Police have a civic duty to protect and serve individuals, but like most people who hold a great deal of authority, their powers are sometimes abused.

10 Worst Cases of Police Brutality in History

Police have a civic duty to protect and serve individuals, but like most people who hold a great deal of authority, their powers are sometimes abused. Unfortunately, police brutality is a common occurrence around the world, and it's often accompanied by several other examples of police misconduct. Out of the hundreds of police brutality cases that have gone to court and gone unreported, these are the 10 worst cases in history:

Robert Davis

Robert Davis, a retired elementary school teacher from New Orleans, was arrested and brutally beaten by police on suspicion of public intoxication. On the night of Oct. 9, 2005, just a little over a month after Hurricane Katrina, Davis returned to New Orleans to check on his family's property and went to the French Quarter to buy cigarettes. There, he was attacked by four police officers who said he was belligerent and resisted arrest by not allowing them to handcuff him. The beatings were videotaped by an Associated Press producer, who was also assaulted that night. The officers were either fired or suspended for their involvement, but many of the charges against them were cleared.

Frank Jude

In 2004, 26-year-old Frank Jude was viciously beaten by several off-duty Milwaukee police officers as he was leaving a party. The group of men attacked Jude and his friend, Lovell Harris, claiming they stole one of the officer's wallets that contained a police badge. Harris' face was cut with a knife, but he was able to get free and run away. Jude was repeatedly punched and kicked, as well as stabbed in the ears with a pen. Even the on-duty officer who was called to stop the fight began stomping on Jude's head. In the state trial, the jury acquitted the three officers charged. There was a great deal of community outrage and demand for a federal investigation. The federal grand jury convicted the three officers who were originally acquitted, but did acquit the fourth officer.

Steve Biko

Steve Biko was an anti-apartheid activist and leader of the black consciousness movement in South Africa. Biko was devoted to empowering black people and ending apartheid, but his message was cut short when the outspoken leader was arrested at a police roadblock under the Terrorism Act No 83 of 1967. While in police custody at Port Elizabeth, Biko was interrogated for a grueling 22 hours, which included torture and beatings that caused him to fall into a coma. While in prison, Biko suffered a major head injury and was allegedly chained to a window grill all day. Biko was then transported to another prison with hospital facilities in Pretoria, but died upon arrival. Even though police claimed that his death was caused by a hunger strike, it was later announced that he actually died from the head injuries he received in prison. The policemen involved in Biko's beatings were denied an amnesty by Archbishop Desmond Tutu, but they were also never prosecuted.

Rodney King

In 1991, a videotape circulated around the world of Rodney King being beaten by L.A.P.D. officers after they put an end to the 8-mile high speed chase. Once surrounded, King and his two friends were ordered to step out of the vehicle and lie face down on the ground. King refused to comply, but eventually got out of the car and resisted an arrest. Once King got physical with some of the officers, they shot him with a Taser gun to knock him to the ground. He was then beaten multiple times with a baton and kicked repeatedly. The video was a media sensation and it became one of the biggest police brutality cases in history. After the state trial, three of the four L.A.P.D. officers were acquitted and the jury didn't reach a verdict for the fourth. The acquittals sparked the 1992 Los Angeles riots and eventually led to a federal trial where two officers were found guilty and the other two were acquitted.

Sean Bell

Sean Bell was killed by NYPD detectives who fired 50 times at the car Bell and his friends were riding in on Nov. 25, 2006. On the night of the shooting, a group of undercover officers were investigating a Queens, New York, strip club that was allegedly allowing prostitution. Bell was having his bachelor party at that club the same night. Following a confrontation that happened inside the club, one of the officers overheard Bell's friend talk about getting his gun. In order to stop a shooting from happening, the officer confronted Bell and his friends while they were in the car and ordered them to stop. Bell started to drive off and the officer thought he saw a gun in the car, so he and the other police opened fire on the car. After the nonjury trial came to an end, the judge found all three detectives not guilty of manslaughter and assault.

Timothy Thomas

Timothy Thomas was tragically shot and killed by a Cincinnati police officer, who followed the young man down a dark alley and opened fire because he thought Thomas had a gun. The 19-year-old man had 14 open warrants at the time of the shooting, and, according to Officer Roach, he was given verbal commands to stop running but he did not comply. When Thomas began lowering his arms without instruction, Officer Roach opened fire and shot Thomas in the heart with a single bullet. There was no gun ever found on Thomas.

Abner Louima

Abner Louima is a Haitian immigrant who was brutally attacked and tortured by a white New York police officer on Aug. 9, 1997. NYPD officer, Justin Volpe, took Louima into the restroom of the 70th Precinct station house in Brooklyn and sodomized the young man with a broken broomstick and then put it in his face. In court, Volpe said that he thought Louima punched him in the head during a scuffle outside of a nightclub, but also admitted that he wanted to humiliate Louima regardless. Volpe left the police force and was sentenced to 30 years in prison, and Charles Schwarz was also sentenced to 15 years in prison for assisting Volpe in the assault. This incident brought greater awareness to the ongoing pattern of white New York police officers abusing black men and overstepping their authority.

Robert Mitchell

Robert Mitchell, a 16-year-old from Detroit, was tragically killed by police who said the teen was resisting arrest after a traffic stop. Police used a Taser gun on Mitchell who was running from his cousin's car and into an abandoned house. The Taser gun that killed Mitchell sent 50,000 volts of electricity into him. Police defended their use of the non-lethal weapon was because the teen was resisting an arrest.

