In celebration of the Centenary of the Worldwide Ahmadiyya Community.

This is a gift from those Ahmadi Muslims who, even in this age, are being persecuted and martyred merely because they love and proclaim the Unity of God. They are an embodiment of the spirit of Bilal.*

*Bilal (may God be pleased with him) was one of the companions of the Holy Prophet Muhammad, peace be upon him. Though he was subjected to extreme forms of torture due to his conversion to Islam, he was prepared to die rather than renounce his belief in the Unity of God.

PREFACE

Islam is a great religion. The secret of its greatness lies in the complete and perfect teachings of the Holy Qur'an and in the fact that the Founder of Islam, the Holy Prophet Muhammad peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, practiced these teachings to the fullest extent. He thus became a perfect and living example of what he taught.

The deep and unbreakable relationship between his practice and teachings left an idelible impression on his Companions. After his death, when his wife Ayesha was asked about the life of the Holy Prophet Muhammad , peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, her answer was:

كَانَ خُلُقُهُ الْقُرْآنَ
"His life was the Qur'an"

There was no contradiction between his word and the Word of God. His revelation was pure, without the least reflection of his personal desires. The Holy Qur'an bears this testimony about him:

وَمَا يَنْطِقُ عَنِ الْهَوَىٰ إِنْ هُوَ إِلَّا وَحْيٌ يُوحَىٰ
"He does not say anything from his own self; all his sayings are in accordance with Divine revelation."

(CH. 53: Al-Najm 4-5)

No wonder then that he is presented in the Holy Qur'an as a perfect model for the whole of mankind and for all times to come. God Almighty says in the Holy Qur'an:

لَكُمْ فِي رَسُولِ اللَّهِ أُسْوَةٌ حَسَنَةٌ
"For you there is a noble example in the Prophet of God."

(CH. 33 Al-Ahzab: 22)

Here, a short selection of Ahadith, that is, Traditions regarding the life, actions and sayings of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, is presented. A study of these sayings provides a brief introduction to the everyday life of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, as well as to his prayers, high moral standards, and his style of preaching.

Though some Traditions are reported to have been written during the lifetime of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, most of them were committed to writing some 200 years after his demise. Despite the fact that most Traditions were collected after such a long period, they can still be considered highly reliable in the light of the following:

As the words of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, were held in very high esteem, all of what he said was immediately memorized by his companions and subsequently repeated, reported and talked about among themselves innumerable times.

The second important factor is that his words were treated with great religious fervour and devotion. Any interpolation or even slight deviation from his original words was considered a crime for which one was answerable to God. The words used by the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, himself were,

"Hell would be the abode of a person who attributes to me that which I did not say."

Thirdly, when people related things about him or from him to others, it was a custom for the receiver of such a message, not only to memorize what he was told, but also to commit to memory the name and particulars of the person who related it to him, so that if his word was questioned, he could quote the authority.

The fourth important aspect is that the Arabs were famous for their excellent memory, and that even before the advent of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, it was not rare to find among them people who had memorized 100,000 verses of Arab poets or even more. In addition to this, it was a common custom to remember family trees. After the advent of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, the moral standard of his followers was raised to a very high degree, and the habit of exaggeration was particularly condemned. Furthermore, great emphasis was laid in the Holy Qur'an, not only on truth, but also on the verification of statements.

As a result of these factors, the Traditions of the Holy Prophet of Islam, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, were treated with very special care, unknown to other systems of collection of historical material.

In the process of collecting these sayings, Muslim scholars worked so meticulously and so much attention was given to accuracy, that the collection of no other historical data can be compared with the compilation of the sayings of the Holy Prophet of Islam, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. Every link in the chain of narrators of a particular Tradition is specified in the major works of Hadith. Even the study of the character of the narrators and their reliability developed into a field of research in its own right. As a result, a new form of knowledge concerning the analysis of Traditions came into being for the first time in human history.

For the benefit of those readers who know very little about Islam, we must mention here that out of the scores of books written on the subject of the Traditions, six are considered to be of extraordinary importance by Muslim scholars. They are known as the Sihah Sittah (The Six Authentic Ones). Most of the Traditions presented in this short collection are taken from these six books. The following is a brief introduction to these books and to the scholars responsible for their compilation:

SAHIHBUKHARI:

This book is considered to be the most authentic book after the Holy Qur'an. The compiler thereof is Muhammad Ismail of Bukhara, commonly known as Imam Bukhari.

(b. 194, d. 256 Hijra; 816-878 A.D.)

SAHIHMUSLIM:

Considered second in importance is Sahih Muslim. This was compiled by Muslim bin Al Hajjaj who was a native of Neshapur in Khorasan.

