

Partner Development Plan (PDP)

Development Focus Areas

What knowledge, skill or behavior do you want to develop? Think about how each development focus area contributes to your longer-term career aspirations.

Development Actions

What experiences, people or learning will help you develop the knowledge, skill or behavior? Are there any existing projects or priorities that may help you learn or practice the new skills or behaviors?

Notes on Progress and Learning

What progress have you made towards your goal? What feedback have you received, and what have you learned? Should you consider adjusting your goals, or are they still relevant?

1. Working together to tend to all customer needs by creating a positive team environment for continuous good morale and an established sense of community.
