Major Programs of Study

We offer fully AACSB accredited, flexible, and affordable graduate programs that fit your lifestyle. Our convenient locations, diverse student body, and knowledgeable, expert faculty will help you achieve your goals, whatever they may be. Visit gradbusiness.uakron.edu.

Masters of Business Administration (MBA)

The MBA is a flexible, part-time program that allows students to schedule courses around their busy schedules. Classes are offered in the evening with each class offered one night each week.

The majority of the MBA classes are also offered online enabling students to take the course in either a traditional classroom environment or online as best meets their learning preference, time and geographical distance from campus.

Along with the required core courses, ten areas of concentration are available to choose from.

These include:

- Business Analytics
- Finance
- Risk Management & Insurance (New 2017)
- Global Technological Innovation
- Health Care Management
- Interdisciplinary
- International Business
- Management
- Strategic Marketing
- Supply Chain Management

A cohort based Saturday MBA program is also available. Students in the cohort meet, all day, every other Saturday for two years (except holidays).

Students in this program usually work or travel during the week, have years of work experience, and are looking for the MBA to supplement/enhance their current position.

Masters of Science in Management (MSM)

The program consists of three distinct concentrations.

These include:

- Information Systems Management
- Technological Innovation
- Supply Chain Management.

Both the Information Systems Management and Supply Chain Management concentrations are S.T.E.M. classified.

Masters of Art in Economics (MA Economics)

The MA in Economics degree focuses on advanced economics, data science, and data analytics. It is S.T.E.M. classified.

Masters of Taxation (MTAX)

The comprehensive MTAX program has been created for tax professionals and lawyers seeking advanced information in multiple facets of taxation.

The MTAX program consists of ten diverse courses taught by full-time taxation professors and highly credentialed, experienced tax professionals.

In order to meet the demands of tax professionals, the MTAX Direct program was created. This system allows the entire program to be delivered via computer, tablet or mobile device to those individuals limited by time, travel or geographical distance.

Masters of Science in Accountancy (MSA)

The MSA program is ideal for individuals desiring further accounting knowledge and skills. It is valuable for those individuals planning on taking their CPA examinations.