(b. 202, d.261 Hijra; 824- 883 A.D.)

JAMI AL TIRMIDHI:

Third in order is Jami Al Tirmidhi. The compiler, Imam Muhammad bin Isa was a native of Tirmidh.

(b. 209, d. 279 Hijra; 831-901 A.D.)

SUNANABUDAUD:

Next is Sunan Abu Daud, compiled by Sulaiman bin Al Ashah, known as Abu Daud.

(b. 202, d.275 Hijra; 824-897 A.D.)

SUNANIBNMAJAH:

Considered fifth in degree of authenticity is Sunan ibn Majah. It was compiled by Muhammad bin Majah who was from the famous city of Qizwin in Iraq.

(b.209, d.275 Hijra; 831-897 A.D.)

SUNANNISAI:

The sixth book is Sunan Nisai. It was compiled by Ahmad bin Shuaib, known as "Nisai" after the city of Nisa in Khorasan.

(b. 215, d. 306 Hijra; 837-928 A.D.)

MUWATTA IMAMMALIK:

Besides the Sihah Sittah (The Six Authentic Ones), there is another very important compilation of Traditions known as Muwatta Imam Malik. The compiler, Malik bin Anas, is commonly known as Imam Malik. This book is not included among the Sihah Sittah as it is primarily considered to be a book of jurisprudence, and the Traditions are quoted mostly in discussions of juristic issues. The authenticity of the narrations quoted in Muwatta Imam Malik can be judged by the fact that all of them are included in Sahih Bukhari and Sahih Muslim. Imam Malik's status among the compilers of Traditions is so high that he is known as 'Imamul Muhaddithin' (the leader of the compilers), and all of them have borne testimony to his exalted position.

This selection from the sayings of the Holy Prophet of Islam, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was made by Hadhrat Mirza Tahir Ahmad, Khalifatul Masih IV, the Supreme Head of the Worldwide Ahmadiyya Muslim Community from 1982 to 2003.

Umar, God be pleased with him, narrates the following while he was addressing from the pulpit: "I heard the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, saying the following: 'Deeds are determined by intentions alone. Man will only get that which he really intends. The migration of the one who truly intends to migrate towards Allah and His Messenger will lead him to Allah and His messenger. But whoever keeps worldly objects in view will only get worldly objects. If a man migrates intending to marry a woman that will be his reward. (Bukhari)

"My servant transgresses against Me, while it does not behove him to do so. He abuses Me, while it does not behove him to do so. His transgression against Me is that he says that 'Allah the Almighty, having once created me, will not resurrect me (after I am dead).' I have never begot, nor was I begotten, and there never was one like unto Me."

9. Abu Hurairah, God be pleased with him, narrates that the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said:

To Allah belong some angels of high rank who are always on the move in search of people who assemble for the purpose of remembering Allah. When they come upon an assembly engaged in the remembrance of Allah The Almighty, the angels begin to join them, extending their wings over them, hovering one upon another until the space between the earth and the nearest heaven is filled with their presence. When people disperse, they too depart ascending back to heaven. Then The Almighty asks them, (while He knows full well what had happened), 'Where do you come from?' They answer, 'We come from some servants of Thine who were exalting Thee, extolling Thy greatness, proclaiming Thy Unity, glorifying Thee and supplicating Thee.' Then The Almighty enquires, 'What did they beg of me?' The angels say, 'They were begging Thee for Thy paradise.' Then Allah enquires, 'Have they seen My paradise?' The angels reply, 'No, our Lord, they have not seen Thy paradise.' 'What if they had seen My paradise!' exclaims Allah. 'They also seek refuge in Thee,' continue the angels. Allah says, 'From what do they seek My refuge?' 'From Thy fire,' they reply. Allah asks, 'Have they seen My fire?' The angels reply, 'No, they have not.' 'What if they had seen My fire!' exclaims Allah. Then the angels say, 'They ask for Thy forgiveness.' Allah replies,

'That I have already granted them; also I have bestowed upon them all that they ever beseeched of Me, and I have given them the refuge that they sought of Me.' Then, the angels say, 'O our Lord, there was one among them who was extremely sinful. He was just passing by and chose to sit a while with them.' 'Even him I have forgiven,' says Allah. 'They are so blessed that no one who happens to be in their company remains unblessed.'"* (Muslim)

(* This is a figurative expression of the ever increasing blessings of God upon such an assembly and should not be taken too literally).

