Bright Minds, Brought Together

To understand the challenges of today's global marketplace and build a professional network, you need hands-on, interdisciplinary learning. Through our centers and initiatives, we bring together our brightest students, researchers and practitioners to discover inventive solutions and best-practice uses of emerging technologies in fields including enterprise risk management, business sustainability and consumer innovation.

A Place to Thrive

In the Jenkins MBA program, you'll find challenging coursework that includes practical experience and projects that teach you how to work on a team in a fun, collaborative environment. For every hour spent in the classroom, students typically spend two to three hours outside of class studying and working in teams.

But it's not all work and no play. Raleigh, the home of NC State's 2,010-acre campus, is rated by Forbes (2017) as the No. 2 best place for business and careers. With a reputation as one of the nation's top five tech hubs, the city also plays host to a thriving cultural and entertainment scene that attracts young professionals and growing families.

Students enrolled in our Professional Evening or Professional Online formats have the option to combine features of the two programs to truly customize their MBA program. Working with our academic advising team, you can select your ideal configuration of face-to-face and online courses, class locations and program length to ensure success.

What We Offer

- Complete your degree on a flexible or accelerated schedule.
- Choose to attend classes on either NC State’s main campus or our RTP campus.
- Choose one of six areas of emphasis or earn an additional MBA certificate.
- Benefit from small classes that allow opportunities to exchange ideas with faculty and other students.

“I was drawn in by the proximity to RTP. I was able to easily attend in-person classes after work and still get the experience of meeting other students, without having to sacrifice time by driving to the main campus of another school. It was as if NC State was coming to me instead of me having to come to them.”
