of gloom. However, it's really not all that bad, it's just an adjustment phase that's meant to help him wake up to what it is in his own mentality that's holding him back.

He's always his own worst enemy.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 6th to the 21st making this the best period for his new initiatives and projects. This is also the most successful time for new relationships goals, discussions and starting dating.

Any major new directions or decisions should be planned for this waxing phase. The waning phase in-between is better for contemplating, fulfilling promises, reflecting on progress, adjusting to circumstances and completion.

The waxing period is not a great time for his communication projects, IT and website changes and mass media communications. Short trips for business and pleasure are more problematic as are logistical issues. This is can a more complicated time for ongoing long-distance relationships and using dating apps.

The new moon phase favors money matters, getting loans, rearranging debt and improving his financial position. It's favorable for all business involving audit, accounting and tax. It's also perfect for discussions about financial planning in marriage.

New roles at work or recruitment of staff is not favored, nor is traveling to attend a course. This is not a successful time for him trying new diets, innovative health initiatives and anything strict or restrictive in terms of diet.

Not a good time for him to join a gym or begin a new fitness regime. Training staff is not successful. Not a favorable time to open a business connected to animals, manufacturing or medicine.

July

Themes and Goals

The theme this month is moods and mysteries, he is in a particularly psychic frame of mind, he's more likely to absorb any vibes in the atmosphere and to react to that. It is very important for him to separate himself from toxic situations simply because he's like a sponge, soaking everything up but at the same time.

If he is able to use his intuition in practical ways, it can help him in decision-making.

He's more likely to have vivid dreams and sometimes these dreams are precognitive, or sometimes they serve to remind him of something that he has to deal with, possibly baggage to do with the past.

It's essential right now for both of you to make an effort to release emotional baggage, sometimes, unless we are mindful of moving forward, we can delude ourselves that we have forgotten things, yet distant memories can linger in the background plaguing us and causing us to repeat past negative patterns on a loop.

So this is an excellent time for you both to try to achieve closure and draw a line under your previous relationships or anything that has happened in your current relationship that is less desirable, and to start afresh.

Every relationship has its ups and downs, there's unpleasantness and times of conflict, but we have to get over those and keep moving forward, we need to see the flaws in ourselves and in our relationship as part of parcel of the whole relationship experience, but being mindful not to be defined by the negative.

Dating Tips

Moving fast and getting an adrenaline rush is all part and parcel of this month, as when something grabs him, he really likes to run with it, and he tends to act first and think later.

He is highly impulsive and reckless, and his adventurous side comes to the fore, so knowing him can be a bit of a white knuckle ride this month.

As he's very unpredictable, if you are quite carefree and you are looking for stimulating experiences that's absolutely great, but if you are feeling a little bit more vulnerable you may find his behavior a little bit high impact, and you may need a little bit of space from him.

It's also possible that he can push himself too far, exceeding his limits and kind of burning out, so it's helpful, if you have a good relationship, for you to let him know when he's getting carried away.

He actually needs a wise voice to tell him when enough is enough, rather than going along with it, so be that wise head.

Romantic Magic

This can be a rather good month for romance, he's certainly open to new ideas and if you can capture his attention with anything that seems novel or exciting, that's a great way to get him in the mood.

However, because he is very emotional, it's not always easy to anticipate his mood, in fact he is quite moody, that's why it's good to take him as you find him and to be versatile.

This is not the best month for romantic dates or getaways that require a lot of planning, if he knows that he's tied into a particular date or activity, he's likely to want to make an excuse and pull out of it, whereas if he is spontaneously in the mood for something, it's great to just fly by the city or pants and let the moment carry you through.

It's also important to be rather tolerant as this is another month where he doesn't need someone nagging, being critical and while sometimes you do have to let him know that he's crossed the red line, or you think he's behaving in an unwise way, you don't need to over egg that pudding.

This is not a good time for long debates, long-winded conversations or a lot of gushing, it's a good time to be succinct, straightforward and to know when he needs his space and when you actually need your space from him too.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

Success in marriage and creating harmony in your life with Pisces Guy is all about incorporating the old and the new, it's about adjusting and making positive changes while not throwing the baby out with the bathwater.

In a way it's important for you to provide stability, reassurance and to ground him, and from his side, he's the person who can produce the inspiration, give you the benefit of his intuition and perhaps take a more creative viewpoint on problems.

The key here is that you guys need to act as a team where you bring different attributes to the table. So the more that you and Pisces Guy have different approaches and different opinions the better this month is, because you can complement each other.

That's why it's important again not to be people-pleasing or to just go with the flow, it's important that you can both present different sides of an argument and incorporate your approach and his approach to create something really successful.

