ENJOY THE ADVANTAGES OF ONLINE LEARNING

Future-Focused Flexibility

We understand the integral role higher education plays in preparing for the future. Even when faced with new challenges, your ambitions to achieve your goals and make an impact remain strong. Northeastern is equally committed to facilitating and aiding your professional growth. Our Online MS in Finance is a rigorous program delivered in an innovative and proven online format. Here are some of the many benefits of online learning with Northeastern:

Flexible Scheduling

Learn from anywhere, at any time of the day. Complete assignments at your own pace while meeting deliverable deadlines. Course content is 100% online and each intensive term is only five weeks long, so you can stay agile and design your class schedule around your other commitments.

Accessible Resources

You can access academic resources, such as the online library and current course materials, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, all year round—just like your on-campus counterparts.

Intimate Classes

All classes are limited to fewer than 20 students to foster strong peer networks and facilitate robust conversations and idea sharing. You'll study alongside peers who span the globe and breadth of the financial services world. The online format allows you to meet and learn from both students and faculty from a wide range of backgrounds.

CURRICULUM

Your experience, plus our expertise, equals forward-thinking solutions.

At Northeastern's D'Amore-McKim School of Business, Our Online MS in Finance has been designed for resilient, lifelong learners like you. Experience is embedded into our curriculum by our faculty of subject matter experts who bring their own unique knowledge and insight. Experience-powered learning is what sets a Northeastern education apart. In this program, you'll be immersed in project-based coursework where you can apply your knowledge right away and become a more creative and agile employee.

The Online MS in Finance program consists of 30 credit hours made up of 10 individual courses. You'll start with six required courses that delve into the underpinnings of finance prior to completing four elective courses that expand your depth of knowledge into aspects of the industry that interest you most.

Flexibility and support are built into your program to help you succeed. All courses are five weeks long, and you'll focus on one course at a time for an intensive learning experience. This model lets you plan your class schedule to suit your needs. You can start when you're ready since we offer convenient enrollment terms several times a year.

Throughout your journey, your dedicated student services advisor will be with you each step of the way, from planning your schedule, to asking tough questions that will challenge your perceptions, to helping you build your community.

This is a very rewarding experience. I am extremely proud that I was able to complete this program because of how intense it was, how much I learned, and the level of self-discipline I was able to afford to get it done.”

Tap Into an Extensive Support System

Every student at Northeastern, online or on campus, has access to our specialized and personal career services both during their studies and beyond graduation. As a leader in business education, we also strive to be a lifelong partner in your career success.

Career development and support look different for every student. Whether you're looking for advice on how to polish your resumé, searching for opportunities to broaden your networking capabilities, or need coaching for your job interviews, you'll find a suite of resources to help you develop your human capabilities as part of our Career Management Plan at D'Amore-McKim's Graduate Career Center.

Our experience-powered approach starts with career exploration. You'll examine your own job preferences, motivations, and priorities. Next, you'll work through how to develop and refine your personal branding through your resume, LinkedIn profile, and other extensions of your professional identity. You'll then be equipped with the knowledge and skills to define and implement your job search strategy.

Once you've completed 50 percent of your program requirement in good academic standing, you'll be eligible to work one-on-one with a dedicated career advisor. Our team of highly trained career development professionals will assist you in your search for new employment, provide coaching for advancement with your current employer, or even guide you in exploring an entirely new career.

Northeastern career services provide a variety of avenues for assistance and several ways for you to receive it. Newest among them is our online career portal—a student-centric, self-paced, and self-directed tool providing round-the-clock support to students and alumni alike. The portal hosts numerous invaluable tools including free career self-assessments, video tutorials, a University-approved resume template, digital interview training, virtual career fairs, and more.

As a D'Amore-McKim student, you get lifetime access to your advisor and the Global Talent System—an exclusive employer recruitment site open only to MBA and master's degree students. With the help of our team, you'll be better prepared to perform at your best. Some examples of services available to you at the Graduate Career Center include:

- Career coaching and counseling
- Resumé and cover letter review
- Mock interviews
- Compensation negotiation
- Networking events with perspective employers and alumni
- Webinars

Join a Global Network

The time you spend with Northeastern encompasses more than academics. As you progress through your coursework, you'll also be forging lifelong relationships with peers, employers, world-class faculty, guest lecturers, and a global network of alumni.

The relationships you form will broaden your global perspective and enrich your professional network. You'll likely form bonds with your classmates from far and wide through groupwork, discussion forums, dedicated networking nights, and optional on-campus events. Our graduates often share stories of working together across multiple time zones, countries, and continents. Many of them stay in touch with one another after graduation, sharing professional developments and expertise among other valuable insights. Beyond experience-powered education, Northeastern also equips you with a lifelong network of peer consultants.

The school develops leaders and innovators who are proficient in human, data, and technological literacies; global in outlook and entrepreneurial in mindset; and invested in lifelong learning for themselves and their teams.

How to Apply

Your application to our Online MS in Finance program must include the following:

- ❑ Essay/personal statement
- ❑ Resumé
- ❑ Two letters of professional recommendation
- ❑ Official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended
- ❑ Application fee

PREREQUISITES:

- ❑ Undergraduate degree from an accredited institution of higher learning
- ❑ GPA of 3.0 or higher on a scale of 4.0
- ❑ Currently employed with five years of demonstrated leadership experience in a work or professional setting
- ❑ English proficiency, both written and verbal, is necessary for success in D'Amore-McKim classrooms. If you are not a native English speaker, we require a standardized test of English language proficiency (TOEFL, IELTS, Duolingo, or PTE Academic scores) unless you completed a bachelor's or master's degree at an accredited institution where English is the language of instruction, or you have worked full time for two years in the United States or other native English-speaking environment

*Applications are reviewed holistically, and the admissions committee considers a wide variety of application criteria. Factors that may strengthen your application include STEM-designated and business degrees, professional designations, certifications, or an optional GMAT score. If you do not meet a minimum requirement listed above, you are still encouraged to apply.
