Sustainability at Verizon

Verizon gives people the ability to do more through technology, investments and actions designed to educate the 21st century workforce and promote environmental sustainability.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

We are taking action in support of the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals:

Improving Global Resource Efficiency

Reducing Environmental Impact: Verizon is committed to delivering a lasting, positive impact on the environment by cutting our own carbon intensity – the amount of carbon our business emits divided by the terabytes of data we transport over our networks – in half over the 2016 baseline by 2025. We're also working towards sourcing renewable energy equivalent to 50% of our total electricity usage by 2025.

Supporting Carbon Abatement: Verizon's products and services – ranging from high speed internet that allows people to work remotely, to smart grids that increase the efficiency of our power system, to telematics that improve fleet routing – help our customers use less energy and therefore create fewer greenhouse gas emissions.

Supporting Quality Education

Through the Verizon Innovative Learning initiative, we provide free technology, free internet access and hands-on immersive curricula in science, technology, engineering and math to students in need.

Reducing Waste and Supporting Recycling

We continue to work to reduce the environmental impact of our products through:

- Managing the materials we use in making them
- Reducing packaging volume
- Recycling, refurbishing and/or reusing our products, including the responsible management of out-of-service lead batteries
- Providing recycling information on product labels, and supporting public recycling

Verizon received an

A- on the Carbon Disclosure Project's 2018 evaluation

and is ranked in CDP's Leadership scoring band. CDP runs a global voluntary disclosure system by which companies and cities disclose their environmental impacts to inform marketplace decision-making.

Verizon chairs the

a consortium of ICT companies that collaborate to develop and share resources for achieving social and environmental sustainability through technology.

2018 marks

as a named EPA ENERGY STAR Partner of the Year for Sustained Excellence

Q & A with our CEO

Hans Vestberg

“Our company’s very purpose is to connect people and enable their creativity and vision. We believe we can help bring people together across cultures and continents to solve important problems.”

How would you describe Verizon’s performance in 2018?

2018 was an outstanding year for Verizon, and I am proud of the team we have built and the foundation we have laid for 2019 and beyond. We finished 2018 by delivering solid financial and operational performance, and my conversations with our investors and analysts have been very positive. We remain confident in our vision.

2018 was a year that will be entered into the history books as the year that 5G became available to the consumer public, and Verizon was the first in the world to bring it to market. We launched 5G Home in Houston, Sacramento, Los Angeles, and Indianapolis in the fall and will be rolling out more cities in 2019. 5G promises to be the foundational technology of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, fundamentally transforming our world in ways that we can’t even imagine yet. 5G Home is helping us perfect our market offerings, receive feedback from customers, and dominate the conversation about this revolutionary technology as we prepare to offer it more widely and for mobile access in 2019.

2018 was also exciting for me personally as I transitioned to the role of CEO, and I can’t thank Lowell enough for being a great mentor and friend and for setting us up for a strong future. We are building on this seamless transition and reorganizing the company into three business groups with three strong leaders at the helm: Ronan Dunne for Consumer, Tami Erwin for Business, and Guru Gowrappan for Media. We will assume this structure in Q2 of 2019, capitalizing on the success of 2018. This is the perfect foundation for Verizon 2.0, the next generation of our company.

Can you expand on the Verizon 2.0 strategy and the new direction in which you are taking the Company?

Verizon 2.0 is all about building on what made Verizon the best company in our industry and taking us to the next level. When I announced this to our employees, the V Team, I committed that the company was going to focus on very tangible goals in Verizon 2.0. These are improving customer satisfaction; continuing to be first in 5G and Intelligent Edge Network architecture; growing our Network-as-a-Service solutions; growing our services with Verizon Media and Verizon Connect; inviting our strategic partners to play a larger role in our ecosystem; and creating an inspiring work environment that embraces change and encourages curiosity and strategic risk taking.

This new direction is part of a strategic shift to focus on what makes Verizon the best in our industry: our unrelenting focus on enabling our customers to do the amazing things they do every day with our networks and products. The wireless and wireline industries are at a crossroads, and our competitors are going in different directions to differentiate themselves. We don't need to do that. We have the best networks, the best products, and are best positioned to help usher in the Fourth Industrial Revolution on 5G. Verizon 2.0 will help us to be prepared to capitalize on our inherent advantages.

What do you see as Verizon's social and economic purpose? How do sustainability initiatives help achieve that purpose?

I believe, and I feel our customers and V Teamers believe, that Verizon must be a model for social global stewardship. It is difficult for one person to impact the world, but as a company with over 140,000 creative, passionate employees and millions of valued customers around the world, we have an opportunity to make our mark on issues that matter and to try to take the world in a better direction. Our company's very purpose is to connect people and enable their creativity and vision. We believe we can help bring people together across cultures and continents to solve important problems.

Verizon is taking this responsibility seriously, and we will continue to strive to lift up people and voices with less opportunity through the work of our Foundation as well as in our everyday activities. For example, since access to the Internet and reliable communications services are essential to economic and educational success, we are in a unique position to help the next generation of students be better equipped for the future. Our Verizon Innovative Learning initiative delivers free technology, free access and innovative learning programs to under-resourced schools and students across America.

Our sustainability initiatives are another example of our conviction. Protecting our planet and its citizens must be integrated into everything we do, not just because our impact can be significant but also because it is the right thing to do. We have a responsibility to think about the world we live in as we are bringing our networks and products to market, and I want our company to be a leader in sustainability.

What kind of culture are you working to create at Verizon as the new CEO?

Culture is everything to me. When people love what they do and the place they work, their best ideas come to life to improve our organization, our services, and our world. I want people to be encouraged to take risks, to try new things, and to be willing to fail – and that comes from a strong culture. I travel around the world and try to meet with employees everywhere I go. I will stop by a Verizon store and ask our team what they want from their company, and they often tell me the same things. They want to be able to try new things and experiment to make their jobs and the customer experience better. They want leadership that understands that there is no one size fits all and that what works in one location may not work in another. And most importantly, they tell me that they want opportunity to shape their careers and to remain part of this exciting company's journey as we all work together to change the world.

Encouraging that culture and the leadership that it requires is my number one internal priority. I want both new and experienced leaders to support their people and to expand their expertise by trying new things, and I want employees to know that we have their backs. And we will give it 100% effort and attention. That too is culture, and I see it as imperative to our company's success.

Corporate Governance Highlights

Shareholder Rights

Majority Voting in Director Elections	Verizon's bylaws provide for the election of Directors by a majority of the votes cast in an uncontested election. This provision can only be changed by a majority vote of the shareholders.
Call a Special Meeting	Any shareholder owning at least 10% (or any group of shareholders owning at least 25%) of Verizon's outstanding common stock may call a special meeting of shareholders. Our bylaws include requirements relating to special meetings.
Proxy Access	Any shareholder (or any group of up to 20 shareholders) owning at least 3% of Verizon's outstanding common stock for at least three years may include a specified number of director nominees in our proxy materials for the annual meeting of shareholders.
No Poison Pill	Verizon does not have a shareholder rights plan, commonly referred to as a "poison pill." Any shareholder rights plan adopted by our Board must be approved by shareholders within one year and then re-approved every three years.
Ratify Executive Severance Agreements	Shareholders must ratify any employment or severance agreement with an executive officer that provides for severance benefits exceeding 2.99 times the sum of the executive's base salary plus non-equity incentive plan opportunity. This policy is described on page 50.

Board Governance

Director Independence	Currently, 10 of our 12 Directors are independent, and the standards that our Board uses to assess independence are more stringent than those of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) or The Nasdaq Stock Market (Nasdaq). For more information about the independence of these 10 Directors, see "Independence" on page 7.
Board Leadership	Currently, the CEO serves as Chairman of the Board, in consultation with an independent Lead Director. You can read about the respective roles and responsibilities of the Chairman and the Lead Director, and why our Board believes Verizon's shareholders are best served by this leadership structure, under "Board Leadership" on page 14.
Limits on Board Service	To ensure that our Directors have sufficient time to devote to their responsibilities on Verizon's Board, our Corporate Governance Guidelines provide that Directors with full-time roles in for-profit businesses should serve on no more than three public company boards, and other Directors should serve on no more than four public company boards. Members of our Audit Committee should serve on no more than two other public company audit committees.
Stock Ownership	Within three years of their election, Directors must hold Verizon stock with a value equal to three times the cash component of the annual Board retainer. Share equivalents held in any deferral plan are included when calculating the number of shares held. Directors may not divest the share equivalents they receive upon joining the Board or in connection with their annual equity grant while they are serving on the Board.
Director Retirement	Directors must retire from the Board the day before the annual meeting of shareholders that follows their 72nd birthday. The size of the Board will be reduced by one for each such retirement.

Governance

Our Board and Principles of Good Governance

We believe that good governance starts with independent, effective and diverse Board leadership. Our Board is one of Verizon's most critical strategic assets. As such, the composition of the Board evolves along with our strategic needs for the future. We believe we are more likely to achieve sustainable shareholder value when our Board has the right mix of skills, expertise and tenure. In carrying out its responsibilities, the Board abides by certain guiding principles with regard to its own composition and most essential duties – principles our shareholders have expressed to us that they believe are fundamental to our Company's success.

Diversity. A board with a diverse set of viewpoints, backgrounds and expertise is best positioned to provide broad perspectives to our management team as it assesses the challenges and opportunities impacting our business. A diverse board is more likely to consider a broader range of possibilities and help management achieve better outcomes. Diversity is one critical element of board composition that Verizon has focused on over the years in our refreshment and succession planning processes, as well as in our Board leadership structure. Women comprise one-third of our current Board.

Strategy and risk oversight. We recognize that our shareholders rely on our Directors to oversee Verizon's strategy for realizing opportunities and mitigating risks. As management navigates a rapidly changing competitive landscape, it is the Board's duty to ensure that management is executing on the Company's strategic plan, addressing emerging challenges and disruptions, and promoting innovation. At the same time, Directors must satisfy themselves that the risk management policies and procedures designed and implemented by management are consistent with the Company's strategy and risk appetite, that these policies and procedures are functioning as intended, and that necessary steps are taken to create a culture of risk-aware decision making throughout the organization. Through its oversight role, the Board sends a message to management that risk management is not an impediment to the conduct of business, but is instead an integral component of strategy, culture and business operations.

Engagement. Our Board welcomes the opportunity to develop an understanding of shareholder perspectives on our Company and to foster long-term relationships with our shareholders. Our Directors understand that our investors want to hear from them on their thinking on a range of topics not just limited to the shareholder proposals we receive during proxy season. In 2018, our Board discussed with shareholders long-term strategy oversight, CEO succession, sustainability and corporate responsibility, Board composition and refreshment, the relationship between our compensation program and our long-term strategy, and transparency into Board practices and priorities.

Governance Framework

The Board conducts its oversight responsibilities through four standing committees: Audit, Corporate Governance and Policy, Finance, and Human Resources. Each committee has a written charter that defines its specific responsibilities. The committees are discussed beginning on page 16.

The Corporate Governance and Policy Committee ensures that the membership, structure, policies and practices of our Board and its committees promote the effective exercise of the Board's role in the governance of Verizon. In addition, our Corporate Governance Guidelines provide a framework for the Board's operations and address key governance practices. The Corporate Governance and Policy Committee monitors best practices and developments in corporate governance, considers the views of Verizon's shareholders, and periodically recommends changes to the Board's policies and practices, including the Guidelines.

Where to Find More Information on Governance at Verizon

You can find Verizon's Corporate Governance Guidelines, Code of Conduct and other corporate governance materials, including Verizon's certificate of incorporation, bylaws, committee charters and policies, on the Corporate Governance section of our website at www.verizon.com/about/investors. You can request copies of these materials from the Assistant Corporate Secretary at the address given under "Contacting Verizon."

Business Conduct and Ethics

We are committed to operating with the highest level of integrity, responsibility and accountability. To that end, we have adopted a Code of Conduct that applies to all employees, including the CEO, the Chief Financial Officer and the Controller. The Code of Conduct describes each employee's responsibility to conduct business with the highest ethical standards and provides guidance about preventing, reporting and remediating potential compliance violations in key areas. Directors are expected to act in the spirit of the Code of Conduct, and to comply with the specific ethical provisions of the Corporate Governance Guidelines. Our Board is strongly predisposed not to waive any of these business conduct and ethics provisions for executive officers or Directors. In the unlikely event of a waiver, we will promptly disclose the Board's action on our website.

Related Person Transactions

The Board has adopted the Related Person Transaction Policy that is included in the Guidelines. The Corporate Governance and Policy Committee reviews transactions between Verizon and any of our Directors or executive officers or members of their immediate families to determine if any participants have a material interest in the transaction. If the Committee determines that a material interest exists, based on the facts and circumstances of each case, the Committee may approve, disapprove, ratify or cancel the transaction or recommend another course of action. Any Committee members who are involved in a transaction under review do not participate in the Committee's deliberations.

From time to time Verizon has employees who are related to our executive officers or Directors. Mr. McAdam, who served as CEO until August 1, 2018 and as Executive Chairman from that time until December 31, 2018, has a child who is employed by a Verizon subsidiary and earned approximately $144,000 in 2018. Mr. Stratton, who served as Executive Vice President and President – Global Operations until June 7, 2018 and as Executive Vice President from that time until December 31, 2018, has a child who is employed by a Verizon subsidiary and earned approximately $245,000 in 2018, and an in-law who is employed by a Verizon subsidiary and earned approximately $209,000 in 2018. In each case, the amount of compensation earned was comparable to that of other employees in similar positions. These employees also participate in Verizon's welfare and benefit plans that are made available to all employees.

“Verizon is delivering the promise of the digital world by enabling people, businesses and society to innovate and drive positive change.”

Corporate Responsibility and Board Oversight

At its core, our business connects people with each other and the world around them. Our technology powers connections that enable people to do amazing things. That is why we are committed to helping our customers turn innovative ideas into reality and help build a brighter future. Verizon is ever conscious of our global impact. Our Corporate Responsibility Report discusses our programs and practices designed to promote ethical business practices, good corporate governance, and the well-being and health of our environment, employees, customers and communities. The Report and other information on Verizon’s commitment to responsibility and sustainability are posted on our website at www.verizon.com/about/responsibility.

Our Board recognizes the importance of our corporate responsibility and sustainability policies and practices and the need to provide effective oversight in these areas. Our Corporate Governance and Policy Committee maintains formal oversight responsibilities by periodically reviewing Verizon’s position and engagement on important public policy issues that may affect our business and reputation, including those relating to corporate responsibility, sustainability, political contributions, lobbying activities and others, and reports to the full Board on these matters. The Committee also formally reviews the state of corporate responsibility at Verizon with our Chief Corporate Responsibility Officer each year.

In 2018, Verizon established a new management body called the Responsible Business Council, chaired by the CEO, to oversee the integration of responsible practices as a core operating principle. Mr. Vestberg believes that a corporation that is purposefully operating at the intersection of economic, environmental and societal accountability creates greater long-term value for its shareholders. The Chief Corporate Responsibility Officer reports on the Council’s activities to the full Board at least annually.

Diversity and Inclusion

At Verizon, we understand that our success as a company is grounded in a respect for and encouragement of diverse viewpoints. In order to connect people across the world, we know we need to tap into the diversity of thoughts, capabilities, background and cultures among our team members, suppliers and customers. We are committed to diversity and equality in all areas of our business, including hiring and compensation. Since Verizon was founded, our Human Resources Committee has included a diversity target as one of the performance measures for employees’ short-term incentive awards. As a company, we believe in pay equity. Toward that end, we have adopted a Pay Equity Commitment that can be found on our website at www.verizon.com/about/our-company/company-policies. As part of this commitment, Verizon pledges to identify and promote best practices in compensation, hiring, promotion and career development; to develop strategies to reduce unconscious bias; and to make hiring, promotion and compensation decisions that promote pay equity.

Human Rights

Support for universal human rights has long been and will continue to be a core value and a significant part of the way in which Verizon conducts business. In 2009, Verizon committed to respecting human rights as defined in foundational instruments such as the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Our commitments to human rights are formally expressed in our Credo, our Code of Conduct, our Human Rights Policy and our Supplier Code of Conduct. Verizon strives to create an environment of respect, integrity and fairness for our employees and customers wherever we do business, and we expect our business partners to operate the same way. Verizon's Human Rights Policy is consistent with the spirit and intent of widely recognized international human rights principles, including those enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Our Supplier Code of Conduct mandates that our partners and suppliers, both locally and globally, conduct their operations not only in compliance with applicable laws but in an ethically responsible manner. Verizon's Board of Directors oversees our policies relating to human rights as well as ethical issues with regard to our suppliers.

In order to support our efforts to operate in accordance with these standards, Verizon has launched a Business & Human Rights Program. This Program, which is based on an initiative created ten years ago at Yahoo prior to our acquisition of that company, strives to systematically embed human rights considerations into responsible business decision-making processes across the company. Critically, this work is informed by engagement with external networks and experts from around the globe.

Environmental

At every level of Verizon – from the way we operate our business to how we develop our products and services to how we pay our employees – we work to minimize our environmental impact. We measure our progress by tracking our carbon intensity – the amount of carbon our business emits divided by the terabytes of data we transport over our networks. Our current goal is to reduce our carbon intensity by 50% over the 2016 baseline by 2025, even as we grow our business. We intend to accomplish this through network upgrades and investing in renewable sources of energy. We now generate over 22 megawatts of green energy in the United States every year, and our goal is to implement an additional 24 MW of green energy at on-site locations by 2025. We are working towards sourcing renewable energy equivalent to 50% of our total electricity usage by 2025. Verizon is one of the few companies in our peer group that includes a sustainability target as one of the performance measures for management employees' short-term incentive compensation awards. The Human Resources Committee has used a sustainability metric for compensation purposes since 2014.

Item 1: Election of Directors

Election Process

Verizon's Directors are elected annually for a term of one year. We believe annual elections are consistent with good corporate governance because they foster director accountability and increase shareholder confidence. Verizon's bylaws require Directors to be elected by a majority of the votes cast in an uncontested election.

Director Nominations

The Corporate Governance and Policy Committee considers and recommends candidates for our Board. The Committee reviews all nominations submitted to Verizon, including individuals recommended by shareholders, Directors or members of management. The Committee also retains executive search firms from time to time to help identify and evaluate potential candidates.

Any shareholder who wishes to recommend a Director candidate to the Committee for its consideration should write to the Assistant Corporate Secretary at the address given under "Contacting Verizon." A recommendation for a Director candidate should include the candidate's name, biographical data and a description of the candidate's qualifications in light of the requirements described below. If we make any material changes to the Committee's procedure for considering and nominating candidates, we will file a report with the SEC and post the information on the Corporate Governance section of our website at www.verizon.com/about/investors.

The Committee specifically reviews the qualifications of each candidate for election or re-election. For incumbent Directors, this review includes the Director's understanding of Verizon's businesses and the environment within which Verizon operates, attendance and participation at meetings, and independence. After the Committee evaluates all candidates for Director, it presents its recommendation to the Board. The Committee also discusses with the Board any candidates who were considered by the Committee but not recommended for election or re-election.

Before they are nominated, each candidate for election and each incumbent Director standing for re-election must consent to stand for election or re-election and provide certain representations required under Verizon's bylaws. Each candidate who is standing for election must also submit an irrevocable resignation, which will only become effective if (i) our Board or any Committee determines that any of the required representations were untrue in any respect or (ii) the candidate does not receive a majority of the votes cast at the annual meeting of shareholders and the independent members of our Board decide to accept the resignation. Any decision about a resignation following an incumbent Director's failure to obtain a majority of the votes cast will be disclosed within 90 days after the election results are certified.

Shareholders wishing to nominate a Director should follow the procedures set forth in Verizon's bylaws and summarized on page 87.

Director Criteria, Qualifications and Experience

To be eligible for consideration, any proposed candidate must:

- Be ethical
- Have proven judgment and competence
- Have professional skills and experience in dealing with a large, multi-faceted organization or in dealing with complex problems that complement the background and experience already represented on our Board and that meet Verizon's needs

Director Criteria, Qualifications and Experience

- Have demonstrated the ability to act independently and be willing to represent the interests of all shareholders and not just those of a particular philosophy or constituency
- Be willing and able to devote sufficient time to fulfill responsibilities to Verizon and our shareholders

Our Board's commitment to refreshment and succession planning is at the core of its ability to maintain independence of thought and action. Key factors the Committee considers when nominating Directors and refreshing the Board include:

- Diversity – The Committee recognizes that a diverse set of viewpoints and practical experiences enhances the effectiveness of our Board. In evaluating candidates, the Committee considers how a candidate's particular background, experience, qualifications, attributes and skills may complement, supplement or duplicate those of other prospective candidates.
- Experience – The Committee strives to maintain a Board with a wide range of leadership experience and skills relevant to Verizon's strategic vision.
- Age and tenure – Under the Corporate Governance Guidelines, a Director must retire from the Board the day before the annual meeting of shareholders that follows his or her 72nd birthday. The Committee also considers the tenure of each incumbent Director and the average tenure of the Board in an effort to maintain a Board that balances the fresh perspective and ideas of newer Directors with the deep insight into the Company that longer tenured Directors have developed.
- Board size – The Committee periodically evaluates whether to change the size of the Board based on the Board's needs and the availability of qualified candidates.
- Board dynamics – The Committee considers each Director candidate's individual contribution or potential contribution to the Board as a whole and strives to maintain one hundred percent active and collaborative participation.

Independence

Verizon's Corporate Governance Guidelines establish standards for evaluating Director independence and require that a substantial majority of the Directors be independent. The Board determines the independence of each Director under NYSE and Nasdaq governance standards, as well as the more stringent standards included in the Guidelines. These standards identify the types of relationships that, if material, could impair independence, and fix monetary thresholds at which the relationships are considered to be material. The Guidelines are available on the Corporate Governance section of our website at www.verizon.com/about/investors. The Corporate Governance and Policy Committee conducts an annual review of any relevant business relationships that each Director may have with Verizon and reports its findings to the full Board. Based on the Committee's recommendation, the Board has determined that all of the non-employee Director candidates are independent: Ms. Archambeau, Mr. Bertolini, Mr. Colao, Ms. Healey, Mr. Otis, Mr. Schulman, Mr. Slater, Ms. Tesija and Mr. Weaver. The Board also determined that Mr. Carrión and Ms. Keeth, who are not standing for re-election, Dr. Kley, who served as a Director until May 3, 2018, and Mr. Wasson, who served as a Director until October 1, 2018, were independent.