So key this month is how you work together, it's teamwork, it's respect for each other's opinions and it's knowing how to bridge the gap between vastly different ideas but still to be strong as a unit. Does that sound difficult? It's really not difficult at all, so bear that in mind this month.

Sex

In terms of sex, he craves anything mysterious, so surprises, creating a little bit of intrigue, sexual games or anything that makes the whole sexual experience something that is a challenge is favorable right now.

It's also great if you guys are looking forward to trying something slightly different IE a new style, different technique, different place etc. just so the things are a little bit unpredictable.

Perhaps you've got an idea of what you'd like to try but you've got no idea how it will work out, but as long as you both consent, give it a try it'll add a bit of spice.

Career

This tends to be a positive time in terms of his work, there may be a more relaxed atmosphere in the office.

It's possible some people have already jetted away for their vacation and there's less business coming in because clients are also thinking of holidays, but this is a great time for work socials, for improving relationships with his colleagues and it can also be an excellent time for him to redo his website or redecorate his office to improve the appearance and the client experience.

When it comes to his work, it's important that he makes everyone feel supported and welcome, as inclusivity and creating a harmonious atmosphere in the workplace is important, and whether he's the boss or he's just started at a new job, it's always possible to improve relations at work through kindness and through being helpful.

Money

During this month, there can be surprises when it comes to money. There are unexpected outcomes in terms of his current projects, there may be expenses that he doesn't expect but there can also be some gains where he wasn't anticipating them.

However, things tend to even out even though but this is a time when budgets and forecasts probably aren't going to be accurate, through no fault of his own.

It's important for him to maintain some cash on the side and it's probably not a good month to get overdrawn and over stretched financially, simply because of the unpredictability.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 5th to the 19th of the month and this is the two week period of the New Moon and is most favorable for brand new goals, date nights, romance and doing things for the first time.

This is his launch pad when he can be entrepreneurial and take on new challenges.

Meditation and holistic thinking is extremely important for him and so is getting a better grip of health matters, so one of the most important things he can do right now is think about his mental, physical health and work-life balance.

Again, it's important for him to improve his mental health by improving this gut health.

The waxing phase is not great for spiritual awareness, meditation, spiritual goals or retreats. A less favorable time to deal with large corporate entities or government departments.

New work in the charitable or rehabilitation sector is not successful.

August

Themes and Goals

This is an excellent time for him to be tackling projects that will improve his home or family life, and it's a wonderful time for a staycation and using that for home renovation or artistic projects. It's vital for you both to create a space that makes life more enjoyable and amenable.

It's important to bring more creativity into your home, to personalize and to decorate your home in a way that makes it uniquely yours. So if you guys have recently moved and haven't yet had time to decorate, this is a time to do it. Even if you're living in a rented space, try to make the space your own through the use of art, photographs, furnishings etc.

Incorporating water features, wind chimes and using Feng Shui are also very important ways of increasing tranquility and bringing positive energies into the home, and it's very good to think along esoteric lines.

When you house hunt, choose a home or decorate be mindful of the colors, the spacing and the layout you use as well, because you might be inviting certain energies into your home. This is also a fantastic time for purging any items which you feel have a negative connotation.

This is an excellent time for improving relationships with all family members, for extending olive branches and for using your home as a meeting place to encourage bonding and positivity with the wider family. This is a wonderful time to have get together in your home and to basically be the matriarch and patriarch of the family.

Dating Tips

With Mercury retrograde in Virgo, this is a particularly challenging time for dating as it's hard to coordinate, to get agreement on what to do on day to day basis or even to find the time to have a quality experience together.

While it's possible to deepen the understanding you have of each other, this can actually come from friction and arguments.

Thus you shouldn't actually be upset or confused if you guys have disagreements, periods of silence or debates which turn quite contentious, because the whole theme right now is that you should learn more about each other and conflict drives a relationship forward, and can actually be a valuable and creative way to develop the relationship, rather than plodding along in no man's land.

Romantic Magic

During this month, the more serious facets of your life together come to the fore and it's important for you both to pay attention to emotions, feelings and it's time to acknowledge any feeling of being neglected, hurt or not fully fulfilled in the relationship.

It's vital to be good listeners and to understand each other's true needs in the relationship, instead of just guessing. This is not a time to just blunder on, hoping problems will go away, because it's very important to address matters now, because if you do, you can actually get on with the important matter of enjoying yourselves this summer and letting go of your worries.

It's possible for relationships to become a lot stronger right now, but stronger relationships are not just about date nights, having fun and giving each other compliments about looking cool, good relationships are about feeling secure with each other, trusting one another and respecting one another enough to listen and to want to change to help the relationship grow.

