Due to the fact that you have advanced notice and time to work on them in class when you finish your other assignments, Current Events are due every other Friday, whether you are in class that day or not. Students are more than welcome to turn in the current events early; however, if you turn in a current event late, I will immediately take points off for each day it is late (up to three days late and including weekends), then grade your work accordingly.

Current Events will be due by:

September 12	November 7
September 26	November 21
October 10	December 5
October 24	December 19
