

DOING BUSINESS AT THE CLARK COUNTY GENERAL AVIATION AIRPORTS

Clark County General Aviation Airports

- * The Clark County Department of Aviation owns and operates four General Aviation Airports in the Las Vegas area. North Las Vegas Airport and Henderson Executive Airport serve as reliever airports to Harry Reid International Airport in the Las Vegas metropolitan area. Overton-Perkins Field Airport and Jean Airport are located outside of the metropolitan area and provide aviation services to the rural communities.
- * We hope this guide will assist you with the start-up of your business at one or more of the General Aviation Airports and look forward to working with you through the process.
- * Thank you for your interest in the Clark County General Aviation Airports.

Department of Aviation Business & Development Group

- * The Aviation Business & Development Group located at Harry Reid International Airport, oversees the administration and management of business activities at the General Aviation Airports including the issuance of Operating Permits or Lease Agreement to aviation companies wishing to do business at the General Aviation Airports.
- * The Operating Permits and Lease Agreements are issued in accordance with Title 20.04.040 of Clark County Code of Ordinances. The Ordinance requires all companies wishing to do business on one or more of the Clark County Airports to first obtain an Operating Permit or Lease Agreement.
- * The issuance or non-issuance of a permit and the choice of the types of business activities allowed on airport property are within the sole discretion of the Board of County Commissioners or the Director of Aviation.

Criteria for Operating

- * The company will be required to lease adequate facilities for customers and staff from which to operate. The terminal buildings at the General Aviation Airports may not be used to conduct commercial aviation business.
- * The company is not currently or has not been in default in the past 12 months for any non-payment of rents and fees or violations at any of the Clark County Airports.
- * The company is not currently in bankruptcy or in the process of filing for bankruptcy.
- * The company must have the financial capability to comply with the obligations in the Operating Permit.
- * The company shall provide all required documents listed within thirty days from the date the Operating Permit is sent to the company for signature.

Obtaining a Permit

- * To begin the Permitting process, please fill out the request for General Aviation Operating Permits Form which can be downloaded from the McCarran website at <https://www.harryreidairport.com/Business/Aviation> or from one of the General Aviation websites. Once the form is complete email the form to GAsupport@mccarran.com. A sample of this form is provided in Appendix A.
- * If you have any questions regarding the form or the Permitting Process, please email GAsupport@mccarran.com.
- * The information provided will be reviewed by several departments and may take up to three weeks to complete.

Documents to Submit

- * Three copies of the signed Permit.
- * Certificate of Insurance. The names on the Certificate of Insurance must match exactly with the name on the Permit and Business License
- * Letter of Credit or if approved by the Director, a Security Deposit in the requested amount. The amount will be provided in the Permit and is equal to three (3) months of estimated rents and fees.
- * Disclosure Form.
- * Business license from the applicable jurisdiction. The contacts and websites for the Business License offices can be found in Appendix B.