This month romance is the desire to change so that the relationship gets better, rather than just stubbornly ignoring things and just hoping for the best.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

With Mercury retrograde in Virgo, there can be a situation where both of you don't want to face facts and there can be some obfuscation or antipathy between you. One of you may want to twist things to suit your preferred agenda.

This is a time when it's okay to debate and not come to a firm decision, so there shouldn't be any pressure to reach conclusions, but there should be honest debate. You shouldn't try and escape the problems that are facing you, it's more important to understand where the problems come from and then to start brainstorming ways to solve them.

This is also a time where one or both of you tend to be bad listeners, or perhaps not as interested in hearing each other's point of view. Sometimes, it's good for both of you to have a confidante outside the relationship with whom you can blow off steam and have discussions openly.

While this could be a good time to use a marriage counselor, it doesn't have to go that far, it's just about the importance of you both having good friends or family members who you can share things with, without always needing that feedback or reassurance from each other.

Sex

This month you have to let your bodies do the talking, good sex usually happens when you feel relaxed and when you haven't been having an intense conversation as words definitely seem to get in the way.

So if you want good sex, it's probably better to avoid each other all day, have some fun with your mutual friends or hobbies and then come together and have a wonderful meal, maybe a hot shower, fragrant bath together or climb in the hot tub, have a drink and enjoy some sex.

Not that I'm saying you have to have alcohol, but any beverage you enjoy that helps you to feel good is perfect, even if it's a hot chocolate.

Career

This is a great time for him initiating new projects, particularly with a long-range potential. His sense of timing is really good, he's has quite a lot of enthusiasm and he has the element of faith.

This is a time when he needs to just jump in the deep end, because of the Mercury retrograde, it's not always possible to get all the facts and figures and to understand every aspect of a new venture. Sometimes, if he has a vision and enough imagination, it can carry him through.

So while he shouldn't be reckless and plough head long into something he doesn't know anything about, this is still a good time for putting in place the elements of a brand new project or career direction.

He's also quite competitive right now, so it's certainly favorable

if he is competing with people for a job, for a promotion or to hit targets. Careers that have a physical element, for example dance, performance, entertainment or working with his hands are favored.

Money

This is a pretty lucky month in money matters, it's also a time when he is able to get good deals and bargains. He may be lucky in August in terms of grabbing an asset for new venture at a cut price, or people might be more generous with tips or favors.

This is also a time when he may attract bigger clients or customers, or achieve expansion in terms of his geographical range. Getting more exposure can bring in more money. Goodwill that he has generated via giving good service and client satisfaction can lead to positive word of mouth that will increase his profitability.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 4th to the 19th of August and this represents his best opportunity to have success with new projects, initiatives, beginning new relationships or relationships reboots, so if there's anything you guys want to jump on board with, this is the time.

Mercury retrograde in Virgo from the 5th indicates that after this date it's more tricky to host family events, have family to stay, and make changes to property. House hunting is not successful.

Real estate deals are not favored. This is not suitable for him opening a new business in catering, hospitality and tourism.

This is also an excellent time to be attending large scale events like concerts and festivals together. Hanging out with friends and networking, for business or pleasure, are also favorable activities.

The friendship side of relationships is enhanced.

This is a great time for couples with similar political and social interests. It's a good time for any social media projects he's involved in.

This is an excellent waxing phase for dating and new romance. He should also be launching creative projects. Sports and competitive activities are successful. It's important to be ambitious in business involving leisure, entertainment and the arts.

Date nights and romantic activities are favored during the waxing period and it's also a great time to make decisions in connection with children.

A less favorable time to get married or engaged. Also not a favorable time for new business partnerships. This is not a suitable time for negotiation and trying to reach decisions and compromise in marriage.

Competitive activities and brand new projects unrelated to current activities are not favored. Not a good period for new careers, job interviews or dealing with authority. PR is not favorable.

September

Themes and Goals

This is a month where he feels that he has less energy, he's more depleted and he tends to feel he has his back to the wall. He might be less optimistic and it's easier for him to be discouraged by other people, he is likely to clash with authority figures and find it more difficult to get recognition for his ideas.

He definitely needs more support but you may also find yourself in opposition to him because you can find yourselves on different ends of the couch, because you're on different sides of an argument.

This is also a time when chickens come home to roost, so anything that was done either this year or many years before, suddenly reaches a culmination or a crisis point. This is a time where there are often questions to be asked and the Piper has to be paid, the key is, there isn't anywhere to run and there isn't anywhere to hide, but you do have more time than you think, so it's okay to deliberate and debate.

However, it's still important to begin to acknowledge the reality of certain situations and move forward, as I say, it's a time to be a little bit conservative and take a sober approach.

It's also important for you to be compassionate in the relationship, but you both have to attend to own self-care, he has to take responsibility for his own emotions and he can't make you responsible for everything he's feeling, so do have your boundaries up.

