Terms & Conditions of Sale

Applicable Law - All horses are offered according to the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. There are no warranties or guarantees implied as to the fitness for any particular purpose(s) of any horse offered in this sale. Every effort will be made to give complete disclosure of all known negative health and behavioral factors on all horses in the sale. However, no agent of The Pennsylvania State University can or shall be considered responsible for any oversight of a fault. Any desired veterinary examinations are to be conducted prior to sale day at the buyer's expense, and by appointment only. There are no guarantees whatsoever regarding future "breedability." All horses are sold "caveat emptor" (buyer beware)! All sales are final. All sales are absolute.

Public Inspection - Penn State horses are available for public inspection prior to April 27 by appointment only. All horses will be available for inspection in the Holding Barns next to the Ag Arena on Friday, April 26 between 3:00 pm and 7:00 pm and prior to the sale on Saturday, April 27. As our primary mission is education, and disruption of classes and laboratories is detrimental, we respectfully request that inspection of Penn State's sale horses be confined to pre-arranged dates and times.

Bidding Procedure - Highest bidder shall sign an Acknowledgment of Purchase. Absentee bids must have payment method approved prior to the sale. The Pennsylvania State University will decline any bids made by parties who have defaulted on former purchases, or persons who in their sole judgment are not responsible bidders, and the Event Organizers' decision shall be final.

Bidding Disputes - Should any dispute arise among bidders, the auctioneer shall adjudicate the dispute and his decision shall be final and absolute.

Taking Possession - The purchaser, at the gavel fall, assumes all risk and responsibility for the horse. Horses will be available for pick up immediately following the completion of the sale; however, Penn State horses will be kept (at the owner's risk) until Sunday, April 28, 2019, if necessary. We will make every attempt to accommodate buyers needing to make other arrangements. To take possession, a stable release form will be required. During the stay of Penn State horses, students and staff shall continue to provide all normal care.

Payment - Purchaser must make payment by cash, credit card, cashier's check or personal check immediately after the sale, at which time a stable release form for the horse shall be given. On purchases by personal check or credit card, title and/or registration papers shall be held until funds clear the bank, at which time they shall be mailed to the new owner. Horses purchased by cash or cashier's check shall have their title and/or registration papers transferred at the time of payment. Purchaser may not stop payment on a check given in payment for a horse for any reason.

Public Liability - Neither The Pennsylvania State University, its employees, officers, or agents assume any responsibility for any injury, death, or damage to a person or animal of any kind. For liability reasons, horses may only be handled and ridden by faculty, staff, and students in the PSU programs. Examine horses at your own risk. The public is cautioned to be extremely careful while on the grounds examining horses. Do not enter stalls or paddocks unattended under any conditions. A student or staff member will be happy to assist you in viewing the horses.

Auctioneer

David Weaver, Allenwood, PA

David Weaver is a licensed second generation auctioneer that started auctioning when he was 15 years old. He is a Penn State graduate from the 2017 class. He auctions at J.J. Stamm Auction Hall every Wednesday night in Milton, PA, along with Saturday sales that are usually on site. David also auctions at benefit, farm, estate, chicken manure, and consignment sales. David sells with his father, Michael Weaver, too. Sale listings can be found at auctionzip.com, ID #2188. David is also the Pennsylvania Meat Processor Association Auctioneer.

Classes in Equine Science

The Penn State Equine Science Showcase and Quarter Horse Sale is proudly brought to you through the joint efforts of the Equine Marketing class and the Horse Handling and Training class, both under the instruction of Mr. Brian Egan. Through these classes, students gain knowledge, valuable hands-on experience, and the opportunity to interact with a variety of members of the equine industry.

In the Equine Marketing class, students have the opportunity to work together to organize a university-wide event. This is accomplished by teaming up with past class members and forming various committees to facilitate planning and preparing for the day's proceedings. Each committee is given specific responsibilities to accomplish, which fall mainly under advertising, sale operations, working with outside breeders, horse preparation, and facility preparations. Tasks include everything from setting up the arena on sale day to designing sale flyers. Along with this planning, many guest speakers are invited into the classroom throughout the semester to discuss relevant topics including effective advertising techniques, proper presentation of sale horses, ethical sale practices, and professionalism.

While the Equine Marketing class was planning and preparing for the sale itself, the Horse Handling and Training class was busy preparing the majority of the horses that are in the sale today. Under the guidance and instruction of Brian Egan, farm manager Ed Jedrzejewski, and assistant farm manager Chris Grant, the students worked with the two year olds to teach them ground manners, leading in hand, lunging, round-penning techniques, and breaking them under saddle preparing them for today's event. However, please keep in mind the two year olds are no more than "green broke" at this time. The training class was composed of students with all levels of horse experience ranging from those who have grown up around horses to those who found working with young horses to be a new and challenging experience.

Today's sale is made possible by the hard work and success of these classes. This is a unique learning experience for each and every student involved by allowing them to learn through a real-world event, not just in the classroom. Through these classes, students are able to actively participate in the sale process from beginning to end, acquire experience they will be able to use after college, and network with industry professionals. This year, we look forward to a safe and successful sale. Thank you for your continued support!

Penn State Sale Horses Implanted with Micro-Chip

The Penn State owned American Quarter Horses being sold today, April 27, 2019, have been implanted with a RFID Micro-chip in the nuchal ligament halfway between the poll and withers on the left hand side of the horse's neck. The implantation site is approximately 2 inches below the mane line.

The micro-chips should in no way affect the usefulness of the horses. They will however, make it possible to positively identify the horses in the case of a natural emergency, theft, or during a disease outbreak. If you have any questions about the micro-chips or how they may affect a horse you are considering to purchase at the sale, please ask us ahead of time.

