DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA UNCLAIMED PROPERTY LIST

The District government has millions to return — and it's time to stake your claim.

The District of Columbia Office of Finance and Treasury is trying to locate current and former District residents to help them claim money and other assets held in custody for them by the District. Assets are collected under the Unclaimed Property Act only after the holders have first attempted to locate owners.

Check the list inside to see if your name is among the most recently added accounts, or check the websites below to search our complete database.

If your name appears on the list in this section, you could have money waiting for you.

What is unclaimed property?

Unclaimed Property is defined as all personal property that has remained unclaimed by the owner for approximately three years. Unclaimed Property may include:

- Unclaimed wages
- Savings and checking accounts
- Money orders and travelers checks
- Certificates of deposit
- Customer deposits or overpayments
- Paid life insurance policies
- Gift certificates and Christmas club accounts
- Stocks and dividends
- Utility deposits
- Jewelry

Does unclaimed property include real estate, boats or cars?

No. Unclaimed property does not include real estate, boats, cars or bicycles.

How can I prevent my property from becoming unclaimed?

Keep accounts active. Make sure you make a deposit, withdrawal or call the institution (and tell them to make a record of your call). Any of these steps is considered owner activity and will prevent your assets from becoming unclaimed.

When is property considered unclaimed?

If an account at a financial institution or business has no activity or if a check is unclaimed for three years, the property in that account is considered unclaimed and must be reported to the District of Columbia. For specific dormancy periods, please refer to the checklist available on the Internet at www.cfo.dc.gov.

What do I do if my name is listed here?

You can file a claim online by visiting our website www.cfo.dc.gov or complete and mail us the form on the back page of this listing and we'll mail you a claim form. Your claim will be processed in the order received.

Is there a deadline on making a claim?

No. You can make a claim at any time since unclaimed property is kept in custodial capacity until the rightful owner or heir can be found.

Is this the complete list of unclaimed property?

No. If you would like to check the complete file for your name, mail the form provided in this section or view our web site at www.cfo.dc.gov.

Visit us at www.cfo.dc.gov for an online search of our complete database.

Sponsored by the Government of the District of Columbia. Muriel Bowser, Mayor - Jeffrey S. DeWitt, Chief Financial Officer - Jeffrey Barnette-Deputy Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer. Office of the Chief Financial Officer, Office of Finance and Treasury, Unclaimed Property Division. Contact us at www.cfo.dc.gov or www.missingmoney.com.

Washington, DC- The Office of the Chief Financial Officer (OCFO) - Unclaimed Property Unit announces that items held by the Unclaimed Property Unit are now up for bid on eBay, the Internet auction web site. These items include jewelry, coins and other collectibles. All money collected from auctioned items is held by the District and can be claimed anytime by the original owner (or rightful heirs). New items will be made available every week through eBay. Items listed for sale will be described in detail and certified as genuine by a certified appraiser. The link to the eBay web site can be found on the Unclaimed Property homepage at: <https://cfo.dc.gov/service/unclaimed-property>.

District of Columbia Government employees and their immediate family members are prohibited from bidding on any of the above auction item(s).

You can search for property and submit a claim at the Unclaimed Property homepage mentioned above or through www.missingmoney.com.

The District of Columbia Government Unclaimed Property Unit is now on eBay.

Washington, DC- The Office of the Chief Financial Officer (OCFO) - Unclaimed Property Unit announces that items held by the Unclaimed Property Unit are now up for bid on eBay, the Internet auction web site. These items include jewelry, coins and other collectibles. All money collected from auctioned items is held by the District and can be claimed anytime by the original owner (or rightful heirs). New items will be made available every week through eBay. Items listed for sale will be described in detail and certified as genuine by a certified appraiser. The link to the eBay web site can be found on the Unclaimed Property homepage at: <https://cfo.dc.gov/service/unclaimed-property>.

District of Columbia Government employees and their immediate family members are prohibited from bidding on any of the above auction item(s).

You can search for property and submit a claim at the Unclaimed Property homepage mentioned above or through www.missingmoney.com.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA GOVERNMENT

Do You Operate A Business?

If So, Read On...

The District of Columbia Office of Finance and Treasury is able to return unclaimed property to its rightful owners, thanks to the cooperation of people like you. When you comply with the requirements of the Unclaimed Property Act, you are doing your part to see that this property ends up where it belongs. The District Unclaimed Property Act was passed in 1980. All companies except insurance companies are required to report unclaimed funds no later than November 1 for the year ending the preceding June 30. Insurance companies report on May 1 for the year ending the preceding December 30.

NOTE: Walk-in claimants are not allowed. Please call 202-442-8181 if you feel you need assistance or need to make an appointment to meet with a claims specialist.

Do other states have unclaimed property records that I can check for unclaimed funds?

Yes. There is an unclaimed property office in each state that you may contact to find out if there are funds in your name. This may be especially important if you live or work in another state. The District of Columbia Unclaimed Property Unit will be happy to provide you with the names and addresses of unclaimed property offices in other states.

What should I do if someone offers to help me locate unclaimed money for a fee?

Call our office first. Signing an agreement to have someone assist you in recovering unclaimed property may entail the payment of substantial fees. Such an agreement is unenforceable in the District of Columbia, if it covers property which has not been in the state's custody at least seven (7) months (D.C. Code 41-137).

Does the unclaimed property division have records of unclaimed property belonging to businesses as well as individuals?

Yes. A substantial proportion of the unclaimed funds belong to businesses. Businesses file claim similar to individuals; however, the individual requesting the fund must be substantiated as being able to collect funds on behalf of the business. Additionally, businesses must be able to verify their corporate federal identification number (FEIN).

It is never too late to claim your money. It is here until claimed.

If your name is listed in the unclaimed property list or you wish to have the complete list searched for your name, cut out and complete the following Inquiry Form.

“There is no deadline for you to claim your money”
