Introduction

This is a book of information that include laws, poems, and what different things mean. This book is not a book to learn Wicca, but a handbook that contains some things that can be useful in putting together spells and rituals.

The Wiccan Handbook

This handbook has been put together to give you information you may need in forming rituals and participating in rituals. This will not include everything, but enough to get you started.

Note about edition: Items are added and taken away depending upon the usefulness of the items. This is a good book to have in Circles for the Rede and Rune.

Poems

Poems and chants used in circle.

THE WICCAN REDE

Bide the Wiccan Laws we must In Perfect Love and Perfect Trust.
Live and let live, Fairly take and fairly give.
Cast the Circle thrice about To keep the evil spirits out.
To bind the spell every time Let the spell be spake in rhyme.
Soft of eye and light of touch, Speak little, listen much.
Deosil go by the waxing moon, Chanting out the Witches' Rune.
Widdershins go by the waning moon, Chanting out the baneful rune.
When the Lady's moon is new, Kiss the hand to her, times two.
When the moon rides at her peak, Then your heart's desire seek.
Heed the North wind's mighty gale, Lock the door and drop the sail.
When the wind comes from the South, Love will kiss thee on the mouth.
When the wind blows from the West, Departed souls will have no rest.
When the wind blows from the East, Expect the new and set the feast.
Nine woods in the cauldron go, Burn them fast and burn them slow.
Elder be the Lady's tree, Burn it not or cursed you'll be.
When the Wheel begins to turn, Let the Beltane fires burn.
When the Wheel has turned to Yule, Light the log and the Horned One rules.
Heed ye Flower, Bush and Tree, By the Lady, blessed be.
Where the rippling waters go, Cast a stone and truth you'll know.
When ye have a true need, Hearken not to others' greed.
With a fool no season spend, Lest ye be counted as his friend.
Merry meet and merry part, Bright the cheeks and warm the heart.
Mind the Threefold Law you should, Three times bad and three times good.
When misfortune is enow, Wear the blue star on thy brow.
True in Love ever be, Lest thy lover's false to thee.
Eight words the Wiccan Rede fulfill:
An ye harm none, do what ye will.

A Blessing for a Child

Light; be blessing on my child; Bring her ease and peace and grace;
Let her Burdens fall away; Let her keep untroubled peace;
Bring her every lovely truth; Bring her every heart-whole charm;
Bless her in her pride and youth; and protect her from all harm

THE WITCHES' RUNE

Darksome night and shining Moon East then South then West then North
Harken To The Witches' Rune Here we come to call thee forth.

Earth and Water, Air and Fire Wand and pentacle and sword
Work ye unto our desire And harken ye unto our word.

Cord and censer, scourge and knife Power of the witches' blade
Waken all ye into life And come ye as the charm is made.

Queen of Heaven, Queen of Hell Horned Hunter of the night
Lend your power unto our spell And work our will by our magic rite

By all powers of land and sea By all the might of the Moon and Sun
As we do will so mote it be Chant the spell and it be done.

WITCHES' CREED

Hear Now the words of the witches, The secrets we hid in the night,
When dark was our destiny's pathway, That now we bring forth into light.

Mysterious water and fire, The earth and the wide-ranging air,
By hidden quintessence we know them, And will and keep silent and dare.
The birth and rebirth of all nature, The passing of winter and spring,
We share with the life universal, Rejoice in the magical ring.

Four times in the year the Great Sabbat Returns, and the witches are seen
At Lammas and Candlemas dancing, On May Eve and old Hallowe'en.

When day-time and night-time are equal, When Sun is at greatest and least,
The four Lesser Sabbats are summoned, And Witches gather in feast.

Thirteen silver moons in a year are, Thirteen is the coven's array.
Thirteen times at Esbat make merry, For each golden year and a day.

The power that was passed down the ages, Each time between woman and man,
Each century unto the other, Ere time and the ages began.

When drawn is the magical circle, By sword or Athame of power,
Its compass between two worlds lies, In land of the shades for that hour.

This world has no right then to know it, And world of beyond will tell naught.
The oldest of Gods are invoked there, The Great Work of magic is wrought.

two are the mystical For pillars, That stand at the gate of the shrine,
And two are powers of nature, The forms and the forces divine.

The dark and the light in succession, The opposites each unto each,
Shown forth as a God and a Goddess; Of this our ancestors teach.

By night he's the wild wind's rider, The Horn'd One, the Lord of the Shades,
By day he's the King of the Woodland, The dweller in green forest glades.

She is youthful or old as she pleases. She sails the torn clouds in her barque,
The bright silver lady of midnight, The crone who weaves spells in the dark.

the master and mistress of magic, That dwell in the deeps of the mind,
Immortal and ever-renewing, With power to free or to bind.

So drink the good wine to the Old Gods, And dance and make love in their praise,
Till Elphame's fair land shall receive us In peace at the end of our days.

And "Do What You Will"; be the challenge, So be it Love that harms none,
For this is the only commandment. By Magic of old, be it done!

