Large Print Books

Large Print books are complete, unabridged books designed with large, clear print on non-glare paper. You can find Large Print books at most branches of the Toronto Public Library. New this year are large print books in French.

Placing Holds for Large Print Titles:

You can place a hold for specific Large Print titles and have them sent to your local branch. If you need assistance, please ask the library staff to help you. You can also call Answerline (416-393-7131 or TTY only 416-393-7030) to place holds for you.

You can also place holds using your home computer. Access the TPL HomePage at www.torontopubliclibrary.ca and place holds using the online catalogue.

Other collections you may find of interest:

Described Videos – these videos contain narration that describes the action during breaks in the dialogue. You can find described videos in the TPL Catalogue under the Subject Heading Video recordings for people with visual disabilities.

Audiobooks - are abridged and unabridged versions of popular books on CD or cassettes. These are available in all branches for anyone to borrow. You can place holds for audiobooks.

E-books – An ebook or electronic book is a book you read on a computer. They can be read in a web browser such as Internet Explorer. You may need Adobe Acrobat to read some eBooks but other than that you will need no special software.

eAudiobooks – are audiobooks that you can download. They are digital audio files you can download and listen to on your computer and on some portable music players.

Download books, movies and music

Overdrive – a new way to download popular books, movies, music and audiobooks. Enjoy them on your computer or make them portable for your MP3 player or PDA.

You can find ebooks and eaudiobooks at www.torontopubliclibrary.ca/ebk_index.jsp.

Talking Books – unabridged recordings of popular-interest fiction and nonfiction books, which have been read aloud. Talking books are available in DAISY format, Compact Discs or audiocassettes. You can use Talking Books if you have a perceptual disability that prevents or inhibits you from reading works in their original format (Section 32.1, Canadian Copyright Act).

To borrow Talking Books you must fill out an application form, which you can get at your branch; on the web page www.torontopubliclibrary.ca/ser_talk.jsp; or by calling Home Library Service at 416-395-5557. A professional authority, such as a doctor, nurse, therapist or social worker must certify your eligibility on the application form. Completed application forms can be faxed to Home Library Services (Fax: 416-395-5594) or dropped off at your library branch.

Other services available at TPL:

Home Library Service: if you are confined to your home for three months or more due to age, illness or injury, library staff can select and deliver materials to your home on a monthly basis. With Branch Pick Up Service, library staff select materials for you and then a friend or family member can pick them up for you at the most convenient branch.

Please contact Home Library Services at 416-395-5557 for further information.

Fiction

Abbott, Jeff
Collision

The story of two men living very different lives. A successful corporate consultant who is mourning the murder of his new bride. The other, a former CIA agent known only as Pilgrim, whose current assignment for a fringe espionage agency is so treacherous, he doesn't trust even his own boss. When they are thrown together in a violent, unexpected event, the two men realize that they have been framed in an elaborate setup.

Adiga, Aravind
The white tiger

Balam, the White Tiger, was born in a backwater village on the River Ganges, the son of a rickshaw-puller. He works in a teashop, crushing coal and wiping tables, but nurses a dream of escape. When he learns that a rich village landlord needs a chauffeur, he takes his opportunity, and is soon on his way to Delhi behind the wheel of a Honda.

Albert, Elisa,
The book of Dahlia

A young Jewish-American woman learns that she has brain cancer and through a series of flashbacks examines her wasted life.

Archer, Jeffrey

A prisoner of birth

A man framed for the murder of his best friend seeks revenge against the four men who put him in Belmarsh prison, the highest-security jail in the land, from where no inmate has ever escaped.

Atwell, Sarah.

Through a glass, deadly

After glassblower Emmeline Dowell befriends troubled newcomer Allison McBride, she finds Allison's husband dead in her studio and her carefully constructed world shattered by the investigation

Auster, Paul

Man in the dark

August Brill is recovering from a car accident in his daughter's house in Vermont. When sleep refuses to come, he lies in bed and tells himself stories, struggling to push back thoughts about things he would prefer to forget. As the night progresses, Brill's story grows increasingly intense, and what he is so desperately trying to avoid insists on being told.

B

Baker, Tiffany

The little giant of Aberdeen County

When Truly Plaice's mother was pregnant, all of Aberdeen joined in betting how huge the baby boy would be. The girl who proved to be Truly paid the price of her enormity; her father blamed her for her mother's death in childbirth, and was ill-equipped to raise this giant child or her polar opposite sister Serena Jane. When he, too, relinquished his grip on life, Truly and Serena Jane are separated—Serena Jane to live a life of privilege as the future May Queen and Truly to live on the farm.

