U.S. Department of Education Financial Disclosure Statement

To evaluate a hardship claim, the U.S. Department of Education (the Department) compares the expenses you claim and support against averages spent for those similar expenses by families of the same size and income as yours. The Department considers proven expenses as reasonable up to the amount of these averages. If you claim more for an expense than the average spent by families like yours, you must provide persuasive explanation why the amount you claim is necessary. These average amounts were determined by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) from different government studies. You can find the average expense amount that the Department uses at the following Web site: www.irs.gov and then search for "Collection Financial Standards."

- Complete all items. Do not leave any item blank. If the answer is zero, write zero.
- Provide documentation of expenses. Expenses may not be considered if you do not provide documents supporting the amounts claimed.
- Disclose and provide documentation of household income.
- Failure to provide this information and documentation may result in a denial of your claim of financial hardship.
