Montana

Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks

The site provides information that you will need to apply for a license and prepare for a hunt.

- Hunting page - <http://fwp.mt.gov/hunting/>
- Access - <http://fwp.mt.gov/hunting/hunterAccess>
 - Public land hunting opportunities - <http://fwp.mt.gov/hunting/hunterAccess/public.html>
 - Block management - <http://fwp.mt.gov/hunting/hunterAccess/blockman/>
 - Directory of Montana maps - <http://fwp.mt.gov/fwpDoc.html?id=53992>
 - Open Fields program - <http://fwp.mt.gov/hunting/hunterAccess/openFields>

(Note: Section lines are not open to the public in Montana. Landowners are able to close roads that lead to publicly owned lands, which can cause considerable problems during the hunting season.)

This site also contains links to all the hunting and fishing access regulations governing Montana. The access regulations are quite different than North Dakota. They have little tolerance for violators, and fines can include loss of game and revocation of hunting licenses.

There is also a “hunt planner” that allows you to check out the various hunting areas that are available. It provides the seasonal statistics on applications received, success rate for drawings, hunting success, days in the field, which helps for consideration were to apply for special drawing.