Balogh, Mary
The ideal wife

When Abigail Gardiner knocks at the door of Miles Ripley, Earl of Severn, the last thing she expects is a marriage proposal. Desperate, she'd come to this charismatic stranger's home to plead for her future. Instead she shocks them both by saying yes. Her impulsive decision will have consequences neither she nor her new husband can foresee.

Barbieri, Heather
The lace makers of Glenmara

Fleeing for Ireland in the wake of a failed relationship, fashion designer Kate Robinson finds herself in a coastal Gaelic village and bonds with the members of a lace-making society, through whom she finds healing by listening to their stories of loss and suffering.

Bauermeister, Erica
The School of Essential Ingredients

Follows the lives of eight cooking students and their teacher in a class that meets in Lillian's restaurant kitchen. Over the course of eight months, the lives of the characters mingle and intertwine, brought together by the revealing, sensual, and comforting nature of what can be created in the kitchen.

Bennett, Vanora

Figures in Silk

Two sisters discover passion during the War of the Roses—one in the arms of the king, the other in the world of silk.

Berg, Elizabeth

Home safe

Recently widowed Helen Ames and daughter Tessa are about to embark on new adventures and change. Helen is shocked to discover that her mild-mannered and loyal husband had been leading a double life. The Ames's had saved money for a happy retirement, planned in minute detail, but that money has disappeared in several big withdrawals by Helen's husband before he died.

Binchy, Maeve

Heart and soul

Dr. Clara Casey has been offered the thankless job of establishing a new underfunded heart clinic in a community caught between the old and the new Ireland, and agrees to take it on for a year, despite pressures from her adult daughters and ex-husband. She assembles a wonderfully staff devoted to helping their demanding, often difficult patients. Before long they establish the clinic as an essential part of the community, and Clara must decide whether or not to leave a place where lives are saved, courage is rewarded, and humor and optimism triumph over greed and self-pity.

Bond, Michael

Monsieur Pamplémousse and the French Solution

When the Director of Le Guide urgently summons for Monsieur Pamplémousse and his faithful canine companion, Pommes Frites, it means only one thing - trouble. Mischief and troubles start when wild rumors involving the habits of a nun and the creditability of Le Guide are afloat. Even Pommes Frites' name is becoming smeared. Pamplémousse is on the case but can he solve it before everything is ruined.

Bondurant, Matt

The wettest county in the world

Based on the true story of Matt Bondurant's grandfather and two granduncles. The Bondurant Boys were a notorious gang of roughnecks and moonshiners who ran liquor through Franklin County, Virginia, during Prohibition and in the years after. Driven and haunted, these men forge a business, fall in love, and struggle to stay afloat as they watch their family die, their father's business fail, and the world they know crumble beneath the Depression and drought.

Bowling, Tom

The antigallican

Fishing captain Jean Cotterell is rescued by a French frigate, The Hortense, off the Grand Banks of Nova Scotia in May 1794. Life on The Hortense is like France under the Terror: chaotic, ungovernable, and obsessed with savage, radical political theories.

Separated from the French fleet in the Western Approaches, she is intercepted by two British frigates, and Cotterell finds himself embroiled in the heat of battle.

Bradford, Barbara Taylor

Being Elizabeth

At the age of 25, Elizabeth is the youngest executive in the family business. Now head of the Deravenels Empire she knows very well the company's worldwide reach and influence and is aware of the buried secrets and sacrifices that were made to see Deravenels reach the success it is today. Surrounded by rumors and disloyalty, she finds herself at a crossroad of choices involving her mind, her heart, and her destiny. When scandal surrounds the man she's loves, Elizabeth discovers how the next decisions could have deadly and final consequences.

Breen, Susan

The fiction class

Arabella Hicks seems more than qualified to teach her fiction class on the Upper West Side: she's a writer herself; she's passionate about books; she's even named after the heroine in a Georgette Heyer novel. On the other hand, she's thirty-eight, single, and has been writing the same book for the last seven years. When her class takes a surprising turn and her lessons start to spill over into her weekly visits to her mother, she suddenly finds she might be holding the key to her mother's love and, dare she say it, her own inspiration.

Brockmann, Suzanne.