The employers or former employers of Mr. Bertolini, Mr. Schulman and Mr. Slater all made payments to Verizon for telecommunications services and solutions during 2018. In addition, Verizon made payments to Mr. Schulman's employer for processing fees relating to payments to and from our customers in connection with Verizon Wireless services and devices, and to Mr. Bertolini's former employer under an administrative services contract for employee healthcare benefits. Applying the independence standards above, the Board considered the foregoing payments and determined that these general business transactions and relationships are not material and did not impair the ability of the applicable Directors to act independently.

Nominees for Election

Our Board has nominated the 10 candidates below for election as Directors. Except for Mr. Colao, who was known to the Company as a result of his tenure on the Verizon Wireless Board of Representatives, all of the candidates currently serve as Directors of Verizon. Mr. Schulman was appointed to the Board in September 2018 as an independent Director and was identified by an executive search firm retained by the Company. After completing the evaluation process described above, the Corporate Governance and Policy Committee and our Board concluded that these candidates should be nominated for election or re-election, as the case may be. We describe their respective experience, qualifications, attributes and skills below. The Committee and the Board assessed these factors in light of Verizon's strategy and businesses, which provide a broad array of communications, information and entertainment products and services to individuals, businesses, governments and wholesale customers in the United States and around the world.

Each candidate has consented to stand for election, and we do not anticipate that any candidate will be unavailable to serve. If any candidate were to become unavailable before the election, the proxy committee could vote the shares it represents for a substitute named by the Board.

Each candidate has submitted an irrevocable, conditional letter of resignation that our Board will consider if that candidate fails to receive a majority of the votes cast.

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote FOR the election of these Director candidates.

Board and Committees

Board Leadership

Verizon's governance framework provides the Board with the flexibility to select the appropriate Board leadership structure for the Company. In making this leadership structure determination, the Board considers many factors, including the specific needs of the business and the long-term interests of our shareholders. We have historically combined the roles of Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, and our Board has been satisfied that a combined Chairman and CEO structure has served our shareholders well over time.

In June 2018, the Board elected Mr. Vestberg to succeed Mr. McAdam as CEO effective August 1, 2018, and appointed him to the Verizon Board. In order to facilitate an orderly succession plan, Mr. McAdam was appointed to continue to lead the Board as a non-independent Chairman. Given the dynamic and competitive environment in which Verizon operates, the Board believes that Verizon and our shareholders are best served by a Chairman who has broad and deep knowledge of our industry and the vision, energy and experience to position Verizon as the leader of transformational change in the communications ecosystem. Based on these considerations, when Mr. McAdam informed the Board of his decision to not stand for re-election, the Board determined that Mr. Vestberg was best qualified to serve in the role of Chairman.

To maintain an appropriate level of independent checks and balances in its governance, and consistent with the Corporate Governance Guidelines, the independent members of the Board have elected an independent Lead Director who has the authority to call Board meetings and executive sessions. Clarence Otis, Jr. currently serves as Lead Director. Any shareholder or interested party may communicate directly with the Lead Director.

All Directors play an active role in overseeing Verizon's business at both the Board and committee level. Every Director may review the agenda for each Board and committee meeting in advance and can request changes. In addition, all Directors have unrestricted access to the Chairman and the senior leadership team at all times.

The Board believes that shareholders are best served by this current leadership structure because it features an independent Lead Director who provides independent and objective oversight and who can express the Board's positions in a forthright manner, as well as independent Directors who are fully involved in the Board's operations and decision making.

Lead Director Responsibilities

- Chairs executive sessions, including those held to evaluate the CEO's performance and compensation
- Chairs any meeting of the Board if the Chairman is not present
- Calls Board meetings and executive sessions as needed
- Approves the schedule and agenda for all Board meetings, in consultation with the Chairman
- Acts as principal liaison with the Chairman
- Leads the Board's annual self-evaluation
- Acts as a primary point of contact for Board communication with major shareholders and other key constituents, as appropriate

Board Meetings and Executive Sessions

In 2018, our Board of Directors held nine meetings, including seven regularly scheduled meetings and two special meetings. No incumbent Director attended fewer than 75% percent of the total number of meetings of our Board and the committees to which the Director was assigned. Directors standing for re-election are expected to attend the annual meeting of shareholders. In 2018, all Directors attended the annual meeting.

The Corporate Governance Guidelines require the independent Directors to meet in executive session without any members of management present at least twice a year to review and evaluate the performance of the Board and to evaluate the performance and approve the compensation of the CEO. In practice, our Board typically meets in executive session during each regular Board meeting.

Annual Board and Committee Assessments

Our Board conducts an annual assessment aimed at enhancing its effectiveness. As part of the assessment, each Director completes a written questionnaire that is designed to gather suggestions for improving Board effectiveness and to solicit feedback on a range of issues, including Board operations, Board and committee structure and dynamics, the flow of information from management, and agenda topics. In addition, the Lead Director conducts individual interviews with each of the independent Directors to discuss these topics. The feedback received from the questionnaires and interviews is discussed during an evaluation session.

Each of the four standing committees also conducts its own annual assessment, which includes a written questionnaire and evaluation session. Evaluation sessions are led by the committee chairs and generally include a review of the committee charter, the annual agenda, and the committee's overall effectiveness.

In addition to these annual assessments, the Board evaluates and modifies its oversight of Verizon's operations on an ongoing basis. During their executive sessions, the independent Directors consider agenda topics that they believe deserve additional focus and raise new topics to be addressed in future meetings.

The Corporate Governance and Policy Committee annually appraises the framework for our Board and committee assessment processes.

The 2018 Board Assessment Process

Board Committees

Our Board of Directors has established four standing committees: the Audit Committee, the Corporate Governance and Policy Committee, the Finance Committee, and the Human Resources Committee. Each committee has a written charter that defines its specific responsibilities. The chair of each committee approves the agenda and materials for each meeting. Each committee has the authority to retain independent advisors to assist it in carrying out its responsibilities.

Our committee meetings are not held concurrently, which enables our Directors to sit on multiple committees. Our newly appointed Directors also attend all committee meetings for a period prior to being appointed to any particular committee, which allows them to understand the inner workings of all committees.

Risk Oversight

Role of the Board

While senior management has primary responsibility for managing risk, our Board of Directors is responsible for risk oversight. The Board works with senior management to develop a comprehensive view of Verizon's key short- and long-term business risks. Verizon has a formalized business risk management reporting process that is designed to provide visibility to the Board about critical risks and risk mitigation strategies.

The Board of Directors oversees the management of risks inherent in the operation of Verizon's businesses and the implementation of its strategic plan by using several different levels of review. The Board addresses the primary risks associated with Verizon's business units and corporate functions in its operations reviews of those units and functions. In addition, the Board reviews the risks associated with Verizon's strategic plan throughout the year.

Role of the Committees

Each of our Board committees oversees the management of risks that fall within that committee's areas of responsibility. In performing this function, each committee has full access to management and may engage advisors.

Based on management's review, Verizon has concluded that our compensation policies and procedures are not reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on Verizon because they are appropriately structured and discourage employees from taking excessive risks.

What about data privacy and cybersecurity risk?

Board and Committee Oversight. Protecting the privacy of our customers' information and the security of our systems and networks has long been and will continue to be a priority at Verizon. The Board is committed to maintaining strong and meaningful privacy and security protections for our customers' information. The Audit Committee has primary responsibility for overseeing Verizon's risk management program relating to privacy and cybersecurity and monitors Verizon's compliance in the areas of data and privacy protection. To this end, the Board and the Audit Committee receive regular updates on both privacy and cybersecurity matters.

Data Privacy. Verizon has technical, administrative and physical safeguards in place to help protect against unauthorized access to, use or disclosure of customer information and data we collect and store. Verizon has a dedicated Chief Privacy Officer whose team advises the business on privacy risks and assesses the effectiveness of privacy controls. The Chief Privacy Officer annually briefs the Audit Committee on data privacy risks and mitigating actions.

Cybersecurity. To more effectively address the cybersecurity threats posed today, Verizon has a dedicated Chief Information Security Officer whose team is responsible for leading enterprise-wide information security strategy, policy, standards, architecture and processes. Verizon's comprehensive information security program includes, among other aspects, vulnerability management, antivirus and malware protection, file integrity monitoring, encryption and access control. The Chief Information Security Officer leads an annual review and discussion with the full Board dedicated to Verizon's cyber risks and threats and cyber protections and provides updates throughout the year, as warranted.

What about reputational risk?

As our operating footprint expands, so does our responsibility to consider the impacts of our products and operations on society. New technologies and new markets present considerable opportunities, but also create new risks. Companies in our industry and beyond are facing challenges that have impacted their reputations and brought adverse attention and action by consumers, regulators, and shareholders. The Board is mindful of not only how the technologies we build will provide positive experiences for our customers, but also how they could otherwise have unintended consequences. In order to ensure that Verizon is doing everything possible to anticipate and plan for reputational risk, the Corporate Governance and Policy Committee oversees the Company's handling of business and reputational risks relating to Verizon's position and engagement on important public policy issues, including political contributions, lobbying activities, corporate social responsibility and sustainability, as well as individual events and incidents that may affect the Company's reputation.

Strategic Crisis Management. In order to position Verizon leadership and the Board to respond to strategic risks and protect Verizon's core assets in a potential crisis, the Company recently refined its Strategic Crisis Management Program. The Program defines clear roles and responsibilities in dealing with various potential crises and outlines a process to make decisions and implement appropriate actions on a timely basis. Through the Program, the Verizon Strategic Crisis Leadership Team is positioned to assume executive ownership of strategic crisis events through drills and scenario-based training. The Program also includes employee crisis awareness training in order to ensure that employees across the Company are prepared to quickly identify and report circumstances or events that could develop into a strategic crisis so that our leadership team can take appropriate steps in response. In addition, Verizon's Board maintains a Board Crisis Response Plan, which is a structured plan to be used in connection with any crisis that could have a significant strategic impact on the Company's brand, reputation, finances or legal, political or regulatory position – providing a framework for ensuring appropriate Board oversight and assessment of the response to a crisis, while allowing the necessary flexibility to address the different types of crises that might arise.

Committee Oversight of Current Policy Issues and Corporate Reputation. Each year, Verizon's Executive Vice President of Public Policy and General Counsel updates the Corporate Governance and Policy Committee on the current policy issues facing the Company that may generate publicity and impact corporate reputation. Through this annual briefing, the Committee reviews and discusses with management the most pressing known reputational issues and the Company's policy on each issue, as well as the processes in place to anticipate potential developments in each of the identified areas and to quickly respond to any such developments in a timely manner.

Management Succession Planning and Development

Verizon's Board of Directors recognizes that one of its most important duties is to ensure continuity in our senior leadership by overseeing the development of executive talent and planning for the efficient succession of the CEO. Our Board has delegated primary oversight responsibility for succession planning to the Human Resources Committee, which oversees assignments to key leadership positions. The Human Resources Committee reports on its activities to the full Board, which addresses succession planning during executive sessions that typically occur in connection with each regularly scheduled meeting.

To ensure that the succession planning and management development process supports and enhances Verizon's strategic objectives, the Board and Human Resources Committee regularly consult with the CEO on Verizon's organizational needs and competitive challenges, the potential of key managers, and plans for future developments and emergency situations. As part of this process, the Board and the Human Resources Committee also seek input from the Chief Administrative Officer, as well as advice on related compensation issues from the Human Resources Committee's independent compensation consultant.

Our Board generally conducts an in-depth review of senior leader development and succession planning at least once a year. Led by the CEO and the Chief Administrative Officer, this review addresses Verizon's management development initiatives, assesses senior management resources, and identifies individuals who should be considered as potential future senior executives.

Our goal is to develop well-rounded and experienced senior leaders. High potential executives are challenged regularly with additional responsibilities, new positions or promotions to expose them to our diverse operations. These individuals are often positioned to interact more frequently with the Board, both in full Board meetings and in less formal settings and small groups, so the Directors can get to know and assess them.

In 2018, Verizon saw the culmination of a deliberate and comprehensive succession planning process conducted by the Board over the course of multiple years when Mr. Vestberg stepped into the role of CEO. Throughout the process, the Board focused on the strategic direction of the business and the vision for where the Company needed to be in five to ten years to form the basis of a talent profile and selection criteria for the next CEO. This comprehensive process underpins the Board's confidence that Mr. Vestberg has the right character, skills and global perspective to drive transformational change and lead the Company into the future. In addition, throughout the CEO succession planning process, the Board was actively focused on ensuring the smooth CEO transition critical to maintaining a well-functioning company while building on a track record of performance. In order to implement this successful transition, the Board appointed Mr. McAdam to remain as a non-independent Chairman, positioning him to provide leadership continuity as well as advice and guidance to Mr. Vestberg and the Board during a transition period.

Shareholder Engagement

Ongoing communication with our shareholders helps the Board and senior management gain useful feedback on a wide range of subjects and understand the issues that matter most to our shareholders. Verizon views accountability to shareholders as both a mark of good governance and a critical component of our success. In 2018, management and our Directors met with our shareholders and engaged in discussions on a variety of issues, including Board oversight of Company strategy; CEO succession; the leadership structure of the Board; Board composition and refreshment; sustainability and corporate responsibility; and the relationship between our compensation program and our long-term strategy.

- Company strategy
- CEO succession
- Board leadership
- Board composition and refreshment
- Sustainability and corporate responsibility
- Executive compensation

The information learned in these discussions serves as the foundation for our policies and informs our business strategy on an ongoing basis.

Communicating with Directors

Our Board of Directors believes that communication with shareholders and other interested parties is an important part of the governance process, and has adopted the following procedure to facilitate this communication.

How to Contact the Board

Any shareholder or interested party may communicate directly with our Board, any committee of our Board, any individual Director (including the Lead Director and the committee chairs) or the non-employee Directors as a group, by writing to:

Verizon Communications Inc.

Board of Directors

(or committee name, individual Director, Lead

Director, committee chair or non-employee

Directors as a group, as appropriate)

1095 Avenue of the Americas

New York, New York 10036

Verizon's Corporate Secretary reviews all correspondence addressed to our Directors and periodically provides the Board with copies of all communications that deal with the functions of our Board or its committees, or that otherwise require Board attention. Typically the Corporate Secretary will not forward communications that are of a personal nature or are unrelated to the duties and responsibilities of our Board, including business solicitations or advertisements, mass mailings, job-related inquiries, or other unsuitable communications. All communications involving substantive accounting or auditing matters are forwarded to the Chair of the Audit Committee.

Non-Employee Director Compensation

The Human Resources Committee, in consultation with its independent compensation consultant, reviews and recommends non-employee Director compensation. In 2018, each non-employee Director of Verizon received an annual cash retainer of $125,000. Through June 2018, the Chairs of the Corporate Governance and Policy Committee and the Finance Committee received an additional annual cash retainer of $15,000, and the Chairs of the Audit Committee and the Human Resources Committee, as well as the Lead Director, each received an additional annual cash retainer of $25,000. Effective July 2018, based on the recommendation of the Human Resources Committee after its review of the Verizon director compensation program and the programs of peer companies, and in consultation with its independent compensation consultant, the Board determined to increase the additional annual cash retainer paid to (i) the Chairs of the Corporate Governance and Policy Committee and the Finance Committee to $20,000, (ii) the Chairs of the Audit Committee and the Human Resources Committee to $30,000 and (iii) the Lead Director to $50,000. Based on the same process, the Board also approved the payment to any non-employee Chairman of the Board an annual cash retainer of $200,000, effective upon such person assuming that role.

In 2018, each non-employee Director also received a grant of Verizon share equivalents valued at $175,000 on the grant date. No meeting fees were paid if a non-employee Director attended a Board or Committee meeting on the day before or the day of a regularly scheduled Board meeting. Each non-employee Director who attended a Board or Committee meeting held on any other date received a meeting fee of $2,000.

Each non-employee Director who joins our Board receives a one-time grant of 3,000 Verizon share equivalents valued at the closing price on the date the new Director joins our Board.

All share equivalents that non-employee Directors receive are automatically credited to the Director's deferred compensation account under the Verizon Executive Deferral Plan, which is referred to as the Deferral Plan, and invested in a hypothetical Verizon stock fund. Share equivalents received in the one-time grant or the annual equity grant may not be sold while the Director serves on the Board. Amounts in a Director's deferred compensation account are paid in a cash lump sum in the year following the year the Director leaves our Board.

Non-employee Directors may choose to defer all or part of their annual cash retainer and meeting fees (if any) under the Deferral Plan. They may elect to invest these amounts in the hypothetical investment options available to participants in Verizon's Management Savings Plan or in a hypothetical cash account that earns a return rate equal to the long-term, high-grade corporate bond yield average as published by Moody's Investor Services.

One of our non-employee Directors who served as a director of a predecessor company is a participant in a charitable giving program. Under this program, when a participant retires from the Board or attains age 65 (whichever occurs later) or dies, Verizon will make one or more charitable contributions in the aggregate amount of $1,000,000, payable in ten annual installments. This program, which is closed to future participants, is financed through the purchase of insurance on the life of each participant. In 2018, the aggregate cost of maintaining and administering this program was $15,000.

The non-employee Directors are eligible to participate in the Verizon Foundation Matching Gifts Program. Under this program, which is open to all Verizon employees, the Foundation matches up to $5,000 per year of charitable contributions to accredited colleges and universities, $1,000 per year of charitable contributions to any non-profit with 501(c)(3) status, and $1,000 per year of charitable donations to designated disaster relief campaigns.

Audit Matters

Item 2: Ratification of Appointment of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Audit Committee considered the performance and qualifications of Ernst & Young LLP, and has reappointed that independent registered public accounting firm to examine the financial statements of Verizon for fiscal year 2019 and to examine the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting. Ernst & Young has been retained as Verizon's independent registered public accounting firm since 2000.

Verizon paid the following fees to Ernst & Young for services rendered during fiscal years 2018 and 2017.

	Audit fees	Audit-related fees	Tax fees	All other fees
2018	$35.5 million	$10.3 million	$4.4 million	—
2017	$39.2 million	$12.0 million	$4.1 million	—

Audit fees are attributable to services that include the financial statement audit, the audit of the effectiveness of Verizon's internal control over financial reporting required by the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, and financial statement audits required by statute for our foreign subsidiaries. Audit-related fees are attributable to services that primarily include audits of other subsidiaries, reviews of controls over services provided to customers, and work related to the implementation of new accounting standards, as well as other audit and due diligence procedures performed in connection with acquisitions, dispositions or other financial transactions. Tax fees are attributable to services that primarily consist of federal, state, local and international tax planning and compliance. The Audit Committee considered, in consultation with management and the independent registered public accounting firm, whether Ernst & Young could provide these services while maintaining independence.

The Audit Committee is directly responsible for the appointment, compensation, retention and oversight of the independent registered public accounting firm that performs audit services. In considering Ernst & Young's appointment for the 2019 fiscal year, the Committee reviewed the firm's qualifications and competencies, including the following factors:

- Ernst & Young's historical performance and its recent performance during its engagement for the 2018 fiscal year;
- Ernst & Young's capability and expertise in handling the breadth and complexity of Verizon's operations;
- the qualifications and experience of key members of the engagement team, including the lead engagement partner, for the audit of Verizon's financial statements;
- the quality of Ernst & Young's communications with the Committee regarding the conduct of the audit, and with management with respect to issues identified in the audit;
- external data on audit quality and performance of, including recent Public Company Accounting Oversight Board reports on, Ernst & Young;
- the appropriateness of Ernst & Young's fees for audit and non-audit services, on both an absolute basis and as compared to its peer firms; and
- Ernst & Young's reputation for integrity and competence in the fields of accounting and auditing.

In addition, in order to ensure continuing auditor independence, the Committee periodically considers whether there should be a regular rotation of the independent registered public accounting firm. The Committee ensures that the mandated rotation of Ernst & Young's personnel occurs routinely and is directly involved in the selection of Ernst & Young's lead engagement partner.

Item 2: Ratification of Appointment of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Committee has established policies and procedures regarding pre-approval of services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm and is responsible for negotiating the audit fees associated with the engagement. At the beginning of the fiscal year, the Committee pre-approves the engagement of the independent registered public accounting firm to provide audit services based on fee estimates. The Committee also pre-approves proposed audit-related services, tax services and other permissible services based on specified project and service details, fee estimates, and aggregate fee limits. The Committee receives a report at each meeting on the status of services provided or to be provided by the independent registered public accounting firm and approves the related fees. The Committee pre-approved all of Ernst & Young's 2018 fees and services.

The affirmative vote of a majority of the shares cast at the annual meeting is required to ratify the reappointment of Ernst & Young for the 2019 fiscal year. The Committee believes that continuing to retain Ernst & Young to serve as Verizon's independent registered public accounting firm is in the best interests of Verizon and our shareholders. If this appointment is not ratified by the shareholders, the Committee will reconsider its decision. One or more representatives of Ernst & Young will be at the 2019 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. They will have an opportunity to make a statement and will be available to respond to appropriate questions.

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote FOR ratification.

Audit Committee Report

In the performance of our oversight responsibilities, the Committee has reviewed and discussed with management and the independent registered public accounting firm Verizon's audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2018, and the effectiveness of Verizon's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2018.

The Committee has discussed with the independent registered public accounting firm the matters required to be discussed by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the New York Stock Exchange, The Nasdaq Stock Market and Public Company Accounting Oversight Board Auditing Standard No. 1301, Communications with Audit Committees.

The Committee has received written disclosures and a letter from the independent registered public accounting firm consistent with applicable Public Company Accounting Oversight Board requirements for independent registered public accounting firm communications with audit committees concerning independence, and has discussed with the independent registered public accounting firm its independence.

The Committee discussed with the internal auditors and the independent registered public accounting firm the overall scope and plans for their respective audits. The Committee met with the internal auditors and the independent registered public accounting firm, with and without management present, to discuss the results of their examinations, their evaluations of Verizon's internal controls and the overall quality of Verizon's financial reporting.

The Committee has assessed and discussed with management Verizon's significant business risk exposures and overseen management's programs and policies to monitor, assess and manage such exposures. The Committee also periodically monitored and evaluated the primary risks associated with particular business units and functions.

Based on the reviews and discussions referred to above, in reliance on management and the independent registered public accounting firm, and subject to the limitations of our role, the Committee recommended to the Board of Directors, and the Board has approved, the inclusion of the financial statements referred to above in Verizon's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2018.

The Committee reviewed the independent registered public accounting firm's performance, qualifications and tenure, the qualifications of the lead engagement partner, management's recommendation regarding retention of the firm, and considerations related to audit firm rotation, as discussed further on page 26. Based on that review, the Committee reappointed the independent registered public accounting firm for fiscal year 2019.

