International Shipments: International customers are responsible for determining their country duties, tariffs or taxes. For international shipments over 450kg we can provide prepaid freight quotes to major airports on a "door to airport" basis. Truck Shipments: If no other method of shipment is specified, Evertex will ship via the least expensive qualified carrier available. If this is a concern, be sure to specify how you want an order shipped. (We use only reputable national carriers). Although you will have the option to insure your truck shipments, (common carriers like Yellow Freight, Roadway, etc.) it is STRONGLY advised that you carry separate inbound insurance. Shipments for computer products are classified as a 92.5 tariff and trucking companies have a limited liability of $5.00 per pound if a box is lost or damaged. This means that if a 30lb. box containing (10) hard drives is lost (valued at $80.00 each the box has a $800 value), the claim would only pay out $5.00 x 30lbs = $150.00. It is for this reason that we strongly suggest that you have insurance to cover you for such a situation. You Pay Shipping Charges: When you place an order, after you get to the final confirmation page, we will immediately email you a confirmation of your order. Should you discover any errors, please contact us immediately. Freight charges may be blank on the confirmation. Once freight charges are calculated and the order has shipped we will email you again with shipping charges and tracking numbers. Refused Shipments: If a shipment is refused for any reason, customer is responsible for the freight charge incurred. Evertex also reserves the right to charge a 20% restocking fee (which we also may choose to waive). Manufacturer Direct Warranties: If there is a Manufacturer Direct Warranty, we require that you return the unit direct to Manufacturer, unless the unit was DOA (within 7 days after receipt). Warranty Limitations: Evertex cannot warrant an item that has been improperly used or physically damaged. RMA's: RMA Numbers are valid from 14 days after issuance. After you get an RMA number, please send the item(s) in immediately. Fitness of Purpose: Evertex cannot warrant any product as fit for any particular use or purpose. We strongly recommend customers evaluate a sample unit to determine by their criteria whether a product will work in their configuration. In the world of computers there are many products that may be incompatible with a certain brand or certain parts. In cases like this it is your responsibility to resell the product into a standard application in which the part will work. We are unable to take parts back because they will not work in particular brand product if they function correctly in others. Defective Products: Any damages arising from a defective product to be limited to a refund of the purchase price only. Defective items will be replaced with either a repaired or refurbished unit (even for DOA's). If no replacement unit available within 30 days, we will issue a credit memo. Credits expire 6 months after date of issuance. A credit memo can be refunded if not used on an order for 30 days. Refunds will be issued via the original payment method used for the purchase.