Dating Tips

This tends to be a fun time in relationships and dating, especially if you're fairly new to Pisces Guy and there isn't much of a history between you.

It's also a great time for chatting online, for cyber-based relationships and long-distance relationships. When there's more commitment involved and joint decisions that have to be taken, it tends to make things a lot more complicated, so the longer you've been with him, the more complicated things are and the more you need to tread carefully.

However, if you are recently hooked up with Pisces Guy, then you can have a lot of fun, but it's important for you to take things as they come and not to try to talk about commitment yet.

Even if you've been dating a while, commitment may be a thorny issue, one of you may want it more than the other, it depends, so move cautiously on that issue.

Romantic Magic

Although this can be quite a serious month, it's also got its light hearted moments where you guys may be able to get out to sports events, cultural activities and have fun with friends. It is definitely important that you have a good mixture of pleasure and work, it's all too easy to let the problems get on top of you, and these can be work related or personal problems, but it's important for both of you to keep everything in perspective.

Do as much as you can do, but then know when to switch off and get a little bit of fun into your life.

An important activity, if you are in a relationship with Pisces Guy, is outdoor activities and fresh air.

The best way to help you both to cope is to get into nature, away from the technology, the devices and where you get your blood pumping through your veins. Nothing helps depleted energy or pessimism more than vigorous exercise or at least some movement and sunshine.

This is an opportune time to pay more attention to encouraging your children in their sporting or creative pursuits and sharing their youthful exuberance, and it can be fun if you both have children (whether they are shared children or children from other relationships) to revive your own youthful spirit by doing things with children.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

It's important to recognize that you are in a crucial phase of your relationship with Pisces Guy, both in terms of emotional, financial and family matters. It's important for you both to establish some discipline as routines are quite important as is scheduling, which can also be key.

It's essential for you to be more purposeful, don't allow things to drift, the future is happening now and if you don't adjust and structure your lives in the right way it will be harder to take advantage of opportunities in the future.

This is also a time where you need to focus on the foundations of your life and getting that right, and that means knowing what's important and focusing your energies in the right direction.

The big question to ask yourselves is: are you fighting about inconsequential things, because you need to put a stop to that, this is time to conserve energy, so you don't want to be messing around with things that deplete you emotionally and leave you without the necessary strength to tackle what's important.

This can be a time when relationship strength and commitment deepens and there are significant choices made which can improve your life, but you have to focus and be mindful.

Sex

Good sex right now is all about luxury and indulgence, that's why it's very important to have some time, either on a weekend or whenever it is, to get away from everything, from the stress or any noise or disruption that you feel is grating on you.

You need to find a bubble of space and calm almost like a safe space where you can both retreat to, have adult conversations and then allow the passion to come through.

Passion and sexual desire cannot emerge in a hubbub of chaos and activity, so you need to find that safe space. Even if you can't get away, any activity that allows you to separate yourself from the rat race and to experience calm it's important.

Career

This is a great month for generating ideas, developing scenarios and thinking of opportunities and how to exploit them. It's a time for him to be fairly ambitious in terms of his career, but it's not the time to act yet.

He is inclined to be a little bit over-optimistic and then to swing to being quite pessimistic, and he needs to find the middle road, the truth is always somewhere in between.

He also has to remember that he will be bombarded with information right now, some of it is rubbish, some of it is a distraction, so it's better for him to wait and give himself time to sort out what's important and what's not, and that will become clear from next month, which is why it's not a good time to act immediately.

Money

This month may not be the best time to make any big financial decisions, as there are indications that the information available to you right now isn't complete or error-free.

If he is in the process of taking financial action, he shouldn't be afraid to dig deep, ask more questions about delay, so he can make the best decision possible. Confusion and uncertainty around finances may be a problem, which is why it's important to take it slow.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 2nd to the 17th of the month and this fortnight is ideal for initiating projects, beginning brand new activities, being proactive and more risqué or audacious. After the 17th is the time for more caution, reflection and to take a slightly more measured approach.

This is not the best month for totally new activities especially ones that need a lot of confidence and physical energy. Brand new activities and risky ventures aren't successful. It's not a good waxing period for extreme sports or very physically demanding work. Performance and musical pursuits aren't successful.

October

Themes and Goals

This month is a fairly important month for Pisces Guy and in some ways it can be in his nature to push things to the brink.

He is keen for progress and he's more likely to push against doors that are normally closed, so he can be more controversial relationships, he may also broach subjects which are not usually discussed. He has a keen desire to get to the bottom of things, to increase the level of truth and to improve trust in the relationship.