Amadou Diallo

An immigrant from Guinea, named Amadou Diallo, was shot and killed by New York police officers on the stoop of his apartment in February 1999. The four officers fired 41 times into the Bronx apartment building because they thought Diallo had a gun. The undercover officers said Diallo looked suspicious and thought he might have been assisting in a robbery or other criminal activity. Diallo didn't follow the officers' commands and when he reached into his pocket, the officers began shooting only to find out that he was unarmed and was holding his wallet in his hand. A year later, the four officers who shot Diallo were acquitted of second-degree murder and other charges.

Kathryn Johnston

Kathryn Johnston was tragically killed by two Atlanta police officers during a botched drug raid in 2006. The 92-year-old woman was alone inside her home when the officers burst in without warning. She fired at them with a handgun, injuring three of the men, and they fired back at Johnston, striking her five or six times. The officers were told by an undercover informant that he bought drugs from a dealer there named "Sam;" however, the man who claimed to be the informant said he never bought drugs at Johnston's house. The two police officers involved in the shooting pleaded guilty to manslaughter and several other charges, and a third officer was also indicted in the murder case.

( note all the above victims are black, is this KKK without the masks anymore?)

Equal Justice Under the Law OR No Justice At All

The Worst Case of Police Brutality in U.S. History, ‘Worse than Rodney King (beating)!’ By Rhett E. Column; #SayWhatNews, #AXJNews, #FreePress

Leave a reply

Robert Leone Mug Shot, March of 2010. Bradford County, PA. U.S.A...

TOWANDA TOWNSHIP, Pennsylvania – Some might well say that Robert Leone doesn't look any the worse for ware these days.

But in the hands of lesser men Robert Leone of Vestal, NY. Who was just simply going for a ride in the country in March of 2010. Endured one of the worst beatings on record, second only to the 2005 beating of Thomas Charles 'T.C.' Armstrong of Aurora and Denver, Colorado and that of Rodney King in 1991 in Los Angeles, California and lived to tell about thereafter, in Bradford County, PA. history. \(Towanda Township, PA.\)

So he is in a very rare club. The 'I Took A Beating From Cops And Lived To Tell About It' Club.

The charges? For Leone? Leaving the scene of an accident, resisting arrest, and causing bodily injury to a uniformed police officer while on duty.

And for his trouble this out of Towner, this 'outside agitator' was treated royally by Pennsylvania's finest for 11 hours straight in what author, activist and former Law Enforcement Officer Larry Hohol calls, "Police Brutality Worse than Rodney King!"

For Eleven Hours Straight Robert Leone endured atrocities not seen since the Nazi's gassed the Jews in World War 2 Internment Camps. He was given no immediate access to a lawyer, no due process under law, and was kept without access to food, water and medical attention by the State Police Barracks for Bradford County, PA. simply because he fit the description of a hit-and-run driver.

Pennsylvania State Police Headquarters for Troop, “P” Like “Paul” in Wyoming, PA. U.S.A.

Similar to this Command Post for the Pennsylvania State Police in Bradford County, PA. Robert Leone endured hell on earth simply because, and again, he fit a description. No due process. No civil recourse. No redress of grievances. Repeatedly, and repeatedly beaten, abused, and otherwise mistreated by the top law enforcement officialdom for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and all because he fit the description of a hit and run driver, who, and in the end, got away, scott free, of the crime in question. Leaving the scene of an accident. Seven grown men brutalized Robert Leone and then and thereafter the Justice System, so-called, for Bradford County, PA. abused Robert Leone some more. That’s right. For his trouble. His lack of due process. Lack of civil recourse. Lack of redress of grievance, which in this case is the endurance of some of the worst police brutality in U.S. History to date and live to tell about it thereafter, Robert Leone was sentenced by Bradford County District Attorney Daniel Barrett to two years in prison.

A Jail Cell..

Can you just imagine? Barrett's excuse? Because Leone couldn't produce any witnesses as to the alleged police brutality he suffered and he fit the description of the hit-and-run driver involved in the March 2010 accident in Towanda Township, PA. that he had to go to jail.

SO, CASE CLOSED and Robert Leone 'go directly to jail, do not pass go, do not collect $200 dollars just go directly to jail!'

And this is how it goes in America folks. In this, this 'post 9/11 world'. National Security and matters there of is all that matters. Spit wrong. Land wrong. Grunt wrong in a cop's direction and you get your head kicked in, and it's not even a violation, in their humble opinion, of your and my civil rights.

Gone! Truly! Are the days of 'Protect & Serve With Integrity'. Such has been replaced instead with 'Shoot or Beat the S%&^t Out of You First And Ask Questions Later'. Oh, and don't forget, CASE CLOSED.

Former Ferguson Township Police Officer Darren Wilson standing over the dead body of Michael O.D. Brown, Jr. on 09 August 2014...

And so it goes...

But myself and a few good citizens still care. We care more than enough to get in the faces of these people, our fellow-man to now, so lets not 'get it twisted' as the kids say these days, and say, "Not one more!" Not one more Robert Leone"! Not one more Tayler Rock!. No more Tamir Rice's! We have had it, and once more we are on to your tactics. On to the ways in which you have been conducting business in our good names, and rest assured we will call you on it, continually and constantly, with petitions such as these on Robert Leone's behalf.

CALLS to investigate, legally properly and justifiably, your actions or your inactions against US, AGAINST WE THE PEOPLE. Time and memorial We Will Be There. Expect Us and IF we're wrong, well, (I want you to get the last part of this video, this sums up how yours truly, at least, feels about this issue.)