Respectfully submitted,

The Audit Committee

2018
Named executive officers

 Hans Vestberg Chairman and Chief Executive Officer	 Matthew Ellis Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer	 K. CEO Succession. Mr. Vestberg succeeded Mr. McAdam as Verizon's Chief Executive Officer on August 1, 2018, and as Chairman of the Board on March 8, 2019, when Mr. McAdam stepped down from those positions. Mr. McAdam retired from Verizon on December 31, 2018. This transition was the culmination of a deliberate and comprehensive CEO succession planning process designed to ensure that Verizon is best positioned to deliver on our value proposition to all stakeholders. ## Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Best Practices in Executive Compensation and Governance

New Operating Structure. In November 2018, Verizon announced the realignment of the Company's operating structure around three core segments – Verizon Consumer Group, Verizon Business Group and Verizon Media Group – effective for financial reporting purposes on April 1, 2019. Effective January 1, 2019, Mr. Dunne was named Executive Vice President and President of Verizon's Consumer Group.

Compensation changes made in connection with these key management changes are described in this Compensation Discussion and Analysis.

Best Practices in Executive Compensation and Governance

Our compensation program reflects our commitment to industry-leading standards for compensation design and governance. The Human Resources Committee regularly reviews best practices in executive compensation and governance and revises our policies and practices when appropriate. The following table highlights some features of our executive compensation program that demonstrate the rigor of our policies.

Compensation Practice	Verizon Policy	More Information on Page
Pay for performance	✓ Approximately 90% of named executive officers' total compensation opportunity is variable, incentive-based pay.	34
Robust stock ownership guidelines	✓ We have stock ownership guidelines for the CEO of 7x base salary; for other named executive officers of 4x base salary; and for Directors of 3x the cash component of the annual Board retainer. While they serve on the Board, Directors may not divest share equivalents granted to them by Verizon.	49
Shareholder outreach	✓ Our outreach program gives institutional shareholders a regular opportunity to express their views about our executive compensation program and policies. Shareholder input is carefully considered by the Committee.	32
Clawback policies	✓ Our clawback policies give us the right to cancel or "claw back" incentive compensation from any senior executive who has engaged in misconduct that results in (i) significant reputational or financial harm to Verizon or (ii) a material financial restatement.	49
Anti-hedging policy	✓ Our anti-hedging policy prohibits Directors and executives who receive equity-based incentive awards from entering into transactions designed to hedge or offset any decrease in the market value of Verizon stock that they own.	49
Annual compensation risk assessment	✓ We perform a risk assessment of our compensation program every year.	19
Independent compensation consultant	✓ An independent compensation consultant advises the Committee on executive compensation. The consultant cannot do any work for the Company while it is engaged by the Committee.	31
Double-trigger change in control	✓ In the event of a change in control, our Long-Term Incentive Plan (Long-Term Plan) requires an involuntary termination for accelerated vesting of awards.	48
Annual shareholder say-on-pay	✓ We value our shareholders' input on our executive compensation program, so our Board seeks a non-binding advisory vote from shareholders every year to approve the executive compensation disclosed in our CD&A and compensation tables.	70
Tax gross-ups	✗ We do not provide tax gross-ups to our executive officers.	47
Dividends on unearned performance awards	✗ We do not pay dividends on unearned Performance Stock Units (PSUs) or Restricted Stock Units (RSUs).	40
Employment contracts	✗ None of our named executive officers has an employment contract.	48
Guaranteed benefits	✗ Beginning in 2006, we froze our defined benefit pension and supplemental benefits.	48

Roles and Responsibilities

Human Resources Committee

The Human Resources Committee of the Board of Directors oversees Verizon's management succession planning and talent development, as well as the design and implementation of the compensation program for our named executive officers. The CEO's compensation is determined by the independent members of the Board after receiving the Committee's recommendation. References to the Committee in this Compensation Discussion and Analysis with respect to the CEO's compensation reflect that process.

Management

The Committee may consult with the Executive Vice President and Chief Administrative Officer about the design, administration and operation of the compensation program. The Committee has delegated administrative responsibility for implementing its decisions on compensation and benefits matters to the Chief Administrative Officer, who reports to the Committee on the actions taken under this delegation.

The Committee seeks the CEO's views on whether the existing compensation policies and practices continue to support Verizon's business and performance objectives, utilize appropriate performance targets, and appropriately reward the contributions of the other named executive officers. While the Committee values the CEO's insight, ultimately the Committee makes an independent determination on all matters related to the compensation of the named executive officers.

Independent Compensation Consultant

The Committee has the sole authority to retain and terminate a compensation consultant and to approve all terms of the engagement, including fees. The Committee has retained Pearl Meyer as its compensation consultant (Consultant) based on the firm's independence and expertise in representing the compensation committees of large corporations. The Consultant advises the Committee on all matters related to the compensation of our named executive officers and our non-employee Directors. This includes conducting an annual survey to provide current benchmarking data for our peer group and other relevant market data in our industry. The Consultant helps the Committee interpret this data, as well as data provided by the Company. The Consultant participates in all Committee meetings and confers regularly with the Committee in executive session at those meetings.

Committee policy prohibits the Consultant from doing any work for the Company during its engagement.

The Committee has considered the independence of Pearl Meyer in light of SEC rules and NYSE and Nasdaq listing standards. At the Committee's request, Pearl Meyer provided a letter addressing its independence, including the following factors:

- No other services provided to the Company by the Consultant;
- Fees paid by the Committee as a percentage of the Consultant's total revenue;
- Any business or personal relationships between the individual consultants involved in the engagement and a member of the Committee;
- Policies or procedures maintained by the Consultant that are designed to prevent a conflict of interest;
- Any Company stock owned by the individual consultants involved in the engagement; and
- Any business or personal relationships between our executive officers and the Consultant or the individual consultants involved in the engagement.

The Committee has concluded that no conflict of interest exists that would prevent Pearl Meyer from serving as an independent consultant to the Committee.

Shareholder Feedback on Compensation

Our Board, the Committee and our management team value shareholder perspectives on our executive compensation program. As part of the Committee's annual review of the program, it considers the outcome of Verizon's annual shareholder advisory vote on executive compensation – the “say-on-pay.” At our Annual Meeting in May 2018, the compensation of our named executive officers was approved by approximately 92% of votes cast, demonstrating a high level of shareholder support for our compensation program and policies.

Management and Directors engage with our institutional shareholders in meetings and calls throughout the year. Topics of discussion typically include the Committee's choice of performance measures for awards issued under our Short- and Long-Term Incentive Plans, the relationship between the performance measures and our long-term strategy, the payout terms of equity awards, compensation recoupment policies and shareholder proposals. Based on these discussions, the results of our 2018 say-on-pay vote, and the history of strong shareholder support in prior say-on-pay votes, the Committee believes our shareholders continue to strongly support Verizon's executive compensation program.

Peer Group

The peer groups utilized for compensation benchmarking and for measuring Verizon's relative stock performance are reviewed each year. No changes were made in 2018. The Committee benchmarks executives' total compensation opportunities against the 29 companies (other than Verizon) in the Dow Jones Industrial Average, plus Verizon's five largest industry competitors that are not included in the Dow Jones Industrial Average (the “Related Dow Peers.”) This peer group is self-adjusting so that changes in the companies included in the Dow Jones Industrial Average are also reflected in the Related Dow Peers over time. The Related Dow Peers group includes our five largest industry competitors, as well as other large companies that we compete against in the marketplace for executive talent and investment dollars, such as Apple, Disney, IBM and Microsoft. Although many of the companies included in the group are similar to us in market capitalization, net income, revenue and total employees, Verizon is considerably larger than the median size of the Related Dow Peers. The Committee takes this into consideration when reviewing the market compensation data. The Related Dow Peers are also used to evaluate Verizon's relative stock performance under the Long-Term Plan, as described in “Benchmarking Total Compensation Opportunity” below. The Committee believes that use of the Related Dow Peers provides a consistent measure of Verizon's performance and makes it easier for shareholders to understand, evaluate and monitor Verizon's compensation program.

Benchmarking Total Compensation Opportunity

The Committee evaluates whether the compensation opportunities for our executives are appropriate and competitive by comparing each named executive officer's total compensation opportunity – which represents the sum of the executive's base salary and target award amounts under the Short-Term Incentive Plan (Short-Term Plan) and the Long-Term Plan – to the total compensation opportunities for executives in comparable positions at companies in the Related Dow Peers, referencing the 50th percentile when making this comparison. A named executive officer's total compensation opportunity may be higher or lower depending upon the executive's tenure and overall level of responsibility. Because the significant majority of an executive's total compensation is performance-based, the total amount of compensation an executive actually receives may be less or more than the targeted opportunity based on Verizon's annual and long-term performance results.

Compensation Objectives and Elements of Compensation

Compensation Objectives

Verizon's executive compensation program supports the creation of shareholder value by pursuing four key objectives:

- Attract and retain high-performing executives with the leadership abilities and experience necessary to drive our customer-focused transformation of the digital market, within an enterprise of our scale, breadth and complexity;
- Pay for superior results and sustainable growth by rewarding the achievement of challenging short- and long-term performance goals designed to build shareholder value;
- Drive performance and create shareholder value by emphasizing variable, at-risk compensation with an appropriate balance of short-term and long-term objectives that align executive and shareholder interests; and
- Manage risk through oversight and compensation design features, policies and practices that balance short-term and long-term incentives and cap maximum payments.

Elements of Compensation

The Committee determines the appropriate balance between fixed and variable pay elements, short- and long-term pay elements, and cash and equity-based pay elements when setting total compensation opportunities at competitive levels.

Pay Element	Characteristics	Purpose
Base Salary	Annual fixed cash compensation	Attract and retain high-performing and experienced executives
Short-Term Incentive Opportunity	Annual variable cash compensation based on the achievement of predetermined annual performance measures	Motivate executives to achieve challenging short-term performance targets
Long-Term Incentive Opportunity	Long-term variable equity awards granted annually as a combination of performance-based stock units and time-based restricted stock units	Align executives' interests with those of shareholders, encourage efforts to grow long-term value, and retain executives

While the Committee does not benchmark and target each individual element of compensation to a specified market level, it does review market data with respect to the mix of annual cash and long-term equity components for similarly situated executives among the Related Dow Peers.

Compensation Mix to Emphasize Long-Term Performance

The Committee believes that a substantial majority of each named executive officer's total compensation opportunity should be variable and at risk in order to emphasize a performance-based culture. In establishing the mix of incentive pay for the named executive officers, the Committee balances the importance of meeting Verizon's short-term business goals with the need to create shareholder value over the longer term. To that end, long-term target compensation opportunities are more than double the annual base salary and short-term incentive target compensation opportunities. Moreover, since the annual

Long-Term Plan awards feature three-year award cycles, with awards consisting of PSUs subject to both performance-based and time-based vesting requirements and RSUs subject to time-based vesting requirements, we reward sustained performance and also encourage high-performing executives to remain with Verizon.

For 2018, the Committee allocated approximately 10% of each executive's total compensation opportunity in the form of base salary, 20% in the form of short-term incentive, and 70% in the form of long-term incentive. Mr. Armstrong's total compensation opportunity was allocated in a manner consistent with his legacy total compensation opportunity from AOL, Inc., which Verizon acquired in 2015, with approximately 17% in the form of base salary, 33% in the form of short-term incentive and 50% in the form of long-term incentive.

Performance Target Setting

The Committee takes a holistic approach to establishing performance targets under our incentive plans. Targets are set at the time of the Board's annual strategy session to ensure that our executives' compensation opportunities are aligned with Verizon's short- and long-term strategic goals. In establishing performance targets, the Committee recognizes the importance of achieving an appropriate balance between rewarding executives for strong performance over both the short- and long-term and establishing realistic goals that continue to motivate and retain executives. As a result, our Short-Term and Long-Term Plans provide for measurable, rigorous performance targets that are attainable, but challenge executives to drive business results that generate shareholder value.

In setting the performance targets, the Committee considered the following factors:

- Verizon's short- and long-term strategy;
- Economic, industry and competitive environments;
- The creation of shareholder value;
- The achievement level against performance targets in the prior year;
- Financial analysts' consensus estimates for the performance measures over future performance cycles;
- The correlation among the performance measures and considerations of how Verizon's operational performance will affect each measure differently; and
- With regard to the diversity and sustainability metric in the Short-Term Plan, Verizon's values and long-term commitment to being a responsible member of the communities we serve.

2018 Annual Base Salary

To determine an executive's base salary, the Committee, with assistance from the Consultant, considers the pay practices of the Related Dow Peers for comparable positions; the executive's experience, tenure, scope of responsibility and performance; internal pay alignment; continuity planning and management development considerations; and for newly-hired executives, the Committee also considers the compensation required to attract the executive to the Company. In particular, the Committee focuses on how base salary levels may impact the market competitiveness of an executive's total compensation opportunity. There is no specific weighting applied to any of these factors in setting annual salaries, and the process ultimately relies on the subjective exercise of the Committee's judgment.

Taking into account these considerations, the Committee approved a base salary increase in 2018 of 22.22% for Mr. Vestberg in his prior role and a new base salary of $1,500,000 when he was promoted to CEO effective August 1, 2018. The Committee approved base salary increases of 6.67% for Mr. Ellis, 3.13% for Mr. Reed, 3.03% for Mr. Dunne, 15.79% for Mr. Stratton and 5% for Mr. Armstrong and a base salary for Mr. Gowrappan of $850,000. The Committee approved these base salary levels in order to create an appropriate total compensation opportunity for each officer in light of the Committee's reference of the 50th percentile for comparable executives within the Related Dow Peers and the compensation mix considerations described above. Mr. McAdam did not receive a base salary increase in 2018.

2018 Short-Term Incentive Compensation

The Verizon Short-Term Plan motivates executives to achieve challenging short-term performance targets. Each year, the Committee establishes the potential value of the awards under the Short-Term Plan, as well as the performance targets required to achieve these awards.

The Committee sets the values of the Short-Term Plan award opportunities as a percentage of an executive's base salary based on both the scope of the executive's responsibilities and the competitive pay practices of the Related Dow Peers. The Short-Term Plan award opportunities at the threshold, target and maximum levels for each of the named executive officers are shown in the Grants of Plan-based Awards table on page 54.

For the named executive officers, other than Mr. Vestberg, target award opportunities, expressed as a percentage of base salary, did not change for 2018. However, the dollar value of the 2018 target award opportunities for Messrs. Ellis, Reed, Dunne, Stratton and Armstrong increased from 2017 as a result of the base salary increases described above. Mr. McAdam did not receive a salary increase in 2018, so the dollar value of his 2018 target award opportunity was the same as it was for the past four years. When Mr. Vestberg was promoted to CEO in August 2018, his target Short-Term Plan award opportunity was increased from 150% to 250% on a prorated basis. When Mr. Gowrappan was hired in April 2018, he was eligible for a full year Short-Term Plan award for 2018, and his target award opportunity was set at 150% of his base salary, which is consistent with target award opportunities as a percentage of base salary that apply to Messrs. Ellis, Reed, Dunne and Stratton. Mr. Armstrong's target award opportunity is the same as a percentage of base salary as the one that applied under his legacy AOL compensation structure.

The following table shows the 2018 Short-Term Plan target award opportunity for each of the named executive officers.

2018 Short-Term Plan Target Award Opportunity

Named Executive Officer	As a Percentage of Base Salary	As a Dollar Value
Mr. Vestberg*	250%	$2,525,000*
Mr. Ellis	150%	$1,200,000
Mr. Gowrappan	150%	$1,275,000
Mr. Reed	150%	$1,237,500
Mr. Dunne	150%	$1,275,000
Mr. McAdam	250%	$4,000,000
Mr. Stratton	150%	$1,650,000
Mr. Armstrong	200%	$2,100,000

*Mr. Vestberg's target award opportunity was 150% of his base salary prior to August 2018. The dollar value shown here reflects Mr. Vestberg's total target award opportunity for 2018 after giving effect to the prorated increase to his target award percentage upon his promotion to CEO effective August 1, 2018.

Annual Performance Measures

In the first quarter of each year, the Committee establishes financial and operational performance measures for the Short-Term Plan that are consistent with Verizon's strategic goals. For each such measure, the Committee sets a target that challenges executives to drive business results that generate shareholder value. Verizon's performance with respect to these measures determines the amount of the short-term incentive awards earned by the named executive officers.

Why these performance measures?

The Committee selected adjusted earnings per share (EPS), free cash flow and total revenue to reflect Verizon's strategic goals of encouraging profitable operations, efficient use of capital and overall growth. The Committee also selected diversity and sustainability metrics to reflect Verizon's commitment to promoting diversity among our employees and our business partners, and to reducing the environmental impact of our operations.

The 2018 performance measures, along with the weighting ascribed to each, are shown below as a percentage of the total Short-Term Plan award opportunity at target level performance. The Committee believes that these performance measures are appropriate to motivate Verizon's executives to achieve outstanding short-term results and, at the same time, help build long-term value for shareholders. The 2018 measures and related targets approved by the Committee are described in detail below. These performance measures and weights are unchanged from 2017.

2018 Short-Term Plan Performance Measures

Adjusted EPS

Target range: $4.49 – $4.58

Verizon's earnings are a function of the revenue earned from customers and the expenses incurred to serve those customers. As a result, adjusted EPS is a measure of the efficiency with which we are approaching the marketplace – the effectiveness with which we are balancing encouraging customers to start and continue relationships with us and the costs we are incurring to do so. The Committee assigns the greatest weight to adjusted EPS in determining awards under the Short-Term Plan because this measure is broadly used and recognized by investors as a key indicator of ongoing operational performance and profitability. Adjusted EPS excludes special items, such as impairments and gains and losses from divestitures, business combinations, changes in accounting principles, the net impact of severance, pension and post-retirement benefit costs, extraordinary items and restructurings. As a result, the Committee believes this measure provides meaningful comparisons of our financial results from period to period and reflects the relative success of the ongoing business.

Free Cash Flow

Target range: $17.4 billion to $18.8 billion

Free cash flow is a measure of the cash we have left over after we have made the capital expenditures necessary to continue to provide high-quality services to our customers. As a result, it is an indication of the extent to which we are efficiently using capital. It is also an indication of the amount of cash Verizon has available to return to shareholders in the form of dividends or share repurchases and to increase our financial flexibility by reducing outstanding debt. Free cash flow is calculated by subtracting capital expenditures from the total of cash flow from operations and cash flow from financing and investing activities attributable to device payment plan receivable securitizations.

Total Revenue

Target range: $128.9 billion to $130.3 billion

Total Revenue reflects the extent to which we are able to attract and retain customers and the level of penetration of our products and services in key markets. The Committee views this measure as an important indicator of Verizon's growth and success in realizing its strategic initiatives.

Diversity and Sustainability

Targets: At least 58.9% of U.S.-based workforce comprised of minority and female employees; direct at least $4.6 billion of our overall supplier spending to minority- and female-owned firms; reduce our carbon intensity – the amount of carbon our business emits divided by the terabytes of data we transport over our networks – by at least 6.0% compared to the prior year

As a large, multinational company with a highly diverse customer and employee base, we know that our operations are strengthened when we leverage the diversity of thought and cultures of our workforce and suppliers. We are also committed to reducing the environmental impact of our operations, because we believe that it is important for us to be good stewards of our planet while we continue to serve our customers.

2018 Adjusted Company Results

The Short-Term Plan provides for performance measures to be adjusted to exclude the impact of certain types of events not contemplated at the time the performance measures were set, such as significant transactions, changes in legal or regulatory policy and other special items. In determining adjusted EPS and Total Revenue, the Committee made an adjustment for the impact of the revenue recognition standard adopted on January 1, 2018, as set forth in Appendix A, which was not contemplated at the time that the adjusted EPS and Total Revenue targets were set. In determining free cash flow, the Committee made adjustments for discretionary pension plan contributions and the impact of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act enacted on December 22, 2017, which were not contemplated at the time the free cash flow target was set. No awards are paid under the Short-Term Plan if Verizon's return on equity (ROE) for the plan year, based on adjusted net income, does not exceed 8% (even if some or all of the other performance measures are achieved).

2018 Adjusted Company Results<sup>1</sup> Compared Against Target Performance Ranges Resulting in a 109% Payout

60% U.S.-based minority and female employees (above target performance)

Over $5.2B of our overall supplier spending directed to minority- and female-owned firms (above target performance)

14.4% reduction in carbon intensity (above target performance)

<sup>2</sup> Adjusted from reported ROE of 29.6% in accordance with the terms of the Short-Term Plan to address the impact of the transaction to acquire sole ownership of Verizon Wireless, which was not contemplated at the time that the ROE threshold was established for the payment of awards under the Short-Term Plan.

2018 Short-Term Plan award. After considering the level of performance with respect to each performance measure, and based on an assessment of the level of achievement of each goal individually and collectively, the Committee determines the final Short-Term Plan award as a percentage of the target level for the employees participating in the Short-Term Plan. For 2018, this payout percentage was determined to be 109% of the target level.

Employees of the Verizon Media Group, other than our named executive officers, receive a short-term incentive that is calculated based on results for that business unit. This year, based on the performance of that unit, it was determined that Verizon Media Group would receive a short-term incentive payment at 80% of target level. When determining the Short-Term Plan payout for Mr. Gowrappan, the Committee considered Mr. Gowrappan's request that his Short-Term Plan award for 2018 be based on the same payout percentage applicable to the Verizon Media Group employee base. Based on that consideration and after considering the performance of the Verizon Media Group, the Committee approved a Short-Term Plan payout for each of Mr. Gowrappan and Mr. Armstrong at the same percentage that applied to all Verizon Media Group employees.

The following table shows the payout percentage and amount of the Short-Term Plan award paid to each named executive officer.

Named Executive Officer	Payout Percentage	As a Dollar Value
Mr. Vestberg	109%	$2,752,250
Mr. Ellis	109%	$1,308,000
Mr. Gowrappan	80%	$1,020,000
Mr. Reed	109%	$1,348,875
Mr. Dunne	109%	$1,389,750
Mr. McAdam	109%	$4,360,000
Mr. Stratton	109%	$1,798,500
Mr. Armstrong	80%	$1,680,000

Long-Term Incentive Compensation

The Long-Term Plan is intended to align executives' and shareholders' interests and to reward participants for creating long-term shareholder value.