"O Lord, grant me Thy love and the love of those who love Thee; and the love of the deeds which will enable me to attain to Thy love. O my Lord, make Thy love dearer to me than my own life, my kith and kin, and even dearer than cold water (to a man dying of thirst in scorching heat)." (Tirmidhi)

11. Anas, God be pleased with him, relates that the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said:

"There are three qualities which, when possessed by someone will enable him to discover the true sweetness of faith: That Allah and His messenger are dearer to him than anything else; that he loves someone purely for the sake of Allah; that after Allah The Almighty has saved him from disbelief, he loathes returning to disbelief as much as he abhors being hurled into fire." 15. Abu Hurairah, God be pleased with him, narrates that the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said:

"Once there was a man who committed excesses against his ownself. When he was about to die, he told his sons, 'Burn my body when I am dead, pulverize my remains into powder, then go to the ocean and throw the ashes into the wind. I swear by Allah, I fear that if God gets hold of me, He would inflict a punishment on me which has not been inflicted upon anyone before.' Then the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said that the sons did as they had been told. But God ordered the earth to retrieve and return to all the particles that belonged to the man's body from wherever they had fallen. Thus the man was brought before God. Allah asked him, 'What made you do that?' He answered, 'My awe and fear of Thee forced me to do it.' So God forgave him." (Bukhari)

Thus he aroused our interest and made us excited about the Book of Allah. Then he said: 'I am also leaving behind the members of my household.'

If a servant became tired while grinding flour, he would help him at this. He would not feel belittled carrying household goods from the market to the house. He would shake hands with the rich and the poor alike. He would always be the first to extend greetings. He would not disdain accepting an invitation not even so small an invitation as to join in eating dates. He would relieve those who toiled. He was mild tempered and kind hearted. His conduct was excellent and he was always cheerful. He would smile but would not laugh loudly; he would not frown even when vexed. He was humble, but not lowly; generous, but not extravagant. "The Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, would say the takbeer (the words: Allaho Akbar) at the beginning of the prayer. After this, he would recite the Fatiha (the first chapter of the Holy Quran). When he bowed down, he would not keep his head high nor would he let it droop. Rather he would keep it in a straight line with his back which stayed horizontal during this posture. When he rose from the bowing position, he would stand upright and then move into the prostrate position. When he raised his head from the prostrate position, he would assume a sitting position and pause a while before going into the second prostration. After every two Rakats he would sit down to recite the Attahiyat (a prescribed recitation). In this posture his right foot was placed vertically and his left foot rested horizontally on the ground. He instructed, 'Do not rest your elbows on the ground during prostration in the manner of a dog.' And he forbade stretching the legs in a devilish posture. He would end the prayer saying, 'Peace and mercy of Allah be upon you.' (Musnad Ahmad)

31. Abu Hurairah, God be pleased with him, narrates that the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said:

"Allah The Almighty says that all the deeds of a man are for his own sake except the fast. 'The fast is kept for My sake alone, and I am the reward for it.' The fast is a shield against evil. Thus, when anyone of you is fasting, he should neither indulge in idle talk nor raise his voice. If anyone abuses him or starts quarreling with him, he should just say, 'I am fasting.' Let Allah the Possessor of Muhammad and his life bear me out: the breath of one who is fasting is purer in the sight of Allah than the fragrance of musk. One who fasts experiences two joys: he is joyful when he breaks the fast, and he is joyful by virtue of the fast when he meets his Lord." (Bukhari)

Anas, God be pleased with him, says, 'When the verse: You cannot attain to righteousness unless you spend out of that which you love' was revealed, Abu Talha, God be pleased with him, went to the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and said, 'O Messenger of Allah, Allah has revealed to you: You cannot attain to righteousness unless you spend out of that which you love', and the dearest of my possessions is the Bayruha garden. I give this as charity in the cause of Allah, and hope that Allah will accept this good deed and preserve it for the Hereafter. Use it, O Messenger of Allah, as Allah directs you.' The Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: 'Excellent! it is a profitable asset. It is a profitable asset. I have heard what you propose, but I think you should give it to your relatives.' Abu Talha, God be pleased with him, said, 'I will do as you have told me, O Messenger of Allah.' 55. Abu Hurairah, God be pleased with him, relates that the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, stated:

"Whoever relieves a believer of his worries in this world will have his afflictions removed by Allah on the Day of Judgment. Whoever is lenient to someone whose means of sustenance have been straitened, Allah will be lenient to him in this world and the next. Whoever covers the weakness of a Muslim, Allah will provide him cover in this world and in the world to come. Allah always stands by the side of the one who is helpful to his brother. Whoever treads a path in pursuit of knowledge, Allah will facilitate thereby his way to Paradise. Those who gather in any of the Houses of Allah to recite the Book of Allah and teach each other, are certainly blessed with tranquility; they are covered by His mercy and are surrounded by the angels. Allah mentions them to those who are closest to Him. The one who is left behind because of his deeds, will not have his cause advanced because of the good name of his family." (Muslim)

79. Abdullah bin Omar, God be pleased with him, says that the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, stated:

"Do not be jealous of each other. Do not inflate prices. Do not hate each other. Do not turn your back on each other. Do not make an offer while two parties are engaged in bargaining. Be true servants of God by becoming brothers to one another."