CHARGE OF THE GODDESS

Listen to the words of the Great Mother; She Who of old was also called among men Artemis, Astarte, Athene, Dione, Melusine, Aphrodite, Cerridwen, Dana, Arianrhod, Isis, and Brid, and by many other names:

"Whenever ye have need of any thing, once in the month, and better it be when the moon is full, then shall ye assemble in some secret place and adore the spirit of me, who am Queen of all witches. There shall ye assemble, ye who are fain to learn all sorcery, yet have not won its deepest secrets; to these will I teach things that are yet unknown. And ye shall be free from slavery; and as a sign that ye be really free, ye shall be naked in your rites; and ye shall dance, sing, feast, make music and love, all in my praise. For mine is the ecstasy of the spirit, and mine also is joy on earth; for my law is love unto all beings. Keep pure your highest ideal; strive ever towards it; let naught stop you or turn you aside. For mine is the secret door which opens upon the land of youth and mine is the cup of wine of life, and the cauldron of Cerridwen, which is the Holy Grail of immortality. I am the gracious Goddess, who gives the gift of joy unto the heart of man. Upon earth, I give the knowledge of the spirit eternal; and beyond death, I give peace, and freedom, and reunion with those who have gone before. Nor do I demand sacrifice; for behold, I am the Mother of all living, and my love is poured out upon the earth."

Hear ye the words of the Star Goddess; she is the dust of whose feet are the hosts of heaven, whose body encircles the universe.

"I who am the beauty of the green earth, and the white moon among the stars, and the mystery of the waters, and the desire of the heart of man, call unto thy soul. Arise, and come unto me. For I am the soul of nature, who gives life to the universe. From me all things proceed, and unto me all things must return; and before my face, beloved of gods and of men, let thine innermost divine self be enfolded in the rapture of the infinite. Let my worship be within the heart that rejoiceth; for behold, all acts of love and pleasure are my rituals. And therefore let there be beauty and strength, power and compassion, honour and humility, mirth and reverence within you. And thou who thinkest to seek for me, know thy seeking and yearning shall avail thee not, unless thou knowest the mystery; that if that which thou seekest thou findest not within thee, then thou wilt never find it without thee. For behold, I have been with thee from the beginning; and I am that which is attained at the end of desire.

NUMBER SYSTEM FOR LETTERS

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I
J	K	L	M	N	O	P	Q	R
S	T	U	V	W	X	Y	Z

For a Circle name you add together, your birth date to get a single number.

(example: 1.1.1997 = $1+1+1+9+9+7=28=2+8=10=1+0=1$)

You must then find a name that will have the same number.

(example: CLOUD = $3+3+6+3+4=19=1+9=10=1+0=1$)

With the above examples a person born on Jan. 1, 1997 could use the name Cloud.

LAWS

Wiccan Laws

WICCAN REDE

An ye harm none, do what ye will.

THREE FOLD LAW

Do Good and you will get back three times the good

Do Evil and you will receive three times the evil

WICCAN CODE OF CHIVALRY

Insofar as the Craft of the Wise is the most Ancient and most Honorable Creed of Humankind, it behooves all who are Witches to act in ways that give respect to the Old Gods, to their Sisters and Brothers of the Craft, and to themselves. Therefore be it noted that:

1. Chivalry is a High Code of Honor which is of most ancient Pagan origin, and must be lived by all who follow the old ways.
2. It must be keened that thoughts and intent put forth on this Middle Earth will wax strong in other worlds beyond, and return---bringing into creation, on this world, that which had been sent forth. Thus one should exercise discipline, for "AS YE DO PLANT, SO SHALL YE HARVEST."
3. It is only by preparing our minds to be as Gods that we can ultimately attain Godhead.
4. "THIS ABOVE ALL.....TO THINE OWN SELF BE TRUE...."
5. A Witch's word must have the validness of a signed and witnessed oath. Thus, give your word sparingly , and adhere to it like iron.
6. Refrain from speaking ill of others, for not all truths of the matter may be known.
7. Pass not unverified words about another, for hearsay is, in large part, a thing of falsehoods.
8. Be thou honest with others, and have them know that honesty is likewise expected of them.
9. The fury of the moment plays folly with the truth; to keep one's head is a virtue.
10. Contemplate always the consequences of thine acts upon others. Strive not to harm.

11. Diverse Covens may well have diverse views on love between members and with others. When a Coven, Clan, or Grove is visited or joined, one should discern quietly their practices, and abide by them.
12. Dignity, a gracious manner, and a good humor are much to be admired.
13. As a Witch, thou hast power, and thy powers wax strongly as wisdom increases. Therefore, exercise discretion in the use thereof.
14. Courage and honor endure forever. Their echoes remain when the mountains have crumbled to dust.
15. Pledge friendship and fealty to those who so warrant it. Strengthen others of the Brethren and they shall strengthen thee.
16. Thou shalt not reveal the secrets of another Witch or Coven. Others have labored long and hard for them, and cherish them as treasures.
17. Though there may be differences between those of the old ways, those who are once-born must see nothing, and must hear nothing.
18. Those who follow the Mysteries should be above reproach in the eyes of the world.
19. The laws of the land should be obeyed whenever possible and within reason, for in the main they have been chosen with wisdom.
20. Have pride in thyself, and seek perfection in body and in mind. For the Lady has said, "How canst thou honor another unless thou give honor to thyself first?"
21. Those who seek the Mysteries should consider themselves as Select of the Gods, for it is they who shall lead the race of Humankind to the Highest of Thrones and Beyond the very Stars.
22. Always honour and respect other life forms. Some will need our protection and others we will have to be careful to not violate their sacred spaces or areas.