Annual Long-Term Plan awards are made in PSUs and RSUs. The value of each PSU or RSU is equal to the value of one share of Verizon common stock. The Committee establishes an executive's Long-Term Plan award opportunity as a percentage of base salary and determines the number of PSUs and RSUs to be awarded based on the stock price on the grant date. The Committee assumes each executive will earn 100% of the PSUs and RSUs awarded for purposes of determining the total compensation opportunity. PSUs and RSUs accrue dividend equivalents that are deemed to be reinvested in PSUs and RSUs, respectively. These dividend equivalents are paid when, and only to the extent that, the related PSUs and RSUs are actually earned. PSUs are earned over a three-year performance cycle, with cliff vesting at the end of the three-year period. The Committee believes that a three-year performance cycle is appropriate for the PSU awards because a multi-year performance cycle enables the Committee to meaningfully evaluate the execution of long-term strategies and the effect on shareholder value. Commencing with the 2017 annual grant, RSUs vest ratably over three years (as opposed to a single, longer cliff vesting schedule), with one-third of the award vesting on each annual anniversary of the grant date, which aligns with market practices and enables us to continue to attract and retain key executive talent.

The number of PSUs actually earned and paid is determined based upon Verizon's achievement of pre-established performance targets over the three-year performance cycle, and the ultimate value of each PSU is based on the closing price of Verizon's common stock on the last trading day of the performance cycle. Because the value of PSUs is linked to both stock price and performance targets, PSUs provide a strong incentive to executives to deliver value to Verizon's shareholders. RSUs also provide a performance link as the value of the award depends on Verizon's stock price. Both PSUs and RSUs provide a retention incentive by requiring the executive to remain employed with Verizon through the end of the applicable vesting period, subject to certain qualifying separations.

As in prior award cycles, the 2018 PSUs are payable in cash and the 2018 RSUs are payable in Verizon shares. The Committee generally seeks to balance the potential shareholder dilution from paying awards in shares and cash flow considerations. In addition, paying the 2018 RSU awards in shares is consistent with Verizon's policy of requiring a significant level of equity ownership by our named executive officers.

2018 Long-Term Plan Award Opportunities

The Long-Term Plan award is intended to drive our executives to deliver superior total shareholder return (TSR) performance and create free cash flow (FCF), and to encourage retention among our highly-qualified team. To that end, consistent with past practice, each of the named executive officers, other than Mr. Gowrappan, received 60% of their 2018 Long-Term Plan award in the form of PSUs and 40% in the form of RSUs. Two-thirds of the PSUs are eligible to vest based on Verizon's relative TSR, and one-third is eligible to vest based on Verizon's cumulative free cash flow. The Committee reviews and sets the performance levels for vesting of the PSUs for each grant.

Mr. Gowrappan received 100% of his 2018 Long-Term Plan award in the form of cash-settled RSUs, which was negotiated with Mr. Gowrappan in connection with his offer to become President and COO of the Media Group in April 2018.

Mr. Gowrappan's future Long-Term Plan awards will have the same structure and terms and conditions as those of the other named executive officers. For additional information regarding Mr. Gowrappan's compensation arrangements, see page 46.

Why these performance measures?

Relative TSR. The Committee understands that our investors have many different large-cap investment options. The Committee believes Verizon's TSR compared to the TSR of the companies in the Related Dow Peers is a critical indicator of our success because it measures our performance in returning value to our shareholders in comparison to alternative investments our shareholders could have made. For this reason, the Committee chose relative TSR as a key metric for determining the extent to which our management team will earn the PSUs granted under the Long-Term Plan.

Free Cash Flow. The Committee views free cash flow as an important indicator of our success because it measures our ability to generate cash from operations, which may be reinvested in our business, used to make acquisitions or pay outstanding debt, or returned to shareholders in the form of dividends or through share repurchases.

The Committee establishes the annual target long-term incentive award opportunities for the named executive officers as a percentage of base salary and sets the award levels to provide a total compensation opportunity consistent with the Company's overall compensation philosophy and the compensation mix considerations described above.

In late 2017 and early 2018, the Committee, with the assistance of the Consultant, undertook a review of the methodology for establishing the annual long-term incentive award opportunities under the Long-Term Plan, taking into account Verizon's business strategy and focus and market data on the competitive pay practices of the Related Dow Peers. As a result of that review, the Committee determined that the annual target award opportunity for named executive officers, other than the CEO and Mr. Armstrong, will be determined by the Committee within a range of 400% to 600% of base salary. The target award opportunity for each named executive officer may vary within this range from year to year and will be determined on an individual basis taking into account the factors the Committee may consider relevant in the circumstances, such as market practices for different roles and responsibilities, individual performance, the strategic impact of the individual's role and internal pay alignment. Based on the Committee's assessment, the Committee approved a 2018 target award opportunity of 600% for Messrs. Vestberg, Ellis, Reed and Stratton (representing an increase from the 2017 target award opportunities of 500% for Messrs. Vestberg, Ellis and Reed and 525% for Mr. Stratton) and a target award opportunity of 500% for Mr. Dunne, which was unchanged from 2017. When Mr. Gowrappan was hired in April 2018, he was eligible for a full year Long-Term Plan award for 2018, and the Committee approved a 2018 target award opportunity of 600% of his base salary. Mr. Armstrong's 2018 target award opportunity of 300% represents the target award opportunity level as a percentage of his base salary that applied under his legacy AOL compensation structure. Mr. McAdam's 2018 target award opportunity did not change from 2017. Upon Mr. Vestberg's promotion to CEO, the Committee approved an increase in Mr. Vestberg's annual long-term target award opportunity to 800% of his base salary commencing with the 2019 annual long-term incentive award.

The 2018 target award opportunity for the named executive officers was allocated between PSUs and RSUs as noted above, and the target award opportunity allocated to each type of award was converted into a target number of units using the closing price of Verizon's common stock on the grant date.

The following table shows the target value of the 2018 Long-Term Plan awards granted to the named executive officers.

* Mr. Vestberg's annual long-term target award opportunity for 2018 did not change due to his appointment as CEO effective August 1, 2018. The Committee recommended, and the independent members of the Board approved, an increase to Mr. Vestberg's annual long-term target award opportunity to 800% of his base salary commencing with the 2019 annual long-term incentive award.

Terms of 2018 PSU Awards

Total Shareholder Return Metric

Two-thirds of the PSUs will vest based on Verizon's TSR position compared with the companies in the Related Dow Peers as constituted on the date the awards were granted (TSR PSUs). Verizon's TSR during the performance cycle must rank at least 16th (approximately the 56th percentile) among the Related Dow Peers for 100% of the target number of TSR PSUs to vest, meaning Verizon must achieve above median TSR PSU performance for target vesting. The TSR PSUs will vest at their maximum level (200% of target) only if Verizon's TSR during the three-year performance cycle ranks among the top four companies in the Related Dow Peers – the 91st percentile or higher. If Verizon's TSR during the three-year performance cycle ranks below 26th (approximately the 26th percentile) of the companies in the Related Dow Peers, none of the TSR PSUs will vest. The number of TSR PSUs that will vest in between these performance levels is determined by linear interpolation between vesting percentage levels.

Free Cash Flow Metric

One-third of the PSUs will vest based on Verizon's cumulative free cash flow (FCF PSUs). The percentage of the FCF PSUs awarded for the 2018-2020 performance cycle that will vest is based on the extent to which Verizon's cumulative FCF over the performance cycle meets or exceeds the cumulative FCF performance levels set by the Committee at the beginning of the performance cycle. FCF is calculated by subtracting capital expenditures from the total of cash flow from operations and cash flow from financing and investing activities attributable to device payment plan receivable securitizations and is subject to adjustment to eliminate the financial impact of significant transactions, changes in legal or regulatory policy and other extraordinary items.

The cumulative FCF target for the 2018-2020 performance cycle was set at a level reflective of our three-year strategic plan, which the Committee believes is attainable, but challenging in light of the business environment. The number of FCF PSUs that will vest ranges from 0%, if actual performance is below the threshold level, to 200%, if actual performance is at or above the maximum cumulative FCF level. The number of FCF PSUs that will vest in between identified performance levels is determined by linear interpolation between vesting percentage levels.

2016 PSU Awards Earned in 2018

With respect to the PSUs awarded in 2016, the Committee determined the number of PSUs that vested for a participant based on the level of achievement of the two performance metrics over the three-year performance cycle:

2016-2018 TSR PSUs. Two-thirds of the PSUs awarded were eligible to vest based on Verizon’s TSR ranking for the 2016-2018 performance cycle relative to the Related Dow Peers as constituted on the date the award was granted. The accompanying chart shows the percentage of the TSR PSUs awarded for the 2016-2018 performance cycle that would vest based on Verizon’s TSR position compared with the companies in the Related Dow Peers as constituted on the date the awards were granted.

Over the three-year performance cycle ending December 31, 2018, Verizon’s TSR ranked 25th among the Related Dow Peers, resulting in a vesting percentage of 32% for the TSR PSUs.

2016-2018 FCF PSUs. One-third of the PSUs awarded was eligible to vest based on Verizon's cumulative free cash flow over the 2016-2018 performance cycle compared to the performance targets set by the Committee at the beginning of the three-year cycle. The following shows the percentage of FCF PSUs awarded that would vest based on Verizon's cumulative free cash flow over the 2016-2018 performance cycle at different performance levels.

$40.6	100%
$33.7	50%
Less than $33.7	0%

At the time the 2016-2018 award was granted, the Committee provided for free cash flow to be determined on an adjusted basis, reflecting reductions and/or increases, to preserve the intended incentives by excluding the impact of certain types of events not contemplated by our financial plan, such as significant transactions, changes in legal or regulatory policy and other special items. In determining Verizon's free cash flow over the performance cycle, the Committee made an adjustment for discretionary pension plan contributions made in 2017 and 2018, which were not contemplated when the FCF PSU targets were set and made an adjustment to normalize the impacts of the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act on the free cash flow results. These adjustments are set forth in Appendix A. In accordance with this pre-established adjustment methodology, the Committee determined that Verizon's cumulative free cash flow over the performance cycle was $40.8 billion, which resulted in a vesting percentage of 104% for the FCF PSUs.

2016-2018 PSU payout. Based on the results described above, in the first quarter of 2019 the Committee approved a payment to all participants in the Long-Term Plan, including the named executive officers, of 56% of the PSUs awarded for the 2016-2018 performance cycle, which represents the weighted average of the two vesting percentages described above, plus dividend equivalents credited on those vested PSUs.

Additional Compensation Actions in 2018

Appointment of Mr. Vestberg as Verizon's Chief Executive Officer

Effective August 1, 2018, Mr. Vestberg succeeded Mr. McAdam as Verizon's Chief Executive Officer. In connection with Mr. Vestberg's appointment as CEO, the Committee recommended, and the independent members of the Board approved, increases to his base salary and target short-term incentive opportunity, effective upon his appointment, and an increase to his long-term incentive opportunity commencing in 2019. These changes are described on pages 35, 36 and 42. In addition, the Committee recommended, and the independent members of the Board approved, a special one-time equity award with a grant date of August 1, 2018 to Mr. Vestberg as an additional incentive to drive ROE over a five-year performance period. The award is entirely performance-based, with 100% of the award opportunity in the form of PSUs and a grant date value of approximately $10 million. The Committee chose ROE as the performance measure for this one-time award because it is a strong indicator of the extent to which the Company is able to generate profit with the money our shareholders have invested in the Company and provides a significant link to shareholder value creation. In determining the value of the award, the Committee and the independent members of the Board noted that while a one-time award such as this is substantial in the first year, the Committee believes the proper way to consider the award is as compensation for, and apportioned over, the five-year award period plus the two-year period during which Mr. Vestberg will be required to hold the shares he receives on vesting.

The special award was granted pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Long-Term Plan. The PSUs represent shares of Verizon stock that may become payable after the completion of a five-year performance period ending on July 31, 2023, provided that Mr. Vestberg remains actively employed throughout the period, subject to the terms of the grant agreement. The number of PSUs that vest at the end of the five-year performance period will be determined based on Verizon's average annual ROE during the performance period. No PSUs will vest unless Verizon's five-year average annual ROE meets a minimum threshold of 18%. If Verizon's five-year average annual ROE at the end of the performance period meets the target percentage of 28%, 100% of the PSUs granted will vest. If Verizon's five-year average annual ROE is at least 38%, a maximum of two times the PSUs granted will vest. If Verizon's five-year average annual ROE is greater than 18%, but less than 28%, or is greater than 28%, but less than 38%, the percentage of PSUs granted that will vest will be determined on an interpolated basis. The value of each PSU is equal to the fair market value of a share of Verizon's common stock on the date of the grant and will change as the value of Verizon's common stock changes. All PSUs that vest at the end of the five-year performance period, including accrued dividend equivalents on the vested portion of the grant, will be settled in shares of Verizon common stock. To the extent any common stock is issued, the grant agreement requires that Mr. Vestberg hold such shares for two years following the vesting date.

Hiring and Promotion of Mr. Gowrappan

To strengthen the leadership team of Verizon's Media Group and help build its global services platform, on April 9, 2018, Verizon hired Mr. Gowrappan as the President and COO. The Committee approved a compensation package for Mr. Gowrappan in that role that is competitive with industry practice, and includes a special performance-based RSU award (PRSU) and a signing bonus. The 2018 base salary, short-term and long-term incentive awards that were also part of his compensation package are described on pages 35, 36 and 42. The special PRSU award was granted to Mr. Gowrappan on April 9, 2018, with a grant date value of approximately $3 million. The PRSUs represent shares of Verizon stock that will become payable after the completion of a three-year award period ending on April 9, 2021, provided that Mr. Gowrappan remains actively employed throughout the award period, subject to the terms of the grant agreement. In addition, the grant agreement provided that if the Media Group's cumulative revenue over the three-year performance period commencing January 1, 2018 and ending December 31, 2020 met or exceeded the cumulative Media Group revenue performance level set by the Committee, two times the target number of shares subject to the award (plus accrued dividends) would vest. In granting the award, the Committee considered that the special PRSU award would enhance Mr. Gowrappan's immediate financial stake in Verizon and was also intended to offset a portion of the compensation value that Mr. Gowrappan forfeited upon leaving his prior employer to join Verizon. In October 2018, in connection with Mr. Gowrappan's promotion to Executive Vice President and CEO of the Media Group, the Committee modified the special PRSU award to increase the multiplier for the achievement of the Media Group's cumulative revenue level from two times to three times the target number of shares subject to the award as an additional incentive to drive the Media Group's revenue, and to align the Media Group's cumulative revenue target level with its business plan as in effect when Mr. Gowrappan became CEO of the group. The cumulative revenue target was set at a level reflective of the Media Group's three-year strategic plan, which the Committee believes is attainable, but challenging in light of the business environment. The award, to the extent vested, will be settled in shares of Verizon common stock. In addition, Mr. Gowrappan received a $2 million signing bonus and a $400,000 cash payment to assist with the costs of his relocation from Hong Kong to Sunnyvale, CA. Mr. Gowrappan is required to repay the signing bonus and relocation payment if he voluntarily leaves Verizon or is terminated for cause at any time prior to the 18-month anniversary of his employment commencement date.

Appointment of Mr. Dunne as Executive Vice President and President of Verizon's Consumer Group

In November 2018, Verizon announced the realignment of the Company's operating structure around three core segments – Verizon Consumer Group, Verizon Business Group and Verizon Media Group – effective April 1, 2019. Mr. Dunne was named leader of the Verizon Consumer Group effective January 1, 2019. In connection with this new role, in October 2018, the Committee increased Mr. Dunne's base salary to $1 million and approved his 2019 target long-term incentive opportunity at 600% of his base salary, in each case effective January 1, 2019.

2019 Base Pay Increase for Mr. Ellis

In December 2018, the Committee increased Mr. Ellis' base salary to $950,000 effective January 1, 2019, based on its assessment of the market competitiveness of his total compensation opportunity, his tenure and experience and internal pay alignment considerations.

Other Elements of the Compensation Program

Verizon also provides the named executive officers with limited additional benefits as generally described below, which are subject to applicable taxes and not intended to be a significant portion of their overall pay package. No named executive officer is eligible for a tax gross-up payment in connection with any of these benefits, including with respect to excise tax liability arising from any Internal Revenue Code Section 280G excess parachute payments.

Personal Benefits

Transportation. Verizon provides limited aircraft and ground transportation benefits to enhance the safety and security of certain named executive officers. These transportation benefits also serve business purposes, such as allowing an executive to attend to confidential business matters while in transit.

Executive life insurance. Verizon offers the named executive officers and other executives the opportunity to participate in an executive life insurance program in lieu of participating in our basic and supplemental life insurance programs. The executives who elect to participate in the executive life insurance program own the life insurance policy, and Verizon provides an annual cash payment to defray a portion of the annual premiums. Effective April 1, 2018, this program was closed to new participants.

Financial planning. Verizon provides a voluntary Company-sponsored financial planning benefit program for the named executive officers and other executives. If an executive participates in the program, the cost of the financial planning benefit is included in the executive's income. Effective April 1, 2018, this program was closed to new participants.

For additional information on these benefits, see footnote 6 to the Summary Compensation table on pages 53-54.

Retirement Benefits

Over ten years ago, the Committee determined that guaranteed pay in the form of defined benefit pension and supplemental executive retirement benefits was not consistent with Verizon's pay-for-performance culture. Accordingly, effective June 30, 2006, Verizon froze all future pension accruals under its management tax-qualified and supplemental defined benefit retirement plans. These legacy retirement benefits that were previously provided to certain named executive officers are described in more detail under the section titled "Pension plans" beginning on page 57. In addition, effective June 30, 2006, the Committee froze eligibility for Verizon-subsidized retiree medical benefits under its legacy broad-based Wireline retiree medical plans, which provide a capped partial subsidy towards the cost of medical benefits to certain Verizon employees who met the eligibility requirements for the benefit. None of Verizon's named executive officers, other than Mr. Reed, are eligible for Verizon-subsidized retiree medical benefits.

During 2018, all of Verizon's named executive officers were eligible to participate in Verizon's tax-qualified defined contribution savings plan, the Verizon Management Savings Plan, referred to as the Savings Plan, and Verizon's nonqualified defined contribution savings plan, the Verizon Executive Deferral Plan, referred to as the Deferral Plan. The named executive officers participate in these plans on the same terms as other participants in the plans. Under the Savings Plan, participants may defer "eligible pay," which includes base salary and short-term incentive, up to certain compensation limits imposed by the Internal Revenue Code, and Verizon provides a matching contribution equal to 100% of the first 6% of eligible pay deferred. The Deferral Plan is designed to "restore" benefits that are limited or cut back under the Savings Plan due to the Internal Revenue Code limits. Accordingly, under the Deferral Plan, a participant may elect to defer his or her base pay and short-term incentive that could not be deferred into the Savings Plan due to the Internal Revenue Code limits. Verizon provides the same matching contribution on these deferred amounts as the participant would have received if such amounts had been permitted to be deferred into the Savings Plan. Prior to 2018, the Deferral Plan also permitted participants to defer long-term incentive compensation, but these deferrals were not eligible for Company matching contributions. All participants in both the Savings Plan and the Deferral Plan are eligible for an additional discretionary profit-sharing contribution of up to 3% of eligible pay.

Severance and Change in Control Benefits

The Committee believes that maintaining a competitive level of separation benefits is appropriate as part of an overall program designed to attract, retain and motivate the highest-quality management team. However, the Committee does not believe that named executive officers should be entitled to receive cash severance benefits merely because a change in control occurs. Therefore, the payment of cash severance benefits is triggered only by an actual or constructive termination of employment.

Verizon was not a party to any employment agreement with any of the named executive officers in 2018. All senior managers (including all named executive officers except Mr. McAdam and Mr. Vestberg) are eligible to participate in the Verizon Senior Manager Severance Plan, which provides certain separation benefits to participants whose employment is involuntarily terminated without cause. As CEO, Mr. Vestberg is not eligible to participate in the Senior Manager Severance Plan and is not entitled to receive any cash severance benefits upon his separation from the Company. As CEO and then in his role as Executive Chairman, Mr. McAdam was not eligible to participate in the Senior Manager Severance Plan and was not entitled to receive any cash severance benefits upon his retirement from the Company on December 31, 2018.

The Senior Manager Severance Plan is generally consistent with the terms and conditions of Verizon's broad-based severance plan for management employees other than senior managers. Under the Senior Manager Severance Plan, if a participant has been involuntarily terminated without cause (or, in the case of a named executive officer, if the independent members of the Board determine that there has been a qualifying separation), the participant is eligible to receive a lump-sum cash separation payment equal to a multiple of his or her base salary plus target short-term incentive opportunity, along with continuing medical coverage for the applicable severance period. To the extent that a senior manager is eligible for severance benefits under any other arrangement, that person may not receive any duplicative benefits under the Senior Manager Severance Plan. The Senior Manager Severance Plan does not provide for any severance benefits based upon a change in control of the Company.

Under the Senior Manager Severance Plan, each named executive officer, other than Mr. Vestberg and Mr. McAdam, is eligible to receive a cash separation payment equal to two times the sum of his or her base salary and target short-term incentive opportunity. To be eligible for any severance benefits, a participant must execute a release of claims against Verizon in the form satisfactory to Verizon and agree not to compete or interfere with any Verizon business for a period of one year after separation.

Mr. Stratton and Mr. Armstrong became entitled to separation benefits under the Senior Manager Severance Plan upon their separation from Verizon on December 31, 2018, which are described in more detail on pages 67 and 68. Neither Mr. Stratton nor Mr. Armstrong received any enhanced benefits upon their separation of service.

Consistent with the Committee's belief that named executive officers should not receive cash severance benefits merely because a change in control occurs, the Long-Term Plan does not allow "single-trigger" accelerated vesting and payment of outstanding awards upon a change in control. Instead, the Long-Term Plan requires a "double trigger." Specifically, if in the 12 months following a change in control a participant's employment is terminated without cause, all of that participant's then-unvested PSUs will fully vest at the target level performance, then-unvested RSUs will fully vest, and those PSUs and RSUs (including accrued dividend equivalents) will become payable on the regularly scheduled payment date after the end of the applicable award cycle.

Other Compensation Policies

Stock Ownership Guidelines

To further align the interests of Verizon's management with those of our shareholders, the Committee has approved guidelines that require each named executive officer and other executives to maintain certain stock ownership levels within five years of assuming their leadership roles.

- The CEO is required to maintain share ownership equal to at least seven times base salary.
- Other named executive officers are required to maintain share ownership equal to at least four times base salary.
- Executives are prohibited from hedging, short-selling or engaging in any financial activity that would allow them to benefit from a decline in Verizon's stock price.

