Queer Wolf

A gay moon rising ...

An anthology of gay werewolf tales for publication early 2009.

We're looking for contemporary, urban fantasy set within a fictional city (unnamed and not location specific) centering on a community of gay werewolves. Your submission should be a short story between 4,000 and 10,000 words. We are seeking sensual fiction with positive images of gay characters. We're not looking for clichés.

We do not want horror or science fiction. We do not want reprints. We are seeking first world rights for this anthology which will be published as an ebook and/or potentially as a print softcover.

Your submission (or query) should be via email to queeredfiction@gmail.com with Queer Wolf submission in the subject line. Please embed your short story within the body of the email and provide a brief author bio. Payment will be through a royalty split between contributors. Submission period opens 1st September 2008 and closes 30th November 2008 (or until the anthology is full).