Into the fire

Battling depression, unemployment, and booze in the wake of the fatal shooting of his wife Angelina, Vinh Murphy finds solace in his friendship with Hannah Whitfield, only to discover that the FBI is hunting for a man named Murphy in connection with the murder of a neo-Nazi leader whose group may be linked to Angelina's death.

Brooks, Kix.

The adventures of Slim & Howdy

Musicians by trade, Slim and Howdy have each come to a figurative crossroads in their lives. Forced by circumstances to share a truck, they take to the road in pursuit of a common goal, to make it as musicians on the country music circuit. But it seems no matter where these two travel, trouble finds them.

Brookmyre, Christopher

Attack of the Unsinkable Rubber Ducks

After Jack Parlabane dies from falling out of a four-storey window, he recounts the events of his life that led to his death.

Brown, Dale

Rogue forces

Turkey has launched an invasion of northern Iraq. The U.S. president wants to put a stop to it, but he doesn't want to send American troops into the area. Luckily, Patrick McLanahan is a military contractor these days and the government asks him to step in. McLanahan doesn't do anything by half measures, and soon the president has some serious concerns: Is McLanahan acting for his country or for himself?

Brown, Sandra

Smoke screen

When newswoman Britt Shelley wakes up to find herself in bed with Jay Burgess she remembers nothing of how she got there - or of how Jay wound up dead.

Bushnell, Candace

One Fifth Avenue

Following the lives of five very different women all living in a trendy apartment building in Manhattan's Upper East Side. It is the tale of female Manhattanites, who live out, or dream of living out, their fantasies in the Art Deco tower of One Fifth Avenue.

C

Calderón, Emilio

The creator's map

Told from the perspective of José María, a Spanish architect in Rome, the novel brings to life the harrowing days surrounding the rise and fall of fascism as he, along with a passionate young librarian and an Italian prince, become entangled in a web of intrigue, love, and deceit involving a fateful map whose secrets have the power to destroy them.

Cassella, Carol Wilev

Oxygen

Dr. Marie Heaton is an anesthesiologist at the height of her profession. Marie has carefully constructed and constricted her life according to empirical truths, to the science and art of medicine. But when her tried-and-true formula suddenly deserts her during a routine surgery, she must explain the nightmarish operating room disaster and face the resulting malpractice suit.

Cather, Willa

My Antonia

In the late nineteenth century, Ántonia, a fourteen-year-old immigrant girl from Bohemia, and Jim Burden, a ten-year-old orphan boy, arrive in Black Hawk, Nebraska, and in teaching each other form a friendship that will last a lifetime.

Clayton, Meg Waite

The Wednesday sisters

Friendship, loyalty, and love lie at the heart of Meg Waite Clayton's beautifully written, poignant, and sweeping novel of five women who, over the course of four decades, come to redefine what it means to be family.

Cliff, Ann.

Yorkshire rose

Disappointed by his daughter's marriage to a mere working-man, mill owner Caleb Rimmington disowns her and refuses any contact with his three grandchildren. They long to meet their grandfather and cousins. When Caleb dies, this dream becomes reality. Intense passionate relationships follow with broken marriages and broken lives.

Cobb, Thomas

Shavetail

Fleeing a shameful past, seventeen-year-old Ned Thorne joins the U.S. Army and, in 1871, is sent to the dangerous Arizona territories, where he joins his captain and a ragtag troop in the search for a missing woman supposedly kidnapped by the Apache.

Cox, Josephine

Songbird

In the riverside town of Bedford, four students can hear the haunting voice of a woman singing. The beautiful melody is coming from their neighbour - a reclusive creature who never opens the door to anyone or leaves her home in daylight. They have no way of knowing that the woman next door, Madeleine Delaney is driven by a dangerous memory that for over twenty years has controlled her meagre existence.

Cumming, Charles

The Spanish game

Six years ago, Alec Milius got out of the spy game after being drummed out by MI5. Now living in exile in Madrid, quietly and as far under the radar as possible, Milius keeps a constant eye out for the enemies he made, hoping to avoid any future involvement. Yet when a prominent Basque politician goes missing under suspicious circumstances, Milius soon finds himself embroiled in another international conspiracy.

D

Dave, Laura

The divorce party

On their 35th anniversary, Gwyn Huntington and her husband Thomas have invited friends and family to their Montauk home. Instead of celebrating their decades-long love, they are toasting their divorce. This also marks the weekend that their son brings home his fiancée, Maggie Mackenzie, for the first time. Maggie thought she was joining a perfect family, but she is about to reckon with some uncomfortable truths about the man she wants to marry.