It's likely that he will experience more frustration in any area of life, or feel blocked, whether it's in the relationship sphere or career and that's why he will be more determined to chip away at any barriers in his way.

However, it's important this month for him not to be fatalistic: the problem with Pisces Guy is that he often accepts things and doesn't always stand up for himself and fight for what he really wants, because he takes this attitude of, "Oh well whatever will be will be," or "it is what it is!".

So it's actually better if he does tackle things with ambition and determination right now, even if it creates a little bit of upheaval, rather than just lying down and taking it.

It's vital for both of you to seek more control over your lives and to insist on better outcomes.

So encourage Pisces Guy to be more proactive and not to lie down in the face of challenges, and if he is feeling a need to express that restless spirit, go with it, support him and do your best to use this period to shift the dial in your life.

Dating Tips

Often this year curiosity and fun have dominated his emotional need in relationships, but right now he is very serious and if he and you have been in a relationship for a while, this is a time when he wants to develop it, to dig deeper and definitely experience more emotional closeness.

To the degree that you are both prepared to open up, share secrets, trust each other and start to talk about commitment, relationships can do really well. If you are very busy, a little bit distracted or evasive that could be detrimental to the relationship, because Pisces Guy could be deterred by that.

This isn't a great time for you guys if you are separated by distance: for example, if you are traveling for your work or if this is a long-distance relationship, as it can be a lot more difficult to trust and one or both of you may tend to be more controlling or doubtful.

Romantic Magic

This is a very passionate time for Pisces Guy and that can make it a really good time for romance, but romance right now can't be tepid, vanilla or banal, it has to be red hot, and so you have to inject your interactions with him with more passion, feeling and emotions, so that he understands that he means the world to you.

Tell him things like: you've never been in love like this before; or you knew from the moment you met him that this was going to be special; or he brings out the best in you etc.

These are all important ways of making him feel that the relationship is really working at a deep level.

So while this is a good time for romance, it's not about chocolate box romance, looking for gimmicks or just hanging out trying to enjoy yourselves, it's all about the level of intensity that he feels.

Remember, it doesn't have to all be about words, Pisces Guy is very intuitive, he can pick up when you are really engaged, and therefore, as long as you are feeling it, showing him warmth and showing enthusiasm for your interactions and the direction your relationship is going in, that will fire up romance.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

October is quite a feisty time for Pisces Guy, it's also a time when there is reason to be optimistic but sometimes it just takes a little bit more effort to see the positives, although they are many of them.

Sometimes, just as gold is well hidden in veins within rock, often the real beauty in a relationship is not immediately obvious, that's why this period tests both of your ability to deliver on what you have promised each other and keep faith in the relationship, even when things are not turning out the way you have hoped.

So, it's vital right now for both of you to support each other and to encourage each other despite any setbacks.

It's likely that the goals that you seek are well worth fighting for, and as you know in life, anything worth fighting for is going to be worthwhile, but at the same time there are inevitably going to be some difficulties.

It's very important that you keep the obstacles in your way in proportion, it's unlikely that there will be major problems, but sometimes there can be issues arising over misplaced expectations or slightly wrong turns taken, so it's just a case of putting things right, not freaking out and staying with the plan.

Sex

Good sex this month is about a few key ingredients, communication, humor, complements and pleasure, so everything works together.

Thus, it's not just about saying the right things, it's about the body language, the eye contact and reaffirming that you really are attracted to him physically.

He wants to hear that he's dressing well, he looks nice, that you like the way he smells, so pay attention to anything he's done differently recently with his hair (maybe) and let him know that you like it, or give him ideas of how you would like to see him dressed.

Small gifts related to clothing or aftershave can actually be quite inspiring for him right now.

Career

This is a rather good time in his career, and it's especially important for him to reach out to different groups of people and to have an open mind.

Things like market research can be absolutely vital right now, it's highly likely that he is neglecting key areas where could make a lot more money and therefore he needs to do research in order to find out where these key areas are, and how he can exploit them.

There are opportunities ripe for the picking right now, but in order to find them he may need to improve his knowledge, his understanding and in some cases this can mean doing an extra course of education or more reading.

This is also a great time to be improving things like his website, sending his clients literature or even writing some promotional literature himself.

Goals or social media publishing (i.e. tweeting) which involve teaching and informing other professionals in his field will improve his profile and help generate new contacts.

Money

In terms of money, he reacts very quickly right now and he has the power of his intuition to make decisions in crisis situations.

He can actually can do very well in a dynamic, fast moving environment where there's not a lot of time to do analysis and he has to rely on his gut instinct.

So, this is a good time for money matters and it's also a very busy, opportunity rich time.

