What's going on at N.E.S?!

By: Nima and Amir

Lots of things happened during these past weeks in our school. Here are our top 3 events:

To start with we received a visit from José. He is a spanish maths teacher and he lives in Spain. He visited Sweden because he is working on a project to teach spanish students new things and to see if Sweden and Spain have something in common. He thinks that swedish students take initiative, the students listens to the teachers on the lessons. He liked to be in Sweden and he liked the students. José was in Sweden for a week.

"Swedish students take initiative and listen to the teachers" José.

José joined the Spanish students of grade eight for some lessons where he told us about Spain, being a teacher and much more.

We had prepared some questions in Spanish that he answered very kindly. It was a nice way to get to know him and practice what we have learnt.

Rugby students from Scotland pays our school a visit!

During the second week of April our school was visited by three young students from Scotland that were going to teach us about rugby. There were Joe (18) from Dunfermline, Dylan (17) from Anstruther and Greg (16) also from Anstruther. We asked them what they thought of our school and they responded that they were surprised about the fact that our school looked so much like a flat. They thought our food was brilliant and the fact that it's free only makes things better: They thought our staff was lovely and unlike Scotland in our school every class has like 18 to 20 pupils where as in their country each class has like 30 students. We also asked them about some similarities and differences between our countries. They told us that in Sweden the streets are clean and very quiet but in Scotland everyone swears and honks their car horns all the time. They told us that in Scotland there is a special dish, they take a "mars bar" which you then fry and serve with some ice cream, they say it's the best dish ever. They thought that the salad bar in coop where you can make your own salad and combine different ingredients is brilliant but unheard of in Scotland. Although there is one thing they didn't understand about us swedes: how we can drink sparkling water like Ramlösa or Loka, they thought it's horrible. During their visit, they stayed at Bosön, in Lidingö. They all played rugby but they have different main sports, Joe's main sport is cricket, Dylan's main sport is rugby and Greg's main sports are golf and rugby. We liked them a lot, they seemed to be kind, easy going people that liked to joke around.

English week

Every semester we have several theme weeks at Novia. The theme for this years english week was myths and legends. We were divided in different groups. Our task for the week was to find two different myths/legends and later on make a presentation of it. We learned new myths and legends from different countries:

“It was interesting” said Hamed in grade 8.

“I had a lot of fun speaking English” Anton grade 5

“It was good to get to work with other classes” Nima grade 8

We interviewed Sonia, Lucas K. and Anton in grade 5, they expressed that they had fun during English week. They had to take a lot of responsibility in the groups. Anton tell us that the topic was interesting but he would rather have presented his work in a different way than making a power point. Lucas K. agrees on having fun during English week but would like to go deeper in the topic next time. Sonia had fun too and thinks working during a week with one specific subject makes that one can concentrate better on the task.

Trends

"Snapchat" or "Snapp" is an app which is very popular in the world. Evan Spiegel, Bobbie Murphy and Roggie Brown created this app in 2011 when they were students in Standfort University. It was in 2015 when Snapchat started to be more popular.

In snapchat you take contact with your friends most of all through image messages like : you go to school? Then you take picture and send It. You can also chat with them, send voice message or call them on "Snapp".
Unfortunately there's people that use this app in a bad way. You have to think about you can't take a picture without the persons permission. If the person doesn't want you to take a picture of him/her then you're not allowed to take it. If you have this app you have to use It in the right way. Now have fun with it!

Starbucks unicorn frappuccino is a limited edition trend drink. It changes colour from purple to pink. Its taste starts off fruity and sweet until it becomes sour. With whipped cream on top, blue sprinkles and pink fairy powder. Sadly this trend is only available in the States. We may have to see if it arrives to Sweden any time soon.

It's crazy how time flies by so fast it's almost summer!

Everyone is looking forward to the holidays and are excited to travel. In summer Swedes celebrate midsummer (midsommar in Swedish) which is a tradition in the North Europe. It's also known as St John's day.

Midsummer is celebrated between June 19th-25th. In Midsummer's Eve bonfires are lit because people believe that it protects against evil spirits which were believed to roam freely when the sun was turning southward. In later years witches were also thought to be on their way to meet with other powerful beings. In Sweden, Finland, Latvia and Estonia Midsummer's Eve is one of the greatest festivals of the year.

The successful midsummer party involves flowers on your hair, dancing around a pole while singing, drinking, eating and having fun with your loved ones on a special day. In Sweden we celebrate Midsummer in Skansen, public parks, gardens, summer cottages in fact anywhere as long as one can be outdoors and the weather allows it.

Have a great summer!