Dean, Janet

Courting Miss Adelaide

Small-town spinster Adelaide Crum longs for a family, but the town elders refuse to entrust an orphan to a single woman. Charles Graves promises to stand by her. Adelaide's unwavering faith soon makes him wonder if he can overcome his bitter past.

Dean, Rebecca

Palace circle

Delia Chandler marries Viscount Ivor Conisborough just before World War II, becoming part of the Windsor court. It's every girl's dream come true. But Delia is jolted from her pleasant life when she realizes, after the birth of her two daughters, that Ivor chose her only to bear an heir to his estate. Shortly thereafter, she begins an affair with her husband's handsome, titled, and frequently scandalous best friend.

Delaney, Frank

Shannon

Robert Shannon, a young American hero of the Great War, finds himself in Ireland after the frightful Battle of Belleau. Shannon believes he is in Ireland on a self journey to restore his faith and vocation. Unfortunately, Robert suffers from shell shock. What he does not remember is that on his return from the war, he witnessed startling and lethal corruption in the Archdiocese of Boston. As a consequence, he has also been sent to Ireland to secure his silence.

DeMille, Nelson

Frank, Dorothea Benton

Return of Sullivans Island

New York Times best selling author Dorothea Benton Frank returns to the setting of her first novel and her childhood home, a North Carolina beach town, in this touching Southern novel.

Freely, Maureen

Enlightenment

In October 2005, only a few months after her Turkish husband is detained and her five-year-old son distributed to a foster family by US border patrol, Jeannie Wakefield disappears. She leaves behind in Istanbul a 57-page letter to M, an anonymous investigative journalist who Jeannie begs to write about her plight. The letter tells the story of Jeannie's first arrival in Turkey 34 years earlier, when she was a bright-eyed 16-year-old innocent shimmering with open-hearted idealism. The letter reveals a convoluted tale of complex political intrigue, of retired intelligence operatives and tales of Turkish teenage radicals willing to die for their right to speak out against the humanitarian outrages. It is a grim and heartbreaking history of first loves shattered and best friends betrayed, and M finds herself, against her will, tangled in Jeannie's narrative.

G

Galchen, Rivka

Atmospheric disturbances

When Dr. Leo Liebenstein's wife disappears, she leaves behind a single, confounding clue: a woman who looks, talks, and behaves exactly like her or almost exactly like her and even audaciously claims to be her. While everyone else is fooled by this imposter, Leo knows better. Certain that the original Rema is alive and in hiding, Leo embarks on a quixotic journey to reclaim his lost love.

The author of the internationally acclaimed Josephine Bonaparte trilogy returns with another irresistible historical novel, this one based on the life of Louise de la Vallière, who, against all odds, became one of the most mysterious consorts of France's Louis XIV, the charismatic Sun King.

Guterson, David

The other

Guterson tells the disturbing story of a friendship that takes two young men down widely diverging, if ineluctably intertwined, paths. One will lead to death, the other regret.

H

Hammond, Diane

Hannah's dream: a novel

For forty-one years, Samson Brown has been caring for Hannah, the lone elephant at the down-at-the-heels Max L. Biedelman Zoo. Sam rejoices when smart, compassionate Neva Wilson is hired as the new elephant keeper. But Neva quickly discovers what Sam already knows: that despite their loving care, Hannah is isolated from other elephants and her feet are nearly ruined from standing on hard concrete all day. Neva and Sam hatch a plan to send Hannah to an elephant sanctuary—just as the zoo's angry, unhappy director launches an aggressive revitalization campaign that spotlights Hannah as the star attraction.

Harbison, Elizabeth M

Secrets of a shoe addict

Abbey, Tiffany, and Loreen are each in need of thousands of dollars. Sandra has the perfect idea. It's fast, it's easy, it's legal, and it's the secret that kept her shoe addiction alive. Sandra, a phone-sex operator, introduces the three PTA moms with various money troubles to the lucrative job of the phone "actress."

Harper, Sandra A.

High tea

Running a formal English tea room in an ultra-trendy Los Angeles neighborhood, middle-aged proper British lady Margaret Moore prepares for a visit by an influential critic and finds her efforts challenged by her daughter's abrupt decision to move, difficulties with her ex, and her longing for her home country, in a tale complemented by traditional recipes.