Speaking with people and engaging more with this clients and customers helps bring better results, so it's important to maintain that level of contact with all his key people to get ahead of the competition. In money, he should keep his clients and contacts close.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 2nd to the 17th of the month and this two-week period is perfect for new activities, dating, relationship goals and starting any new projects.

After the 17th, you have to capitalize on what you have now achieved, reflect and take a grounded, more than a dynamic response.

The waxing phase is great for exams, public speaking, and communication with people. A favorable time for learning and experiencing new areas of study. New blogging, journalism and writing or IT projects are favored.

Short-distance travel for romance, business and pleasure is successful. This waxing period is also ideal for new internet dating and long-distance relationships.

Good for home improvements, purchasing furniture or DIY. Excellent for establishing a home office or new business from home.

Not a good waxing period to get married or engaged. Also a less favorable time for new business partnerships. This is a tricky time for negotiation and trying to reach decisions and compromise in marriage.

During the waxing phase financial matters, negotiations, investment opportunities get the green light. It's an excellent time for arranging money matters and financial analysis. Good for understanding his cash flow better and cutting expenses. A great time for large purchases.

New roles at work or recruitment of staff is not favored, nor is traveling to attend a course. This is not a successful time for him trying new diets, innovative health initiatives and anything strict or restrictive in terms of diet.

Not a good time for him to join a gym or begin a new fitness regime. Training staff is not successful. Not a favorable time to open a business connected to animals, manufacturing or medicine.

A good period for personal goals, recuperating and improving health through physical activity or therapy. This favors doing physical work or exercise.

An excellent time to express himself with clarity and honesty and communicate in a positive way with people, including in relationships. Careers in modeling and acting are successful.

November

Themes and Goals

This is a far better month in terms of forward momentum than last month, as he is more able to get ahead and the limitations don't feel so inhibiting.

This is a time where he can accomplish a lot of what really matters to him and it may even be a breakthrough period where he can understand himself and his talents with more clarity than before.

Remember that a key part of this year was him refocusing his life towards his core potential, pursuing more of the things he's best at and not trying to be successful in places where he's just not really suited, and often this is a difficult process, as he has to adapt to new situations in life that are more suited, but less familiar.

However, this month any progress he's made in that vein should pay off.

This is a time when he's not much of a team player, he's very much of an individualist, once he gets an idea in his head of what needs to be done, he wants to go with it, so he can be less cooperative in relationships.

Sometimes it's best just to take a step back, observe and let him do his own thing, show him that you trust him and that you believe in him, and then offer him some gentle advice, but this is generally a time where you should let him make his own mistakes.

He has a lot of energy right, now but sometimes it's a little bit scattered and it can therefore be unproductive and so he's not necessarily reliable right now. If he says something about a certain activity or a date night, don't expect him to necessarily follow through, stay flexible in terms of arrangements.

Dating Tips

This can be a really good month where relationships that are based on understanding, spiritual compatibility and unconditional love will really feel contented and move forward.

However, in most cases relationships may not have reached that stage, you may both feel something is lacking and that can potentially lead to you both being more insecure or reacting a little bit differently towards each other.

Remember that relationships aren't easy, they are a complicated mixture of elements and many of us have mindsets relating to previous romance that also cause problems.

So, it's dealing with the present, as well as shadows of the past and dealing with our own insecurities too. So sometimes you have to remember that in your relationship with Pisces Guy, it's not just him you're dealing with, it's his past, his shadow, your past and your shadow and when you see that all in perspective, it's much easier to keep any feeling of lack of satisfaction or inadequacy in the relationship, in proportion.

Romantic Magic

Pisces Guy is full of big ideas and promises, he's very excitable this month and that'll include romantically, but sometimes he bites off more than he can chew, which means he can stress himself out and leave himself feeling like, stop the world, I want to get off.

So, this is a good time for you guys to do brand new things, to make new friends and to explore different activities together as a couple, as a way of boosting romance.

On the other hand, you shouldn't try and dominate each other's time! He's quite restless right now and he's also busy doing information gathering and more reading to do with work, so mentally he may be a little bit fried right now and he can even feel burned out.

So, it's important, in terms of romance, not to be too mentally draining, dates should be relaxing with maybe less conversation or perhaps hanging out in groups so there's not so much pressure between you to be amusing each other all the time.

Key to romance for both of you is just knowing when to switch off, knowing when to turn off the phones and have some downtime, you don't have to be 'on' all the time.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

November is an important month for those of you who are married, this could be a turning point where you guys get to grips with certain realities that you might have been avoiding, ignoring or just haven't fully quantified.

This is a very pragmatic grounding time in relationships, any fantasies or any ill-conceived dreams usually crash down to earth and these can actually set you free. Sometimes we cling onto things for dear life, hoping that they'll be true, but they end up actually preventing us from growing as people and from reaching the next level in our life, or the next stage of development in our relationship.