In determining whether an executive meets the required ownership level, the calculation includes any shares held by the executive directly or through a broker, shares held through the Verizon tax-qualified savings plan or the Verizon nonqualified savings plan and other deferred compensation plans and arrangements that are valued by reference to Verizon's stock. The calculation does not include any unvested PSUs or RSUs. Each of the named executive officers is in compliance with the stock ownership guidelines. In addition, none of the named executive officers has engaged in any pledging transaction with respect to shares of Verizon's stock.

Holding Executives Accountable – Verizon's Clawback Policies

The Committee believes it is appropriate to hold senior executives accountable for misconduct that results in significant reputational or financial harm to Verizon. Accordingly, the Committee has adopted the following policies:

- Senior Executive Clawback Policy. Verizon has the right to cancel or "clawback" the cash- and equity-based incentive compensation of senior executives who engage in willful misconduct in the performance of their duties that results in significant reputational or financial harm to Verizon.
- Long-Term Plan Clawback Provisions. Annual equity grants under the Verizon Long-Term Plan give the Company the right to (i) require the recipient to forfeit or repay incentive-based compensation (both short-term and long-term) if Verizon is required to materially restate its financial results based on the individual's willful misconduct or gross negligence while employed by the Company (where such restatement would have resulted in a lower payment being made to the individual) and (ii) enforce any right or obligation that Verizon may have regarding the clawback of incentive-based compensation under federal securities or other applicable laws.

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Tax and Accounting Considerations

These policies do not limit any other rights or remedies Verizon may have in the circumstances, such as terminating the executive or initiating other disciplinary procedures.

Disclosure of any clawbacks will be made in accordance with applicable requirements, including, in the case of the named executive officers and if material, in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis section of the proxy statement for the year in which the clawback decision is made.

Shareholder Approval of Certain Severance Arrangements

The Committee has a policy of seeking shareholder approval or ratification of any new employment or severance agreement with an executive officer that provides for a total cash value severance payment exceeding 2.99 times the sum of the executive's base salary plus Short-Term Plan target opportunity. The policy defines severance pay broadly to include payments for any consulting services, payments to secure a non-compete agreement, payments to settle any litigation or claim, payments to offset tax liabilities, payments or benefits that are not generally available to similarly situated management employees and payments in excess of, or outside, the terms of a Verizon plan or policy.

Tax and Accounting Considerations

On December 22, 2017, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act ("TCJA") was enacted. The TCJA significantly revised the income tax deductibility of executive compensation. Based on the changes introduced by the TCJA, a publicly-held company is generally prohibited from deducting compensation paid to a current or former named executive officer that exceeds $1 million during the tax year. Certain awards granted before November 2, 2017, which were based upon attaining pre-established performance measures set by the company's compensation committee under a plan approved by the company's shareholders, as well as amounts payable to former executives pursuant to a written binding contract that was in effect on November 2, 2017, may qualify for an exception to the $1 million deductibility limit.

The Committee takes this deductibility limitation into account in its consideration of compensation matters. However, the Committee has the flexibility to take any compensation-related actions that it determines are in the best interests of Verizon and our shareholders, including awarding compensation that may not be deductible for tax purposes. There can be no assurance that any compensation in excess of $1 million will in fact be deductible.

The Committee also considers the effect of certain accounting rules that apply to the various aspects of the compensation program for our named executive officers. The Committee reviews potential accounting effects in determining whether its compensation actions are in the best interests of Verizon and our shareholders. The Committee has been advised by management that the impact of the variable accounting treatment required for long-term incentive awards payable in cash (as opposed to fixed accounting treatment for awards that are payable in shares) will depend on future stock performance.

* Mr. Vestberg became Chief Executive Officer of Verizon on August 1, 2018 and Chairman on March 8, 2019, when Mr. McAdam stepped down from those positions. Mr. McAdam retired from Verizon on December 31, 2018.

** Mr. Gowrappan was hired as President and COO of Verizon's Media Group (formerly known as Oath) on April 9, 2018 and became Executive Vice President and CEO of the Verizon Media Group on October 1, 2018, when Mr. Armstrong stepped down from that role. Mr. Armstrong remained as strategic advisor to Verizon until he left the Company on December 31, 2018.

*** Mr. Stratton stepped down as Executive Vice President and President – Global Operations on June 7, 2018 and remained as strategic advisor to Verizon until he retired from the Company on December 31, 2018.

1 For Messrs. McAdam, Stratton and Armstrong, the amounts in this column also include cash paid in lieu of vacation.

2 For Mr. Vestberg, the amount in this column represents the signing bonus that became payable to him upon his relocation to the United States in January 2018, which was approved by the Committee in connection with the commencement of his employment with Verizon in April 2017. For Mr. Gowrappan, the amount in this column represents the signing bonus that was paid to him in connection with his commencement of employment with Verizon in 2018.

3 The amounts in this column reflect the aggregate grant date fair value of the PSUs and RSUs computed in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 718 based on the closing price of Verizon's common stock on the grant date. For Mr. Gowrappan, the amount in this column with respect to his special PRSU award represents the sum of the grant date fair value of the PRSU award on the April 9, 2018 grant date plus the incremental fair value attributable to the modification of this award on October 5, 2018 as described in footnote 3 to the Grants of Plan-based Awards table on page 54, in each case computed in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 718 based on the closing price of Verizon's common stock on the applicable date (the aggregate PRSU grant date fair value). The grant date fair value of each of the PSU awards granted to the named executive officers in the designated year as part of Verizon's annual long-term incentive award program, the special PSU award granted to Mr. Vestberg in 2018, the special PRSU award granted to Mr. Gowrappan in 2018, and the special PSU award granted to Mr. Stratton in 2017 has been determined based on the vesting of 100% of the nominal PSUs or PRSUs awarded, which is the performance threshold the Company believed was most likely to be achieved under the awards on the grant date. The following table reflects the grant date fair value of the PSU awards, as well as the maximum value of these awards based on the closing price of Verizon's common stock on the grant date if, due to the Company's performance during the applicable performance cycle, the PSU awards vested at their maximum level. For Mr. Gowrappan's PRSU award, the amount in the following table reflects the aggregate PRSU grant date fair value, as well as the maximum value of this award based on the closing price of Verizon's common stock on October 5, 2018 (the date on which the award was modified as described in footnote 3 to the Grants of Plan-based Awards table) if, due to Verizon Media Group's performance during the applicable performance cycle, the PRSU award vested at its maximum level.

- 4 The amounts in this column for 2018 reflect the 2018 Short-Term Plan award paid to the named executive officers in February 2019 as described beginning on page 36.
- 5 Verizon's defined benefit plans were frozen as of June 30, 2006, and Verizon stopped all future benefit accruals under these plans as of that date. All accruals under the Verizon Wireless pension plan were frozen as of December 31, 2006. The named executive officers other than Messrs. Reed and McAdam are not eligible for pension benefits. For 2018 there was a reduction in pension value for Messrs. Reed and McAdam of $58,197 and $113,794, respectively, based on the applicable calculation formulas. In accordance with SEC rules, because the aggregate change in the actuarial present value of the accumulated benefit under the defined benefit plans was a negative number for 2018, the amount shown in this column for 2018 for Messrs. Reed and McAdam is zero. Verizon's nonqualified deferred compensation plans did not provide a preferential or "above market" rate of interest in 2018.
- 6 The following table provides the detail for 2018 compensation reported in the "All Other Compensation" column.

- a The aggregate incremental cost of the personal use of a Company aircraft is determined by multiplying the total 2018 personal flight hours by the incremental aircraft cost per hour. The incremental aircraft cost per hour is derived by adding the annual aircraft maintenance costs, fuel costs, aircraft trip expenses and crew trip expenses, and then dividing by the total annual flight hours.
- b The aggregate incremental cost of the personal use of a Company vehicle is determined by (i) calculating the incremental vehicle cost per mile by dividing the annual lease and fuel costs by the total annual miles; (ii) multiplying the executive's total 2018 personal miles by the incremental vehicle cost per mile; and (iii) adding the incremental driver cost (the total 2018 driver hours for the executive's personal use multiplied by the driver's hourly rate).
- c Executive life insurance is available to US-based executives on a voluntary basis. Executives who choose to participate in this program are excluded from the basic and supplemental life insurance programs that Verizon provides to management employees. The executive owns the insurance policy, chooses the level of coverage and is responsible for paying the premiums. However, Verizon pays each executive an amount, shown in this column, which is equal to a portion of the premium. Executives who choose not to participate in the executive life insurance plan do not receive that payment. For all named executive officers who participate in this program, the executive life insurance policy provides a death benefit equal to two times the sum of the executive's base salary plus his or her Short-Term Plan award opportunity at 67% of target level if the executive dies before the latest of the participant's retirement date, the date on which the participant reaches age 60 or the fifth anniversary of plan participation. Effective April 1, 2018, the executive life insurance program was closed to new entrants. All of the named executive officers other than Messrs. Gowrappan and Armstrong participated in the executive life insurance program in 2018. The amount for Messrs. Gowrappan and Armstrong in this column represents the amount of the premiums paid by the Company for their participation in the group term life insurance program during 2018.
- d For Mr. McAdam, the amount in this column represents financial planning benefits that he became entitled to receive upon his retirement. For Messrs. Stratton and Armstrong the amounts in this column represent the benefits payable under the Verizon Senior Manager Severance Plan in connection with their qualifying separation from the Company on December 31, 2018 in the amount of $5,530,459 for Mr. Stratton and $6,345,689 for Mr. Armstrong (which consists of a cash severance benefit in the amount of $5,500,000 for Mr. Stratton and $6,300,000 for Mr. Armstrong and the Company's estimated cost of providing medical, dental and vision coverage for two years in the amount of $30,459 for Mr. Stratton and $45,689 for Mr. Armstrong), the cost of providing outplacement services for one year in the amount of $14,500, and, for Mr. Stratton, financial planning benefits in the amount of $13,000 and a payment of $173,007 to pay a portion of the annual premium for the executive life insurance policy owned by Mr. Stratton for two years following his separation date.
- e This column represents the total amount of other perquisites and personal benefits provided. These other benefits consist of: (i) financial planning services in the amount of $13,000 for Messrs. Vestberg, Reed, Dunne, McAdam and Stratton; (ii) financial planning services in the amount of $11,000 for Mr. Ellis; (iii) relocation expenses of $418,632 and $399,998, for Messrs. Vestberg and Gowrappan, respectively, in connection with their relocation to the United States; and (iv) home security services of $20,237 for Mr. Vestberg. The Company provides each of the named executive officers who elect to participate in the financial planning program with a financial planning benefit equal to the Company's payment for the services. Effective April 1, 2018, the financial planning program was closed to new entrants.

- 7 Mr. Reed was not a named executive officer in 2017, however because Mr. Reed was a named executive officer in 2016, his compensation for 2016, 2017 and 2018 is shown above pursuant to SEC rules.

1 These awards are described in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis beginning on page 36.

2 The actual amount awarded in 2018 was paid in February 2019 and is shown in column (g) of the Summary Compensation table on page 52.

3 These columns reflect the potential payout range of PSU awards granted in 2018 to our named executive officers other than Mr. Gowrappan, in accordance with the Company's annual long-term incentive award program, as described beginning on page 40. At the conclusion of the three-year performance cycle, payouts can range from 0% to 200% of the target number of units awarded based on Verizon's relative TSR position as compared with the Related Dow Peers and Verizon's cumulative free cash flow over the three-year performance cycle as described in more detail beginning on page 43. PSUs and the applicable dividend equivalents are paid only if and to the extent that the applicable performance criteria for the award are achieved at the end of the award cycle. When dividends are distributed to shareholders, dividend equivalents are credited on the PSU awards in an amount equal to the dollar amount of dividends that would be payable on the total number of PSUs credited as of the dividend distribution date and divided by the closing price of the Company's common stock on that date. For Mr. Vestberg, these columns also include the special PSU award granted to him on August 1, 2018 in connection with his promotion to CEO with a payout range between 0% and 200% of the nominal number of PSUs subject to the award. The number of PSUs that vest at the end of the five-year award period ending July 31, 2023 will be determined based on Verizon's average annual ROE during that period, and the final award payout will include dividend equivalents that accrue on the vested portion of the award. No PSUs will vest unless Verizon's five-year average annual ROE meets the minimum threshold of 18%. If Verizon's five-year average annual ROE meets the target percentage of 28%, 100% of the nominal number of PSUs granted will vest. If Verizon's five-year average annual ROE is at least 38%, a maximum of 200% of the PSUs granted will vest. If Verizon's five-year average annual ROE is greater than 18% but less than 28%, the percentage of PSUs that will vest will be between 50% and 100% on an interpolated basis, and if Verizon's five-year average annual ROE is greater than 28% but less than 38%, the percentage of PSUs that will vest will be between 100% and 200% on an interpolated basis. The award, to the extent vested, will be settled in shares of Verizon common stock, and Mr. Vestberg will be required to hold any such shares for at least two years following the vesting date. For Mr. Gowrappan, these columns include the special PRSU award that was granted to him on April 9, 2018 and modified on October 5, 2018. One times the target number of PRSUs awarded, with dividend equivalents, will vest on April 9, 2021, assuming continued employment through that date. Under the original terms of the award, if Verizon Media Group's cumulative revenue over a three-year performance period beginning January 1, 2018 and ending December 31, 2020 met or exceeded a Verizon Media Group cumulative revenue level for that period set by the Committee, two times the target number of PRSUs granted, with dividend equivalents, would vest. On October 5, 2018, in connection with Mr. Gowrappan's promotion to CEO of the Verizon Media Group, the Committee modified the award to align the Verizon Media Group cumulative revenue target for the three-year performance period with the Verizon Media Group business plan as in effect when Mr. Gowrappan became CEO and increase the multiplier for the achievement of that target revenue level from two times to three times the target number of PRSUs granted as an additional incentive to drive the Verizon Media Group's revenue. The award, to the extent vested, will be settled in shares of Verizon common stock. The numbers of units for Mr. Gowrappan have been rounded to the nearest whole number.

- 4 This column reflects the number of RSUs granted in 2018 to the named executive officers in accordance with the Company's annual long-term incentive award program. When dividends are distributed to shareholders, dividend equivalents are credited on the RSU awards in an amount equal to the dollar amount of dividends that would be payable on the total number of RSUs credited as of the dividend distribution date and divided by the closing price of the Company's common stock on that date. These dividend equivalents are only distributed to the award holder if and when the award vests.
- 5 This column reflects the grant date fair value of each equity award computed in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 718 based on the closing price of Verizon's common stock on the grant date. For Mr. Gowrappan's PRSU award, this column reflects the sum of the grant date fair value of the PRSUs on the April 9, 2018 grant date ($3,000,018) plus the incremental fair value attributable to the modification of this award on October 5 ($595,793), in each case computed in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 718 based on the closing price of Verizon's common stock on the applicable date. For PSUs and Mr. Gowrappan's PRSUs, the grant date fair value has been determined based on the vesting of 100% of the nominal PSUs or PRSUs awarded, which is the performance threshold the Company believed was the most likely to be achieved under the grants.

- 6 The amounts in this column represent the value of the PSUs or PRSUs listed in column (i) based on a share price of $56.22, the closing price of Verizon's common stock on December 31, 2018.

Pension plans

Effective June 30, 2006, Verizon froze all future pension accruals under its management tax-qualified and nonqualified defined benefit pension plans. All accruals under the Verizon Wireless defined benefit retirement plan (tax-qualified and nonqualified) were also frozen as of December 31, 2006. Mr. Reed and Mr. McAdam are both eligible for a frozen pension benefit. None of the other named executive officers are eligible for a pension benefit.

Verizon Management Pension Plan and Verizon Excess Pension Plan. The Verizon Management Pension Plan is a tax-qualified defined benefit pension plan and the Verizon Excess Pension Plan is a nonqualified defined benefit pension plan. Mr. Reed is eligible for benefits under these plans. Mr. McAdam is not eligible for benefits under these plans because he was employed by Verizon Wireless prior to January 1, 2007. Under the Verizon Management Pension Plan and the Verizon Excess Pension Plan, the normal retirement age is age 65 with at least 5 years of service and the early retirement age for unreduced benefits is age 55 with 15 or more years of service, and total age plus years of service equal to at least 75. Mr. Reed is eligible for early retirement benefits under the Verizon Management Pension Plan and the Verizon Excess Pension Plan. Mr. Reed's benefit under the Verizon Excess Pension Plan is based on the cash balance formula noted below and he is vested in the benefit.

Compensation Tables

Pension plans

Until June 30, 2006, eligible participants could earn pension benefits under a cash balance formula that provided for retirement pay credits equal to between four and seven percent (depending on age and service) of annual eligible pay for each year of service. Under the cash balance formula, a participant's account balance is also credited with monthly interest based upon the prevailing market yields on certain U.S. Treasury obligations. Eligible pay under the Verizon Management Pension Plan consisted of the employee's base salary and the Short-Term Plan award, up to the IRS qualified plan compensation limit. Pension benefits for all eligible pay in excess of the IRS limit were provided under the Verizon Excess Pension Plan based on the cash balance formula. At the time that the tax-qualified and nonqualified pension plans were frozen to future pension accruals on June 30, 2006, plan participants were provided with a one-time additional 18 months of benefits as a transition matter.

As a former employee of GTE Wireless Incorporated, Mr. Reed earned a pension benefit under the Verizon Management Pension Plan based on the better of two highest average pay formulas. The first formula was based on 1.35% of his average annual eligible pay for the five highest consecutive eligible years of service. The second formula was based on eligible pay for the five highest consecutive eligible years of service and was integrated with social security, with a 1.15% accrual for eligible pay under the social security integration level and a 1.45% accrual above the social security integration level. Both of these formulas were discontinued on May 31, 2004 for former GTE Wireless Incorporated employees employed by Verizon Wireless. Effective March 28, 2004, Mr. Reed transferred from Verizon Wireless to Verizon, and he continued to earn a pension under the better of (i) the 1.35% highest average pay formula, (ii) the 1.15%/1.45% integrated highest average pay formula through May 31, 2004 plus a 1.35% highest average pay formula after May 31, 2004 or (iii) the cash balance formula with a starting balance of $0 effective on Mr. Reed's transfer date. As noted above, accruals under all 3 formulas were frozen effective June 30, 2006.

On January 1, 2005, Mr. Reed started accruing a benefit under the Verizon Excess Pension Plan's cash balance formula. Mr. Reed earned retirement pay credits equal to 6% for 2005 and 7% for 2006 (based on age and eligible service) of annual eligible pay in excess of the pay cap for each year of service after January 1, 2005, including monthly interest credits. As noted above, accruals under the nonqualified cash balance formula were frozen effective June 30, 2006.

Verizon Wireless Retirement Plan. In 2001, Verizon Wireless consolidated the pension plans of several predecessor companies under the Verizon Wireless Retirement Plan. Mr. McAdam is entitled to both a tax-qualified and a nonqualified pension benefit under this plan.

Mr. McAdam's tax-qualified pension benefit was determined under two formulas: (i) for the period from January 1, 2001 until May 31, 2004, a cash balance formula that provided pay credits equal to two percent of annual eligible pay up to the IRS compensation limit (under the cash balance formula, a participant's account balance is also credited on an ongoing basis with interest credits based upon the 30-year Treasury bond); and (ii) a final average pay formula based on 24 years of service multiplied by 1.45% of Mr. McAdam's average annual eligible pay for the five final consecutive years for each year of service through the end of 2006. The normal retirement age under the Verizon Wireless Retirement Plan is 65. The early retirement age (for unreduced benefits) under the plan is 55. Mr. McAdam is eligible for unreduced early retirement benefits under the plan. Mr. McAdam's nonqualified plan benefit was determined using the 1.45% final average pay formula and was calculated based on 10 years of service and only included his eligible pay in excess of the IRS compensation limit through the end of 2006, at which time no further adjustments to eligible pay were recognized under the plan. For Mr. McAdam, eligible pay consisted of base salary and the Short-Term Plan award. No participant under the plan was eligible for cash balance credits under the nonqualified portion of the plan.

The following table illustrates the actuarial present value as of December 31, 2018 of pension benefits accumulated by Messrs. Reed and McAdam, the only named executive officers who are eligible for pension benefits.

Pension Benefits

Name (a)	Plan Name (b)	Number of Years Credited Service <sup>1</sup> (#) (c)	Present Value of Accumulated Benefit <sup>2</sup> ($) (d)	Payments During Last Fiscal Year ($) (e)
Mr. Reed	Verizon Management Pension Plan — Qualified	32	919,420	0
	Verizon Excess Pension Plan — Nonqualified	14	178,270	0
Mr. McAdam	Verizon Wireless Retirement Plan — Qualified	35	1,024,582	0
	Verizon Wireless Retirement Plan — Nonqualified	10	1,535,181	0

- 1 The years of credited service for each of Messrs. Reed and McAdam with respect to the applicable non-qualified plan is less than the named executive officer's number of actual years of service with the Company. For Mr. Reed, the 14 years of credited service represents the period over which he earned a benefit in the Verizon Excess Pension Plan. For Mr. McAdam, the 10 years of credited service represents the period over which he earned a benefit in the nonqualified portion of the Verizon Wireless Retirement Plan.
- 2 The values are based on the assumptions for the actuarial determination of pension benefits as required by the relevant accounting standards as described in note 11 to the Company's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2018, as included in Verizon's 2018 Annual Report. However, in accordance with the requirements for this table, the values are calculated using the executive's retirement at the earliest age at which he can retire without having the retirement benefit reduced under the plan.

Defined contribution savings plans

The named executive officers are participants in the Company's tax-qualified defined contribution savings plan, the Verizon Management Savings Plan, which is referred to as the Savings Plan, and its nonqualified defined contribution savings plan, the Verizon Executive Deferral Plan, which is referred to as the Deferral Plan. The named executive officers who participate in these plans are subject to the same terms as other participants in these plans.

Under the Savings Plan, participants may defer "eligible pay", which includes base salary and the Short-Term Plan award, up to certain compensation limits imposed by the Internal Revenue Code, and Verizon provides a matching contribution equal to 100% of the first 6% of eligible pay deferred. The Deferral Plan is designed to restore benefits that are limited or cut back under the Savings Plan. Accordingly, under the Deferral Plan, a participant may elect to defer his or her base pay and Short-Term Plan award that could not be deferred into the Savings Plan due to the Internal Revenue Code limits. Verizon provides the same matching contribution on these deferred amounts as the participant would have received if such amounts had been permitted to be deferred into the Savings Plan. Prior to 2018, participants were permitted to defer certain long-term incentive awards under the Deferral Plan (those deferrals were not eligible for Company match). Deferrals of long-term incentive awards were no longer permitted after 2017. Long-term incentive awards deferred prior to 2018 remain subject to the terms of the award and the applicable deferral election.

