

A Customized Approach to Compensation Data

The rate and cost of turnover is higher than ever. Competing in this dynamic landscape requires comprehensive compensation market data.

We help banks and credit unions understand market pay practices and assess their competitive position. The Regional and Community Banking Survey is the largest U.S. compensation survey of its kind and provides customized and comprehensive data on salary, bonus, commissions, and long-term incentives for 850+ bank and credit union positions.

Flexible

Interactive Excel tool to analyze market data

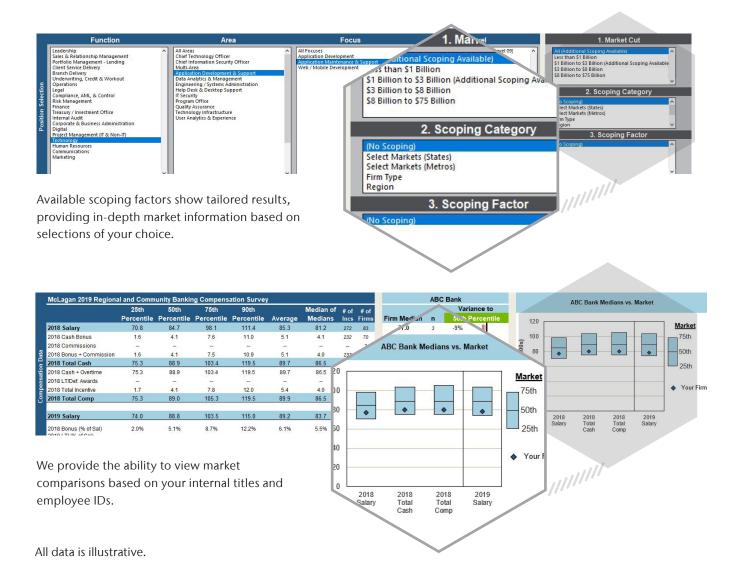

Interactive Excel Tool

McLagan allows you to view customized dashboards of your firm's pay next to competitors via an interactive Excel tool. Any position, data cut, and compensation element is just a few clicks away.

Tailored dashboards and customized views of your firm's pay alongside the market via an interactive Excel tool.

Key benefits

- Search compensation data by McLagan job titles and your firm's titles
- Job and level descriptions in the same window
- Selectable scoping factors (assets, region, revenue, employees, firm type, and geographic wage differential)
- Breakouts for select states and metro areas
- Select data based upon group or individual employee
- Data includes salary, cash bonus, and long-term incentives for all positions

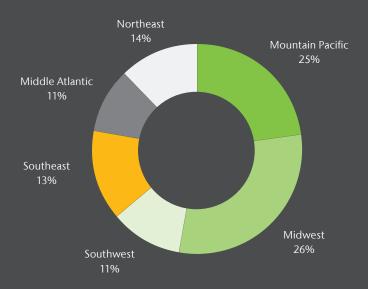

3

Participation in our compensation survey has grown each year. The survey has become the largest in the country for banks and credit unions over $1 billion in assets.

Compensation and Staffing Analysis

The survey includes a compensation and staffing analysis to provide better insight on how your firm compares to the market across a number of key metrics.

Key benefits

Market comparison of headcount by infrastructure department.

Staffing profile (mix of junior, intermediate, senior staff) in key business areas.

Analysis of headcount and salary spend by department.

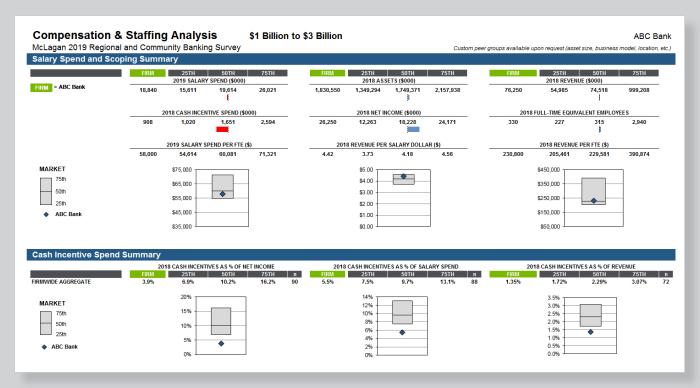

Incentive payout prevalence and depth within the firm by salary range.

View your salary spend as it relates to assets and revenue.

View your data in context of custom peer groups to get the information you need for strategic business decisions.