Thus often when something ends, it seems in the moment as a disaster, but in a few days you feel a huge sense of relief as now you know that you are free from the lie, you understand where you stand and you can move forward.

Thus it's very important to identify situations that are ending, and to immediately see how this will benefit you, and to then envisage a way forward.

This can be a time where you both have to cut your losses, especially if you are overstretched. The best way to deal with life right now is one day at a time, don't get too ahead of yourselves, just take it as it comes, because one of the big problems that Pisces Guy can experience right now, is to be over-optimistic and over-exuberant, so you have to be the person who just keeps everything on a level.

Sex

Pisces guy is very visual in love this month, the package matters and so he is more likely to be turned off by a partner who is putting on weight and not looking after themselves.

Improving your sex life may go hand in hand with encouraging each other to get fit, be healthier and trim down or buying a sexy new lingerie together.

Career

With Mars in Leo, this is a busy time within his work, but like I said, he doesn't like being a team player. He's got a great desire to get on with it, it's almost like he seen the end of the year in sight, he can see the finish line and he doesn't want to waste any time.

This is a great time for him to be decisive, and also to take leadership in terms of his role at work.

This is not necessarily a good time to branch out on his own, but it is a good time to show that he needs more independence, that he knows what he's doing and that he is ready to be the one at work who sets the tone, who motivates other people and who doesn't take any nonsense.

This is potentially a busy time for learning new skills at work and so he should be happy to take on any new roles, especially if they're a little bit different and they stretch him

Money

The key to money is being decisive and also knowing his own mind, he should act independently and not necessarily follow all the advice. Sometimes there are difficulties with bureaucracy, government departments and things like that, so he needs to deal carefully with any paperwork or admin.

He shouldn't be too slap dash about admin because this could cause problems, however sometimes there are the little shortcuts that he can find which can help make life easier.

This is a great time for him streamlining anything to do with his financial admin, or even outsourcing to free up time if the financial side of things is really bogging him down.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 1st to the 15th making the first two weeks of the month the most favorable for all your new goals, romantic initiatives, and any discussions you want to have about undertaking something different or novel.

After the 15th you have to nail things down, do a bit of extra research, and make sure that you are on the right track.

A favorable waxing period for financial reorganization is his business. Money matters connected to loans, taxes and debt can be tackled. A time to do research on financial matters and get clarity. Sex counseling or better communication about sex is important. Investigation and discovery of difficult information is valuable. Good for getting tips and donations.

The waxing phase is excellent for foreign travel or long journeys. Publishing and educational or academic goals are favored.

A great fortnight for his communication projects, IT and website changes and mass media communications. Short trips for business and pleasure are likely. Good for ongoing long-distance relationships and dating apps.

December

Themes and Goals

This December things feel like they've come full cycle, a lot of the things that he attempted during the year are now beginning to bear fruit, but it's an important time for reflection and understanding what you guys have both learned from the successes and failures.

This can be a period where there is less energy, so it's probably a good idea that he was going full throttle during November, because during December it feels like a time where he needs a lot of rest and replenishment.

In fact, it's an ideal time of the year to focus on family, your home etc. and it's probably better to have a little peace and quiet, rather than trying to push the boat out with extravagance, lots of spending or loads of entertaining over Christmas.

This is a good time to work on the strengths of the relationship, to get a chance to assess how the year went, to have important conversations about how you both feel about things and this should result in a more content period of time.

It's also a time that can be a very reassuring if communication is done right, you should both strive to put each other's mind at rest and to make sure you both feel understood and like you know where you stand. So this is a great time for improving and increasing clarity in relationships.

Dating Tips

With Mercury retrograde in Sagittarius, this can sometimes be a time where there are slight disagreements and misunderstandings.

These disagreements usually arise over the fact that this is a busy time when couples usually have to spend time with their families and things are wrapping up at work, so sometimes it's hard to spend as much time with a loved one, or there can be problems arranging who's seeing whose parents etc. So there can also be awkward moments connected to family members.

If you guys don't know each other's parents or family that well, or perhaps don't really click with them, it's important not to let them get in the way of your relationship.

Maintain good communication and don't allow minor things to set the cat among the pigeons, it's important to focus on what really is important and not to allow other people, be they family members, colleagues or even your boss or respective bosses can come in the way of your understanding.

Romantic Magic

Sometimes this month, it's hard to find enough time to give each other attention and you may both feel that you are neglecting the relationship.

It's important that you both understand what needs to be done, in fact doing good scheduling, planning ahead of time and trying to be organized really help romance, simply because doing these things right will open up some time, because it's mainly time and energy that are at a premium this month.