Participants in the Savings Plan and the Deferral Plan are eligible for an additional discretionary profit-sharing contribution of up to 3% of eligible pay. In determining whether to make a profit-sharing contribution, the Committee uses the same criteria it uses to determine the Short-Term Plan award paid to employees. For 2018, the discretionary contribution was 3%.

Participants in the Deferral Plan may elect to invest their deferrals in the hypothetical investment options available to all participants under the Savings Plan or in a hypothetical cash account that earns a return rate equal to the long-term, high-grade corporate bond yield average as published by Moody's Investor Services. Under SEC rules, earnings on balances invested in this option may be reportable as "above market" interest in the Summary Compensation table of the proxy statement in any given year if the rate of interest exceeds 120% of the applicable federal long-term rate at the time the plan interest rate or formula was originally established. Participants in the Deferral Plan may generally elect to receive their benefits in a lump sum or installments, commencing on a separation from service or specific date elected by the participant.

Compensation Tables

Defined contribution savings plans

Mr. Reed also has an account balance under the Income Deferral Plan (IDP). The IDP is a nonqualified deferred compensation plan that was the predecessor to the Deferral Plan. The IDP was amended to freeze the accrual of benefits under the plan as of the close of business on December 31, 2004. Participants in the IDP no longer accrue any additional benefits other than market-based investment earnings or losses on their individual accounts. No new deferrals were permitted after 2004. Participants retain the ability to invest their frozen accounts in the investment options available under the plan. Participants in the IDP do not receive matching contribution credits or retirement credits under the plan.

Messrs. Reed, McAdam and Stratton also have account balances under the Verizon Wireless Executive Savings Plan (ESP). The ESP is a nonqualified deferred compensation plan that was amended to freeze the accrual of benefits under the plan as of the close of business on December 31, 2004. Participants in the ESP no longer accrue any additional benefits other than market-based investment earnings or losses on their individual accounts. No new deferrals were permitted after 2004. Participants retain the ability to invest their frozen accounts in the investment options available under the ESP. Participants in the ESP do not receive matching contribution credits or retirement credits under the plan.

Potential payments upon termination or change in control

The following summaries and tables describe and quantify the potential payments and benefits that would be provided to each of our named executive officers other than Messrs. McAdam, Stratton and Armstrong if a termination of employment or change in control of Verizon had occurred at the end of 2018 under Verizon's compensation plans and agreements.

Mr. McAdam and Mr. Stratton retired from Verizon on December 31, 2018. The payments and benefits that Mr. McAdam and Mr. Stratton became entitled to receive in connection with their retirement from Verizon are discussed under the headings "Retirement of Mr. McAdam" and "Retirement of Mr. Stratton" beginning on pages 66 and 67, respectively. Mr. Armstrong left Verizon on December 31, 2018. The payments and benefits that Mr. Armstrong became entitled to receive in connection with his separation from Verizon are discussed under the heading "Separation of Mr. Armstrong" beginning on page 68.

Payments made upon termination

Regardless of the manner in which a named executive officer's employment terminates, the executive is entitled to receive amounts earned during the term of employment. This includes amounts accrued and vested under our pension plans and nonqualified deferred compensation plans, which are reported in the Pension Benefits and Nonqualified Deferred Compensation tables above. Those benefits are not included in the summaries and tables below.

In addition, amounts earned under our 2018 Short-Term Plan awards and amounts earned under our Long-Term Plan awards that vested on December 31, 2018 are not included in the summaries or tables below. Amounts earned under our 2018 Short-Term Plan awards are discussed in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis beginning on page 36 and are reported in the Summary Compensation table on page 52. Amounts earned under our Long-Term Plan awards that vested on December 31, 2018 are discussed in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis beginning on page 40 and are reported in the Option Exercises and Stock Vested table on page 57. If a named executive officer's employment had terminated on December 31, 2018 for any reason other than for cause, the full amount of the 2018 Short-Term Plan award and the full amount of the Long-Term Plan awards that vested on December 31, 2018, in each case to the extent earned, would have been payable. These amounts would be determined and payable at the same time as awards are determined and paid to participating employees generally under those plans. In the event of a termination for cause, no amount would have been payable under these awards.

Potential payments upon qualifying separation or involuntary termination without cause

Messrs. Vestberg and McAdam. As CEO, Mr. Vestberg is not eligible to participate in the Senior Manager Severance Plan described below. Mr. Vestberg is also not a party to an employment agreement with Verizon or any other agreement that would provide him with cash severance benefits in the event his employment is involuntarily terminated by Verizon without cause. As CEO and then in his role as Executive Chairman, Mr. McAdam was not eligible to participate in the Senior Manager Severance Plan. Mr. McAdam was not a party to an employment agreement with Verizon or any other agreement that would have provided him with cash severance benefits in the event his employment was involuntarily terminated by Verizon without cause. Mr. McAdam retired from Verizon on December 31, 2018.

Senior Manager Severance Plan. Verizon provides severance benefits to certain employees, including all of the named executive officers other than the CEO, under the Senior Manager Severance Plan. Under the plan, a named executive officer is eligible to receive severance benefits if he or she experiences a "qualifying separation" from Verizon, which is generally defined as an involuntary termination by Verizon without cause, a voluntary termination by the executive solely due to the executive's refusal to accept a qualifying reclassification or relocation (as those terms are defined in the plan) or a determination by the independent members of the Board that the named executive officer has incurred a qualifying separation. A severance benefit, if triggered, is payable to an executive only if the executive executes a release of claims against Verizon in the form satisfactory to Verizon and agrees not to compete or interfere with any Verizon business for a period of one year after termination from employment and always to protect Verizon's trade secrets and proprietary information.

Compensation Tables

Potential payments upon termination or change in control

If a named executive officer incurs a qualifying separation under the plan, he or she is eligible to receive the following benefits: (i) a lump-sum cash separation payment equal to two times the sum of his or her base salary and target Short-Term Plan award opportunity; and (ii) continued medical, dental and vision coverage for two years.

In addition, if the executive's qualifying separation occurs prior to the last day of the year, the executive will receive a prorated Short-Term Plan award for the year in which the separation occurs, determined based on the actual level of achievement of the performance criteria under the Short-Term Plan for the applicable year and payable at the time that awards are payable to participating employees generally under the plan. To the extent that an executive also becomes eligible for severance benefits under any outstanding agreement, plan or any other arrangement, the executive's cash severance payment under the Senior Manager Severance Plan will be reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis by the amount of the severance benefits payable to the executive under such other agreement, plan or arrangement.

In connection with Mr. Stratton's retirement from Verizon on December 31, 2018, the independent members of the Board determined that Mr. Stratton's retirement was a qualifying separation for purposes of the Senior Manager Severance Plan. The separation benefits Mr. Stratton was entitled to receive upon his separation are described and quantified under the heading "Retirement of Mr. Stratton" beginning on page 67. Mr. Stratton did not receive any additional separation benefits or payments upon his separation of service.

Mr. Armstrong left Verizon on December 31, 2018. Upon his separation, Mr. Armstrong was entitled to receive separation benefits under the Senior Manager Severance Plan, which are described and quantified under the heading "Separation of Mr. Armstrong" beginning on page 68. Mr. Armstrong did not receive any additional separation benefits or payments upon his separation of service.

Other benefits. Upon an involuntary termination of employment without cause, a named executive officer would also be eligible to receive financial planning and outplacement services for one year following termination on the same basis as provided to other senior executives. However, executives would only be entitled to receive financial planning services if they participate in the program in the year in which their employment terminates. In addition, under the terms of the executive life insurance plan, each named executive officer who is retirement eligible upon termination and who continues to pay the annual premiums on the life insurance policy owned by the executive would be eligible to receive an annual cash payment from Verizon to defray a portion of the annual premiums until the latest of the executive's attainment of age 60 or the completion of 5 years of plan participation. Retirement eligibility is generally defined as having attained 75 points (age plus years of service) with at least 15 years of service. If the named executive officer is not retirement eligible upon termination and has not reached plan maturity (age 60 and 5 years of plan participation) upon termination, the executive would be eligible to receive one additional annual cash payment to defray a portion of the annual premiums for the two years following the year in which the executive's termination occurs. If the named executive officer is retirement eligible upon termination and has achieved plan maturity upon his or her termination, the executive would not be entitled to any additional cash payment from Verizon. Effective April 1, 2018, the financial planning program and the executive life insurance program were both closed to new participants.

Estimated payments. The following table shows Verizon’s estimate of the amount of benefits the named executive officers, other than Messrs. McAdam, Stratton and Armstrong, would have been entitled to receive had their employment been involuntarily terminated without cause on the last business day of 2018 or had they incurred a qualifying separation under the Senior Manager Severance Plan. The payments and benefits that Messrs. McAdam, Stratton and Armstrong became entitled to receive upon their retirement and separation from Verizon, respectively, on December 31, 2018 are discussed under the headings “Retirement of Mr. McAdam”, “Retirement of Mr. Stratton” and “Separation of Mr. Armstrong” beginning on page 66.

Mr. Dunne	4,250,000	45,689	14,500	13,000	103,979

- 1 The amounts reflect Verizon’s estimated cost of providing medical, dental and vision coverage for two years.
- 2 Mr. Gowrappan did not participate in the financial planning program in 2018 and, as a result, would not have been entitled to receive financial planning services if his employment had terminated on the last business day of 2018.
- 3 If Mr. Reed had retired on December 31, 2018, he would not have been entitled to receive additional company contributions with respect to this benefit because he reached plan maturity on December 31, 2018. The amount for Messrs. Ellis and Dunne, who are not retirement eligible, reflects one additional annual cash payment to defray a portion of the annual premium for the two years following the year in which their termination occurs. Mr. Gowrappan did not participate in the program in 2018.

Potential payments upon death, disability or retirement

Under the terms of the executive life insurance plan, in the event of disability or a qualifying retirement, a named executive officer who continues to pay the annual premiums on the life insurance policy owned by the executive would be eligible to receive an annual payment from Verizon to defray a portion of the annual premium until the latest of the executive’s attainment of age 60 or the completion of 5 years of plan participation. If the named executive officer dies, his or her beneficiary would be entitled to receive the proceeds of the life insurance policy owned by the executive, payable by the third-party issuer of the policy.

Under the Short-Term Plan, if the named executive officer’s employment terminates due to death, disability or a qualifying retirement prior to the last day of the year, the executive would be eligible for a prorated Short-Term Plan award for the year in which the termination date occurred, determined based on the actual level of achievement of the performance criteria under the Short-Term Plan for the applicable year and payable at the time that awards are generally payable to participating employees under the plan. As described above, if the executive’s employment terminates on the last day of the year for any reason other than for cause, the full amount of the Short-Term Plan award, determined based on the actual level of achievement of the performance criteria under the Short-Term Plan for the applicable year, would have been payable.

In addition, upon death, disability or a qualifying retirement, each named executive officer would also be eligible to receive financial planning services for one year following termination on the same basis as provided to other senior executives, provided that the executive participated in the program in the year in which his or her employment terminates. Upon disability, the named executive officers would also be eligible for disability benefits under the tax-qualified and nonqualified disability plans.

Compensation Tables

Potential payments upon termination or change in control

Estimated payments. The following table shows Verizon's estimate of the amount of benefits the named executive officers, other than Messrs. McAdam, Stratton and Armstrong, would have been entitled to receive had their employment terminated due to death, disability or qualifying retirement on the last business day of 2018. The payments and benefits that Messrs. McAdam, Stratton and Armstrong became entitled to receive upon their retirement and separation from Verizon, respectively, on December 31, 2018 are discussed under the headings "Retirement of Mr. McAdam", "Retirement of Mr. Stratton" and "Separation of Mr. Armstrong" beginning on page 66.

Mr. Ellis

Mr. Reed

Disability	0	1,060,700	13,000
Retirement	0	0	13,000
Mr. Dunne
Death	8,525,000	0	13,000
Disability	396,882	1,955,175	13,000

- 1 In the event of death, the amount represents the proceeds from the life insurance policy owned by the named executive officer, payable by the third-party issuer of the policy. In the event of disability or retirement, for the named executive officers other than Mr. Gowrappan, the amount, if any, represents the total amount of annual cash payments to the named executive officer to defray a portion of the annual premium of the life insurance policy owned by him, provided that the named executive officer continues to pay the annual premiums pursuant to the terms of the executive life insurance program. If Mr. Reed had become disabled on December 31, 2018, he would not have been entitled to receive additional company contributions with respect to this benefit because he reached plan maturity on December 31, 2018.
- 2 Assumes that each named executive officer would be immediately eligible for long-term disability benefits from Verizon's qualified and nonqualified disability benefit plans. Mr. Ellis does not participate in the nonqualified portion of the disability benefit. The assumptions used to calculate the value of the disability benefits include a discount rate of 3.53% and mortality and recovery based on the 2012 Group Long-Term Disability Valuation Table. These rates represent the probability of death or recovery between the date of disability and the payment end date. The qualified portion of the disability benefit for Messrs. Vestberg, Ellis, Gowrappan, Reed and Dunne, is estimated at $944,652, $443,634, $694,758, $378,647 and $853,492, respectively, and the nonqualified portion of the disability benefit for Messrs. Vestberg, Gowrappan, Reed and Dunne is estimated at $1,219,351, $1,117,540, $682,053 and $1,101,683. In order to receive the nonqualified portion of the disability benefit, the executive must pay the premium associated with the qualified portion of the benefit.
- 3 Mr. Gowrappan did not participate in the financial planning program in 2018 and, as a result, would not have been entitled to receive financial planning services if his employment had terminated on the last business day of 2018.
- 4 Messrs. Vestberg, Ellis and Dunne would not have been entitled to receive executive life insurance benefits or financial planning benefits because they had not fulfilled the eligibility requirements for retirement under the terms of those programs on the last business day of 2018. Mr. Gowrappan would also not have been entitled to receive these benefits because he did not participate in those plans.

Potential payments upon change in control

Verizon does not maintain any plans or arrangements that provide for any named executive officer to receive cash severance or any other cash payments in connection with a change in control of Verizon. If the named executive officer's employment terminates in connection with or following a change in control, he or she would be eligible for the same benefits, if any, that would become payable to the executive upon his or her termination under the circumstances as described above. Under the Short-Term Plan, if a change in control occurs, all outstanding awards will vest and become payable on the regularly scheduled payment date.

Treatment of equity awards

As is the case for all participants under the terms of the Long-Term Plan and the applicable award agreements, upon an involuntary termination of employment without cause, death, disability or qualifying retirement, each named executive officer's then unvested RSUs will vest and be payable on the regularly scheduled payment dates and each named executive officer's then unvested PSUs will vest and be payable on the regularly scheduled payment date after the end of the applicable award cycle, but only if and to the extent that the applicable performance criteria for the award are achieved at the end of the applicable award cycle. Under the Long-Term Plan, a qualifying retirement generally means to retire after having attained at least 15 years of vesting service (as defined under the applicable Verizon tax-qualified savings plan) and a combination of age and years of vesting service that equals or exceeds 75. As of December 31, 2018, Mr. Reed was retirement-eligible under the Long-Term Plan.

The payment of PSU and RSU awards under the Long-Term Plan following an involuntary termination of employment without cause, death, disability or qualifying retirement is conditioned on the participant executing a release of claims against Verizon in the form satisfactory to Verizon. The grant of each award is conditioned on the participant's agreement to certain restrictive covenants including an agreement not to compete or interfere with any Verizon business for a period of one year after termination from employment (two years for the CEO), and to always protect Verizon's trade secrets and proprietary information.

In addition, under the terms of the Long-Term Plan and the applicable award agreements, if, in the 12 months following a change in control of Verizon, a participant's employment is involuntarily terminated without cause, all then-unvested RSUs will vest and be payable on the regularly scheduled payment dates and all then-unvested PSUs will vest at target level performance and be payable on the regularly scheduled payment date after the end of the applicable award cycle.

Under the Long-Term Plan, a change in control of Verizon is generally defined as the occurrence of any of the following:

- Any person becomes a beneficial owner of shares representing twenty percent or more of Verizon's outstanding voting stock;
- Verizon consummates a merger, consolidation, reorganization or any other business combination; or
- The Board adopts resolutions authorizing the liquidation or dissolution, or sale of all or substantially all of the assets, of Verizon.

However, a change in control will not occur if:

- The amount of Verizon voting stock outstanding immediately before the transaction represents at least forty-five percent of the combined voting power of the corporation that survives the transaction;
- Verizon Directors constitute at least one-half of the board of directors of the surviving corporation;
- Verizon's CEO is the CEO of the surviving corporation; and
- The headquarters of the surviving corporation is located in New York, New York.

Estimated payments. The following table shows the estimated value of the awards that the named executive officers, other than Messrs. McAdam, Stratton and Armstrong, could have received in respect of their outstanding unvested equity awards if any of the following events, which would trigger accelerated vesting of the awards, occurred on the last business day of 2018: (i) a change in control of Verizon without a termination of employment; (ii) a change in control of Verizon and an involuntary termination of employment without cause within 12 months; (iii) a termination of employment as a result of an involuntary termination without cause (other than in connection with a change in control); (iv) a qualifying retirement; or (v) death or disability. The amounts represent the estimated value of the outstanding RSU and PSU awards granted in 2017 and 2018, including the estimated value of the additional RSU award granted to Mr. Vestberg in 2017 and the special PSU award granted to him in 2018, the 2018 PRSU award granted to Mr. Gowrappan, and the 2017 PRSU award granted to Mr. Dunne and the remaining installment of the 2016 RSU award granted to Mr. Dunne that would have been payable pursuant to the terms of the award agreements, calculated using the total number of units (including accrued dividends) on the last business day of 2018 and $56.22, Verizon's closing stock price on that date, and for the PSUs and the PRSUs, assuming the award would vest at target performance levels. The actual amount payable under these awards can be determined only at the time the awards would be paid. The payments and benefits that Messrs. McAdam, Stratton and Armstrong became entitled to receive upon their retirement and separation from Verizon, respectively, on December 31, 2018 are discussed under the headings "Retirement of Mr. McAdam", "Retirement of Mr. Stratton" and "Separation of Mr. Armstrong" beginning on page 66.

1 Messrs. Vestberg, Ellis, Gowrappan and Dunne would not have been entitled to receive any amount in respect of their outstanding unvested equity awards upon retirement because they had not met the eligibility requirements for retirement under the terms of the Long-Term Plan on the last business day of 2018.

Retirement of Mr. McAdam

Mr. McAdam retired from the Company on December 31, 2018. The following table sets forth the estimated payments and benefits Mr. McAdam became entitled to receive upon his retirement.

1 Represents the estimated value of the outstanding RSU and PSU awards granted in 2017 and 2018. The value of these awards was calculated using the total number of units (including accrued dividends) on the last business day of 2018 and $56.22, Verizon's closing stock price on that date, and, in the case of the PSUs, assuming the awards would vest at target performance levels. These awards will be paid on the regularly scheduled payment date following the applicable vesting date based on the stock price on the vesting date, and in the case of the PSUs, only if and to the extent that the applicable performance criteria have been satisfied.

2 Mr. McAdam attained plan maturity on December 31, 2018, and he is not entitled to receive any additional payments from Verizon with respect to this benefit following his termination of employment.

Mr. McAdam executed a release of claims satisfactory to Verizon as a condition to the receipt of the foregoing benefits, agreed not to solicit employees or customers of Verizon for two years following his retirement, agreed not to compete or interfere with any Verizon business for a period of two years after termination from employment, and always to protect Verizon's trade secrets and proprietary information.

SEC rules require that we disclose the hypothetical payments and benefits that Mr. McAdam would have been entitled to receive if certain events had occurred on December 31, 2018 and Mr. McAdam had not retired on that date, notwithstanding the fact that the events did not occur and Mr. McAdam retired on that date. If on December 31, 2018 there had been a change in control of Verizon without a termination of Mr. McAdam's employment, Mr. McAdam would not have been entitled to any payments or benefits. Mr. McAdam would have been entitled to receive a $664,441 disability benefit if he had become disabled on December 31, 2018 and not retired. This assumes that Mr. McAdam would have been immediately eligible for long-term disability benefits from Verizon's qualified and nonqualified disability benefit plans and is based on a discount rate of 3.53% and mortality and recovery based on the 2012 Group Long-Term Disability Valuation Table, which represents the probability of death or recovery between the date of disability and the payment end date. The qualified portion of the disability benefit is estimated at $239,464, the nonqualified portion of the benefit is estimated at $424,977, and in order to receive the nonqualified portion of the disability benefit, Mr. McAdam would have been required to pay the premium associated with the qualified portion of the benefit. If he had died on December 31, 2018, Mr. McAdam's beneficiaries would have been entitled to receive $8,560,000 under the life insurance policy owned by him. He would have been entitled to receive the same financial planning benefit that he received upon his retirement quantified in the table above if his employment had been terminated without cause following a change in control, or terminated without cause under any other circumstance, or if he died or became disabled on December 31, 2018. In addition, if Mr. McAdam had been terminated without cause following a change in control, had been terminated without cause under any other circumstance, or had he died or become disabled on December 31, 2018, Mr. McAdam would have been entitled to the same treatment of his equity awards that he received upon his retirement with the same estimated value quantified in the table above and based on the same assumptions and subject to the same terms and conditions described in footnote 1 to that table.

Retirement of Mr. Stratton

Mr. Stratton retired from the Company on December 31, 2018. In connection with Mr. Stratton's retirement, the independent members of the Board determined that Mr. Stratton's retirement was a qualifying separation for purposes of the Senior Manager Severance Plan. The following table sets forth the estimated payments and benefits Mr. Stratton became entitled to receive upon his retirement.

<sup>2</sup> Represents the estimated value of the outstanding RSU and PSU awards granted in 2017 and 2018, including the estimated value of the special PSU award granted to Mr. Stratton in 2017. The value of these awards was calculated using the total number of units (including accrued dividends) on the last business day of 2018 and $56.22, Verizon's closing stock price on that date, and, in the case of the PSUs (including the 2017 special PSU award), assuming the awards would vest at target performance levels. These awards will be paid on the regularly scheduled payment date following the applicable vesting date based on the stock price on the applicable vesting date, and in the case of the PSUs (including the 2017 special PSU award), only if and to the extent that the applicable performance criteria have been satisfied.

