

Mechanical Engineering Department Tutoring and Mentoring

2185 Tutor schedule
	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY
11:00 AM	Bryan	Holly	Josaiah	Holly	Josaiah
12:00 PM	Bryan	Holly	Josaiah	Holly	Josaiah
12:30 PM	Bryan	Holly	Bryan	Holly	Josaiah
1:00 PM	Bryan	Holly	Bryan	Holly	Josaiah
2:00 PM	David	Riley	David	Riley	David
3:00 PM	David	Riley	David	Riley	David
4:00 PM	David	Riley	David	Riley	David

University Tutoring Services

Tutor for Hire – RIT provides a Craigslist-like resource called Tutor for Hire. Students can post free ads offering tutoring help or requesting a tutor. Prices and logistics are negotiated by the students themselves, but are often free of charge.

Free Tutoring Centers – RIT offers a number of excellent free tutoring centers where students can drop in for help. Many students get into a practice of studying or doing their homework in the centers to take advantage of the services if needed.

Study Strategies Resources – It's not uncommon for students to come to college without study strategies. Building solid studying and organizational skills can be an effective way to tackle a rigorous course load. RIT offers a variety of study skills resources, many of which are free, through the Academic Support Center.

We recommend starting with:

- An appointment with an ASC Student Support Specialist.
- Using resources from the DIY Academic Tool Kit

If you need further assistance, please visit the Academic Support Center to identify further tutoring services.