How many items can you remember?

Memory Game - Instructions

Materials Needed:

- Tray
- 15 to 20 baby-related items (bottle, booties, rash cream, diaper, diaper pin, teether, pacifier, baby thermometer, nail clippers, shampoo, etc.)
- Game card and pencil for each player

Hostess Instructions:

For about 30 seconds, walk around the room with a tray full of small baby items. After you leave, have guests write down as many of the items that they can remember. The player with the most correct answers wins.

Variation: Trick your guests - Have the Mom-To-Be walk around with the tray and go into a back room with the items. Instead of guests guessing what was on the tray, announce that they have to answer questions about the Mom (what is she wearing, what color are her shoes, how is her hair fixed, is she wearing earrings, etc.) - you can use the game "What is Mom Wearing?" that follows.

Mom gets all of the baby items from the tray.

Variation: Have a party crasher! Arrange for a friend to crash your baby shower. Of course your guests will be unaware of this trick. The crasher will loudly ask if this is the Smith (or any name) Baby Shower. When you tell her it isn't, she'll make a big scene and say that she has the invitation in her purse and could you give her directions to the Smith house. While she's looking for her invitation, she'll dump the contents of her purse for everyone to see. After you give the crasher the correct directions, she'll put everything back in her purse and leave. After about 60 seconds, she'll come back in. You'll then announce to the guests that this was a trick and that they have 3 minutes to write down the contents of her purse.

Write down a first name that begins with each letter of the alphabet. Race to see who can come up with all 26 baby names first.

Birth Records – Instructions

Materials Needed:

- Ice cube trays
- Miniature plastic babies (one for each guest)
- Cup or glass for each guest
- One Birth Records form and one pen
- Food coloring (optional)

Hostess Instructions:

1. Buy a bunch of little plastic babies at a craft store and freeze them in an ice cube tray. You'll need to do this in two steps so the babies will freeze in the middle of the ice and not float to the top.
 - a. First, fill each tray half way full of water, add the babies, and freeze them.
 - b. Second, add water on top of the frozen cubes and freeze again. You can also add food coloring to the water before freezing for a cute variation.
2. When each guest arrives, give her a drink with an ice cube in it. Make sure it's very cold so the ice won't melt too quickly.
3. On the Birth Records form, have her write her name and her prediction of when her baby will be "born" (entirely free from the ice). Tell guests that they cannot do anything to speed up the "birthing" process.
4. Post the list where everyone can see it and get to it.
5. When the babies are born, have the guest write down the Actual Time Born and the difference between their Predicted Time and Actual Time.
6. The winner is the guest who guesses closest to when her baby will be born.

Note: If you have more than 27 guests, print the Birth Records page twice.

Variation: Instead of writing the predictions down, give each guest an ice cube at the same time, and the person whose baby is born first wins.

Baby Shower Scattegories – Instructions

Summary. Three separate rounds of this game will be played. Each round is 2 minutes long. Guests will come up with as many answers as they can that begin with the letter chosen. Answers are only counted if no other guest has the same answer. The winner of each round is the one with the most unique answers.

Hostess Instructions:

1. Select the letter that will be used for each game.

Suggestions are

- a. Mom's initials
- b. Baby's initials
- c. Ask the Mom-to-Be for a number between 1 and 26, and use that number to find the corresponding letter of the alphabet (1=A, 2=B, 3=C, 4=D, 5=E, etc.). For example, if the number is 7, the letter corresponding to 7 is G.

Note: The less common the letter, the harder the game is (how many baby boy names can you think of with the letter Y?)

2. For Round 1, have guests write down the chosen letter in the first column under "Use the letter _____".
3. For three minutes, the guests have to come up with as many Baby Boy Names they can think of that begin with that letter. The more unique the name, the better, because the answer will only count if no other player has that answer.
4. At the end of three minutes, one guest will read her answers aloud, one at a time. If any of the other guests have the name she reads, they say so, and everyone must cross that name off of their lists.
5. The next guest reads her list and so on until everyone has a turn.
6. The guest with the most unique names wins that round.
7. Repeat these steps for Round 2, in which you'll find Baby Girl Names, and Round 3 for Baby Items.

Hostess Instructions:

1. Before the baby shower, print out one copy of the game cards page and cut out each card. It's best to print it out on heavy cardstock paper (found at Wal-Mart or office supply stores).
2. Divide the guests into two or three equal teams.
3. Place the cards face down on a table or let players draw them from a hat.
4. One player at a time will draw a card and announce to both teams the Category printed on the card (Person, Action, Thing or Character).
5. The drawer will have 60 seconds to draw the word on the card for the teams to guess.

 - c. Act out anything
6. Everyone plays, and whichever team guesses the correct word first scores a point.
7. The next player takes a turn to draw. You can choose the next player by going in order around the room or by randomly choosing the next player. It doesn't matter which team she's on because each team always gets a chance to guess and score the next point.
8. After every player has had a chance to draw twice, the team with the most points is the winner.

Variation: If you don't want to draw, you can have guests act out these words instead, like in Charades.

Mrs. WRIGHT was in labor. She called Mr. WRIGHT at work and he LEFT immediately to meet his wife at home to take her to the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. WRIGHT got into the car on the LEFT side, since the RIGHT side door would not open, and they LEFT for the hospital, turning RIGHT out of the driveway. They turned LEFT at the first stop sign and LEFT again at the traffic light. Mrs. WRIGHT told Mr. WRIGHT that he should have turned RIGHT instead of LEFT. Mr. WRIGHT kept insisting that he was RIGHT, but Mrs. WRIGHT kept insisting that the LEFT turn was incorrect. It turned out that MR. WRIGHT was RIGHT.

At the hospital, Mr. WRIGHT pulled up to the front where he LEFT his wife so she could go RIGHT in. He LEFT to park the car and when he went back inside, he found that Mrs. WRIGHT had been rushed RIGHT down the hall to the delivery room on the LEFT.

STOP PASSING AND OPEN YOUR GIFT!

Right and Left Story - Instructions

Materials Needed:

- One copy of the story for the hostess to read
- Small gifts (about 1 for every 3-4 people)

Hostess Instructions:

1. Print out one copy of this story.
2. Seat your guests in a circle and randomly hand out wrapped gifts (about 1 gift for every 3 people). The gifts can be spaced at even intervals or not - your choice.
3. Read the story aloud. The guests will have to listen very carefully. Each time the word "Left" comes up in the story, the prize is passed to the left. When the word "Right" comes up, the prize is passed to the right. When the story is complete, the guest holding the prize is the winner!

Variation: If the group is small, you could have one gift for each participant. That way, everyone is a winner. Plus, it'll be more challenging to pass and to receive a gift each time. If the gifts are already opened, the guests could keep an eye on the one they want.