<sup>3</sup> Represents the total amount of annual cash payments to Mr. Stratton to defray a portion of the life insurance policy owned by him, provided that he continues to pay the annual premiums pursuant to the terms of the program.

Mr. Stratton executed a release of claims satisfactory to Verizon as a condition to the receipt of the foregoing benefits, agreed not to solicit employees or customers of Verizon for one year following his retirement, agreed not to compete or interfere with any Verizon business for a period of one year after termination from employment, and always to protect Verizon's trade secrets and proprietary information.

SEC rules require that we disclose the hypothetical payments and benefits that Mr. Stratton would have been entitled to receive if certain events had occurred on December 31, 2018 and Mr. Stratton had not retired on that date, notwithstanding the fact that the events did not occur and Mr. Stratton retired on that date. If on December 31, 2018 there had been a change in control of Verizon without a termination of Mr. Stratton's employment, Mr. Stratton would not have been entitled to any payments or benefits. Mr. Stratton would have been entitled to receive a $315,225 disability benefit if he had become disabled on December 31, 2018 and not retired. This assumes that Mr. Stratton would have been immediately eligible for long-term disability benefits from Verizon's qualified disability benefit plan and is based on a discount rate of 3.53% and mortality and recovery based on the 2012 Group Long-Term Disability Valuation Table, which represents the probability of death or recovery between the date of disability and the payment end date. Mr. Stratton would have been entitled to receive the same life insurance benefit that he received upon his retirement quantified in the table above if his employment had been terminated without cause following a change in control, or terminated without cause under any other circumstance, or if he had become disabled on December 31, 2018. If he had died on December 31, 2018, Mr. Stratton's beneficiaries would have been entitled to receive $4,412,000 under the life insurance policy owned by him. He would have been entitled to receive the same financial planning benefit that he received upon his retirement quantified in the table above if his employment had been terminated without cause following a change in control, or terminated without cause under any other circumstance, or if he died or became disabled on December 31, 2018. In addition, if Mr. Stratton had been terminated without cause following a change in control, had been terminated without cause under any other circumstance, or had he died or become disabled on December 31, 2018, Mr. Stratton would have been entitled to the same treatment of his equity awards that he received upon his retirement with the same estimated value quantified in the table above and based on the same assumptions and subject to the same terms and conditions described in footnote 2 to that table.

Separation of Mr. Armstrong

In connection with Mr. Armstrong's separation from service on December 31, 2018, he became entitled to separation benefits under the terms and conditions of the Senior Manager Severance Plan. The following table sets forth the estimated payments and benefits Mr. Armstrong became entitled to receive upon his separation.

6,300,000	45,689	23,561,987	0	0	14,500

- 1 Represents Verizon's estimated cost of providing medical, dental and vision coverage for two years.
- 2 Represents the estimated value of the outstanding RSU and PSU awards granted in 2017 and 2018 and the estimated value of second tranche of the 2015 founders award of ASUs granted to Mr. Armstrong under the AOL Long-Term Incentive Plan. The value of the RSU and PSU awards were calculated using the total number of units (including accrued dividends) on the last business day of 2018 and $56.22, Verizon's closing stock price on that date and, in the case of the PSUs, assuming the awards would vest at target performance levels. The estimated value of the ASU award was calculated using the total number of units and $10.09, the value of an ASU on December 31, 2018 as determined in accordance with terms of the AOL Long-Term Incentive Plan. These awards will be paid on the regularly scheduled payment date following the applicable vesting dates based on the stock price on the applicable vesting date (and in the case of the PSUs, only if and to the extent that the applicable performance criteria have been satisfied), and in the case of ASUs, on the value of an ASU on June 22, 2019 as determined in accordance with the terms of the AOL Long-Term Incentive Plan.
- 3 Mr. Armstrong did not participate in the financial planning program or the executive life insurance program.

Mr. Armstrong executed a release of claims satisfactory to Verizon as a condition to the receipt of the foregoing benefits, agreed not to solicit employees or customers of Verizon for one year following his separation, agreed not to compete or interfere with any Verizon business for a period of one year after termination from employment, and always to protect Verizon's trade secrets and proprietary information.

SEC rules require that we disclose the hypothetical payments and benefits that Mr. Armstrong would have been entitled to receive if certain events had occurred on December 31, 2018 and Mr. Armstrong had not separated from service on that date, notwithstanding the fact that the events did not occur and Mr. Armstrong separated from service on that date. If on December 31, 2018 there had been a change in control of Verizon without a termination of Mr. Armstrong's employment, Mr. Armstrong would not have been entitled to any payments or benefits. Mr. Armstrong was not retirement eligible on December 31, 2018, and therefore, he would not have been entitled to any retirement payments or benefits. If Mr. Armstrong had become disabled on December 31, 2018 and not separated from service, he would have been entitled to receive a $2,137,937 disability benefit. This assumes that Mr. Armstrong would have been immediately eligible for long-term disability benefits from Verizon's qualified disability benefit plan and is based on a discount rate of 3.53% and mortality and recovery based on the 2012 Group Long-Term Disability Valuation Table, which represents the probability of death or recovery between the date of disability and the payment end date. The qualified portion of the disability benefit is estimated at $761,583, the non-qualified portion of the benefit is estimated at $1,376,354, and in order to receive the nonqualified portion of the disability benefit, Mr. Armstrong would have been required to pay the premium associated with the qualified portion of the benefit. If he had died on December 31, 2018, Mr. Armstrong's beneficiaries would have been entitled to receive $3,000,000 under the company's group term life insurance program he participated in during 2018. In addition, if Mr. Armstrong had been terminated without cause following a change in control, or had he died or become disabled on December 31, 2018, Mr. Armstrong would have been entitled to the same treatment of his equity awards that he received upon his separation from service with the same estimated value quantified in the table above and based on the same assumptions and subject to the same terms and conditions described in footnote 2 to that table.

CEO pay ratio disclosure

Pursuant to SEC rules, we are required to disclose in this proxy statement the ratio of the annual total compensation of our CEO to the median of the annual total compensation of all of our employees (excluding the CEO). We determined that the annualized total compensation of Mr. Vestberg, who was appointed CEO of Verizon on August 1, 2018 was $23,821,477, the median of the 2018 annual total compensation of all of our employees (excluding Mr. Vestberg) was $120,645, and the ratio of these amounts was 198 to 1. For purposes of calculating the ratio, the value of employer provided benefits under non-discriminatory health plans was included in the compensation of each of Mr. Vestberg and the median employee.

As described on page 46, in connection with Mr. Vestberg's appointment as CEO, the Committee recommended, and the independent members of the Board approved, increases to his base salary and target short-term incentive opportunity effective upon his appointment, an increase to his long-term incentive target award opportunity commencing in 2019 and a special one-time performance-based equity award in the form of PSUs with a grant date fair value of approximately $10 million that may become payable after the completion of a five-year performance period. We note that a substantial portion of Mr. Vestberg's total compensation for 2018 related to non-recurring compensation items, including the special award of PSUs, a one-time signing bonus he received upon his relocation to the United States in January 2018 and related relocation benefits. If we were to exclude these items and assume that he had been CEO for all of 2018 and received a base salary of $1,500,000, a target Short-Term Plan award of $3,750,000 and a target Long-Term Plan award of $12,000,000 (which reflect the increases approved by the Board upon his appointment as CEO), as well as the value of healthcare and other recurring benefits, the ratio would have been 145 to 1.

The median employee that was used for purposes of calculating the ratio of the annualized total compensation of our CEO to the median of the annual total compensation of all employees is the same employee that was identified for purposes of the pay ratio disclosed in our 2018 Proxy Statement, who is an employee located in the Mid-Atlantic region of the United States. There has been no change in our employee population or employee compensation arrangements since that median employee was identified that we believe would significantly impact our pay ratio disclosure. To identify the "median employee" for purposes of the 2018 pay ratio disclosure (i.e., the individual employee whose compensation was at the median level among our entire employee group), we used a determination date of October 1, 2017 and analyzed, for all of the individuals employed by us or any of our consolidated subsidiaries on that date, the compensation that we paid to each of those individuals for the 12-month period ending on that date. We considered each employee's "compensation" to consist of (i) the employee's total gross earnings for the 12-month period ending October 1, 2017, plus (ii) the estimated amount of Verizon's contributions for that period to the retirement plans in which the employee participates, plus (iii) the estimated present value of the employee's accrual under a Verizon pension plan (if any) for those who are still accruing service and whose benefits have not otherwise been frozen. The compensation for employees, other than temporary and seasonal employees, who were not employed by us for the entire 12-month period was annualized to reflect compensation for the entire 12-month period.

Item 3: Advisory Vote to Approve Executive Compensation

Shareholders have strongly supported Verizon's executive compensation program since our first annual advisory vote on the matter in 2009. We are asking you to vote in favor of the following non-binding resolution:

"Resolved, that the shareholders approve, on an advisory basis, the compensation of the named executive officers, as disclosed in Verizon's proxy statement for the 2019 Annual Meeting of Shareholders pursuant to the compensation disclosure rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, including the Compensation Discussion and Analysis, the Compensation Tables and the related narrative discussion."

The structure of our executive compensation program for 2018 is substantially the same as it was last year. Our Board recommends a vote FOR this resolution because the Board believes our program effectively:

- Encourages strong short-term and long-term performance;
- Aligns the executives' long-term interests with those of our shareholders; and
- Retains high-performing executives.

In the Compensation Discussion and Analysis and Compensation Tables beginning on page 29, we provide a detailed description of our executive compensation program, including our philosophy, the elements of our program and the compensation of our named executive officers. We encourage you to read these sections before deciding how to vote on this proposal.

This advisory resolution, commonly known as a "say-on-pay" resolution, is not binding on our Board of Directors. Nevertheless, the Board and the Human Resources Committee value shareholder feedback received through this annual say-on-pay vote and our direct investor outreach program. The voting results and direct shareholder input are carefully reviewed and considered and are an important part of the process for evaluating our executive compensation program.

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote FOR this proposal.

Stock Ownership

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

SEC rules require us to disclose any late filings of stock transaction reports by our executive officers and Directors. Based solely on a review of the reports that we filed on behalf of these individuals or that were otherwise provided to us, our executive officers and Directors met all Section 16(a) filing requirements during calendar year 2018.

Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management

Principal Shareholders

On March 4, 2019, there were approximately 4.13 billion shares of Verizon common stock outstanding. Each of these shares is entitled to one vote. To the extent that information in the table is based on information contained in an SEC filing, it is accurate only as of the date referenced in the filing.

Directors and Executive Officers

The following table shows the number of shares of Verizon common stock beneficially owned by each of the named executive officers, each Director, and all executive officers and Directors as a group as of January 31, 2019. This information includes shares held in Verizon's employee savings plans and shares that may be acquired within 60 days upon the conversion of certain stock units under deferred compensation plans and/or stock-based long-term incentive awards. ## Shareholder Proposals

We have been advised that the shareholders submitting the proposals or their representatives intend to present the following proposals at the Annual Meeting. The statements contained in the proposals and supporting statements are the sole responsibility of the respective proponents. The proposals may contain assertions about Verizon or other matters that Verizon believes are incorrect, but we do not attempt to refute all of those assertions. The addresses of the proponents, as well as the names and addresses of, and the number of shares of Verizon's common stock owned by, any co-sponsors, are available upon written request to the Assistant Corporate Secretary at the address specified under "Contacting Verizon."

Item 4: Nonqualified Savings Plan Earnings

The Association of BellTel Retirees Inc., owner of 214 shares of Verizon's common stock, proposes the following:

Above-Market Returns on Nonqualified Executive Savings Plans

RESOLVED: The shareholders of Verizon Communications, Inc. urge our Board of Directors to adopt a policy that prohibits the practice of paying above-market earnings on the non-tax-qualified retirement saving or deferred income account balances of senior executive officers. This policy should be implemented prospectively and apply only to senior executive officers in a manner that does not interfere with any contractual rights.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

Verizon offers senior executive officers far more generous retirement saving benefits than rank-and-file managers and other employees receive under the company's tax-qualified saving plans, in our view. One costly and unjustifiable feature is the payment of an above-market rate of return on the multi-million dollar non-tax-qualified savings and deferred income account balances of senior executives.

The Verizon Executive Deferral Plan allows executives to contribute or defer compensation significantly above applicable IRS limits on contributions to 401(k) and other tax-qualified savings plans, IRS limits, including without limit the long-term incentive compensation that represents the bulk of their annual income.

Proxy advisor Institutional Shareholder Services supported this proposal in its 2018 proxy analysis report, stating that "while it is common to maintain additional supplemental retirement accounts for executives, providing above-market earnings on investment options is not common market practice."

The ISS report also noted that the "practice of paying above-market earnings increases the expense to shareholders and is not considered a best practice."

For example, in 2017 then-CEO Lowell McAdam received $73,949 in "above-market earnings" on his nonqualified plan assets (2018 Proxy, Summary Compensation Table, page 46, column h), which exceeded $13 million at year end (2018 Proxy, page 52).

For CEO McAdam, these above-market earnings came on top of $325,150 in Company matching contributions to his Deferral Plan account and $18,850 to his Management Savings Plan account (2018 Proxy, page 47).

The $418,000 in total Company matching contributions and "above-market earnings" received by McAdam for just one year dwarfed the maximum Company contribution available to managers or other employees participating only in the tax-qualified Savings Plan. Verizon provides a matching contribution equal to 100% of the first 6% of base salary and short-term incentive compensation that a participant contributes (Proxy, page 42).

Items 4 – 8 Shareholder Proposals

Item 4: Nonqualified Savings Plan Earnings

Together, the combined cost of these company contributions and above-market earnings can be substantial. Over the 10-year period (2008 to 2017) Verizon reported paying McAdam a total of $5,470,490 in nonqualified plan contributions and above-market earnings (page 52, table note 4).

Above-market earnings on non-qualified accounts are not performance-based and thus do nothing to align management incentives with long-term shareholder interests. In addition, gross disparities between retirement benefits offered to senior executives and other employees risk potential morale problems and reputational risk.

Please VOTE FOR this proposal.

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote AGAINST this proposal for the following reasons:

The Board of Directors opposes this proposal because it misrepresents the investment returns paid to participants in Verizon's Executive Deferral Plan, which we refer to as the Deferral Plan. The proponent's claim that Verizon pays senior executives an "above-market" rate of return on their account balances in the Deferral Plan is inaccurate. None of the 28 hypothetical investment options offered under the Deferral Plan pay a premium above what can be earned in the market. All but one of the hypothetical investment options simply mirror the performance of the investment options available under Verizon's tax-qualified 401(k) savings plan. The one additional hypothetical investment option, which we refer to as the Moody's investment option, offers a return equal to the long-term, high-grade corporate bond yield average as published by Moody's Investor Services Inc. Because the Moody's investment option offers a cash-based, interest only return, under an SEC rule, earnings on balances invested in that option may be reportable as "above-market" in the proxy statement year in any given year. In 2018, earnings from the Moody's investment option did not constitute "above-market" earnings under this rule.

In 2018 the annual rate of return for the Moody's investment option was approximately 4.19%. The Board believes that it is unfair and unreasonable to characterize this rate of return – which is basically reflective of the current market rate for loans to large companies such as Verizon – as a "costly and unjustifiable feature" of Verizon's non-qualified savings plan. Moreover, because the return on the Moody's investment option is lower than that offered by other investment options, it does not increase the expense of Verizon's retirement programs.

Item 5: Independent Chair

The AFL-CIO Reserve Fund, owner of 2,656 shares of Verizon's common stock, proposes the following:

RESOLVED: Shareholders of Verizon Communications Inc. (the "Company") urge the Board of Directors (the "Board") to take the steps necessary to adopt a policy to require that the Chairman of the Board shall be an independent director who has not previously served as an executive officer of the Company.

This policy should be implemented so as not to violate any contractual obligations, with amendments to the Company's governing documents as needed. The policy should also specify the process for selecting a new independent Chairman if the current Chairman ceases to be independent between annual meetings of shareholders. Compliance with the policy may be excused if no independent director is available and willing to be Chairman.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

Our Company's Chairman of the Board, Mr. Lowell McAdam, previously served as CEO of the Company between 2011 and 2018. With the appointment of Mr. Hans Vestberg as CEO, the Company announced that Mr. McAdam will continue as Non-Executive Chairman.

The Board, led by its Chairman, is responsible for protecting shareholders' long-term interests by providing oversight of management in directing the corporation's affairs. In our view, this Board oversight function can be diminished when the Chairman is not an independent director.

In our view, the Chairman should be an independent director who has not previously served as an executive of the Company. We believe that an independent Chairman will strengthen the independent leadership of the Board and enhance management accountability to shareholders.

We believe that the appointment of an independent Chairman is preferable to the separation of the positions of Chairman and CEO between the former and current CEO. Having a truly independent Chairman can best ensure the objective functioning of an effective Board.

For these reasons, we urge you to vote FOR this resolution.

Items 4 – 8 Shareholder Proposals

Item 5: Independent Chair

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote AGAINST this proposal for the following reasons:

The Board of Directors fundamentally disagrees with the proposal's rigid and prescriptive approach to the important issue of Board leadership. The Board believes that decisions concerning its leadership structure, including whether an independent Chairman is appropriate, should be based on the unique circumstances and challenges confronting Verizon at any given time, and should take into account the individual skills and experience that may be required in an effective Chairman at that time. As a result, the Board regularly reviews and assesses the effectiveness of its leadership structure. When conducting its assessment, the Board considers, among other things, whether the current structure is appropriate to effectively address the specific business challenges and opportunities posed by our industry and the long-term interests of our shareholders.

Moreover, the Board continues to believe that because its present leadership structure includes a strong independent Lead Director role, this addresses any concerns about the Board's ability to provide objective feedback and guidance. The Lead Director, who is elected by the independent Directors, shares governance responsibilities with the Chairman, including approving Board agendas, materials and schedules, and has the authority to call Board meetings and executive sessions. The Lead Director also acts as a liaison with the Chairman, and facilitates forthright communication and effective independent oversight of management's performance and accountability to shareholders. The Lead Director chairs the executive sessions of the Board, including the session where the performance and compensation of the Chief Executive Officer are evaluated, as well as the Board's annual self-evaluation session.

The Board also has adopted policies to ensure that the independent Directors of the Board are fully involved in the operations of the Board and its decision making. All Directors have the opportunity to review Board agendas and request changes in advance of meetings, and all have unrestricted access to management. The independent Directors typically meet in executive session at each Board meeting. Given the robust corporate governance practices Verizon has put in place to ensure full involvement of all Directors and facilitate communication and independent oversight, the Board believes that shareholders are best served by allowing it to retain the flexibility to determine which Director is most qualified to lead the Board at any given time.

The Board understands that leadership structures evolve and that having an independent Chairman could, at some future point, be in the shareholders' best interest. However, the Board believes that eliminating its flexibility to do what is in the best interests of shareholders by instituting a general policy that would require an independent Chairman is unnecessarily rigid and unwise.

Item 6: Report on Online Child Exploitation

The Catholic United Investment Trust, owner of 479,137 shares of Verizon's common stock, and four co-sponsors propose the following:

Child Sexual Exploitation Online

WHEREAS:

- Verizon Communications (Verizon) is a leading Internet Service Provider (ISP), a retailer of mobile communication devices, and a growing provider of digital content online;
- Child sexual exploitation online (“child pornography”) is a growing risk to children that is being exacerbated by online services and mobile technologies;
- The US Department of Justice’s 2016 National Strategy for Child Exploitation Prevention and Interdiction notes that “mobile devices have fundamentally changed the way offenders can abuse children,” and “apps on these devices can be used to target, recruit or groom, and coerce children” or “stream video of child sexual abuse” in real-time;
- The Internet Watch Foundation noted that 55% of child sex imagery reported to it in 2017 was of children 10 or younger, and that domain names showing children being sexually abused increased by 57% from 2016 to 2017;
- “Internet Safety” was the fourth-ranked issue and “Sexting” the sixth-ranked in the list of major health concerns for US children, according to the 2015 National Poll on Children’s Health [<https://www.mottchildren.org/news/archive/201508/sexting/>];
- The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children noted that reports of suspected child sex trafficking jumped 846% between 2010-2015;
- INTERPOL reported about 4,000 unique child sex images worldwide in 1995, involving a few hundred children, but the UN Office of Drugs and Crime now estimates at least 50,000 new such images posted each year online [<https://www.icmec.org/commonwealth-internet-governance-forum-a-joint-report-on-online-child-protection-combatting-child-sexual-abuse-material-on-the-internet/>];
- In 2018, the US Congress enacted, and the President signed into law, legislation to better hold websites and ISPs legally accountable for facilitating sex trafficking on their platforms [<https://www.congress.gov/115/bills/hr1865/BILLS-115hr1865enr.pdf>];
- Information and Communications Technology (ICT) companies have many best practices – beyond parental controls – to combat Child Sex Abuse Material (CSAM), including: creating digital tools to remove CSAM online and offering such tools to peers; supporting public policy that better protects children online; corporate detection software that triggers alerts when CSAM has been searched for or downloaded; or child-protective practices over public WiFi, among others;
- By comparison, Verizon’s efforts appear minimal: its Terms of Use prohibit CSAM and its User Agreements instruct how to report such material; it also improved some practices to block CSAM on its servers in response to a 2008 NY Attorney General settlement [<https://ag.ny.gov/press-release/new-york-state-attomey-general-announces-unprecedented-deal-nations-largest-internet/>];
- But Verizon discloses little information publicly on how it systematically manages child sexual exploitation online and through mobile devices;
- We believe that ICT companies lacking adequate policies, practices, and disclosures to address child sexual exploitation could suffer substantial negative impacts regarding reputation, heightened regulation, adverse publicity, or legal risk;

RESOLVED: Shareholders request that the Board of Directors issue a report on the potential sexual exploitation of children through the company’s products and services, including a risk evaluation, at reasonable expense and excluding proprietary or confidential information, by March 2020, assessing whether the company’s oversight, policies and practices are sufficient to prevent material impacts to the company’s brand reputation, product demand or social license.