Harris, Robert

The Ghost

Adam Lang was Britain's longest serving and most controversial prime minister. Leaving the world of politics, he hides out in wintry Martha's Vineyard to finish his much sought-after, potentially explosive memoir, for which he accepted one of history's largest cash advances. His ghostwriter suddenly and mysteriously disappears and later washes up, dead, on the island's deserted shore. When his new ghostwriter arrives, it's not long for him to realize that the ex-prime minister is not just a charismatic politician who made a few mistakes but a man with a dark, tortured and haunting past.

Hemingway, Ernest

A farewell to arms

The unforgettable story of an American ambulance driver on the Italian front and his passion for a beautiful English nurse.

Kerr, Peter

The gannet has landed

Doogie O'Mara, a young Scottish veterinary student, takes a year off his studies following the death of his parents. He works as a tour rep in Africa, with hopes of finding time to study the wildlife too. Instead, he finds himself thrust into the madcap package tour business, and the nearest thing to wildlife appears to be the hordes of rowdy holidaymakers pouring off the gannets (charter planes) from the UK.

Kincaid, Greg

A dog named Christmas

Discovering that a local shelter is looking for temporary homes for their dogs over the Christmas holidays, Todd, a developmentally challenged young man, persuades his reluctant family to take in a special canine named Christmas, who teaches an entire community a lesson in the transforming power of love and goodwill.

Kneale, Matthew

When we were Romans

Nine-year-old Lawrence is the man of his family. He watches over his mother and his willful little sister Jemima. He is the one who keeps order, especially when his mother decides they must leave their life in England behind because of threats from Lawrence's father. But their new life in Rome does not go as planned. Short of money and living off of his mother's old friends—all who seem to doubt her story—Lawrence soon realizes that things are not what they seem.

King, Stephen

Just after sunset

Call it dark, call it twilight, it's the time when human intercourse takes on an unnatural cast, when nothing is quite as it appears, when the imagination begins to reach for shadows as they dissipate to darkness and living daylight can be scared right out of you.

L

Lair, Jessica

Wings of sorrow

Scarborough, 1938. Jane is unhappy with her life spent at Home and sees an opportunity to escape when Nell invites her to visit her family. Nell's friends Simon and Ewan accept Jane as one of their own, but the threat of war soon alters their friendships irreparably. Simon and his ship are involved in mine sweeping, Ewan joins the air force and—feeling frustrated at their helplessness—Nell and Jane join the Land Army so that they can do something positive for the war effort while remaining together. It is only when both girls fall for the same man that the strength of their friendship is pressed to its limits.

Le Carré, John

A most wanted man

A half-starved young Russian man in a long black overcoat is smuggled into Hamburg in the dead of night. He has an improbable amount of cash hidden in a purse around his neck and he says his name is Issa. Annabel, an idealistic young German civil rights lawyer, is determined to save Issa from deportation. Soon her client's survival becomes more important to her than her own career or safety.

Lindsey, Johanna.

No choice but seduction

The daughter of Sir Anthony Malory has been kidnapped, and it falls to Captain Boyd Anderson to rescue her. But when he finds the girl, she's already been rescued. So he and the rescuer, a young American woman, set out to find and punish the kidnapper.

Lofts, Norah

A calf for Venus

The Coffee House was a warm, brightly lit place. The serving girls were pretty, and the men who visited the rooms seemed polite enough. But still there were whispers, ugly disquieting rumours about what happened at night when the big oak door was closed.

Lofts, Norah

The concubine

Against common sense and the urgings of his most trusted advisors, Henry defied all, blindly following his passion for Anne. Anne's ascent to the throne elevates her from lady-in waiting to the highest position a woman could attain, but her life spirals out of control when Henry is driven to desperate acts of betrayal and violence.

Bestselling author Ruth Reichl examines her mother's life, giving voice to the universal unarticulated truth that we are grateful not to be our mothers.

Roizen, Michael F. and Mehmet C. Oz

You being beautiful

A guide to looking and feeling beautiful discusses the connection between health and beauty while outlining scientifically valid recommendations for skin care, diet, stress management, alleviating pain, and achieving happiness

Rule, Ann

Mortal danger and other true cases

Only Ann Rule, who unknowingly worked alongside the smart and charming Ted Bundy, America's most notorious serial killer could lend her razor-sharp insight into these cases of the spouse, lover, family member, or helpful stranger who is totally trusted but whose lethally violent nature, though masterfully disguised, can and will kill.