A Special Thank You...

Dr. Terry D. Etherton

*Department Head of Animal Science
Distinguished Professor of Animal Nutrition*

On behalf of the Penn State Quarter Horse Sale Committees, we would like to extend a thank you to Dr. Terry D. Etherton for his support of our Equine Marketing and Horse Handling and Training classes. Dr. Etherton has been a dedicated attendee of the Quarter Horse Sale since its start in 2002 and always has words of support and encouragement for our students.

An event of this size would be impossible without the support of the Animal Science Department and College of Agricultural Sciences Administration. From the first Quarter Horse Sale, Dr. Etherton has encouraged the students to expand the program by utilizing their individual skill-sets from marketing to interpersonal communication and even graphic design.

We greatly appreciate your support of the sale. Over the last seventeen years, you have watched the sale grow from a small, student project into a program and event followed worldwide. None of this would have been possible without your support.

Sincerely,

The Penn State Quarter Horse Sale Committees

Welcome to the 17th Annual Equine Science Showcase and Quarter Horse Sale!

Thank you for joining us for our latest installment of this event. We sincerely hope you enjoy all today has to offer, from the farm tours, to the complimentary lunch, and of course, the incredible group of horses we have available for your consideration! This is a proud and bittersweet moment for us as Sale Managers. For the last year, we've witnessed the hard work and determination of our fellow students, and the event you're attending today is the result. Many long hours and late nights have gone into making this event possible.

We would like to take a moment to show our gratitude for all of the students that had a hand in preparing for this event. Without all of you, none of this would be possible. Your ability to adapt as a group and overcome challenges presented to you has been nothing short of extraordinary. We would also like to thank our assistant managers, Ms. Meg Gingerich, Ms. Isabella Cerrone, and Ms. Scarlett Loya. The three of you have been absolutely critical in keeping everything on task and on schedule. Though our time in the Equine Science program has come to an end, we feel very confident that we're leaving it in good hands. We wish you all the best as you prepare to assume the roles of 'managers' for the 2020 sale. To Dr. Ed Jedrzejewski and Mr. Chris Grant, we thank you for your tireless work in keeping our ever-growing herd healthy and keeping our breeding program running smoothly. Finally, thank you to Mr. Brian Egan. Without your guidance and dedication, this event would have never become what it is today, and we would have never become the young men and women that we are today.

It has been an absolute honor for us to manage this year's showcase and sale, and we are incredibly thankful for this opportunity. We hope you enjoy your time here at Penn State and that you take part in all of the experiences the Equine Science Showcase and Quarter Horse Sale has to offer.

Sincerely,

Kate Meyer

Growing Hay & Growing Horses

Lucerne forage blends contain special mixtures of northern-grown forage to meet the needs of horses at every level and stage of life.

GRAIN COMPLEMENT

Mixing Lucerne Farms forage at a 3:1 ratio with grain can help increase digestibility & performance of grain and supplements, making sure your horse's digestive process gets off to a running start.

HAY REPLACEMENT

Sometimes alternatives for traditional hay are needed. Feeding Lucerne Farms forage at 1.5-2% of your horse's body weight can ensure they are meeting their daily forage requirements.

FIBER SUPPLEMENT

Adding 4-6 lbs. of Lucerne Farms forage to your feeding program can help ensure your horse is getting the proper amount of fiber in a form that is more beneficial to their physical and mental health.

Shez All A Dream is an extremely well-bred halter prospect. She has a lot of excellent halter horse qualities and would be successful in that arena. However, she is also performing well under saddle and shows ability in that area, too.

Her sire, Apirates Life For Me is an IBHA World Champion halter stallion. Although he passed away early, his offspring are continuing to carry on his legacy. Her dam, JMK Shes All A Dream was an outstanding halter mare who amassed 49 Grand and 35 Reserve Championships. She has accumulated a total of 143.5 points in her history of showing. PSU Scorin Again, is an attractive, high-quality chestnut gelding with a large volume of defined muscle across his strong frame. This halter bred gelding was a futurity champion as a weanling and is not only eye-catching, but also structurally correct. PSU Scorin Again shows many of the same attributes of his brother PSU Scorin A Win who was not only a halter point earner, but a nice riding horse.

His sire, Time To Score has consistently produced well-made good moving horses and his offspring have been used in a variety of disciplines. His dam, Luv N Lady always produces big bodied, conformationally correct foals and this gelding is no exception. This is another example of a cross that consistently works for the university and produces all-around candidates.

Information on Glycogen Branching Enzyme Deficiency

With the addition of our new stallion, Red White N Good, we'd like to inform the general public about Glycogen Branching Enzyme Deficiency, or GBED. GBED is a genetic disease that occurs in newborn foals, and when homozygous, is fatal. While horses that are carriers of this disease do have one copy of the mutation, they do not exhibit any symptoms of the disease. Since Irish is a carrier of this disease (Gb/N), statistically, 50% of his offspring could also be carriers when bred to a mare who is N/N. If bred to a mare that is also Gb/N, statistically, there is a 50% chance that the resulting foal will also be a carrier, and a 25% chance that the foal will be Gb/Gb, and die from the disease. Foals that are born with the homozygous form of GBED lack the enzyme necessary to store glycogen in its branched form, and therefore cannot store sugar molecules. This causes the heart muscle, brain, and skeletal muscles to be unable to function. If you have any questions about GBED, please do not hesitate to ask the farm manager and veterinarian, Dr. Ed Jedzrejewski, or the farm coordinator, Brian Egan.
