- D. The SUD professional must not engage in any type of sexual activity with a service recipient.
- E. SUD professionals should adhere to the same principles of professionalism outlined in the Code of Ethics online as they would offline. With this in mind, the following are additional guidelines regarding the use of technology:
  - 1. SUD professionals are discouraged from interacting with current or past direct service recipients on personal social networking sites. It is recommended that SUD professional establish a professional social networking site for this purpose.
    - a. SUD professionals should not affiliate with their own direct service recipients on personal social media sites.
    - b. SUD professionals use professional and ethical judgment when including photos and/or comments online or in prevention materials.
    - c. SUD professionals should not provide their personal contact information to direct service recipient, i.e. home/personal cell phone number, personal email, social media accounts, etc. nor engage in communication with direct service recipient through these mediums except in cases of agency/professional business
  - 2. It is the responsibility of the SUD professional to ensure, to the best of his or her ability, that professional networks used for sharing confidential information are secure and that only verified and registered users have access to the information.
  - 3. SUD professionals should be aware that any information they post on a social networking site may be disseminated (whether intended or not) to a larger audience, and that what they say may be taken out of context or remain publicly available online in perpetuity. When posting content online, they should always remember that they are representing the SUD profession, their organization and their community, and so should always act professionally and take caution not to post information that is ambiguous or that could be misconstrued or taken out of context. It is recommended that employees not identify themselves as connected to their agency on their personal website.
  - 4. Employees should be aware that employers may reserve the right to edit, modify, delete, or review organizational Internet communications and that writers assume all risks related to the security, privacy and confidentiality of their posts. When moderating any website, the SUD professional should delete inaccurate information or other's posts that violate the privacy and confidentiality of service recipients or that are of an unprofessional nature.
  - 5. SUD professionals should refer, as appropriate, to an employer's social media or social networking policy for direction on the proper use of social media and social networking in relation to their employment.

Principle 10: Inter professional Relationships

The SUD professional must treat colleagues with respect, courtesy and fairness, and must afford the same professional courtesy to other professionals.

- A. The SUD professional must not offer professional services to a service recipient in counseling with another professional except with the knowledge of the other professional or after the termination of the service recipient's relationship with the other professional.
- B. The SUD professional must cooperate with duly constituted professional ethics committees and promptly supply necessary information unless constrained by the demands of confidentiality.

Principle 11: Remuneration

The SUD professional must establish financial arrangements in professional practice and in accord with the professional standards that safeguard the best interests of the service recipient, of the SUD professional and of the profession.

- A. The SUD professional must consider carefully the ability of the service recipient to meet the financial cost in establishing rates for professional services.
- B. The SUD professional must not send or receive any commission or rebate or any other form of remuneration for referral of service recipient for professional services. The SUD professional must not engage in fee splitting.
- C. The SUD professional in clinical or counseling practice must not use one's relationship with service recipients to promote personal gains or the profit of an agency or commercial enterprise of any kind.
- D. The SUD professional must not accept a private fee or any gift or gratuity for professional work with a person who is entitled to such services through an institution or agency. The policy of a particular agency may make explicit provisions for private work with its service recipients by members of its staff, and in such instances, the service recipient must be fully apprised of all policies affecting the service recipient.

Principle 12: Societal Obligations

The SUD professional is expected to advocate changes in public policy and legislation to afford opportunity and choice for all persons whose lives are impaired by the substance use disorders. The SUD professional must inform the public through active civic and professional participation in community affairs of the effects of substance use disorders and must act to guarantee that all persons, especially the needy and disadvantaged, have access to the necessary resources and services. The SUD professional must adopt a personal and professional stance, which promotes the well-being of all human beings.

I have read, understand and commit to the preceding Ethical Standards.

PROCEDURE FOR CODE OF ETHICS COMPLAINTS

TCB has a process established to provide an avenue through which persons can file complaints about the ethical conduct of a TCB SUD professional or an applicant to the certification system. This provides a procedure and a forum by which such a professional or applicant may make a good-faith dispute and respond to such complaints. This system is used to adjudicate complaints, which, have been found to be irresolvable through other means. Prior to employing the process, persons are encouraged to attempt to resolve the situation through other means, i.e., personally with the SUD professional or through the SUD professional's supervisor/employing agency. If this means fail or do not satisfactorily resolve the circumstances, the disciplinary review process may be the appropriate vehicle to address the complaint.

Ethic complaints must be submitted in writing and mailed to TCB Headquarters at 401 Ranch Road 620 South, Ste. 310, Austin, and TX 78734
