"Our Charitable Gift Annuities became an important part of our income, and 'better' income from a tax perspective, because the payments are taxed more favorably than the ordinary income from our IRA."

—Bob Gibb ('44 Sci.), Legacy Associate

Bob and Ruth Gibb established multiple two-life CGAs with the WSU Foundation that provided them with attractive, reliable returns and afforded them the ability to choose the WSU program(s) that will ultimately benefit from their gifts.

Charitable Gift Annuity Disclosure

Description of the Washington State University Foundation

The Washington State University Foundation (hereinafter “WSU Foundation”), a Washington nonprofit corporation and a tax-exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, was organized and incorporated in 1979 for the purpose of stimulating voluntary private support from alumni, parents, friends, corporations, foundations, and others for the sole and exclusive benefit of Washington State University. The WSU Foundation exists to raise and manage private resources in support of the mission and priorities of Washington State University, provide opportunities for students attending Washington State University, and create a margin of institutional excellence unattainable with state funds alone.

Description of a Gift Annuity

A gift annuity is a simple contract between the donor and the WSU Foundation. In exchange for a current gift of cash, marketable securities or other property, the WSU Foundation promises to make fixed, guaranteed payments for life to one or two annuitants—usually, but not necessarily, the donor. The amount paid is based on the age of the annuitant, in accordance with the WSU Foundation’s rate schedule.

Not a Commercial Investment

Entering into a gift annuity agreement with the WSU Foundation is not, and should not be viewed as, an investment. Rather, it is a tax-wise way to retain the right to receive annuity payments for life and make a current charitable contribution of the remainder interest to the WSU Foundation. In this respect, a gift annuity issued by the WSU Foundation is different from a commercial annuity. While both types of annuities make payments that are usually partially tax-free, the charitable donation aspect of establishing a gift annuity may result in additional tax benefits that are not available when purchasing a commercial annuity. These tax benefits may include an immediate federal income tax charitable deduction and possible future estate tax savings.

Gift Annuity Rates

Generally, the gift annuity rates paid by the WSU Foundation are those suggested by the American Council on Gift Annuities, a national organization of charities established in 1927. These rates have been calculated to provide attractive payments to the annuitant, with a significant portion of the gifted property remaining for the charity. Because a charitable gift is involved, the rates are lower than those available through commercial annuities offered by insurance companies and other financial institutions.

Assets Backing Annuity

The annuity payments are a general obligation of the WSU Foundation and are backed by all of the WSU Foundation’s assets (subject to security interests and gift restrictions). On June 30, 2020, the WSU Foundation’s total assets were more than $570 million. WSU Foundation also maintains a gift annuity reserve fund in accordance with the laws of the states in which the WSU Foundation offers gift annuities. Assets received by the WSU Foundation for gift annuities are managed by TIAA Kaspick in a disciplined manner and are commingled with other such gifts for investment purposes. If the WSU Foundation should ever fail financially, individuals entitled to receive annuities will qualify as general creditors of the WSU Foundation.

Governance

Responsibility for governing the WSU Foundation is vested in its governing board composed of individuals having high business acumen and devotion to the mission and initiatives of Washington State University and the WSU Foundation. Common investment funds managed by the WSU Foundation are exempt from registration requirements of the federal and state securities laws, pursuant to the exemption for collective investment funds and similar funds maintained by charitable organizations under the Philanthropy Protection Act of 1995 (P.L. 104-62) and the Securities Act of Washington (RCW 21.20.310). Information in this document is provided in accordance with the requirements of applicable law.

Points to Remember

- A contribution for a gift annuity is irrevocable.
- Inflation can reduce the buying power of your fixed payments over time.
- The right to annuity payments may not be assigned to any person or organization other than the WSU Foundation.
- The gift date is the date when you actually transfer assets. In the case of cash, it is the date you mail or deliver a check. In the case of an electronic transfer of securities, it is the date they are received into the account of the WSU Foundation. If you have certificates, it is the date they are properly endorsed and mailed or delivered. Contact the WSU Foundation regarding funding a gift annuity with other types of assets.
- The gift annuity is governed by applicable state laws.
