A Comprehensive Streaming Market Data, Research and Portfolio Management Application for Your Clients

Quotestream is QuoteMedia's flagship real-time streaming quotes and research system. Designed for the Day Trader, Quotestream offers low latency tick-by-tick data, advanced charting, comprehensive technical analysis, news and research. With no software to install, and no servers to maintain, Quotestream is the ideal solution for your clients.

Why Quotestream?

Everything your clients need in a real-time portfolio manager and streaming market data application.

- Quotestream is the most aggressively priced application of its kind
- No expensive Server and Circuit infrastructure required (data is all accessed via the Internet)
- True thin client access (no software to download, no installation required, no upgrades to install, no technical staff required?)
- Bulk licensing and corporate discounts for enterprise clients
- Fully synchronized Desktop and Mobile Co-companion delivery (view and edit the same portfolios and market data on desktop, mobile phones and tablets)
- Total portability (Quotestream is cloud based, allowing your clients access from anywhere in the world at any time)
- Access to a full range of Equities, Funds, Commodities, Futures, Indices, Forex, ETFs, News, Fundamentals, Advanced Charting, Research, Analysis, Corporate Actions, and more
- Redundant dual Ticker Plant processing brings reliable low latency data to the application
- Intuitive and easy to use, including simple drag and drop functionality and totally customizable screens, layouts, colors, fonts, and charting.
- Extensive on-screen and email alerts.
- Quotestream can be white labeled and fully integrated into client systems
- Self-administered accounts and data entitlements so your firm controls access

"Our decision to select QuoteMedia was based on their ability to provide a broad range and depth of information in a fully hosted solution. QuoteMedia worked hard alongside our web and data quality experts to meet our objectives and the exchange-level standards we set for this project."

– Eric Sinclair, President, TMX Datalinx and Group Head of Data Services