Russo, Richard

A healing touch: true stories of life, death, and hospice

A Pulitzer-Prize winning writer and five other authors recount end-of-life moments that cover a wide spectrum of human experience in a study that proves that the close of life need not be filled with darkness when hospice help is available.

S

Santopietro, Tom

Sinatra in Hollywood

A critical assessment of the iconic Hollywood star's film career seeks to separate his acting achievements from his work as a recording artist, in an account that includes commentary by Sinatra on his movies, coverage of his relationships with Ava Gardner and Mia Farrow, and discussions of his alleged mafia ties.

Scar, Maggie

September songs: the good news about marriage in later years

In this well-researched and eminently readable study, journalist Scarf looks into the lives of married people between the ages of 50 and 75, inquiring how their partnerships have changed, been renegotiated, reframed and refreshed as increased longevity has added up to three decades to the span of an average marriage.

Scotti, R. A.

Vanished smile: the mysterious theft of Mona Lisa

On August 21 in 1911, the Da Vinci's Mona Lisa vanished from the Louvre in Paris. The prime suspects? Cubist poet Guillaume Apollinaire and his good friend Pablo Picasso, an avant-garde artist. R. A. Scotti presents a thrilling and well-detailed account of the mysterious theft and its aftermath.

Servan-Schreiber, David

Anticancer: a new way of life

A radical synthesis of science and personal experience that advocates a sea change in the way we understand and confront cancer When David Servan- Schreiber, a dedicated scientist and doctor, was diagnosed with brain cancer, it changed his life. Confronting what medicine knows about the illness, the little known workings of the body's natural cancer-fighting capacities, and his own will to live, Servan-Schreiber found himself on a fifteen-year journey from disease and relapse into scientific exploration, and finally to health.

Shatner, William.

Up till now : the autobiography

In this touching and very funny autobiography of the Star Trek star, Shatner reveals the man behind these unforgettable moments, and how he's become the worldwide star and experienced actor he is today.

Shimoff, Marci

Happy for no reason: 7 steps to being happy from the inside out

An approach to being happy. One that doesn't depend on achievements, goals, money, relationships, or anything else "out there." This life-changing book provides a powerful, proven 7-step program that will enable you to be happier right now, no matter where you start.

Slater, Nigel.

Eating for England : the delights & eccentricities of the British at table

An entertaining, detailed and somewhat tongue-in-cheek observation of the British and their food, their cooking, their eating and how they behave in restaurants, with chapters on " amongst other things " dinner parties, funeral teas, Indian restaurants, dieting and eating whilst under the influence.

Smith, Alicia Marie

50 plus one tips for going green

Simple changes can make a hug difference. Remodeling and recycling can go together. Go from disposable to durable!

Snyderman, Nancy L.

Medical Myths That Can Kill You: and the 101 Truths That Will Save, Extend, and Improve Your Life

Discover the simple, everyday things that affect well-being, and get the information you need to revitalize your body, maintain your longevity, manage your care, and possibly even save a life—yours.

Spencer, Irene

Shattered dreams : my life as a polygamist's wife

Irene Spencer did as she felt God commanded in marrying her brother-in-law Verlan LeBaron, becoming his second wife at age 16. The dramatic story of her life, and her escape to an outside world for which she was little prepared, reveals how far religion can be stretched and abused and how one woman and her children found their way to truth and redemption.

Sullenberger, Chesley

Highest Duty: My Search for What Really Matters

Capt. Chesley "Sully" Sullenberger became one of the most recognized men in America when he landed US Airways Flight 1549 on the Hudson River in January of 2009, narrowly averting disaster. Now, in this gripping memoir, the pilot New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg dubbed "Captain Cool" recounts not just the details of that harrowing five minute and eight second flight, but also the lifetime of flight training leading up to it, and the intriguing aftermath of the incident.

Summers, Judith.

My life with George : what I learned about joy from one neurotic (and very expensive) dog

Life for Judith Summers and her son seemed relentlessly bleak. Then George bounced into their lives. A loving Cavalier King Charles Spaniel with film-star looks, George re-awoke their joie de vivre. Living with George had its drawbacks. He was a full-time job and as expensive to run as a Ferrari.

T

Taraborrelli, J. Randy

The Secret Life of Marilyn Monroe

From New York Times-bestselling author Taraborrelli comes this explosive, revelatory, and surprisingly moving biography of the most enduring icon in popular American culture.