Unlocking Deeper Insights from Data

We're much more than a data provider. Our consultants specialize in providing custom, focused expertise to help our clients solve their most pressing human capital challenges. Our companion survey offerings include the FLSA Prevalence, Incentive Size and Depth Analysis, Salary Structure Diagnostic, and Corporate Title Analysis. These tools give you deeper understanding of your data supporting meaningful, data-driven business decisions.

FLSA Prevalence

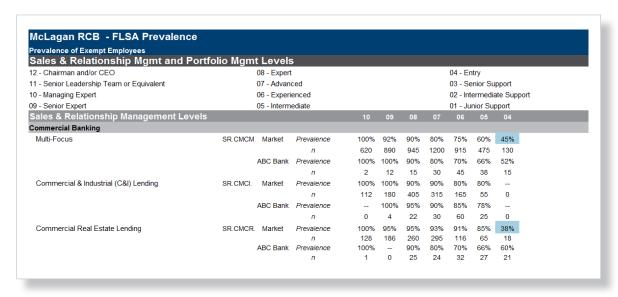

Classifying jobs and making exemption decisions requires a baseline understanding of how the market treats similar roles. With limited resources and time, understanding which jobs are at risk reduces time spent and lessens the load of a full job analysis. Our survey data supports a holistic, robust process for evaluating jobs and making informed decisions. You'll get a market-view of what your peers consider exempt and non-exempt positions.

Using this tool, you can answer questions like:

• What is the prevalence of exempt employees in the commercial lending space?

Sample output

- Actual 2019 short-term (cash) incentives and long-term (equity) incentives.
- Break out by position groups, i.e., sales and relationship management roles, or across all firm employees.
- View of your firm versus the market based on survey levels and or salary range.

Using this tool, you can answer questions like:

- How far down in the organization do long-term incentives get paid?
 - How large are the short-term incentives for entry level commercial lenders?
 - How does the prevalence of incentives differ between front office and back office positions?

Sample output

Unlocking Deeper Insights from Data

Salary Structure Diagnostic

For most financial services roles, salaries represent the majority of pay for an employee. Regular maintenance of your salary structure is critical to ensuring your firm is aligned to the market, that you are controlling costs appropriately, and clearly communicating how employees advance in their career.

Having a consistent annual review process in place reduces administrative burdens and enables HR to proactively focus on addressing key problem areas.

Our exclusive Salary Structure Diagnostic tool does the heavy lifting for you to address:

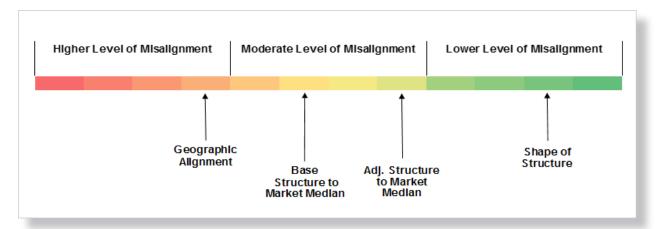

- Your current salary structure
- Your compensation strategy and competitive positioning
- Cost of labor in your office locations
- Market salary range movement

Using this tool, you can answer questions like:

- Is my structure in line with the market?
 - How much are salary ranges moving each year?
 - How are my employees positioned within the current structure?

Sample output

The custom analysis found in the diagnostic provides the market intelligence that you need to evaluate your salary structure and determine the best course of action.

All data is illustrative.

Corporate Title Analysis

Titles such as EVP, SVP, and VP are highly prevalent in the banking industry and facilitate a shared understanding of seniority, both with employees and to your customers.

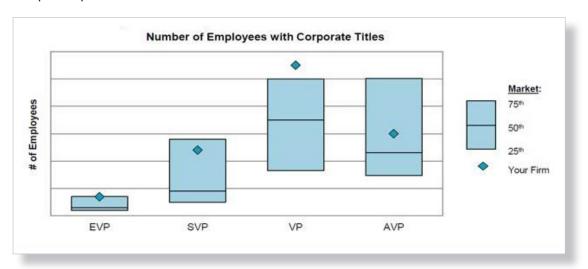

Powered by our Regional and Community Banking Compensation Survey, this analysis provides a customized view of your titles compared to the market and includes:

- Number of unique titles used and number of employees with each title
- Title depth within the organization
- Corporate title alignment across functional area of responsibility
- Salary ranges by title
- Administration guidelines

Using this tool, you can answer questions like:

- What is the typical salary range for each type of corporate title?
 - What is the prevalence of the VP title across sales & relationship management positions?

Sample output