It's also important for you both to take care of your health, in fact Pisces Guy is very run down right now and it's very important for you guys to eat nutritious meals, to take on board some supplements particularly your vitamin D's and C's to help combat those seasonal colds and things that tend to get one down, as that also can be a drain.

It's important in relationships to be aware of what's most important to you both, the key is giving each other what the other one wants.

Sometimes in relationships, it's easy to give what we want to give, it's sometimes more effort to give someone what they actually want, so make sure that you guys are listening carefully, understanding each other's immediate needs and concerns and responding to those rather than pure tokenism, which isn't going to go down well.

Marriage, Love and Harmony

This month, the key attributes to keep romance, love and harmony going are tolerance and family time. It's important for you guys to have fun within the family and spread Goodwill, this is an excellent time to touch base with those people who are most important to you and show appreciation.

Now you may both get a lot of pleasure this particular Christmas by engaging in something like spending an evening doing a soup kitchen or a food bank, or something where you both get a feeling of giving back to others who are less advantaged and this can actually help you to put your own problems in perspective, and can be a really positive way to spend a little bit of free time.

I did say that it's a very busy Christmas period where time is at a premium, but making some time to do something important or get involved more with your church, nativity plays and things like that can be very good for the marriage.

Now it might sound a little bit naive or naff, but I actually know of couples who've tried this and they have found a lot of benefit in it.

Sex

It's time for you guys to examine anything that you guys feel is holding you back from expressing your emotions, from having a better sex life or from improving the level of affection, and to talk about this honestly.

It's important to express how pressures from work, the children or both your parents are bringing you down and it's important that you are honest with each other, and can therefore use your relationship once again for the sanctuary it should be.

Career

This month Mars goes retrograde in Leo on the xxx, and thus it's important for him to wrap up everything to do with his work before then, as after that phase it'll be much harder to get cooperation out of people, and it may be the case that he runs out of energy, motivation and inspiration.

People at work may be coming down with illnesses or calling in feeling hungover because of the time of year, so it's very important to kind of get things cruising early on in the month.

The buck tends to stop with him, so it's a harder this month to delegate, in fact he may be saddled with extra work, simply because of other people's commitments or illness, that's why being organized and also drawing lines is important.

He should not take on any new clients during this phase because things will be busy enough as it is.

Money

With Mercury and Mars retrograde in December, it's probably a good time to put any major investment plans on hold. Remember to keep to budgets and not to be impulsive. If you guys are going on evenings out with friends, definitely set a limit to what you will spend, because often Christmas celebrations can become extremely costly.

It's a good time for him to be a little bit assertive in terms of him chasing up any customers who haven't paid, sometimes a little bit of extra encouragement may be important so he should use things like early pay discounts because it's hard to round up all the cash, and cash flow is important right now, so any incentives he can give to people, to pay early is helpful.

Good Days

The moon waxes from the 1st to the 15th of the month making this the best time to be enterprising, to set a launch pad and to be rather proactive about your relationship goals, dating or anything you want to do as a couple.

After the 15th is a good time to put your feet up, particularly because Mercury goes retrograde on the 16th and after that, it's much harder to make progress on

New roles at work or recruitment of staff is not favored, nor is traveling to attend a course. This is not a successful time for him trying new diets, innovative health initiatives and anything strict or restrictive in terms of diet.

Not a good time for him to join a gym or begin a new fitness regime. Training staff is not successful. Not a favorable time to open a business connected to animals, manufacturing or medicine.

Closing Thoughts

What's great about this year is that a lot of the disruption comes from the outside world, it can come via his work, his colleagues or his siblings, but this is welcome because it can wake you up a little bit to what was becoming dull and passé in your life and you can begin to address that.

Forgiveness is absolutely key in your relationship, it's important for Pisces Guy to let bygones be bygones and to move into a different mindset, and you can certainly help with that.

It's much more difficult when only one person in a relationship wants to move on, but the other person still hasn't achieved closure with the past, so it's something that you should try and do together or even as a family, getting children and everyone on board.

What people don't realize is relationships are hard work, they are a work in progress, they need a lot of input and they also require the effective use of intuition.

It's vital for you to use your ESP to understand and perceive the right thing to do in your relationship with Pisces Guy, you can draw him out of his shell, but first, you need to have a hint of the mood and that's got to come from your own senses.

It's vital that you guys address any lingering issues, particularly to do with trust and boundaries. Control definitely won't work you, have to be tolerant and you have to give him a sense of being able to explore.

Sometimes it feels like you have to cling on for dear life, but as they say, the hand that holds more tightly doesn't hold for long, and it's worth bearing that in mind.

Well, that's a wrap of our best Pisces Man guide yet.

I wish you a fabulous, happy, and successful 2024.

Blessings and love,

Anna Kovach.