Taylor, Jill Bolte

My stroke of insight: a brain scientist's personal journey

New York Times Bestseller

Jill Bolte Taylor, Ph.D.

My Stroke of Insight
A Brain Scientist's
Personal Journey

A brain scientist recounts her experience with a massive stroke, where she observed her own mind completely deteriorate to the point that she could not walk, talk, read, write, or recall any of her life, all within four brief hours. Taylor describes her discovery of differences in the left and right side of the brain and the steps she took over a period of eight years to recover her health.

Thompson, Flora.

Over to Candleford

The second part of the Lark Rise to Candleford trilogy. Laura is growing up, and the family's boundaries are extending beyond Lark Rise to include Candleford.

Thompson, Harry

Penguins stopped play : eleven village cricketers take on the world

It seemed a simple enough idea at the outset: to assemble a team of eleven men to play cricket on each of the seven continents of the globe.

Trout, Nick.

Tell me where it hurts : a day of humor, healing, and hope in my life as an animal surgeon

A veterinary surgeon offers his perspective on a typical day in his life, presenting anecdotes about pets and their owners and the unique blend of cutting-edge technology, old-fashioned instinct, and caring that comprise veterinary medicine today.

V

Vowell, Sarah

The Wordy Shipmates

To this day, America views itself as a Puritan nation, but author Vowell investigates what that means—and what it should mean. What was this great political enterprise all about? Who were these people who are considered the philosophical, spiritual, and moral ancestors of our nation? What Vowell discovers is something far different from what their uptight shoe-buckles-and-corn reputation might suggest.

W

Walsh, George

50 Plus One Great Books You Should Have Read (and Probably Didn't)

A masterpiece of information for educated individuals who want to expand their horizons, and a fascinating look at the beliefs and teachings of some of the greatest minds throughout the centuries.

Walsh, Peter

Does this clutter make my butt look fat? : An easy plan for losing weight and living more

Peter Walsh believes that the secret to successfully losing weight is to forget about calorie counting and weekly weigh-ins. Instead you need to focus on how, why, and where you eat. When it comes to clearing clutter (the fat in our homes) it isn't about the stuff itself, it's about the life you want to live. The same is true for losing weight: It's not about the pounds; it's about living the life you deserve in the body you want.

Z

Zaslow, Jeffrey

The girls from Ames: a story of women and a forty-year friendship

They formed a special bond growing up in the small town of Ames, Iowa. As young women, they moved to eight different states yet managed to maintain an extraordinary friendship that would carry them through college and careers, marriage and motherhood, dating and divorce, the death of a child, and the mysterious death of the eleventh member of the group. Their remarkable story, which captures what it was like to go from girlhood in the sixties to middle age in the millennium, is a testament to the deep, enduring bonds of women.

Zimbardo, Philip and John Boyd

The Time Paradox: The New Psychology of Time
That Will Change Your Life

In a remarkable book that does for time what Blink did for snap judgments, New York Times-bestselling author Zimbardo and research partner Boyd combine scientific and popular psychology, self-help advice, and social commentary into a big think guide for living today.

Penny, Louise.
The cruelest month : a Three Pines mystery
When the quiet town of Three Pines is rocked by a killing during an impromptu Easter seance at a local haunted house, Chief Inspector Armand Gamache is confronted by a web of baffling questions as he searches for a killer.

Penny, Louise.

Dead cold

Chief Inspector Armand Gamache unravels a dead woman's past and discovers a history of secrets and enemies. But Gamache has enemies of his own. As a bitter wind blows into the village, something even more chilling is sneaking up behind him...

Penny, Louise.

Still life

Locals are convinced a murder was no more than a tragic hunting accident, but Inspector Armand Gamache uncovers something more sinister.

Reichs, Kathy

Bones to ashes

The cold case of a missing Quebec girl becomes a very personal quest for Brennan when she discovers that the bones in question probably belong to a childhood friend - a figure of fascination and sophistication who suddenly disappeared from Brennan's life at the age of 15.

Reichs, Kathy.

Break no bones

Forensic anthropologist Tempe Brennan is spending two weeks in May on a barrier island where, excavating a prehistoric site, she finds one of the bodies isn't so ancient.

Reichs, Kathy.

Cross bones

Tempe plunges into an international mystery as old as Jesus, and centered on the controversial discovery of Christ's tomb.