Items 4 – 8 Shareholder Proposals

Item 6: Report on Online Child Exploitation

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote AGAINST this proposal for the following reasons:

Verizon recognizes that we have an important role to play in combatting the use of the internet to exploit children. We are a leading provider of internet access services and also offer digital platforms for user-generated content through Verizon Media Group (formerly known as Oath). We realize that the same tools that empower our customers to communicate with family and friends can also be misused by predators to disseminate child sexual abuse material and groom children for abuse. As we disclose on the policies page of our corporate website (<https://www.verizon.com/about/our-company/company-policies>), we devote extensive resources and employ a number of best practices in the fight against these predators, including:

- We work closely with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) and the Internet Watch Foundation to stop predators from distributing child sexual abuse material and trafficking children for sex online;
- We employ cutting-edge technology that scans images and videos uploaded to our servers against an industry database of known child sexual abuse material and report the material we find to NCMEC, helping local law enforcement effectively execute their investigations;
- We employ a dedicated team that reviews and takes action upon user reports of child sexual abuse material and proactively searches for material missed by automated scanning;
- We actively search our servers for child sexual abuse material hosted on websites identified to us so that we and our enterprise customers can take steps to remove the content;
- We offer parental control products across our wireless, internet and TV businesses that enable customers to limit the types of websites and content accessible to their children and support groups that educate about online safety; and
- We collaborate with law enforcement, non-governmental organizations and industry groups, such as the Technology Coalition, to develop tools and protocols to help address the problem of online predators.

Verizon continually assesses further steps we can take to advance this critical effort. Accordingly, the Board believes that the requested report would not provide additional value to the Company's shareholders.

Item 7: Cybersecurity and Data Privacy

The Trillium P21 Global Equity Fund, owner of 60,000 shares of Verizon's common stock, and two co-sponsors propose the following:

Cyber Security and Data Privacy

Whereas;

In September 2017, the Co-Director of the SEC's Enforcement Division announced the creation of a "Cyber Unit" stating, "Cyber-related threats and misconduct are among the greatest risks facing investors and the securities industry."

In February 2018, in issuing guidance for preparing disclosures about cybersecurity risks and incidents, Chairman Clayton emphasized "cybersecurity is critical to the operations of companies and our markets."

In the United Kingdom, a Parliamentary committee studying cyber security recommended: "To ensure this issue receives sufficient CEO attention before a crisis strikes, a portion of CEO compensation should be linked to effective cyber security, in a way to be decided by the Board."

Consistent with that recommendation, Consolidated Edison's long-term incentive plan includes cyber security.

Verizon has made several policy commitments regarding data privacy and data security. However, there is significant evidence that Verizon has not been successful at implementing those commitments, faces significant challenges to doing so, and/or engages in risky behavior.

In 2016, Fortune reported that "Verizon's division that helps Fortune 500 companies respond to data breaches, suffered a data breach of its own ... [including] information on some 1.5 million customers of Verizon Enterprise."

In July 2017, the Washington Post reported that a "communication breakdown and a vacationing employee were the reasons it took more than a week to close a leak [in June] that contained data belonging to 6 million Verizon customers."

In October 2017, it was announced that all 3 billion accounts in subsidiary Yahoo had been breached prior to its acquisition by Verizon.

In 2018, following revelations from Senator Ron Wyden that about 75 companies had access to Verizon customers' locations, the company announced it would wind down the relationships where it allowed that access.

While the tech industry refuses to scan emails for information to sell to advertisers, Verizon unit Oath continues to do so and pitches these services to advertisers.

As these risks are significant, we believe it is advisable for the board to explore integrating cyber security and data privacy performance measures into the Verizon executive compensation program.

Resolved: Verizon shareholders request the Human Resources Committee of the Board of Directors publish a report (at reasonable expense, within a reasonable time, and omitting confidential or proprietary information) assessing the feasibility of integrating cyber security and data privacy performance measures into the Verizon executive compensation program which it describes in its annual proxy materials.

Supporting Statement: According to pages 34 and 35 of Verizon's 2018 proxy materials, the Verizon Short-Term Incentive Plan included adjusted EPS, free cash flow, total revenue, and diversity and sustainability. Cyber security and data privacy are vitally important issues for Verizon and should be included too, as we believe it would incentivize leadership to reduce risk, enhance financial performance, and increase accountability.

Items 4 – 8 Shareholder Proposals

Item 7: Cybersecurity and Data Privacy

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote AGAINST this proposal for the following reasons:

The Board believes that Verizon's approach to managing cybersecurity and data privacy risk – having robust cybersecurity and privacy programs in place – is the most effective way to prevent security incidents.

- Verizon has a dedicated Chief Information Security Officer whose team is responsible for leading enterprise-wide information security strategy, policy, standards, architecture and processes. Verizon's comprehensive information security program includes, among other aspects, vulnerability management, antivirus and malware protection, file integrity monitoring, encryption and access control. Verizon maintains up-to-date security and incident response plans to handle cybersecurity incidents, including those involving unauthorized access to private information.
- Verizon has a dedicated Chief Privacy Officer whose team advises the business on privacy risks and assesses the effectiveness of privacy controls. Verizon has technical, administrative and physical safeguards in place to help protect against unauthorized access to, use or disclosure of customer information and data we collect and store.
- All Verizon employees undergo annual training on Verizon's policies and procedures relating to privacy and information security and are subject to a strict code of conduct that requires them to protect the privacy and security of customer information consistent with the Company's policies.

The Board expects Verizon's executives to take all necessary steps to protect Verizon's systems and networks from unauthorized access or damage and maintain strong and meaningful privacy and security protections for our customers' information. However, the Board does not think that adding cybersecurity and data privacy targets into Verizon's executive compensation program would have the presumed effect of preventing a network or data security breach because there is not necessarily a correlation between an executive's actions and the prevention of cyber or data security incidents. For example, a company's networks and information systems may be infiltrated by a malicious state actor even though an executive has taken all reasonable precautions and allocated substantial resources to protective technologies, security and privacy protocols and employee training.

Moreover, the Board does not view cybersecurity and data privacy performance measures as analogous to the adjusted EPS, free cash flow, total revenue, and diversity and carbon abatement performance metrics that Verizon uses in its short-term incentive awards. While there are mathematical and/or scientifically accepted methodologies for quantifying such metrics and assessing a company's performance in those areas from period to period, at this time there is no general accepted methodology for measuring "success" in the area of cybersecurity and data privacy.

For these reasons, the Board does not believe that incorporating the proposed measures into Verizon's executive compensation program would have the intended effect of improving the Company's cybersecurity and data privacy risk management programs and policies.

Item 8: Severance Approval Policy

Jack K. and Ilene Cohen, owners of 877 shares of Verizon's common stock, propose the following:

Shareholder Ratification of Executive Severance Packages

RESOLVED: Verizon shareholders urge the Board to seek shareholder approval of any senior executive officer's new or renewed compensation package that provides for severance or termination payments with an estimated total value exceeding 2.99 times the sum of the executive's base salary plus target short-term bonus.

"Severance or termination payments" include any cash, equity or other compensation that is paid out or vests due to a senior executive's termination for any reason. Such payments include those provided under employment agreements, severance plans, and change-in control clauses in long-term equity plans. Such payments do not include life insurance, pension benefits, or other deferred compensation earned and vested prior to termination.

"Total value" of these payments includes: lump-sum payments; payments offsetting tax liabilities; perquisites or benefits not vested under a plan generally available to management employees; post-employment consulting fees or office expense; and equity awards if vesting is accelerated, or a performance condition waived, due to termination.

The Board shall retain the option to seek shareholder approval after material terms are agreed upon.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

While we support generous performance-based pay, we believe that requiring shareholder ratification of "golden parachute" severance packages with a total cost exceeding 2.99 times base salary plus target bonus better aligns compensation with shareholder interests.

According to the 2018 Proxy (page 57), if then-CEO Lowell McAdam terminated without cause, whether or not there is a change in control, he could have received an estimated $26.45 million in termination payments, five times his 2017 base salary plus short-term bonus. He would likewise receive $26.45 million for termination due to retirement, disability or death. McAdam stepped down as CEO in August and retired at year-end 2018.

Similarly, EVP Marni Walden became entitled to receive $15 million – more than six times her 2017 base salary plus short-term bonus – under the terms of the Senior Manager Severance Plan when she separated from service during 2018 (page 57).

These termination payments are in addition to compensation earned prior to separation that pay millions more, including executive life insurance and pension and nonqualified deferred compensation plans.

The majority of termination payments result from the accelerated vesting of outstanding Performance Stock Units (PSUs) and Restricted Stock Units (RSUs).

If a senior executive terminates within a year after a "change in control," all outstanding PSUs immediately "vest at target level performance" (page 56). Had the executive not terminated, the PSUs would not vest until the end of the performance period (up to three years later) – and could be worthless if performance or tenure conditions are not satisfied.

This practice effectively waives performance conditions that justify Verizon's annual grants of "performance-based" restricted stock, in our view.

We believe Verizon's severance policy should be updated to include the total cost of termination payments, including the cost of accelerated vesting of RSUs and PSUs that otherwise would not have been earned or vested until after the executive's termination.

Please VOTE FOR this proposal.

Items 4 – 8 Shareholder Proposals

Item 8: Severance Approval Policy

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote AGAINST this proposal for the following reasons:

Verizon already has a longstanding policy to obtain shareholder ratification of any new executive employment agreement or severance agreement that provides for severance benefits with a total cash value exceeding 2.99 times the sum of the executive's base salary plus target short-term incentive opportunity. The proposal would significantly expand this policy by including the total estimated value of outstanding equity awards in the calculation of severance benefits. The Board believes that the proposal is not in the best interests of shareholders for the following reasons:

Proposal could create misalignment of pay and performance. In order to align executives' and shareholders' interests and encourage the creation of long-term shareholder value, all of Verizon's senior leaders receive long-term equity awards in the form of restricted stock units and performance stock units as part of their annual compensation package. Currently, the grant date value of the named executive officers' equity award represents more than half of their total compensation opportunity each year. At the current equity award levels, the estimated total value of each new grant plus any outstanding grants would trigger the shareholder approval requirement of the proposal. Because the annual equity grants could not be finalized until the next shareholder meeting, the proposal would make the current compensation program impractical to administer. To avoid obtaining shareholder approval of the executives' compensation packages every year, the Board's Human Resources Committee would have to redesign the executive compensation program to significantly reduce the amount of equity in the variable versus fixed pay compensation mix. For this reason, the Board believes that the proposal would have the effect of reducing the executives' exposure to the Company's common stock and accordingly result in misalignment with shareholder interests.

Proposal could put Verizon at a competitive disadvantage. The Board also believes that the proposal could have an adverse effect on Verizon's ability to recruit and retain leadership talent because a significant portion of the executives' annual compensation would be uncertain and at risk for at least the first four months of the year until a shareholder vote could be held.

Proposal could create increased risk for shareholders. The proposal directly conflicts with Verizon's shareholder-approved, broad-based Long-Term Incentive Plan, which expressly provides for acceleration of outstanding equity awards in the event of an involuntary termination following a change in control of the Company. The Board believes, and our shareholders have agreed, that this provision encourages our executive officers, who might be distracted by a potential loss of employment, to remain with the Company and diligently work to achieve Board- and shareholder-approved goals, including completing a transformative transaction and any related transition process. Indeed, a substantial majority of companies include this type of provision in their equity awards because it promotes stability and focus during a time of potential uncertainty. By effectively requiring the elimination of this important retention tool, the proposal could increase risk for shareholders in change in control transactions.

Proposal discourages the use of performance-based equity awards. Except in the case of termination following a change in control, Verizon does not waive any performance conditions with respect to outstanding performance-based equity awards. Payouts are determined at the end of the applicable award cycle, and there is no guarantee of any payout amount. Despite the fact that the payout of an executive's performance stock unit award can be zero, the proposal requires that the full target value of that award be used in calculating the value of severance benefits. In other words, it treats a performance-based equity award the same as an award of stock. The Board believes that this discourages the use of performance-based equity awards.

The Board believes that Verizon's existing policy provides reasonable and appropriate limits on severance payments and that the proposal would be contrary to shareholders' interests.

- If you hold your shares in the name of a bank, broker or other institution, you may obtain an admission ticket at the meeting by presenting proof of your ownership of Verizon common stock. For example, you may bring your form of Notice of Internet Availability, voting instruction form or a letter from your bank or broker confirming that you owned Verizon common stock on March 4, 2019, the record date for the meeting.

The meeting facility is accessible to all shareholders. If you require any special accommodations, please mail your request to the Assistant Corporate Secretary at the address shown under “Contacting Verizon” no later than April 12, 2019.

For safety and security reasons, we do not permit anyone to bring large bags, briefcases or packages into the meeting room or to record or photograph the meeting.

This proxy statement and the 2018 Annual Report are available at www.edocumentview.com/vz.

If you are a registered holder, you can also view or download these materials when you vote online at www.envisionreports.com/vz.

Voting Procedures and Results

Who may vote?

Shareholders of record as of the close of business on March 4, 2019, the record date, may vote at the meeting. As of March 4, 2019, there were approximately 4.13 billion shares of common stock outstanding and entitled to vote.

How do I vote my shares?

Registered Shares. If you hold your shares in your own name, you may vote by proxy in four convenient ways:

Online

Go to www.envisionreports.com/vz and follow the instructions. You will need to enter certain information that is printed on your proxy card or Notice of Internet Availability of Proxy Materials or included in your email notification. You can also use this website to elect to be notified by email that future proxy statements and annual reports are available online instead of receiving printed copies of those materials by mail.

Phone

Call toll-free 1-800-652-VOTE (8683) within the United States, U.S. territories and Canada and follow the instructions. You will need to provide certain information that is printed on your proxy card or Notice of Internet Availability of Proxy Materials or included in your email notification.

Mail

Complete, sign and date your proxy card and return it in the envelope provided. If you plan to attend the Annual Meeting, please retain the admission ticket attached to the proxy card.

In person

You may also vote in person at the meeting as long as your shares are not held through the Verizon Savings Plan and you follow any applicable instructions.

Verizon Savings Plan shares. If you are or were an employee and hold shares in a current or former Verizon savings plan, the proxy that you submit will provide your voting instructions to the plan trustee. You may vote online, by telephone or by returning the proxy card in the envelope provided. You may attend the annual meeting, but you cannot vote your savings plan shares in person. If you do not submit a proxy, the plan trustee will vote your plan shares in the same proportion as the shares for which the trustee receives voting instructions from other participants in that plan. To allow sufficient time for the savings plan trustees to tabulate the vote of the plan shares, your vote must be received before the close of business on April 29, 2019.

Street name shares. If you hold shares through a bank, broker or other institution, you will receive material from that firm explaining how to vote.

How does voting by proxy work?

By giving us your proxy, you authorize the proxy committee to vote your shares in accordance with the instructions you provide. You may vote for or against any or all of the Director candidates and any or all of the other proposals. You may also abstain from voting.

Your proxy provides voting instructions for all Verizon shares that are registered in your name on March 4, 2019 and all shares that you hold in a current or former Verizon savings plan or in your Verizon Direct Invest Plan account.

If you return your signed proxy card but do not specify how to vote, the proxy committee will vote your shares in favor of the Director candidates listed on the proxy card, in favor of the ratification of the independent registered public accounting firm, and in favor of the advisory vote to approve executive compensation. Unless instructed otherwise, the proxy committee will vote your shares against the shareholder proposals. The proxy committee also has the discretionary authority to vote your shares on any other matter that is properly brought before the annual meeting. You may designate a proxy other than the proxy committee by striking out the name(s) of the proxy committee and inserting the name(s) of your chosen representative(s). The representative(s) you designate must present the signed proxy card at the meeting in order for your shares to be voted.

Can I change my vote?

Registered shares. If you hold your shares in your own name, you can revoke your proxy before it is exercised by delivering a written notice to the Assistant Corporate Secretary at the address given under “Contacting Verizon.” You can change your vote by voting again online or by telephone or by returning a later-dated proxy card to Computershare Trust Company, N.A. at the address given under “Contacting Verizon.” Your changed vote must be received before the polls close at the annual meeting. You can also change your vote by voting in person at the annual meeting.

Verizon Savings Plan shares. If you hold shares in a current or former Verizon savings plan, you can change your voting instructions for those shares by voting again online or by telephone or by returning a later-dated proxy card to Computershare Trust Company, N.A. at the address given under “Contacting Verizon.” To allow sufficient time for the savings plan trustees to tabulate the vote of the plan shares, your changed vote must be received before the close of business on April 29, 2019.

Street name shares. If you hold your shares through a bank, broker or other institution, you can change your voting instructions for those shares by voting again online or by telephone. Please check with that firm for additional instructions on how to revoke your proxy or change your vote.

What vote is required to elect a Director or approve a proposal?

Directors are elected by a majority of the votes cast in an uncontested election. The affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast is required to approve each of the other management and shareholder proposals.

In order to officially conduct the meeting, we must have a quorum present. This means that at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Verizon common stock that are eligible to vote must be represented at the meeting either in person or by proxy. If a quorum is not present, we will reschedule the annual meeting for a later date.

How are the votes counted?

Each share is entitled to one vote on each Director and on each matter presented at the annual meeting. Shares owned by Verizon, which are called treasury shares, do not count toward the quorum and are not voted.

Abstentions. Under our bylaws, we do not count abstentions in determining the total number of votes cast on any item. We only count abstentions in determining whether a quorum is present. This means that abstentions have no effect on the election of Directors or on the outcome of the vote on any proposal.

Failures to vote. Failures to vote will have no effect on the election of Directors or on the outcome of the vote on any proposal.

Broker non-votes. The failure of a bank, broker or other institution to cast a vote with respect to any proposal (for example, because it did not receive voting instructions from the beneficial owner) will have the same effect as a failure to vote.

Is my vote confidential?

It is our policy to maintain the confidentiality of proxy cards, ballots and voting tabulations that identify individual shareholders, except where disclosure is required by law and in other limited circumstances.

Where can I find the voting results of the annual meeting?

We will report the voting results on a Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC no later than May 8, 2019. We will also post the voting results on the Corporate Governance section of our website at www.verizon.com/about/investors promptly after the meeting.

Who tabulates and certifies the vote?

Computershare Trust Company, N.A. will tabulate the vote, and independent inspectors of election will certify the results.

Proxy Materials

May I receive my materials electronically?

We encourage registered shareholders to sign up for electronic delivery of future proxy materials.

- You may sign up when you vote online at www.envisionreports.com/vz.
- If you have enrolled in Computershare's Investor Center, you may sign up by accessing your account at www.computershare.com/verizon and clicking on "My Profile" and then "Communication Preference."

Once you sign up for electronic delivery, you will no longer receive a printed copy of the proxy materials unless you specifically request one. Each year you will receive an email explaining how to access the proxy materials online as well as how to vote your shares online. You may suspend electronic delivery of the proxy materials at any time by accessing your account through Computershare's Investor Center at www.computershare.com/verizon and clicking on "My Profile" and then "Communication Preference."

There are several shareholders at my address. Why did we receive only one set of proxy materials?

For registered shareholders, we have adopted a procedure called "householding" that was approved by the SEC. This means that we send only one copy of the proxy statement and annual report to any registered shareholders sharing the same last name and home address, regardless of how many shareholders reside at that address, unless a shareholder submits a request to Computershare to receive individual copies using one of the methods shown under "Contacting Verizon."

If you would like to receive individual copies of the proxy materials, we will provide them promptly. Please send your request to Computershare using one of the methods shown under "Contacting Verizon." Householding does not apply to shareholders who have signed up for electronic delivery of proxy materials.

Why am I receiving more than one set of proxy materials?

You may be receiving more than one set of proxy materials in your household because:

- You and another member of your household are both registered shareholders;
- You are a registered shareholder and also hold shares through a bank, broker or other institution;
- You hold shares through more than one bank, broker or other institution; or
- You and another member of your household hold shares through different banks, brokers or institutions.

You may request a single set of proxy materials as described below, but in order to vote all of your shares, you and any other member of your household will need to follow the voting instructions provided on each proxy card or Notice of Internet Availability of Proxy Materials or email notification that you receive, whether it comes from Computershare or from a bank, broker or other institution.

How can I request a single set of proxy materials for my household?

If you are a registered shareholder and you are receiving more than one set of proxy materials, please contact Computershare by one of the methods shown under "Contacting Verizon" to request a single set. This request will become effective approximately 30 days after receipt and will remain in effect for future mailings unless you or another registered shareholder within your household changes the instruction or provides Computershare with a new mailing address.

If you hold your shares through a broker, bank or other institution, you can contact that firm to request a single set of proxy materials from that firm.

Who is Verizon's proxy solicitor?

Innisfree M&A Incorporated is helping us distribute proxy materials and solicit votes for a base fee of $30,000, plus reimbursable expenses and customary charges. In addition to solicitations by mail, Verizon employees and the proxy solicitor may solicit proxies in person or by telephone. Verizon will bear the cost of soliciting proxies.

Shareholder Proposals

How do I submit a shareholder proposal to be included in the proxy statement for next year's annual meeting?

Any shareholder may submit a proposal to be included in the proxy statement for the 2020 Annual Meeting of Shareholders by sending it to the Assistant Corporate Secretary at Verizon Communications Inc., 1095 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10036. We must receive the proposal no later than November 19, 2019. We are not required to include any proposal in our proxy statement that we receive after that date or that does not comply with applicable SEC rules.

How do I nominate a Director to be included in the proxy statement for next year's annual meeting?

Under the "proxy access" provisions of our bylaws, any shareholder or group of up to 20 shareholders who have maintained continuous qualifying ownership of at least 3% or more of Verizon's outstanding common stock for at least the previous three years may include a specified number of Director nominees in our proxy materials. The bylaws require that the shareholder proponents:

- Notify us in writing between October 20, 2019 and November 19, 2019; and
- Provide the additional required information and comply with the other requirements contained in our bylaws.

How do I otherwise nominate a Director or bring other business before next year's annual meeting?

Under our bylaws, a shareholder may nominate an individual to serve as a Director or bring other business before the 2020 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. The bylaws require that the shareholder:

- Notify us in writing between January 3, 2020, and February 2, 2020;
- Include his or her name, record address and Verizon share ownership;
- Include specific information about the shareholder proponent, any beneficial owner, and any nominee and their respective affiliates and associates, and provide specified agreements by certain of those parties; and
- Update this information as of the record date and after any subsequent change.

The notice required for any such nomination must be sent to the Assistant Corporate Secretary at Verizon Communications Inc., 1095 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10036. Shareholders may request a copy of the bylaw requirements by writing to the Assistant Corporate Secretary at that address.

Must a shareholder proponent appear personally at the annual meeting to present his or her proposal?

A shareholder proponent or the proponent's qualified representative must attend the meeting to present the proposal. Under our bylaws, in the event a qualified representative of a shareholder proponent will appear at the annual meeting to present the proposal, the shareholder proponent must provide notice of the designation, including the identity of the representative, to the Assistant Corporate Secretary at the address specified under "Contacting Verizon" at least 48 hours prior to the meeting.