"Muslims are brothers to (other) Muslims. One should not transgress against the other; he should not treat the other with disdain, nor should he forsake him."

"Here dwells taqwa (the fear of God)" said the Holy Prophet and he pointed to his chest three times. Then he said: 'It is enough to ruin one to disdain one's brother Muslim. The blood, the property and the honour of a Muslim is inviolable to another Muslim.' (Muslim)

The Advent of Imam Mahdi

- ٨٦
عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ قَالَ كُنَّا جُلُوسًا عِنْدَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ
إِذْ نَزَلَتْ عَلَيْهِ سُورَةُ الْجُمُعَةِ فَلَمَّا قَرَأَ وَآخِرِينَ مِنْهُمْ لَمَّا
يَلْحَقُوا بِهِمْ قَالَ رَجُلٌ: مَنْ هَؤُلَاءِ يَأْرَسُونَ اللَّهَ: فَلَمْ
يُرَاجِعْهُ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ حَتَّى سَأَلَهُ مَرَّةً أَوْ مَرَّتَيْنِ أَوْ ثَلَاثًا قَالَ
وَفِينَا سَلْمَانَ الْفَارِسِيَّ قَالَ فَوَضَعَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَدَهُ عَلَى سَلْمَانَ
ثُمَّ قَالَ لَوْ كَانَ الْإِيمَانُ عِنْدَ الثُّرَيَّا لَنَالَهُ رِجَالٌ مِنْ هَؤُلَاءِ.

86. Abu Hurairah, God be pleased with him, narrates:

"When Sura Jum'ah (chapter 62) of the Holy Qur'an was revealed to the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, we happened to be there in his company. When he recited the verse 'wa akhareena minhum lamma yalhaqoo bihim,' that is, 'those of them who would come later and have not yet joined them.'

(This phrase is a part of a verse mentioning the first advent of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, followed by a reference to the future events saying that in the latter days also there would be some people who would attain the rank of the earlier followers of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. Apparently, it speaks of a second advent of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in the latter days, because this subclause is governed by the verb used earlier to refer to the first advent of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) one of those present asked, 'Who are they? O Messenger of Allah!' The Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, did not pay attention. The man repeated the question two or three times. At that time Salman the Persian was also sitting among us. The Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, turned to him, placed his hand on him and said, 'Even if faith ascended to the Pleiades (completely disappearing from the earth), there would be some from his people (In another version 'one man' is mentioned instead of 'some people') who would restore faith (back) to earth." 93. Sulaiman bin 'Amr bin Al Ahwas, God be pleased with him, relates that his father told him that he had witnessed the Last Pilgrimage of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him,:

"The Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, praised Allah and glorified Him and admonished the assembly, and asked: 'Which is the most sacred day? Which is the most sacred day? Which is the most sacred day?' The people replied: 'The day of the greatest hajj, O Messenger of Allah.' The Prophet said: 'Remember then that your lives, your belongings, and your honour have the same sanctity as this day, this city, and this month. No one will be held accountable except for his own deeds. A father will not be accountable for the deeds of his son. A son will not be held accountable for the deeds of his father. Remember that every Muslim is a brother to a Muslim. No one should appropriate anything belonging to his brother, except with his permission. Remember that all interest on loans made in the Days of ignorance is abolished, except for the capital, which remains yours. Do not wrong anyone and you will not be wronged. So also the interest due to 'Abbas bin Abdul Muttalib [a close relative of the Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him,] is abolished entirely. All blood that has been shed in the pagan period is to be left unavenged. The first claim on blood I abolish is that of Ibn Rabi'a bin Al Harith bin 'Abdul Muttalib [a close relative of his] who was fostered among the Banu Layth and whom Hudhayl killed. Admonish each other to treat women with kindness for they are your trusts (You will be accountable for them). You have no authority over them except if they are guilty of glaring misconduct. If they are, then leave them alone in their beds and chastise them, but not too severely. If they obey, you have no justification (to be harsh to them), so seek none. Remember you have certain rights over your women; so also have your women certain rights over you. Your right over them is that they should lead chaste lives. They should not allow any person in your home of whom you disapprove. Their right over you is that you are made responsible for their livelihood." (Tirmidhi)
